AT A GENERAL MEETING OF THE INCORPORATED SOCIETY,

For promoting ENGLISH PROTESTANT SCHOOLS
In IRELAND.

ORDERED, on Motion,

THAT the Thanks of the Society be given to the Right
Reverend and Honourable WILLIAM, Lord Bishop of OSSORY, for his Lordships excellent and suitable Sermon, preached this Day before this Society; and that His Lordship be desired to let the Society have a Copy thereof, in order for them to cause the same to be Printed and Published.

THO. GIBBONS, Secretary

ST. MARK, Chap. iv. from ver. ii. to ver. viii.

And he taught them many things by Parables, and said unto them in his Doctrine, Hearken: Behold, there went out a Sower to sow: And it came to pass as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and the Fowls of the Air came and devoured it up. And some fell on stony Ground, where it had not much Earth, and immediately it sprung up, because it had no depth of Earth. But when the Sun was up, it was scorched, and because it had no Root, it withered away. And some fell among Thorns, and the Thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no Fruit. And other fell on good Ground, and did yield Fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth some Thirty, and some Sixty, and some an Hundred.

THE obvious Inference, which may be drawn from the allegorical Representation in these Words is, that the Means of Improvement ought to be made as extensive and operative as possible, how difficult and tedious soever the Work may be found in the Progress; or uncertain it may appear in the Event. The Parable teaches us that the Seed of Instruction ought to be scattered with a liberal Hand, whether it fall by the Way-side, upon a Rock, among Thorns, or upon good Ground.

The charitable Undertaking now before us proceeds upon this Principle. It's Object is a vast Tract of Soil, barren in some Places thro' Neglect, and ruined in others by bad Culture.—A just Image of the Condition of those, for whose Benefit it is more immediately intended!

The Duty, to which I am called, requires that I should consider the Subject, in two distinct Points of View.—the Design and the Execution.

If the Ground (to speak in the allegorical Language of the Text) had never been broken. If it were fresh as Nature made it, and had never received Seed or Culture of any Kind, the Labour and Expence would be considerably less, the Progress quicker, and the Fruit much more abundant. But so thoroughly has it been poisoned by abominable Mixtures, and so multiplied multiplied is the Increase of noxious Seeds, with which it has been sown, that after almost fifty Years spent in unremitted Toil the Hand of the Improver is scarce yet visible.

The Natives of Ireland from Causes, which History clearly points out, have been in a Situation extremely unfavourable to Improvement. In earlier Times, their Ancestors had no regular Intercourse with the civilized Parts of the World. The Roman Arms and Arts were equally unknown to them; and the Improvements they received in subsequent Ages from pious and learned Men, who took Refuge among them, were either so inconsiderable at first, or so utterly effaced in Course of Time by internal Wars and successive Incursions of northern Barbarians, that in the Reign of Henry the Second they were but little removed from the Condition of Savages. They were Strangers almost to Agriculture, Manufactures and Commerce, and had neither Manners nor Police. Their Religion instead of disposing them to social Connections and industrious Pursuits was monastic and gloomy. It encouraged Sloth, and condemned the Arts of Life as incompatible with their spiritual Interests. For some Centuries, the English Government was too weak and unsteady to better their Condition. Even the Reformation, which diffused Light and Comfort through the Sister Country, shone with a very feeble Ray on this Land. Uniformity was its Aim; Here it served to divide and confound. From Causes so inveterate and malignant, the most pernicious Effects could not fail to follow. Accordingly, when the Revolution had quieted our domestic Diffensions, and Men of Virtue and Genius began to feel the Blessings of civil Liberty, and to reflect on the Means of national Improvement, the Posterity of these unhappy People were found in a State so unenlightened and barbarous, that all ordinary Methods seemed inadequate to the Cure of such complicated Evil. Recourse was had therefore to the Seminaries of Education, over which you preside. And tho' their Progress has not been so rapid, or their Effect so certain or extensive as their wise and humane Founders had preconceived, yet let not us be weary in Well-doing, for in due Season we shall reap, if we faint not. A regular Perseverance under the Divine Blessing, will ensure some Degree of Success, notwithstanding the Soil, in which we labour, is rocky and stubborn, and full of thorns, and the Enemy soweth

Tares

Tares together with the Wheat. The Difficulties with which we combat, are not new or unforeseen. Popery, we know, is the venemous Weed, which preoccupies the Ground in all its Quarters, and kills in the first Instance, or attempts to starve in its Growth, every Principle of Reformation, that is planted near it. To the Persons of Roman Catholicks I mean all imaginable Good-will, whether public or private, and wish to avoid any Expression, that might imply Hatred or Contempt; But can I, consistently with the Regard I owe to Truth, and to the Spirit of the Gospel, speak in milder Terms of a Doctrine, which asserts, that out of the Precincts of the Roman Church, Salvation is impossible, and in order to uphold on Earth a System of ecclesiastical Despotism, denounces the Terrors of the other World against all who desert that Communion, or even converse on Points of Faith or Modes of Discipline with those whom it styles Heretics.—Thus depriving its Votaries of the Use of Reason and the Means of Conviction. So that, having Eyes they see not; and having Ears they hear not: How then shall they be converted and healed?

It

It is a Question indeed of vast Magnitude and Importance: but Thanks be to God! it need not confound or put us to Silence. Among other human Means (with due Deference to Divine Providence) we may mention the noble Institution, which occasions this Meeting. That it may be the better understood, let us now consider it a little in the Execution.

The first Step in this arduous Work of moral Reformation and political Improvement, is to begin with the Children of these unhappy People; upon a Supposition, that in young Minds, untainted with Error or Prejudice, we may reasonably hope to meet with the kindliest Soil for the Seeds of civil Culture, and expect to reap the purest and most plentiful Produce of religious Husbandry.

The next Measure is to separate the Children as far as possible from their Parents; in order to remove them from the very worst Species of all bad Example; there being little Doubt, that if Parents, at least among the lower Classes of Mankind, have any Virtues, they are seldom regarded, while their Vices sink deep in the first Impression and live in the Memory.

The

The Children, thus rescued from hereditary Error and parental Influence, are distributed in Schools, where they may acquire Christian Knowledge, together with Habits of Decency and useful Industry; and where among other Advantages, they eat the public Bread, and in that receive a constant Lesson of Humility and Gratitude,—two Virtues of singular Value in the Kingdom of Christ, but not commonly found either in the very barren or very luxuriant Parts of this World.

From these Nurseries of Religion, Manners, and Industry, the Charity follows her Children through Life, with parental Benevolence and Care; allotting to each, that marries according to the Rules she prescribes, no inconsiderable Share of her Substance.

It is pleasing upon a long Retrospect, to be able to observe, that the Conduct of the Society at large, who preside over and direct the Operations of this wise and humane Institution, has been just, spirited and uniform, and their Credit proportionably great. For a Series of Years they have had full Possession of the general Esteem and Confidence; and are now likely, I trust, to extend extend the public Advantages of the Charity, together with their own Reputation. The recent Relaxation of the Popery Laws respecting both Property and Religion, forbodes, I think, something favourable to their Endeavours. It is natural to expect, that under a more liberal Constitution, and an Administration of Government universally mild and tolerant, even the Temper of Popery will be softened; and that our Fellow-subjects of that Persuasion will now consider the whole Business of this Charity, rather as a Plan of Wisdom and Benevolence, than a Scheme of Policy and Persecution.

In regard to local Management I may observe, that the important Work, which you direct, cannot be successfully carried on without zealous Affiduity in the Individuals, who from voluntary Engagement are more immediately concerned in particular Departments. Neither their general good Wishes for its Welfare, nor private Contribution towards its Support, can amount to a full Discharge of the Trust you repose in them.—A Trust indeed of a very serious Kind! and which involves several of the essential Duties they owe both to God and their Country. It is their personal Attention alone, that can fully answer the Ends proposed, for that alone can secure a regular Movement of the Business, and correct the Abuses and Neglects, which pervert or retard it. If they are Negligent, you will speculate and direct in vain. How glorious an Opportunity is opened here to those of the sacred Function, to whose Lot it has fallen to engage in this wide Field of Christian Enterprise! They are furnished with the best Implements of spiritual Labour; They ought therefore to go foremost in the Work, and act a distinguished Part in the Eyes of their Fellows. If their Lord and Master has told them, that because Iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax old; their own Reason and Experience may inform them with equal Certainty almost, that where Virtue abounds, and public Spirit is conspicuous, the love of many shall wax warm. For He, that performs a good Work with Diligence and Ardour, inspires the Beholders with Admiration and Love, and of Course increases his good Work, by encouraging others to befriend and assist in the Undertaking.
Ends

The general View I have given of this Charity in its great Out-lines might be sufficient, I hope, to recommend it to a Continuance of private Contribution and public Protection. A Design which comprehends and unites in one regular System of Operation Morals, Religion, Industry, Loyalty and civil Order, may be justly said to merit and claim the Assistance of every Person, who is a Friend to the Constitution of his Country, and wishes to promote Christian Knowledge. To these internal Circumstances and direct Tendencies and Effects, which are its first and best Ground of Recommendation, I may add Royal Bounty, frequent Parliamentary Aid, Donations from Individuals in every Stage of its Progress, and even the Opposition it has experienced from its Enemies, as so many external Marks and presumptive Proofs of its Value. They stamp the Work with Notoriety and public Regard, and convey to the general Mind an Idea of its Importance and Utility.

If these Schools be considered merely as a partial Provision for the Poor of Ireland, they ought not to be neglected. For tho' the Laws lately made for the Maintenance of the Poor, have an extensive Scope, and in Towns and Cities especially, where the Execution of them is more practicable than in the Country at large, go a considerable Way towards the Relief of Distress and Correction of Idleness, yet they are far from being adequate adequate to the great Purposes of national Improvement, Industry and Happiness. And besides the only Provision these Laws make for the Children of the Poor in Religion and Morals is, by referring them to the Seminaries under your Care. Happy would it be, if the Funds of either Charity were sufficient for the Support of so beneficial a Part of their common Design !

It may be further alledged in Favour of this Institution, that it comes under the Character of being an old established Charity ; and that there is a very material Difference between suffering a Charity of that Kind to go to Ruin, and refusing to concur in erecting a new one. In the former Case we do a positive Evil. In the latter, if any Evil be done, it is merely negative. It is but a Refusal to concur in doing a probable or possible Good. The Schools for Instance under your Care are become in Length of Time the only Means of supporting a Multitude of otherwise helpless Innocents, to whom the public Benevolence and national Honour stand pledged for Succour and Protection. Their Case is truly this. They have been drawn insensibly, and without a possibility of Choice almost on their Part, into a Situation, where, if charitable Relief should be discontinued, discontinued, they must inevitably perish. God forbid, that either as Men or Christians, we should once entertain a Thought of disgracing ourselves, or suffering them to become Victims to public Improvidence and Cruelty.

Lastly, let me mention one Reason more for charitable Exertion, which is applicable indeed to the Charity before us in common with every other. At the present Crisis there is a particular Call upon the People of this Land both individually and collectively, to do Justice, to love Mercy, and to walk humbly with God. We feel at the present Moment many special Blessings. Credit is restored, our commercial Prospects begin to brighten, and political Unanimity has given Strength to the Hand of Justice. By what human Means then can we so effectually secure a Continuance of the happy State we enjoy, as by endeavouring to deserve it? And where can our Endeavours be more successfully employed, than in relieving and benefitting the Poor of this World; such of them especially, as are capable of Instruction and Discipline, and likely to make suitable Returns to Society for the good they have received?

It

It is a noble Motive to virtuous Conduct, to reflect that we are laying a Foundation for national Happiness ; and every Man may have the Comfort of that Reflection, who contributes in any Shape to sow the Seeds of Virtue.

May God encrease the Fruits of your Labour, and dispose the Hearts of Men to rejoice and assist in every good Work you design, thro' Jesus Christ, our Lord, to whom, &c.

His MAJESTY'S ROYAL CHARTER,

For Erecting and Promoting English Protestant Schools in
I R E L A N D.

GEORGE the Second, by the Grace of God, of Great-Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. —
To all Persons to whom those Presents shall come. — Forasmuch as we have received Information by the Petition of the Lord Primate, Lord Chancellor, Archbishops, Noblemen, Bishops, Judges, Gentry, and Clergy of our Kingdom of Ireland, that in many Parts of the said Kingdom, there are great Tracts of Land almost intirely inhabited by Papists, who are kept by their Clergy in great Ignorance of the true Religion, and bred up in great Disaffection to the Government: That the Erecting of ENGLISH PROTESTANT SCHOOLS in those Places, is absolutely necessary for their Conversion; that the ENGLISH PARISH SCHOOLS, already established, are not sufficient for that Purpose; nor can the Residence of the Parochial Clergy only, fully answer that End.

To the Intent therefore that the Children of the Popish, and other poor Natives of the said Kingdom, may be instructed in the English Tongue, and the Principles of true Religion and Loyalty, and that so good a Design may the more effectually be carried on; the Lord Lieutenant; and some of the chief Nobility, Gentry and Clergy of the said Kingdom, are appointed Commissioners to execute the Purposes of this Charter, and have a Power to elect others in the Room of their deceased Members; and are constituted a Corporation or Body Politic by the Name of the INCORPORATED SOCIETY in Dublin, for promoting ENGLISH PROTESTANT SCHOOLS in Ireland: And are capable to receive and enjoy in Fee, and in Perpetuity, any Manors, Lands, Tenements, &c. the same not exceeding the Value of Two Thousand Pounds per Annum, and any Sum or Sums of Money, that shall be given them by any Person or Persons, Bodies Politic and Corporate, &c. to be applied for the Establishing and Supporting ENGLISH PROTESTANT SCHOOLS, in such Places of the Kingdom as they shall think proper.

THE said Society is impowered to nominate and appoint School-masters, and School-mistresses, to be approved and licensed by the Archbishops and Bishops respectively, to continue during the Pleasure of the said Society; who are to be supported by the Society, and provided with all things necessary for the instruction of the poor Children in the Principles of the Protestant Religion, Reading, Writing and Arithmetic; as likewise with proper Books and all necessary Materials fit for teaching them Husbandry, Housewifery, Trades, Manufactures, &c. in order to bring them up to Virtue, Labour and Industry.

THE Society is likewise impowered to nominate Persons to receive Subscriptions, Benefactions, &c. in any Part of his Majesty's Dominions, from all well-disposed Persons.—The Society may elect and admit Subscribers (being Protestants) to be Members, to assist in carrying on the Design aforesaid.

PROCEEDINGS of the INCORPORATED SOCIETY in Dublin, for promoting English Protestant Schools in IRELAND, from the Opening of his late MAJESTY'S Royal Charter, February 6, 1733, to November 1, 1782.

THE Original Design of this Society is well known to have been principally formed by the late Right Reverend Doctor Henry Maule, Lord Bishop of Dromore, afterwards of Meath; which being highly approved and encouraged by the then Lords Justices, and a great Number of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal of the Commons, the Clergy, and principal Gentlemen of the Kingdom, His late Majesty, upon their humble Petition, was graciously pleased in 1733, through the favourable Interposition of his Grace the late Duke of Dorset, then Lord Lieutenant, to grant His Royal Charter of Incorporation, for the Erecting and Supporting of Schools, wherein the Children of Papists and other poor Natives might be instructed in the English Tongue, and the Principles of true Religion and Loyalty, and trained up to the Practice of Industry and Labour.

In Pursuance of which, Charter-Schools have from Time to Time been erected by the Society in several Parts of the Kingdom, under the immediate Direction of Local Committees of the principal Gentlemen and Clergy, who are appointed to inspect and examine into the Instruction and Employment of the Children, their Food and State of Health; the Sufficiency and Diligence of the Masters and Mistresses, and all other Particulars relative to the Oeconomy and Managment of the Schools and then to report the same to the Society; besides which, the Schools are frequently visited and inspected by the several Members of the Society, as they have Opportunity.

THE Society have the Satisfaction to observe, that their Scheme of dividing the Childrens Time between the Learning necessary for their future future State of Life, and such gentle Work as is suited to their present tender age, hath been successfully adopted by many Charity-Schools in Dublin and other Places; whereby the Benefit of the Institution hath probably been extended far beyond the Expectation of those who at first most warmly promoted it. But there is one Part of their Discipline peculiar to the Society, which is, the transplanting of them into such Schools as are most remote from their Popish Relations. And the more effectually to secure its good Success, they recommend to the several Local Committees, and enjoin the School-masters, by all possible Means, to guard against any Intercourse between the Children, and any of the Priests, or other Popish Inhabitants in the Neighbourhood of the Schools.

THE great Assistances, whereby the Society have from Time to Time been enabled to carry this extensive Design into Execution, have been annually published, not only for the Information of the Public, but in Gratitude to the pious and charitable Benefactors.

HIS late Majesty was graciously pleased in the Year 1739, to honour the Society with his Royal Countenance, by a Donation of One Thousand Pounds, and an annual Grant of the like Sum on the establishment of this Kingdom. And His present Majesty has likewise been graciously pleased to continue the same Mark of his Royal Favour; which they humbly beg Leave, with the most respectful Duty, thankfully to acknowledge.

THE Parliament of Ireland, with that laudable Zeal for the advancement of the Protestant Religion and the Benefit of their Country, by which their Proceedings have ever been distinguished, have also been pleased to take the Society under their Protection, and to grant them the Produce of a Tax on Hawkers and Pedlars, as well as several considerable Sums of Money, to Support the Schools, and to enable them to erect Nurseries for the Reception of Children too young to be admitted into the Schools.

Proceedings of the Incorporated Society, &c. 21

THE Parliament have likewise given an additional and most honourable Testimony of their Confidence in the Society, by vesting in them the Estates granted by Richard, late Earl of Ranelagh, for the Endowment of Charity-Schools, in the Towns of Athlone and Roscommon.

THE Contributions of private Persons, both in Great-Britain, and Ireland, have also been very considerable; as may appear by the annual Account of Subscriptions and Donations received, for the Erection and Endowment of the several Schools. From the Commencement of the Institution to November 1782, the Sum of 6036*l.* 14*s.* hath been remitted by the Corresponding Society in London, to whose zealous and most useful endeavours for promoting this Charitable Institution, as well by communicating their Sentiments and Advice upon all Occasions, as by contributing and procuring Benefactions, the Society are too highly indebted, not to embrace every Opportunity of professing their Obligations, and returning their most hearty Thanks.

A minute Account of the Society's Proceedings, relative to the Suppression of the several Schools of Minola, Killough, Kilmallock, Newtown Eyre, Newtown Corry, Ballykett, Kingsale, Armagh, Tarbert, Ballinabinch, and Templestown, mentioned in their former Publications, would be too long to insert in this Abstract, but may be seen in the Society's Books, to which there is Access at all Times, by applying to Mr. Thomas Gibbons, Secretary, at the Society's House, N<sup>o</sup> 6, Suffolk-Street.

AND as to the School at Monivae, the Contract between the late Robert French, Esq; and the Society, having been dissolved by Mr. French's death, and his Grandson and Heir being a Minor, that School was also suppressed, the Children removed, and the Lands given up.

THE Society at a General Meeting, 15th March, 1775, agreed to the following Resolutions, relative to the Admission of Children into their Schools and Nurseries, viz.

WHEREAS it has been the constant Practice of this Society, not to admit any Children, but such as are Children of Papists, or at least, where where one of their Parents are or have been Papists, or in Case the Parents are dead or they being deserted, are in the Hands of Papists, and thereby are in the utmost Danger of being bred up Papists: And, whereas the Society have some Reason to suspect, that in some Instances some of their Committees have acted contrary thereto, in the Admission of Children.

‘ RESOLVED, that the Committee of Fifteen, or the Local Committees of the several Schools and Nurseries, do not admit any Children into their Schools or Nurseries, unless the Children shall appear in the above Circumstances, by proper Certificates or Affidavits, and that the Local Committees do not admit any Children, ’till upon sending up such Certificates, or Affidavits, to the Society or Committee of Fifteen, they shall approve of their Admission.

ORDERED, that the above Resolution be immediately sent to the several Local Committees belonging to this Society, in Order, that they may conform thereto.

AND the Society having at a future Meeting, taken into mature consideration their Order of the 15th of March, 1775, upon the Terms for Admittance of Children into their Schools and Nurseries.

RESOLVED unanimously, that it is the opinion of this Board, that the said Order of the 15th of March, 1775, was founded on solid salutary Principles, declaratory of the Original Intention of the Institution of the Society. It is therefore unanimously

RESOLVED, that the said Order do remain a standing Order or Resolution of the Society, and that the same be and is hereby confirmed.

ACCOUNT OF THE SCHOOLS now Subsisting.

N. B. The Additional Endowments made to several of the Schools in Consequence of the Society's Application to the Founders for further Aid, appear in the particular Account of each School, in turned Comma's.
