

PENNSYLVANIA INQUIRER

AND DAILY COURIER.

PHILADELPHIA, MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 31, 1840.

The Jews.

☞ We have been compelled to crowd out several articles intended for this morning's paper, in order to make room for the official account of the recent meeting in this city, in relation to the persecuted Jews of Damascus. It possesses the deepest interest. We have printed a few extra copies of the Inquirer, for the accommodation of such of our citizens as desire to forward copies to friends at a distance.
