IMPENSIS GVL. ET JO. RICHARDSON.
M. DCC. LXX.

The history of the world is a long and varied one, spanning thousands of years and across many different cultures and civilizations. It is a story of human progress, of discovery, and of the struggles we have faced along the way. From the earliest days of our ancestors, we have sought to understand our place in the world and to improve our lives. This journey has taken us from simple hunting and gathering to the complex societies we live in today. We have explored the vast reaches of the earth, discovered new lands and peoples, and made remarkable advances in science and technology. Yet, we have also faced challenges and hardships, from natural disasters to wars and social injustices. The history of the world is a testament to the resilience and ingenuity of the human spirit. It is a story that continues to unfold, as we move forward into the future. We must learn from the past, for it is our greatest teacher. We must embrace change and innovation, for they are the keys to our progress. And we must strive for a better world, one where all people can live in peace and prosperity. The history of the world is not just a record of events; it is a reflection of our shared humanity. It is a story that we all have a part in writing. Let us continue to explore, to learn, and to grow, for the sake of our world and for the sake of our future.

Æthelredi regis Merc:

Locus erat in territorio Wigornienſi dumis ac vepribus condensis incultus, qui à modernis Eoveſham appellatur: alio etiam vocabulo Hetheholme nuncupatur. Hunc beatus Egwinus à rege Mer: Æthelredo expetiit, & expetitum obtinuit. Jure ſibi concesso ſuper prædictam ſylvam, quatuor per eam ſubulcos ad victualia fervorum Dei conſtituit.

Porca eadem 3. peperit in eadem ſylva 9. foetus.

Virgines eadem Egwino poſtea in eodem loco oranti apparuere.

Egwinus autem voverat ab olim inter varias temptationum anguſtias, ſi Dominus proſperum faceret deſiderium ſuum, ædificaturum ſe templum Domino. Unde modo nactus locum præelectum à Deo, Deo & ejus genetrici ſacrificavit hoc votum, locum protinus mundavit, opus inchoavit, & ad finem perduxit.

Fuit in partibus Scotiæ quidam monachus nomine Maildolph, qui in patria propria à prædonibus & latronibus ita fatigatus est, quod vitam vix potuisset deducere. Ipse vero sciens <sup>c</sup> * ipsimet ibidem non multum durare fugam iniit, iter arripuit, & in Angliam usque pervenit. Hic patriam circuirens, cogitans ubi Deus pro ea disponderet, moram tandem cepit sub castello de Bladon, quod Saxonice vocabatur Ingelburne castel: quod castellum constructum fuit à quodam rege Britannico à Bruto 18. nomine Dunwallo cognomento Moltutius post incarnat: D<sup>i</sup>. ad annos 642. Civitas quondam ibi fuerat, quæ penitus destructa fuerat ab alienigenis: castellum se munitum custodivit, quod per multum tempus post incarnationem D<sup>i</sup>. stetit sine habitatione propinqua. Regia habitatio & ejus manerium tam paganorum quam Christianorum fuit apud Cairdurburgh, quod nunc dicitur Brukeburgh, vel aliter dicitur Brokenburgh. Heremicola prædictus nomine Maildolph locum heremi sibi eligit sub castro, quem locum à castellanis sibi petiit & obtinuit. Non enim erat magna hominum frequentatio. Hic cum sibi deficerent necessaria scholares sibi collegit in discipulatum, ut eorum libe-ralitate tenuitatem victus emendaret. In brevi enim tempore scholares rudimenta erudientes in exiguum conventum convaluere. Horum enim exemplo & consortio Aldelmus informatus ad plenum liberales artes plenitudini scientiæ adjecit, quas ut medullitus hauriret Cantiam adiit, & ad pedes Adriani Philosophi, qui postea archiepiscopus factus fuit, per tempus aliquod studuit, & postea Meldunum repedavit, & in consortio Maildulphi cum discipulis suis monachis attonsus est.

 Castellum vero prænominatum tunc fuit in dominio episcopi Eleutherii, qui dominabatur in tota Westfaxoniam, qui situm monasterii dedit, quod nunc vocatur Malmesburia, sancto Aldelmo cum baculo pastorali.

Pag. 376.

Quod à pueritia in Meldunensi cœnobio fuerit Aldelmus altus & doctus Eleutherius episcopus Westfaxonum insinuat in privilegiis, quæ eidem Aldelmo contulit, & in chartis cum abbacia & situ monasterii.

Quod Meildulph fuit primus omnium hominum religiosorum qui cœnobium apud Malmesbyri ordinaverat, (tunc enim vocabatur Ingelbourn Castel,) Sergius papa proximus prænominatus in privilegio quod S. Aldelmo contulit fatis declarat.

Quod Aldelmus fuit sub disciplina Maildulphi & ejus alumnus Beda Presbyter in Chronicis suis fatis declarat.

Quod cœnobium fuerat fabricatum à beato Meildulpho in honore apostolorum Petri & Pauli Sergius Papa in privilegiis datis S. Aldelmo fatis declarat.

Quod doctrina & scientia S. Aldelmi per universum mundum, ubi cultus Christianitatis, colebatur, magnifice ejus de-monstrant epistolæ missæ studentibus Bononiæ, Colonia, Pa-risiis, Monti pessulano, & ceteris partibus forinsecis, ut in vita sua aperte declaratur.

Quod quidam abbas Abendonæ, Faritius nomine, vitam suam descripserat, & historiam de eo ediderat: sed postea, quia rude compositum fuerat, Gulielmus Meildunensis monachus & præcentor modo decenti & ornato stylo totam vitam suam investigavit & composuit de pueritia, de juventute, de senectute, de monachatu & episcopatu, de obitu, de miraculis ante obitum, & post per insinuationem librorum Bedæ presbyteri modo debito & competenti sufficienter or-dinavit.

Pag. 377.

Migravitque idem S. vir ad dominum anno incarnat: D.
 709. & in capella, quam ipse construxerat se vivente in ho-norem Dei & S. Michaëlis, ut prius elegerat, à beato Egwino est sepultus. Ante Inam regem an. 18. ante Bedam cessit

an. 15. Baculum pastorem datum ab Eleutherio episcopo
 31. annis

31. annis sustinuit. Baculum episcopatus datum a Brightwaldo archiepiscopo annis 4. sustinuit, & in quinto anno obiit. Nam omnes annos ætatis suæ nulla scriptura misit in calculum: sed est conjectura non fallax grandævum fuisse sanctum virum.

Translatus autem fuit S. Aldelmus in prima translatione sua à Beato Dunstano archiepiscopo Cantuar: anno sepulturæ suæ 91°. Post per multos annos circiter 100. assumptus fuit de feretro, & propter metum Danorum & barbarorum abscondus fuit in Domo Capitulari, & post cursum annorum iterum levatur, & in dextera parte summi altaris cum cineribus ceterorum sanctorum est collocatus per annos 179. post obitum ejus, ab incarnat: D<sup>i</sup>. 1049. post adventum Normannorum in Angl: 13.

Translatus est primo post absconditionem à venerabili episcopo Sarum Osmundo nomine, ab abbate Glocestriæ nomine Serlo, ministrante abbate Malmesbiriæ nomine Warino anno supradicto.

Prima fuit translatio regnante in Anglia rege Edwino & S. Dunstano patrocinante.

Vita S. Aldelmi & gesta regum Anglorum dicunt S. Aldelmum nepotem fuisse regis Inæ.

Dicunt quidam moniales fuisse habitantes juxta castellum de Ingelbourne in quadam villula nomine Ilanburgh, Saxonice vero Burchton: quæ tota die fuerant stupratæ à castellanis, & ideo archiepiscopus Saxonum illas omnino evellebat, fueruntque sub obedientia abbatis Dinot, qui in diversis locis bis mille monachos rexit viventes more monachorum in vitreo monte in Græcia. Creditur moniales morasse ubi nunc fit hospitale leproforum juxta pontem.

Pag. 378.

Castellum fuit constructum post conditionem urbis Romæ anno 174. Inde ab urbe condita ad Christum anni 715. Inde à prima conditione castri Malmesbiriensis usque ad Christum anni 596.

Tempore regis Edwini monasterium Malmesbiriense fuit desolatum à monachis per plura tempora.

Henricus Percy dixit: "Debet "homo sic se exponere periculo pro vobis & regno vestro, " & non succurretis ei in periculo suo?" Et rex iratus dixit: "Tu es proditor. Vis ut succurram inimicis meis & regni." Cui Henricus: "Proditor non sum, sed fidelis, & ut fidelis "loquor." Rex traxit contra eum pugionem. "Non hîc "dixit Henricus, sed in campo," & recessit.

Pag. 388.

Henricus Percy, & avunculus ejus Thomas Percy, quem rex Richardus comitem fecerat Wigornia, & domus suæ fenescallum, collegerunt exercitum in Marchia Scotiæ, dicentes quod contra Scottos bellare oporteret, & venerunt ad comit: Cestriæ, & Cestrenses secum assumpserunt, miseruntque ad Andoënum, ut veniret. Sed Andoënus cognoscens quod callidi erant, non confidebat in illis. Wallicos tamen multos assumpserunt, & venerunt omnes in Lichefeld insigniti signis Richardi, videlicet cervis: & fecit Henricus ibi proclamare, dicens, quod ipse fuit unus de illis, qui maxime faciebant ad expulsionem Richardi, & introductionem Henrici, credens se bene fecisse; & quia nunc cognovit quod pejus regit Henricus quam Richardus, ideo intendit corrigere errorem suum.

Rex collegit exercitum, & obviavit illi extra Salapiam; ubi rex tractavit cum eo quærens causam suam: &c. ut Henricus Percy multa regi objecerit.

Cui Henricus: "Confulo tibi ut ponas te in gratia mea."

Sed ipse nec venit, nec succursum misit. Audoënus villam cepit & incendit, præter unum vicum in quo fratres Minores habitabant; quem amore fratrum cum conventu stare permisit. Cepit insuper castrum, & destruxit, multasque divitias ibi repositas abstulit. Et cum fratres Minores peterent ab eo libros suos & calices, quos in castro deposuerant, respondit, "Quare posuistis vestra bona in castro? Si ea retinuissetis apud vos, salva vobis fuissent."

Hoc anno filius Audoëni Glindour ab Anglicis capitur, & in turrim London: mittitur. Tunc heredes comitis Marchiæ duo filii existentes in Warda regis, quos quidam dixerunt veros heredes regni Angl: de proxima linea de stirpe D<sup>i</sup>. Leonelli, abducti fuerunt à curia regis per quandam Damicellam de camera reginæ, & ipsa accusavit de hoc ducem Eborum. Et dux in castro de Pevenesey aliquamdiu detentus est. Dux tamen excusavit se, dicens, quod ipse scivit quod auicerentur, & præmunivit de hoc regem. Pag. 397.

Heres comitis de Notingham conquestus est ante Scrope archiepiscopo Ebor: quod Henricus rex terras & officium Marefcalli patri debita abstulerat, & comiti Westmerlandiæ dederat.

Archiepiscopus Scrop prædicavit in ecclesia Ebor. ortans populum, ut assisterent ei ad correctionem mali regiminis regni. Et postea collecto exercitu processit cum D. Mowbray versus comitem Westmerlande. Et comes Westmerland cum exercitu venit contra eos.

Tunc appropinquantibus exercitibus comes Westmerland rogavit archiepiscopum, & D. Mowbray ut convenirent coram eo, & tractarent de pace. Dum autem convenirent, quidam miles comitis Westm: exivit ad exercitum archiepiscopi; & dixit, "Jam domini concordati sunt. Et archiepiscopus " præcipit vobis ut recedatis, quia hac nocte cœnabit cum " D<sup>s</sup>. meo." Sic nimis creduli recesserunt. Quo cognito, capti sunt archiepiscopus, & Mowbray, ac exercitus comitis Westmerland dispersum archiepiscopi exercitum persequabantur, spoliantes & graviter verberantes quos capere potuerunt.

Intravit Robertus Cumyn Dunelmum cum 700. hominibus ubique per domos hostiliter agentibus. Summo autem diluculo Northumbr: congregati omnes portas irrumpunt, totaque urbe discursantes socios comitis interficiunt. Tanta denique fuit interfectorum multitudo, ut omnes plateæ cruore ac cadaveribus replerentur. Supererant adhuc non pauci, qui ostium domus, in qua comes erat, defendentes, oppugnantium prohibebant accessum. Illi ergo injecto igne domum cum hiis, qui intus erant, conati sunt incendere. Itaque flammarum globis altius volitantibus, turris occidentalis eccl: quæ juxta stabat, jam jam ab igne cremanda videbatur.

Sed ante finem incendii Danica classis supervenit, & de conniventia civium plus quam 4000. millia Normannorum trucidavit. Cospatricius postea nudis pedibus incedens ad insulam, ubi S. corpus Cuthberti fuerat, veniam eorum, quæ in eum deliquerat, precibus & muneribus petivit.

Ego enim pro me vere fateor, nullo modo erroribus illis, quos in libro Pethredi scriptos esse demandasti, nobisque prius demonstraasti, assensum præbere velle; nec ullis deo & mihi subjectis in ea voluntate consentire: &c.

Non Pethredi assertionibus obtemperare, qui stulta falsitate refert, Nialum diaconum 7. ebdomadas mortuum fuisse, & iterum revixisse, nihilque alimentorum postea percepisse: aliaque perplura, quæ idem Pethred, sive pro se, sive per Nialum, vel alios falsiloquos, de veteri, ac novo Testamento delirando mendaciter prompsit, omnia abjicienda, ac nullo modo ulli orthodoxo sequenda sunt.

Bonum mihi videtur per literas, vel legatum te demandare episcopo in cujus parochia Pethred manet, ceterisque dei servis, "qui" in vicino illi manentibus fraterna illum charitate admonere & docere, quatenus ab erroribus, in quibus deceptus est, resipiscat, aliosque, quos decepit, quantum valeat, corrigat. Et, si vobis obtemperat, salvabitur ejus animam à morte.

Regnante rege illustri Gul: primo extitit quidam vir nobilis in partibus Cantabrigiæ de gente & genere Normannorum, Picotus nomine, Vicecomes cognomine, quia vice comitis in illis partibus fungebatur, & inter optimates regni pro comite habebatur. Memoratus namque rex quandam baroniam in provincia Cantebrigiæ, dum integra esset fatis opulentam, illi contulerat, & altis aliis honoribus & opibus, ut bene dignus erat, per diversa reg: loca eum fatis ditaverat.

Brunna, vulgo Bourne, baronia Picoti.

Hugolina, uxor Picoti, S. Egidium tanquam patronum coluit: quæ aliquando gravissime ægrotans monaster: ex voto, si salutem recuperaret, D. Egidio dicaturam se promisit. &c. ut convaluerit, & maritum de complendo voto exoraverit.

Tandem Anselmo Cantuar: episcopo & Remigio Lincoln: consultis, ecclesiam in honore beati Ægidii, & officinas fatis eo tempore competentes, Cantabrig: juxta castrum construxerunt, & sex <sup>a</sup> canonicis regularibus in brevi illic adunatis, ad eorum curam gerendam Galfridum de Huntedon Canonicum, magnæ religionis virum, præfecerunt. Ad horum itaque sustentationem 2. partes decimarum de dominiis suis, atque omnium militum fuorum ejusdem provincie, antequam ipsis militibus fundos conferrent, uti mos erat Francigenis, Domini Remigii episcopi prius habita concessione, assignaverunt. Ex Charta novæ Donat: Pagani.

Concessi similiter eisdem Canonicis quendam locum jacentem in campis Cantabrig: pro 13. acris, circa fontes de Barnwelle, quem Henr: mihi dedit ad domum eorum stabilendam & fundandam, libere, quiete, integre, a mag: platea usque in riveriam de Cantebrig: &c. de hyda terræ in Brunna data.

Ad eccles: S. Egidii, ut dictum est, Picotus vicecomes Canonicos fundavit anno D. 1092. Sed ad prædictum locum de Barnwelle Paganus Canon: Reg: cum mag: apparatu & suppellectili, comitante non modica caterva cleri, & populi, & Burgensium Cantebrig: à primo fundat: loco, postquam ibi steterant per 20. annos, transtulit, & translatos in prædicto loco Barnwelle, multo magis eis opportuno, cum gaudio magno collocavit anno D. 1112. ecclesiamque miræ pulchritudinis, & ponderosi operis, in honore beati Egidii ibidem inchoavit. Sicque beatus Andreas, sicut in cælo & in terra beatum Egidium sibi associans, hospitioque suscipiens, hospes ejus usque in hodiernum diem est effectus, & ambo permanent ejusdem loci patroni usque in sempiternum.

Antequam propositum suum de 30. Canon: constituendis compleisset, vel sufficientem sustentationem eis providisset, à translatione Canon: decennio nondum decurso, London: febre correptus migravit ad dominum, Bernewellamque delatus, in aquilonari parte magni altaris decenter est collocatus.

Gul. Peverel, filius Pagani, confirmavit Donationem patris sui, adjecta dimidia hydæ terræ in Brunne. Post Gul: Peverelle Hierosoly: adiit, & illic a seculo migrans nullum ex se reliquit heredem. Quatuor sorores, dicti Pagani filias, reliquit, quæ totam Baroniam inter se diviserunt. Quarum primogenita vocabatur Mathildis de Doure, & ipsa sine herede de se mortua est. Et sic hereditas ad 3. sorores devoluta est, & pars prædictæ Mathildis inter ipsas divisa. Quarum una fuit uxor Hamonis Pecche Senioris, quæ vocabatur Alicia: & ex illa processerunt filii & filiæ. Primogenitus Hamonis vocabatur Gilbertus Pecche primus, & 2. vocabatur Galfridus Pecche. Iste Galfridus dedit Canon: ecclesiam de Harleston ad vesturam.

De Gilberto autem processit Hamon Pecche, qui uxorem accepit nomine Evam, de partibus marinis oriundam, quæ genuit 5. filios & filias.

Secunda soror Gul: Peverelle vocabatur Roisia. De illa processit Albreda de Harecurt, & ex illa Albreda <sup>a</sup> processerunt Gaifridus Trussebut. His omnibus defunctis sine herede de se, 3. sorores remanserunt, scilicet Roysia, Hillaria, & Agatha.

Ex Roysia Robertus de Ros senior. De Roberto Gul: de Ros, & isti tres, scilicet Gul: Hillaria, & Agatha, heredes sunt in parte.

Gilbertus Pecche fuit filius Hamonis Pecche. Hic fecit avum suum, Gilbertum Pecche nomine, & Aliciam uxorem ejus <sup>b</sup> levare de pulv re, & in uno sepulchro marmoreo ex parte aquilonari mag: altaris ad caput egregii Pagani Peverel amborum corpora recondi. Pater ejus vocabatur Hamon Pecche, & uxor ejus Eva, de transmar: partibus oriunda. Ex iis processerunt 6. filii, scilicet Gilbertus primogenitus, Hamon, Hugo, Robertus, Thomas & Gul: Ex iis vidimus quinque milites potentes, prudentes, & robustos. Sextus vero, scilicet Hamon, erat clericus, ecclesiis & redditibus copiose ditatus. Pater vero eorum mortuus est in terra sancta, & corpus ejus delatum est Barnewelle, & sepultum est in capella D. Mariae. Uxor vero ejus Eva, senex & plena dierum, cum mag: veneratione, praesentibus 4. filiis suis, sepulta est a dextra viri sui. Et filius illorum junior Gul: Peche miles, aspectu quidem pulcher, & armis inter omnes bacchelariorum validiss: nominatus, sepultus est a sinistra patris sui.

moribus multo clariorem; & habuerunt filios & filias. <sup>a</sup> Qua London: defuncta est. Sepultum est corpus ejus in eccles: Canon: beatae Mariae ultra aquam, quia videlicet huc deferri honorifice non potuit tum temporis, sicut ipsa optaverat, propter perturbationem quæ tunc erat in Angl: Sed cor ejus huc deportatum fuit in locello plumbeo, & coram mag: altare, magis cœpit diligere pueros 2<sup>x</sup>. uxoris, quam primæ; quod ex post facto patuit. Nam 2<sup>x</sup>. ux<sup>l</sup>. & pueris suis, dedit Gilbertus maneria quædam, & securitatem super his quæ necessaria <sup>a</sup> erat ad perpetuitatem providenter providit. Joannem vero Peche primogenitum suum, & Edmundum ejus fratrem, filios 1<sup>x</sup>. uxoris quasi fere dimisit inanes. Nam nescio quo spiritu ductus vel consilio D<sup>m</sup>: regem Eduardum, filium regis Henr: & reginam Alienoram, de residuo Baronie suæ suos fecit heredes.

Frater Alanus de Walsingham factus Sub-Prior Eliensis circa 5. annum Joannis de Hothun, & postea sacrista.

Pag. 871.

Anno D. 1341. in nocte ante diem S. Ermenildæ subito ruit campanile super chorum, cum tanto strepitu ac fragore, ut putaretur terræ-motus.

Alanus sacrista emundavit locum, in quo novum campanile erat extructurus, per octo partes arte architectoria mensuratas, in quibus octo columnæ lapideæ, totum ædificium supportantes, erigerentur, & infra quas chorus postea cum stallis esset construendus federe fecit, & scrutari, donec inveniret locum solidum ubi fundamentum operis secure posset inchoare. Quod quidem opus usque ad superiorem tabulatum per 6. annos consummatum, anno D<sup>i</sup>. 1328.

Et statim eodem anno illa artificiosa structura lignea novi campanilis, summo ac mirabili mentis ingenio imaginata, super prædictum opus lapideum ædificanda, fuit incepta, & maximis ac onerosis impensis, præsertim pro lignis grossis, prædictæ structuræ necessario congruentibus, longe lateque quærendis, & difficultate max: tandem inventis, magno pretio comparatis, ac per terram & per mare ad Ely adductis, nec non & per ingeniosos artifices sculptis ac fabricatis, atque in ipso opere artificiose coadunatis, honorificam & optatam, deo auxiliante, fortita est consummationem.

Sumptus novi campanilis per 20. annos tempore Alani sacristæ 2406. li. 6. solidi, 11. denar:

Sumptus novæ cameræ juxta infirmariam 3. annis 60. li. 17. sol. 9. denar: & ob.

Crux, quam Edgarus rex dedit eccl: Elien: furto, cum aliis ornamentis, tempore Alani sacristæ sublata.

Locus nomine Queneisbour ad partem australem turris exterioris in Ely.

Crux Edgari indicio furis relata.

Frater Alanus ex parte boreali juxta villam in longum à Pag. 87<sup>m</sup> cœmeterio parochialis eccl: usque ad officium elemosynariæ murum erexit lapideum bonum, & altum; & alterum à loco ubi incepit usque ad angulum capellæ S. Mariæ, cingens muris totum officium sacristariæ.

Joannes de Hothun episcopus Elien: contulit Priori & conventui de Ely quoddam manerium in Northwold, vocatum Dageney, pro quo excambiatum fuit cum Thoma de Chephham quoddam aliud maner: in Litlebyri in Effax, vocatum Overhale, & Netherhale, cum Merecroft, & aliis pertinentiis.

Richarde Beauchampe, Erle of Warwike, had 2. Wives. The first was Elizabeth, Doughter and Heire to Thomas Lord Barkeley, and Margarete his Wife.

The Erle had Issue by her one Sunne, and one Doughter.

The which Sunne hath also a Sunne, and a Doughter.

The Sun of this young Lorde Lisle had no Issue.

His Sifter was married to Syr Eduarde Gray, yonger Brother to the Lorde Gray of Groby, and hath Issue yet lyving.

Elenor, 2. Doughter to Richarde Erle of Werewike, was married to the Lord Rose, attainctid in Edwarde the 4. Dayes.

They begot a Sunne caullid Edmunde, after Lord Rose, and ii. Doughters.

Eadmund was taken for an Idiote.

The elder Doughter of the ii. that were Sisters to Edmunde, was married to one Maners.

The yonger was married to Syr Thomas Gray, younger Brother to Syr Raufe Gray. This Doughter had no Issue.

The Doughter married to Maners hath a Sunne and 2. Doughtters.

And for as much as Sir Roger Barkeley, the which was Lorde of Dursley, had but a Doughter caullid Eve, and was married to the Bloode of the <sup>b</sup> Fitzhardinges. And at this tyme I am not certeine wither Eve was married to the faide Roberte Fitzharding, or to Thomas his Sunne.

But by cause that Eve was Doughter and Heire to Roger Barkeley, which was booth Lorde of Dordesley and Barkeley. But by cause of thenheritaunce by his Wife Eve, the Name of Fitzhardinges was turned yn to the Name of Barkeley, and so did continue til the Name cam linially to Thomas Lorde Barkeley, which married Margaret, the Doughter and Heire to Waren Lorde Lisle, and was Father to Elifabeth, married to Richard Beauchampe Erle of Werwike.

Against the King's coming to Oxford, it was provided, that all Rayles, Posts, Barrs of Windows, Casements, and Pumpes should be newly paynted, and all Armes newly tricked. The like was done also in all the Streets of the City, and at the severall Gates thereof, the Dials and such like were also new painted. The Streets were finely paved, and clean swept.

This Day at Six in the Afternoon I came to Oxford, bringing with me from the King's Attorney Generall a Booke ready for his Majesties Signature, for two Parsonages given to the University, for the Benefit and better Maintinance of our Two Readers in Divinity. There I found the Earles of Worcester, Suff. & Northampton, with the Lord Carye, who had been to view St. Maries and Christ Church, which was to be the Lodgings for his Majesty and the Queen, and the Prince's Lodging in Magdalen College. They (but especially Lord Suff) utterly disliked the Stage at Christ Church, and above all, the Place appointed for the Chair of Estate, because it was no higher, and the King so placed that the Auditory could see but his Cheek only, this dislike of the Earle of Suff. much troubled the Vice Chancellor and all the Workmen, yet they stood in Defence of the Thing done, and maintained that by the Art perspective the King should behold all better then if he sat higher. Their Chancellor also after his coming tooke Part with the University, and on the Sunday Morning the Matter was debated in the Councill Chamber. In the End, the Place was removed, and sett in the midst of the Hall, but too far from the Stage, viz. 28 Foote, so that there were many long Speeches delivered which neither the King nor any near him could well hear or understand. The stage was built close to the upper End of the Hall, as it seemed at the first Sight. But indeed it was but a false Wall fair painted and adorned with stately Pillars, which Pillars would turn about, by reason whereof with the help of other painted Clothes, their Stage did vary Three Times in the acting of One Tragedy. Behinde the foresaid false Wall there was reserved 5 or 6 Paces of the upper End of the Hall, which served them to good Uses for their Howses and Receipt of the Actors, &c.

Veneris 23<sup>o</sup> Augusti 1605.

This Day very late at Night the Earle of Dorset Lord Treasurer of England and Chancellor of Oxford came to Oxford, and was entertained at Christ's Church with an Oration which he heard very unwillingly, because he commanded the contrary. He lodged at New College.

This Day the Chancellor with the Vicechancellor and other Doctors came to the Sermon in St. Maries Church (made by Mr. Gryme) and before him Six Bedells, he having a white Staff in his Hand. The Three Esquire Bedells were in fair Gowns, Velvet Capps, and Chains of Gold. Dr. Abbat then Vicechancellor went next him almost Side by Side, the Rest of the Doctors following Two and Two together. The Sermon being ended, the Chancellor viewed and commended the Stages in St. Marie's which were built in Manner following, viz.

The King was placed in his Estate, with his back towards the Quire; the Place was very large and fair, raised upon an Ascent of Seven Steps, to a half Pace, above which, Two Steps higher stood the Cloath and Chair of Estate. His Entrance was in at the South Doore, and by the South Wall (the short Seates there and all other Pews and Seates in the Church being taken away) through a very fair Alley to the said Place. The South Side and North Side of the Church was built with double Galleries, the uttermost Gallery being higher then the inner, of equal Height with the Place where the Chair of Estate stood, and were chiefly reserved for Men of great Place.

The lower Gallery on the South Side was for Doctors of Law and Physic. In the Space betwixt the Two first Pillars in the Gallery towards the North sat the Chancellor, and in the lower Gallery of the same Side right under the Chancellor sat the Vicechancellor, and the Doctors of Divinity according to their Seniority sat in the same Gallery. In the middle Space upon Forms, there provided, sat Bachelors in Divinity and Masters of Art, every Man in their Hoods and Square Capps. In the West End of the Church was built 13 Seates, ascending One above another very high. The like was built from the higher Gallery upward on the North Side some 7 or 8 Ascents to the Roofe of the Church. On these Galleries were Gentlemen and Strangers placed, but not One Woman seen in the Church, saving the Queen and about some 8 or 10 Ladies that attended her Majesty. The Answerer had a Seat made of Purpose, and placed beneath the Pulpit on the left Side. The like Seat was placed for the Moderator hard above the Pulpit nearer to the King. The Opponents were placed in a Seat made of Purpose for Six Men on the North Side, their Backs close to the lower Gallery, and a faire Deske before them decently covered. The Rayles before the King, and the Noble Men which sat in the Galleries, were very richly covered with Tapestry hanging down, and Cushions suitable, whereof there were great plenty. The Vicechancellor's Seat was very richly adorned with Cloath of Veluet wrought on with Gold, and a very fair Cushion.

Solis 25<sup>o</sup> Augusti 1605.

This Day the Lord Treasurer went to the Court at Woodstock, where I was commanded by our Chancellor to attend for the Dispatch of our Business. There were (as I heard)

Two

Two learned Sermons at Oxford, and at the Court Mr. Gwerdon, Dean of Salisbury, preached, whome the University of Oxford had graced with the Degree of Doctor a few Days before, reserving his Creation to be done before the King at the beginning of the Divinity Act.

Lunæ, 26<sup>o</sup> Augusti 1605.

This Day at Seven of the Clock in the Morning there was an English Sermon at All Hallowes, a Church near unto St. Marie's, which was continued at the same Houre for Foure Days next after, in the same Church. At 8 of the Clock all publick Lectures were read in their severall Schooles, and from Nine till Eleven they continued their Disputations, which they call Quodlibets, in every severall School of Arts, which Disputations were in this Manner, viz. First a Master of Arts replyeth upon a Batchelor, and after a while another Batchelor sayth, Placet tibi Domine, and then the Batchelor replyeth, and perhaps a Second, and a Third, the Master of Arts then sitting as Moderator, but if no Bachelor desire a Placet, the Master of Arts must continue the Time. And in the same Schools from One till 3. Disputations were by Batchelors and Sophisters continued. This Day the Lord Chamberlain and diverse other Earles and Lords came to Oxford and reviewed the King's and Queen's Lodgings in Christ Church, and the Prince's Lodginge in Magdalen College, and dined all with the Chancellor at New College in the Warden's Lodging, where the Vicechancellor and some other Doctors with the Bedells dined. They spared not to pull down a Wall or Study in Christ Church, to enlarge the Roomes for the King's and Queen's Estate.

Martis 27 Augusti 1605.

In the Forenoon all Things were performed as on the Day before. At One of the Clock in the Afternoon the Vicechancellor and Doctors went to the Chancellor at New College, and from thence presently to meet the King in Manner following, viz. First, 3 Esquire Bedells rode on Foote Cloaths, in fair Gowns, with Gold Chains, in Velvet Capps, carrying their Staves as at other Times, but bare headed (as did the Serjeant of the Mace) who rode next behind them. Immediately after them rode the Chancellor, talking with the Vicechancellor, the Vicechancellor bearing back about Half the Length of his Horse. After them 6 or 8 Doctors also in Scarlet Two by Two upon the Foote Clothes. Then the Two Proctors in their Civill Hoods, and after them Ten or Twelve in black Gownes and Civill Hoodes, upon the Foot Clothes riding Two by Two. These were some of them Heades of Halls, and some of them ancient Bachelors in Divinity. All these University Men did weare square Capps. They stayed first at a Place called Aristotle's Well, being about a Mile from the City, but for that it was a narrow Place, much anoyed with Dust, the Lord Chamberlain sent them Word to come a little forward into a fair Meadow, where they all, saving the Serjeant of the Mace, alighted from their Horses, and stayed a little beside the high Way expecting the King. In the mean Time the Maior of the City, 12 Aldermen in Scarlet, and some Six Score Commoners in black Coates guarded with Velvet, and lay'd on with Bellament Lace, passed forward by them some Forty Score. Whereat the Vicechancellor and Doctors were much discontented, and made known their Grief to the Chancellor, who presently called his Serjeant at Armes, and willed him to tell the Maior and his Brethren that they had forgot themselves, and had proceeded beyond their Bounds, and that he required them upon their Perill, to come back again behind him and the University, and not to dare to speak to the King till they had first done. The Maior sent Two of his Aldermen who alighted from their Horses, and came on Foot to the Chancellor, craving Pardon and excusing the Matter, first for that they were sent for by the Lord Chamberlain to come forward out of the Dust, and secondly, for that they did not see his Honor, as they passed by. To whom the Lord Chancellor answered, I think we should understand the Lord Chamberlain's Minde as well as you, he sent us Word to stay here, and it were not best for you to presume to go before us. So the Maior and his Company returned back behind the Chancellor about some Twenty Score.

Immediately after the King came riding on Horseback, with his Queen on his Left Hand and the Prince before them, the Duke of Lenox carrying the Sword. The Nobility attending the King was very great, and richly attired in every Respect. The King came somewhat near them, and then stayed his Horse. The Chancellor went towards his Majesty 5 or 6 Paces, and then kneeled down, but what he said I could not hear. The King gave him his Hand and pulled him up; he retired to the Vicechancellor, by whome the Three Bedells stood, and the King coming a little nearer, the Vicechancellor began his Speech, which he delivered upon

upon his Knee with good Grace and clear Voice; in which Speech he highly commended their University and preferred it before all others in the World, ratione Cæli et Soli, Antiquitatis, Pulchritudinis Ædificiorum, multitudinis Collegiorum, Studentium, et doctorum Virorum! And last of all, that it pleased his Highness to vouchsafe first of all to come and see the same, and so ended.

Within less then a Quarter of an Houre that done, the Bedells delivered up their Staves to the Chancellor, who delivered them to the King kneeling, the King putting them back, with his Hand smiling, bad him take them again. After that they presented to his Majesty a Greek Testament in Folio washed and ruled, and Two Pair of Oxford Gloves, with a deep Fringe of Gold, the Turnovers being wrought with Pearle. They cost as I was informed 6<sup>lib.</sup> a Pair. They also gave unto the Queen Two Pair of Gloves much like the former, and a Pair unto the Prince. So they went on a little forward, the Bedells bearing their Staves before the King with the Armes upward, and next them went Three Serjeants at Arms, then the Sword Bearer who was that day (as I said) the Duke of Lenox, then the Prince, King, and Queen, and all the Nobility.

So they came to Mr. Maior and his Brethren. The Town Clerk (in the Absence of the Recorder) made a long Speech in English, extolling highly the late Queen and her Government, the great Fear at her Death, the exceeding Joy, and infallible Hope that succeeded upon it. After this the Maior surrendered his Mace to the King, who put it upon him again, and then the Maior gave the King (after their Oration done) a fair standing Cupp, having 50<sup>lib.</sup> of Gold in it, both worth 100<sup>lib.</sup> Also to the Queen they presented another worth 40<sup>lib.</sup> and to the Prince another standing Cupp gilt and covered, worth 30<sup>lib.</sup> So then they marched on slowly towards the City. Next before the Sword Bearer rode the Three Serjeants, then the King at Armes in his Coat Armour, and on his Right Hand the Vicechancellor, and on his Left Hand the Maior of the City carrying the Mace on his Shoulders, which was very near as fair as the King's Maces. Next before them rode the Doctors in Scarlet and square Capps, and before them the Proctors, and before them some Six Heads of Halls, no Doctors, and 6 or 8 more antient Batchelors in Divinity all in Black, and next them the Three Esquire Bedells, then the Aldermen, and so the Burgers, the best next the King and the meanest foremost. The Chancellor went next before the King, with the Lord Chamberlain, not as Chamberlain, but as Treasurer.

rer. I marvelled why the Bedells rode so far from the Vicechancellor, and further from the King, the Proctors and some others answered, they went before the University, and secondly, that their Chancellor was there in Person.

This being done, he rode on untill he came unto St. John's College, where coming against the Gate, Three young Youths in Habit and Attire like Nymphs confronted him, representing England, Scotland, and Ireland, and talking Dialogue-wise each to other of their State, at last concluded yielding up themselves to his gracious Government. The Scholars stood all on One Side of the Street, and the Strangers of all Sorts on the other; the Schollers stood first, then the Batchelors, and last the Masters of Arts. At Carfax the Greek Reader, standing in One of the Answerers Seats with a Desk before him, made an Oration in Greek, with good Action and Elocution and (as Dr. Hamond sayd) in good familiar Greek. The King heard him willingly, and the Queen much more, because she sayd, she never had heard Greek.

From thence to Christ Church, where at the Hall Stairs Foot, the University Orator made a good Oration, only preferring their University because the King came thither first, and passed over all other Matters without Comparison. Thence he went to the Church to solemn Prayers, at the first Entrance whereof, there was layd a fair Carpet with Cushions, whereon the King and Queen kneeled. From thence was carried over the King and Queen a fair Canopy of Crimson Taffety, by Six of the Canons of the Church. It was carried on Six Staves gilt with Silver, and on the Topps great Silver Knobs and Pikes on the Topp of them. The Edges were double, and double hanged and fringed with red Silk; the whole Society standing in their Surplices on both Sides the middle Alley to the Quire Doore, where the Dean of the Church presented unto the King certain Verses in Latin, and to the Queen certain Verses in English. So the King and Queen proceeded to the upper End of the Quire, where Places were provided for them behind the Traverse. The Service was very solemn, the Quire full, and excellent Voices, mixt with Instruments. When Prayers were done, they came back in like Sort to the Doore, where Six Footmen took the Canopy and carried it away for a Fee. Then they went all to the King's Lodging, and a while after the Prince accompanied with Three Coaches full of Noblemen, and a Number of young Ones a Foot, went to Magdalen College to his Lodging where he was entertained. It is to be remembered that on Munday at Afternoon, the Delegates, viz. the Vicechancellor and Heads, met at St. Marie's, and there they concluded, and chose out of every House and Hall One who should have Proctor's Authority joyntly and severally to punish or imprison any disorderly or unruly Scholer or other Person, and by this Meanes none could be unknown.

On Tuesday while the Vicechancellor and some 8 or 10 in Scarlet rode to meet the King, with Proctors and 12 or 16 others, with Three Esquires Bedells as afore sayd; the other 3 Bedells attended a Deputy, who with the Rest of the Heads and other Delegates looked that all should be in Order in the Town.

The Comedy began between 9 and 10, and ended at 1, the Name of it was Alba, whereof I never saw Reason; it was a Pastoral much like One which I have seen in King's Colledge in Cambridge. In the acting thereof they brought in Five or Six Men almost naked, which were much disliked by the Queen and Ladies, and also many rusticall Songes and Dances, which made it very tedious, insomuch that if the Chancellors of both the Universities had not intreated his Majesty earnestly, he would have been gone before Half the Comedy had been ended.

Mercurii 28 Augusti 1605.

The Bell rang out at Seven to an English Sermon in All Hallowes as afore sayd. At Eight of the Clock there was appointed a Sermon ad Clerum, at which Hour the King was asleep, so Word was brought that Nothing should be done untill his coming. The Doores were kept by the Guards and other Officers appointed by the Lord Chamberlain, saving that the Proctors took in Doctors and Masters of Arts in their Habits (and none else) at a back Doore. About Nine the King came in great State, the Earle of Southampton, Sword Bearer for that Day. After the King was placed in his Estate, and the Nobility had taken their Places, the Proctors saying ad Creationem, the Father in Divinity (viz. Dr. Holland) asked Leave of the King upon his Knees, that he might create his Sonn, after the Manner of the University, whereunto his Majesty gave Consent. In which Creation he first spake of his Gown, the Colour and Dye thereof, then he felt whether he was booted or not, and gave Reason why he should be booted: In the third Place he gave him a Bible: 4thly, A Capp, Ring, and Osculum pacis, and so the Act began. He would have been long, but that the Proctors bad him conclude.

The Divinity Acts.

The Vicechancellor read the Questions, and the Verses which were written upon the same, and sent the Paper to the King, and Seven Copies more to the greatest of the Nobility. Then the Answerer read them over in like Sort, and then made a short Exposition of both the Questions, which they call a Supposition, in which he spent a Quarter of an Houe or thereabouts. Then Dr. Holland replied Two Syllogisms, and then animated his Son in One Word, and sett him to follow the Argument after him. Five other Doctors replied exceeding well, One in One Cause, and another in another, every Man One Argument, which they followed learnedly and well, and were as well answered. The Answerer ever repeated their Arguments clarâ voce, that the whole Auditory might hear. The King was most attentive, and would shew when he liked the Argument by Word, or other outward Gesture, One Argument was grounded out of Verse of the Epistle of St. James, Chapt. which was once well answered by the Respondent, but the Opponent came to it again, by which Time the King had found the Place in a Testament, which he had of the Dean of the Chappell, and then stood up and sayd Audi, Audi. He read the Place in Latin, and then readily and eloquently expounded the meaning, and concluded with the Answerer. After they had all disputed, the Vicechancellor determined in brief with good Grace and good Acceptance.

About Two after Dinner the King came again, and with him the Queen and Prince, and the Law Act began, the Proctor first saying, Egregie Opponens propone Quastiones, so the senior Opponent read One Question, and after read the Case upon the same, and then read the Second Question, and another Case to the Purpose, and so desired the Answerer to shew his Minde, and how he would defend those Questions. The Answerer read the Questions and the Cases as the senior Opponent had done, and after made his 3 Congies to the King, and then begun, and ended within One Quarter of an Houe, as every Man did in every Faculty, both they which answered, and they which replied and determined. They all replied very well, and the King observed them much, and yet talked much to diverse about him, but of a sudden 3 or 4 Times he spake, and interpreted the Law as he did to the Moderator Twice. He determined One Question in this Manner, viz.

An Judex teneatur in judicando sequi legitimas probationes contra veritatem sibi privatim cognitam ?

“ Duplex est Juramentum illud, quo Judex quilibet tenetur

 “ Ego igitur sic statuo, Elaborandum inprimis Judici, ut

In the second said Law Act, after the King first spoke, the Scholers began a Plaudite; at the second Time the graver Men crying in the End Vivat Rex. At the Third Time the Prince, Nobility, and all, and that with great Vehemency. The same Day after Supper about Nine of the Clock, they began to act the Tragedy of Ajax Flagellifer wherein the Stage varied 3 Times; they had all goodly antique Apparell, but for all that, it was not acted so well by many Degrees as I have seen it in Cambridge. The King was very weary before he came thither, but much more wearied by it, and spoke many Words of Dislike.

Jovis 29. Augusti 1605.

The like was done at the Physick Act on Thursday Forenoon which began at Nine, and lasted till Twelve: The Earle of Worcester being Sword Bearer for that Day. It was very well performed, and concluded with a discreet and learned Speech by Dr. Warner. He dissuaded Men from Tobacco by good Reasons and apt Similes, perswading them, especially Noblemen, to imitate their Prince, and do as Alcibiades did with his Pipes being a Boy. He concluded his Speech with a Prayer, that God should give all Blessings and such Health of Body to his excellent Majesty, that he might never stand in Need of any of them. From thence the King went to New College, and dined with the Chancellor in great State. In the Afternoon were Two Philosophy Acts very well performed; that of Natural Philosophy First and better, after which the Queen and Prince went away immediately. The second Replyer excelled (viz. One Mr. Baskerville) after 20 Syllogisms the Proctor cut him off, but the King sayd, Imo vero procedat hic, so he disputed again 'till the King cut him off. After he said to the Nobles about him, God keep this Fellow in a right Course, he would prove a dangerous Heretick, he is the best Disputer that ever I heard. Of the next he said at the first, He never heard a worse, who would have proved by an Enumeration or Induction that Tobacco must need be good, because Kings, Princes, Nobles, Earles, Lords, Knights, Gentlemen of all Countries and Nations, reckoning a Number, loved it. The King gave instance that there was One King that neither loved nor liked it, which moved great Delight. The Opponent afterwards disputed well. The like fell out with the Fourth Replyer, as it did with the Second, for after the Proctor had cut him off, the King bad he should proceed. The King determined one of these Questions in Manner following, viz.

Speech

*Determinatio Regis super Quæstione illâ.
An Aurum Artis Operâ possit confici?*

Triplici ratione istius Quæstionis pars negativa fruatur, alterâ; Tertia et ultima ab experimentiâ deducta. Primam quod attinet, Dicitur Geneseos—Deum intra spatium sex dierum. omnes omnino rerum Species creasse: Inter quas, ut Metalla plane omnia, ita inter Metalla aurum suo quodam jure est percensendum, ut jam denuo ab homine de novo creari non possit. Siquidem omnia a Deo semel sunt creata, ne recreari idcirco ullâ arte humanâ poterunt aut peritiâ, quanquam transmutari posse non negarim. Quod si quisquam præterea Mortalium hoc potuisset unquam, merito equidem Salomonem, hac in parte ceteris præferendum puto, Regem ut præ aliis ditissimum, ita procul dubio longe sapientissimum, utpote qui omnis generis doctrinâ polleret, et intimas rerum naturas fuerat perscrutatus, quem tamen in magnifico illo, et specioso Templi edificio, aliorum Suppetiis usum legimus, aurum sibi ab Indis asportantium undiq. ad hoc negotium, nullius nempe Artis sibi conscium quâ ipse aurum, quo tum indigebat, conficeret! Jam vero Terra quæ potest esse sola auri Matrix peculiaris et propria, extra quam non possit produci, ex Chymicorum Sententiâ, in auri fabricatione Matricis vim non obtinet. Sed et destinatum quoque tempus, quod reliquis edendis partibus valde est necessarium hujus generationi prorsus denegatur: Cum tamen Mulier non ante novem Menses transactos, fœtum exponat suum, idemque in aliis utiquam rebus generandis liquido appareat: Chymicis è contra vel in instanti aurum se posse conficere profitentibus. Ultimo quot nos Principes Viros etiam cujus vis conditionis Homines ex divitibus ad extremam Paupertatem redactos semper sumus experti, dum huic arti Studerent at ex paupere qui hinc dives evaserit nullus unquam fuit.

The Proctor would have omitted the last Replyer in the Second Philosophy Act to give the more Scope to his Fellow that moderated, but the Opponent stood up and the King sayd Audiamus etiam et illum. Disputet de amplificatione finium Regnorum. So he heard them to the last Word, and 'till it grew dark. That done he stood up, moved his Hatt off his Head, and spake very graciously to that Effect he did at Hinchinbrooke to the Vicechancellor, and others of the Univerfity of Cambridge at his Coming into the Realm, viz.

That Night after Supper about Nine began their Comedy called Vertumnus, very well and learnedly penned by Dr. Gwynn. It was acted much better then either of the other, and chiefly by St. John's Men, yet the King was so over-wearied at St. Marie's, that after a while he distasted it and fell asleep, when he awaked, he would have bin gone saying, I marvell what they think me to be, with such other like Speeches shewing his dislike thereof, yet he did tarry till they had ended it, which was after One of the Clock. The Queen was not there that Night.

Veneris 30 Augusti 1605.

There was an English Play acted in the same Place before the Queen and young Prince, with all the Ladies and Gallants attending the Court. It was penned by Mr. Daniel and drawn out of Fidus Pastor, which was sometimes acted by King's College Men in Cambridge. I was not there present, but by Report it was well acted, and greatly applauded. It was named Arcadia Reformed. But early in the Morning before this Play begun, viz. About Six of the Clock a Bedell saying Omnes Doctores, Magistri Regentes et non Regentes, ad Convocationem per fidem horâ septimâ. At which Houre the Vicechancellor with some of the Heades went to their Chancellor to New College, but returned suddenly to St. Marie's without him. At which Time there was a great Concourse of Graduates of the University, but the Nobles came not till Eight of the Clock, and some of them at Nine. The Earle of Northampton was the First that went in with the Vicechancellor, and satt on his right Hand upon a Forme (for there was but only One Chair which the Vicechancellor satt on). He went in a black Gown and a Regent's Hood, having been before incorporated there. And first there passed a Grace for the Earles of Northumberland, Oxford, Essex, and in general for all other Noblemen, Knights, and Officers of

of the King, Queen, and Prince, which were Men of Account, whereunto Consent was asked by the Proctors, of the Doctors, and then the Proctors turning to the House, the House gave their Consent by generall Acclamation saying, Placet; so the Earle was presented by Dr. Paddy in very good Termes. After that the Proctor gave to him, viz. the Earle of Northumberland the Oath, in hæc Verba (so near as my Memory will serve) viz. Honoratissime Comes, in verbo honoris tui dabis fidem ad observandum Statuta, Privilegia, Laudabiles Consuetudines et Libertates istius Universitatis, in quantum non contrariantur alicui Sacramento, prius à te suscepto. He answered do fidem. To every One in particular he sayd after: Idem Juramentum quod præstitit Honoratiff: Comes in sua Persona, præstabis tu, &c. Then he stood before the Vicechancellor and the Rest of the said Noblemen by him, some Two Yards distant. The Vicechancellor stood up and laying his Hand upon his Breast, admitted them in his Verbis, Ego auctoritate meâ et totius Universitatis admitto vos ad gradum Magistri in artibus in ista Universitate Oxoniensis. Which done they were placed by him on Formes, and then the Vicechancellor with good Words and good Grace gave them Thanks in 3 or 4 Periods, that they would vouchsafe to accept of so small a Matter and so much honour their University. These and other Noblemen, the Vicechancellor standing did admit, but the Knights and others of inferior Place he admitted sitting still in his Chair. After this Admission the Proctor propounded a Grace that they might have Voices or Suffrages as well in that Place as in their Congregation. These Noblemen and diverse Knights were admitted in scarlet Gowns and Hoods, and so were diverse after them, while they came but slowly. Afterwards they pressed in so thick that the Register being there, with Pen and Ink in his Hand could not take their Names, neither did he or any Man else aske what they were: So they looked like Gentlemen, and had gotten on a Gown and a Hood they were admitted.

Sir William Paddy, Dr. of Physick, presented most of the Nobility. Sir John Davies presented the Knights and Courtiers, the Prince's Servants, and others. Doctors presented our Doctors and Batchelors in Divinity, more nostro, and Masters of Arts presented our Masters of Arts.

After Nine the King came to view the Library, upon whome attended a great Part of the Nobility, amongst whome were the Lord Chamberlain and our Chancellor, who were by Sir Henry Savill entreated to stay their Coach and come into the Convocation, which they willingly did, and because there

there was some Scarcity of Robes, the greatest Part of the Company being gone, and (as I guessed) the Convocation being prolonged for the coming of these Two Noblemen, the Proctor propounded a Dispensation to this Effect: Supplicatur Venerabili Convocationi, ut Illustrissimi et Honoratissimi Viri qui non habent habitus, admittantur et incorporentur sine habitibus. So after that some were admitted in Gowns and Hoods of Doctors, either Divines, Lawyers, or Physicians promiscuously, and some without. Our Chancellor in his Cloak, Sir Thomas Monson in his Doublet and Hose, being green, and divers others in like Sort. While these Noblemen were thus admitted, the Earle of Worcester satt by the Vicechancellor on his right Hand in his Cloak, and the Earle of Northumberland in his Hose and Doublet, with his Rapier by his Side, and his Horne about his Neck. So after a while all they departed, and went unto the King, and after the Admission of a few mean Men, the Convocation was dissolved.

The Oath to the Supremacy was not offered to any Man this Day. Knights and Gentlemen were sworn to the same Effect that the other were, but upon the Bible, and without Limitation of any former Oath unless they were incorporated, and then with Reservation, ut in Academia Cantabrigia. Noblemen admitted so far as I can remember, Northumberland, Essex, Oxford, Pembroke, Mountague, Effingham, Delaware, Lord Kinlofs, and diverse other Scottish Lords and Masters which I cannot name. Sir John Harrington Sonn to the Lord Harrington, with other Knights and Gent. very many and some very mean. Incorporated the Earle of Suffolk, Earle of Salisbury, the Viscount Cranborne, Lord Compton, Walden, and others. The Names of such as now and then accompanied the Vicechancellor sitting by him while these Things were done, viz. the Earle of Northampton, Earle of Cumberland, Earle of Worcester, Earle of Rutland, Earle of Southampton, and others.

There was great Labor made that the Prince might be admitted Master of Arts, but the King would not consent thereunto. It is not to be forgotten, that over Night about Supper Time, the Vicechancellor went to some of the Nobility, and sent Dr. Aglionbie and diverse others whome he thought gracious, to the severall Places where they supped, to acquaint their Honours with the Time of their Convocation: What more I could not learne.

In the Time of this Convocation, viz. about Nine, the King came to the Library, and from thence returned by Brazen Nose College where he heard an Oration. He came out of his Coach, and walked about the Square, viewed their College, and commended the Garden within the Square, which at that Time was finely kept. From thence he went by all Soules College where he heard an Oration, and from thence to Magdalen College, and there heard an Oration, and from thence returned to Christ Church to Dinner, where in Time of Dinner Dr. Lyly of Baliol College made unto him a learned Oration, but too long.

After the King had dined, there was posting to Horse; at the Stairs Foot where the King entered into the Court, the Junior Proctor made a short Oration, and delivered it with good Audacity. That done their Chancellor having the Grant of the Perpetuity to the University for the Use of the King's Reader, delivered it to his Majesty in a long Box who took it in his Hand, and gave it to the Vicechancellor, but sayd little or Nothing that I could learn; only he and the Queen gave their Hands to be kissed of the Vicechancellor and the Rest of the Doctors, and bad them farewell and trouble themselves no further, who otherwise had their Horses and Foot Clothes ready to have carried him out of their Liberty. Then the King, Queen, and Prince went all into One Coach, and passed through the Town, by Magdalen College, not staying any where.

The Maior, and Twelve in Scarlet, with their Serjeant, Town Clerk, and 4 or 5 in black (who I think were Baylies or such like Officers) rode before his Majesty through the Town to the further End of the Bridge and there stopped. The Maior carried the Mace as he did at his Majestie's entering. There were Verses sett upon the Walls of such Colleges as were in his Way, viz. All Souls, Corpus Christi, and Magdalen, which the King seemed not to see, or not to regard, neither did a Man step out of the Train to view or read any of them; so they were by the Boyes rudely pulled down. The Scholers stood along by their Colleges, some orderly in their Hoods and Habits fit for their Degrees, some more confusedly and disorderly without any such Respect.

Other Things worthy to be observed.

The young Masters of Arts and Batchelors of Arts did wear Gowns and Hoods so like, that they could not easily be distinguished, viz. Black wide sleeved Gowns faced down to the Foote with Taffaty, and about the Arme to turn up to the Elboe, and black civill Hoods on their left Shoulders.

At

At public Meetings some of the young Masters of Arts were in Hoods lined with Miniver, but not One with white Taffity. All the Rest saving Batchelors in Divinity were in Hoods of changeable Taffity, and those of all Colors. The Batchelors in Divinity had their Hoods lined with black. The Doctors in Divinity disputed in Scarlet Gowns faced down to the Foot with Velvet, with wide Sleeves faced and turned up as the other. Likewise the Doctors of Divinity which were Auditors were in Scarlet Gowns, and their Hooded turned as they are here when they go to preach. The Doctors of Law and Physick, both Disputants and others, were in scarlet Gowns and changeable Hoods.

All Men were uncovered in St. Maries, while the King was in Presence, both at the Disputations, and at the Comedies in Christ Church.

The King would very freely shew his like or dislike of any Thing that was done or sayd, if not in Words, yet at least in outward Gesture. At a privy Nipp, if it favoured of Wit and Learning, and was cleanly carried, he would laugh hartily.

Few Replyers did præfari at all, if any were long, and not very excellent, he would say, Away, away, tush, tush, or such like, but not very lowde. Sometimes he would talk with the Queen, and sometimes with the Noblemen about him. He was as earnest at all Disputations, as he is wont to be at his Sports, and the longer he tarried, the more he would interpose his Speeches, sometimes in Brief, Huc devenum est, or Hoc probandum est, or such like. Sometimes he would distinguish or determine of a Doubt, and sometimes inforce an Argument.

Memorandum, That amongst all the Students, when they satt bare headed in St. Marie's Four or Five Houres together, I could not see any One that wore his Hair but in decent and comely Manner.

It was reported credibly and expected, that the Playes should be acted again the Week following to give Satisfaction to the University, which before could not see them acted, but on Saturday at Night I heard of a certain, that the Apparell was packed up to be sent away, and there was an End.

For the better contriving and finishing of the Stages, Seates and Scaffolds in St. Marie's and Christ Church, they entertained Two of his Majestie's Master Carpenters, and they had the Advice of the Comptroller of his Works. They also hired One Mr. Jones a great Traveller, who undertooke to further them much, and furnish them with rare Devices, but

But performed very little, to that which was expected. He had for his Pains, as I heard it constantly reported 50<sup>lib.</sup>

The Money to defray all these Charges was levied upon the Heades of the Students, according to every Man's Place and Ability, as for Example, in a little poore Hall the Head was assessed to pay 20<sup>sh.</sup> and the Pentioners of the same 4<sup>lib.</sup> and yet they made account that they should have a second Assessment.

The King's Officers complained much of the Taxors or Clark of the Market, for that there was no Care had of the Prices of Victualls, Horsemeat, &c. And the Clark of the Market generally threatned that if he lived to see the Court at Oxford again, he would deal therein as in other Places without the Libertie. And to say the Truth, Things were unreasonable, viz. Hay for an Horse (if he stood in a Stable) at 12<sup>d.</sup> a Day and Night, if he stood without Doores at 8<sup>d.</sup> Oates at 3<sup>sh.</sup> and 3<sup>sh.</sup> 4<sup>d.</sup> the Bushell, whereas they were sold in the Market at Woodstock for 18<sup>d.</sup> 20<sup>d.</sup> and 22<sup>d.</sup> the best.

The Lord Treasurer their Chancellor stayed till Monday next after the King's Departure. He sent to the Disputers and Actors 20<sup>lib.</sup> in Money, and Five Brace of Bucks; so he sent to every College and Hall Venison and Money, after this Proportion, viz. to Brazen Nose College Five Bucks and Ten Angells. To St. Edmund's Hall Foure red Deer's Pies, and Foure Angells.

The Schollers were uncivill at St. Marie's, for the Morn- inge before the King came they satt at the Sermon hard by the Vicechancellor with their Hatts on: And afterwards whether they scorned or were unprovided of Capps, I know not, but there were above One hundred of them sent to Prifon. Nay One of them told me there were an Hundred and Forty sent to Prifon by Command upon their Oathes, and so they went without any Officer of their own accord after they were so commanded.

SUPERSTITIOUS PRACTISES

PREVAILING IN

in the Year 1589.

[From a Manuscript late in the Library of John Aulstis, Esq;
Garter.]

BEINGE occasioned the last Yere to travaile into mine owne native Countrye in North Wales, and havinge taryed ther but a While, I have harde by dyvers, of great and abhominable Idolatrye committed in that Countrye, as that the People went On Pylgrymage to offer unto Idoles far and nere, yea, and that they do offer in these Daies not onely Money, (and that liberally) but also Bullocks unto Idoles. And havinge harde this of fundrye Persones while I was there; upon Whitsoundaye last I went to the Place where it was reported that Bullocks were offered, that I might be an Eye Witnesse of the same. And upon Mondaye in Whitsonne Week ther was a yonge Man that was comed thither the Night befor, and had lodged in the same House wher I dyd lodge, with whome I had Conference concerninge the Maner of the Offeringe of Bullocks unto Saints (as they terme them) and the yonge Man touled me after the same Sort as I hade hard of many befor, then dyd I aske him whether was ther any to be offered that Daye? He answered that ther was One which he had brought to be offered: I demanded of him where it was? he answered, that it was in a Close harde by. And he called his Hofte to goe with him to see the Bullocke, and as they went I followed them into the Close, and the yonge Man drove the Bullocke befor him (beinge about a yere oulde) and asked his Hofte what it was worth? His Hofst answered that it was worth aboute a Crowne, the yonge Man said it was worth more, his Hofte answered and said thus. Upon
Sonndaye

Sonndaye <sup>a</sup> was Senight Mr. Viccar bought here a Bullocke about the Bigness of your Bullocke for Sixteene Groats, therfor you are like to have no more for yours; then the yonge Man said, how shall I do for a Rope against anon to tye the Bullock with? His Hoste answered, We will provyde a Rope, the yonge Man said againe, Shall I dryve him into the Church-yarde? His Hoste answered, You maye; then they drove the Bullocke befor them toward the Church-yarde: And as the Bullocke dyd enter throughe a litle Porche into the Church-yarde, the yonge Man spake aloude, THY HALFE TO GOD AND TO BEYNO <sup>b</sup>. Then dyd I aske his Hoste, Why he said the Halfe and not the Whole? His Hoste answered in the yonge Man's hereing, He oweth me thother Halfe, therfor he offereth but the One Halfe. This was in the Parishe of Clynnog in the Bishopricke of Bangor, about Fifteene Myle from Bangor, in the Yere of our Lord 1589. Yf aney doubt of the Truth hereof, I am ready (by God's Help) to stand to the Prooffe of it, whensoever I shall be called. There be many other Things in that Countrye that are verye grosse and superstitious: As that the People are of Opinion, that Beyno his Cattell will prosper marvelous well; which maketh the People more desyrous to buye them. Also it is a comon Report amongest them, that ther be some Bullocks which have had Beyno his Marke upon their Eares as soone as they were calved. Moreover the People dare not cut downe the Trees that growe upon Beyno his Grownde, least Beyno shoulde kill them or do them some One Harme or other. Also the People do carye Beades openlye, and make fuche clappings with them in the Church, as that a Man can hardely here the Minister read for the Noice thereof, alledginge that they can read upon their Beades, as well as others upon their Books. And further, accordinge to the Number of their Churches and Chapells in that Countrye, so is the Number of their strange Gods: For the People of everye particular Parishe have the Saint or Idole (after the which that Church is named) in fuche Estimation, as that, in their Extremities, they do praye unto him for Help, for when some sodayne Dannger do befall them, they do usuallye say Beyno, Kybie, or Brothen, as the Name is of that Saint or Idole after the whiche the <sup>a</sup> By the which Words it is manifest that there was another offered that Daye.

<sup>b</sup> Beyno (as they say) is the Saint of that Parishe, which is called Clynnog, and is the cheefest of all the Saintes. For he hath raised Six from Death to Life, and will raise the Seventh, and when the Saintes have lost all their Dignitie, Beyno shall Worke the First Myracle.

Paishe (where they dwell) is called. But when they have some more Deliberation, then they say God and Beyno, God and Tanwg, or God and Mary and Michael help us, &c. And above all, the Signe of the Crosse is most superstitiously amongst them abused, for when they shut their Windowes they will make a Crosse. When they leav their Cattell in Houses or in the Fieldes, they will make a Crosse. When they goe out of their Houses in the Mornings, they make Crosses in their Forheads; they<sup>a</sup> laye Crosses upon the Dead as they cary them to be buried, and when they are buried, they lay Crosses upon their Graves; and to be briefe, yf any Thing (otherwise then well) do befall either any of themselves, or of their Cattell, their comon sayinge is, You have not crossed yourself well to Daye, or you have not made the Signe of the Roode upon the Cattell, as yf they woulde attribute the not makynge of a Crosse to be the Cause of the Hurte or Damage that is befallen them. I know of many other Things which are to be tollerated, all which (least I shoulde be to tedious unto the Reader) I am constrained to pretermit at this tyme. These Things I have sette downe for this Ende, that they which are in Authoritie (understandinge of them) might not onelye have some Occasion to searce further, and to know perfectly what Things be amisse in Deede: But also with all expedition labour to reforme all, least the Lorde in his fierce Wrath cause the Land to spue out the Inhabitants thereof, for committinge and sufferinge suche horrible Wickednes.

SHERBORNE CASTELL and MANNOR,

Written in the Year 1620.

[From the original Manuscript in the Possession of Thomas Astle, Esq;]

OSMOND Earle of Dorset, a Norman by Byrth, and a greate Favorite, had Sherborne gyven him by the Conquerer amongst dyvers other Advancements. Afterwards, upon the Vacancye of the See of Salisbury, Osmond forsakinge his temporal Authoritie, and beinge in greate Grace with the Kinge, became Bysshop of that See, and got the Castell of Sherborne to bee annexed to that Bysshopprick, settinge a Curse upon them that did goe about to plucke the same from that godly Use; this Bysshopp was a Man of that Integrety and Holynes that hee was canonized at Rome, and sett downe in our Almanacke for a Saint.

This Castell with the Land thereunto apperteyninge continued in the Bysshoppes untill the Tyme of Kinge Stephen; at which Tyme One Roger, then Bysshopp of Salisbury, (whoe reedyfied both the Castell of Sherborne and the Castell of the Devyzes, comonly called the Vyze) beinge well knowne to be a Bysshoppe of greate Wealth, the said Kinge wantinge Mony for many Purposes, but especyallye for the Compasinge of a Mariage betwene Eustace his onely Sonne, and Constancia the Frenche Kinge's Sister, seased upon the Wealth of the said Bysshopp, tooke the Castell of Sherborne and kepte yt. Not longe after, the right Heire to the Crowne, Mawde the Empreffe, and Henry Fitz-Empresse her Sonne invaded England with such a Power, as that Kinge Stephen was dryven by Composicion to make Henry Fitz-Empresse Heyre apparent to the Crowne, and to disinherit Eustace his owne naturall Sonne. After that Tyme, whyle

the said Castell contynued in the Crowne, greate Trobles arose to the Kinge. Sometymes the Father was against the Sonne, sometymes the Sonne against the Father, the Barons against the Kinge, and the Kinge against the Barons: From the Kinge the Castell was graunted to some of the noble Race of the Mountacutes, and while they had it, Two of them lost there Heades successively One after the other. In the Tyme of Kinge Edward the III<sup>d</sup>. One Robert Wyvyll beinge Bysshoppe of Sarum, brought a Writt of Right against William Mountacute Earle of Salisbury for the said Castell, wherein hee proceeded foe farr, as that there Champions were entred the Lists to try the Combatt. But the Kinge tooke up the Matter, and ordered the Bysshop to give a Some of Mony to the Earle, which was don accordingly, and the Castell restored to the Bysshoprick. Then the same contynued therein untill the Tyme of Kinge Edward the VIth. at which Tyme the Duke of Somersset gott a long Lease thereof, whoe graunted the same unto Sir John Horsley, the best of his Abylitye that ever was of that Name in those Parts. After which, within Halfe a Yere, the Duke of Somersset lost his Head, and Sir John Horsley declyned in his Estate, untill hee grewe foe bare that hee was owt lawde for Xli. King Edward dying, and Nicholas Heath, Archbysshoppe of Yorke beinge Lord Chancellor of England, John Capon, Bysshop of Sarum exhibited a Bill in the Chancery against the said Sir John Horsley, shewing that the Lease made to the Duke was by Menaces and Threats, and for Feare of his Liffe, uppon which Bill the Lord Chancellor releved hym and decreed the Castell for the Bysshop. After that yt contynued in the Bysshoprick untill about the 33<sup>d</sup> Year of Elizabeth, at which Tyme Sir Walter Rawleigh gott yt, and by reason of his Atteynder yt came againe to the Crowne. And foe from the Kinge's Most Excellent Majestie unto our Most Noble and hopefull Prince Henry, who held yt not full a Yere, and foe yt returned to the Crowne. Thence shortly after it came to the Earle of Somersset, with whome howe the Case now standeth, let them to whome it apperteyneth judge. Since his Atteynder yt ys graunted to Sir John Dygbye, Vicechamberleyne to the Kinge. Anno Dni, 1617.

LORD TREASURER WINCHESTER

For the Records of Parliament and Chancery to be delivered into the Tower in order to be digested.

AFTER my very hearty Commendation, I wrote to you in the Favour of Mr. Bowier, Keeper of the Queen's Records in the Tower, and sent you a little Bill of his Sute to you, and praied you to declare the same to my L. Keeper, as you both together might consider of his Service, and that now the Houses in the Tower be made perfect in the Tower for the Records, and large enough to take a great Quantity to be there well preserved; that you both will be mindfull of him to further him to the Queenes Majesty, that he may have the Records of the Chancery, and the Records of the Parliament streated unto him, as heretofore they have been used to be done, and he will see them sorted, and kept to the Queen's honour, and common Weall of her Nobles and Subjects, and in this I have moved my L. of Leic. for him, and sent him a Book of his making for me, Sithen's Hillary Term declaring my Armes and Pedigree, which I think bee well done, and therefore I have desired my said Lord to shew it to the Queen, and to my Lord, and you, that his Service may be known, whereof will grow a great Reformation among the Heralds, that maketh their Books at Adventure and not by the Records. So fare you heartily well. Written the 11th of April 1567.

MASTER OF THE ROLLS

For the Records of the Chancery to be brought to the Tower.

ELIZABETH R.

TRUSTY and well beloved, Wee grete you well. For as much, as it is not meet, that the Records of our Chancery (being accompted as a principall Membre of the Threasure belonging to ourself, to our Corone and Realme, should remain in private Places and Houses for doute of such Danger or Spoile, as heretofore hath happened to the like Recordes in the Time of King Richard the Second, and King Henry the Sixth, our Progenitours. But rather to remain in our Towre of London under the Custody of the Keeper of our Recordes there for the Time being, as not onely by due Custome of our Progenitours from time to time used may appeare (for that as wee are informed) all the Recordes of our said Chancery from the Time of our Progenitour Will<sup>m</sup>. the Conqueror, unto the last Year of the Reign of King Edward the Fourth our Progenitour, have been from time to time thereunto brought, and now there at this Time doe remain. But also (as wee are informed) the same is by Recorde manifeste, and apparante. The stay and removing of which Recordes from the Time of the said King Edward the Fourth hath been by reason, that there wanted a convenient Place in our said Towre to place, and bestowe them in: And now being certified by our right trusty, and right well beloved Cousin, and Chancellour the Marquesse of Winchester, Lord Threasure of England, that he hath within our said Tower provided, and made a most apt, sure, and convenient Place for the bestowing of our said Recordes. And being by him specially and sondrely moved to have due Regard for the removing of our said Recordes into our said Tower, and remembering on the One Side,

Side, how necessary the same is for the State of ourself, our Corone and Realm, and of the other Part how therein the good Examples and Custumes of our said Progenitours shall bee continued. Wee will therefore, and straitly command you, that ye uppon the Sight of these Presents doe deliver, or cause to be delivered unto William Bowyer, Gentl. Keeper of the Records within our said Tower of London, all the Parliament Roules, Patent Roules, Thre<sup>rs</sup>. Roules, Close Roules, Fine Roules, Bundelles of Escheators Inquisitions, Attaindars, and Surrendars, and all other Roules and Recordes whatsoever of our Chauncery, of and for the Times and severall Reigns of King Richard the Third, King Henry the Seventh our dear Grandfather, King Henry the Eight our most dear Father of famous Memory, and King Edward the Sixth our dear Brother, and of every of them. And that the same bee delivered by and according to such Writt, Order, and Form, as heretofore hath been used, or according to such Writ, Order, and Form as hath been heretofore used for the removing of Records into our Recept or Treasury of the Exchequer.

And this Bill signed under our privy Signet shall bee unto you a sufficient Warrant, and Discharge in that Behalf.

FRAMLINGHAM CASTLE

In the County of Suffolk,

[Written by Dr. Sampson of Pembroke Hall Cambridge,
in the Year 1663.]

FRamlingham Castle is a very ancient Structure, and said to have been built in the Time of the Saxons. It was One of the principall Seats of St Edmund the King and Martyr. When he fled from Dunwich, being pursued by the Pagan Danes, hee took refuge in this Castle, but being hard besieged, and having no Hope of Rescue, he fledd from thence, and being overtaken by his Enemies was beheaded at Hoxon, from whence long after, his Corps was removed and re-interred at Bury, called since St. Edmund's Bury. Mathew Paris informs us, that William Rufus gave this Castle to his favorite Roger Bigod; and learned Mr. Camden says, that this Castle, if not rebuilt, yett was repaired by his Son Hugh Bigod, who was created Earl of Norfolk by King Stephen, because he testified upon Oath before the Archbishop of Canterbury and others, that King Henry willed upon his Death-bed, that Stephen, his Nephew, and not Maud, his Daughter, should succeed him in the Kingdom of England.

This Hugh was the Sonne and Heire of the before-mentioned Roger, who was Sewer to King Henry the First, by Adeliza the Daughter and Heire of Sir Hugh Grantemenill, High Steward of England. He married Juliana the Daughter of Almerick de Vere, the King's Chamberlain, and had Issue Roger Bigod Earl of Norfolk, and William a second Son, who dyed in the 24th Year of Henry the Second, and was buried in the Priory of St. Bennet in Thetford. Afterwards this Castle was given by King Edward the First to his Second Son Thomas of Brotherton Earl of Norffolk, and Marshall of England, who repaired it as appeareth by his Armes in diverse Places thereof. This Thomas married Katharine the Daughter of Sir Roger Hayles of Harwich, Knight, and had Issue Edward, and Margaret. Edward succeeded his Father as Earl of Norfolk, and Marshall of England, but dyed, the King's Ward, in the same Yeare with his Father, leaving his said Sister Margaret his Heir. She was first married to John Lord Segrave, who built the Church of St. Michael in Framlingham, and the Church of our Lady in Woodbridge.

This Castle was very faire and beautifull, fortified with a double Ditch, high Banks, and Rampiers. The Walls, which are of great Height and Thickness, are strengthened by Thirteene Towers square built, all which are yett to be seene, as are likewise the Remains of Twoe Watch Towers or Barbicans on the West Side. These Barbicans are now corruptly called by the common People, The Burganys.

This Castle was inwardly furnished with Buildings very commodious and necessary, able to receive and entertaine many. In the First Court was a very deepe Well of excellent Workmanship, compassed with carved Pillars, which supported a leaden Rooffe, and though out of Repayer, was in being Anno 1651.

In the same Court also was a neat Chappell now wholly demolished, Anno 1657, and transported into the Highways.

There were in the Building diverse Armes, some in Stone, some in Wood, to be seene Anno 1651. As of Bigot, Brotherton, Segrave, and Mowbray; and under a Windowe, largely carved and painted, were quarterly the Arms of St. Edward King and Confessor, and those of Brotherton, under a Chapeau turned up Ermin, supported by Two white Lyons, for the bearing whereof Thomas Earle of Surrey, the Son of Thomas Second Duke of Norfolk of that Name, lost his Head in the 38th Year of Hen. the 8. Also on the Hall Gate fayerly cutt in Stone were the Armes of Brotherton impaling Bouchier, quartered with Lovayne, supported with a Lyon and an Eagle. There was likewise on an old Dore a great Iron Ring garnished with Ms. with Ducal Coronets thereon.

On the West Side of this Castle spreadeth a great Lake, which is reported to have been once navigable, and to have filled the double Ditch about the Castle. But it is now much less than formerly it was, being every Day filled up with Earth and Sand washed into it by the heavy Raines: People now call it the Meare. It is said that from hence cometh cometh the River Ore, which emptieth itself (having taken in diverse other Waters) into the Sea at Orford.

This Castle had a Drawe-bridge and a Portcullis over the Gate, which was the strongest Tower: and beyond the Bridge, without, was a half Moone of Stone, about a Man's Height, standing Anno 1657. There was on the East Side a Posterne, with an Iron Gate, leading over a private Bridge into the Parke wherein the Castle standeth, which was, not long since, thick beset with Trees, as the Stumps yet shew.

In the Year 1173, when King Henry the younger rebelled against his Father King Henry the Second, Robert Earle of Leicester, with his Flemings, infested the Countrey, farr and neere, from this Castle. This Robert, together with his Amazonian Countesse Parnell, were taken Prisoners at Farnham St. Genevesa, not far from St. Edmund's Bury, by Richard Lucy Lord Chiefe Justice of England, and Protector of the Kingdom (in the Absence of King Henry the Second) in a pitch Field, wherein were put to the Sword about Tenn thousand Flemings, which the said Earle Robert had levied and sent forth from this Castle to rob and Spoile the Countrey, all or most of which Number were buried in and about the Village of Farnham, in the Year 1173 aforesaid, the twentieth of K. Henry the Second.

Since the Conquest the Possessors of Framlingham Castle were, viz.

1. Roger Bigot and his Posterity.
2. Thomas de Brotherton Earle of Norffolk, Second Son to King Edward the First.
3. John Lord Segrave whoe was the First Husband of Margaret the Daughter and sole Heir of Thomas of Brotherton, and to hir Brother Edward that dyed sine prole. She was afterwards married to Sir Walter Manny, Knt.
4. Thomas Lord Mowbray, Son of John Lord Mowbray and Elizabeth his Wife, Daughter and Heire of Margaret Dutchesse of Norffolk, and John Lord Segrave her Husband. It continued in their Family divers Generations.
5. Sir John Howard, Knt. Son of Sir Robert Howard, Knt. and of Margaret his Wife, Daughter and Coheire of Thomas Mowbray Duke of Norfolk.
6. Thomas Lord Howard, the First Son of Thomas Howard Duke of Norfolk, by Margaret his Second Wife, Daughter and only Heire of Thomas Lord Audley of Walden, Lord Chancellor of England, which said Thomas was summoned to Parliament as Baron Howard of Walden, and afterwards afterwards created Earl of Suffolk, whose Heirs afterwards sold it to

7. Sir Robert Hitcham, Knt. Serjeant at Lawe, who by his Will dated in August 1636, devised the Castle, Manor, and Lordship of Framlingham, and the Manor of Saxted, being of the yearly Value of One thousand Pounds, to the Master and Fellows of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge, and their Successors, Part thereof, of about One hundred Pounds per Annum, to be employed for the Good of the College only, and the Rest for erecting of a Work-house in Framlingham for employing the Poor of that Town, and of the Poor of Debenham and Coggeshall in Essex, and for providing a Stock to sett them on Work, and for Building of Alms-houses in Framlingham for Twelve poor People, who should be allowed Two Shillings a Piece weekly for their Maintenance, and Forty Shillings a Piece yearly for a Gown and Firing ; and for building a School-house at Framlingham for the poor Children of that and the said other Towns, and for Ten Pounds a Piece to bind them Apprentices, and for the yearly Stipend of Forty Pounds for the School-master, Twenty Pounds for One to read Prayers there Twice a Day, and for Five Pounds per Annum for the Sexton. By the said Will he likewise directed, that if the Masters and Fellows of Pembroke Hall should willfully refuse to perform the Directions thereof, then that the Devise as to them should be void, and that the Premises should go to Emanuel College in Cambridge in the same Manner and to the same Uses.

This is all I knowe, or can gather from Antiquitie concerning this Castle. What it was when it flourished you have heard in Part, but now through Age and Ill-handling, it is ready to give up the Ghost.

This Towne wantinge suche, is not onlie therebie decayed, but by suche Meanes hath suffered divers hard Casualties and Misfortuns, as by the aged Men and Dwellers in the Towne I have lerned. The chefest Cause, and first Grounde of the decaie thereof, cam by this Meanes; and thus it was. Theirre happened a Discorde and Discention betwixt the Cowntrie Gentilmen, and the Inhabitaunts of the Towne aforefaide, which Difcention beinge as it was thought, by a Parlie betwene them appeafed, notwithstandinge foddonlie the Cowntrie Gentilmen betrayed the Towne and Townefemen, and with Violence foddonlie entered uppon them, and killed and fpoyled the chefeift and moft Subftanciall of them, facked the Towne, and fet Fyere on the moft Parte thereof, wherebie they overthrewe the State and good Order of the Towne, and alfo almoft utterlie ymperverifhed it. And as it muft Needs be conjectured, that thefe Plagues before reherfed, happened in the fame Towne, by the Permiſſion of God, for the Wickednes and Synne of the Peopie, fo for my owne Parte, I ſuppoſe the Lord ſeinge their unrepentaunt Mynds, and that they became not People forfifull for this their Viſitation, tooke not his Scourge from them. For the Towne was afterwards with Fyere, at Two ſeverall Tymes, burnt in ſuche petious Caſe and Manner, as the Townefmen therebie became to be utterlie ymperverifhed, in which State they yet contynewe; and the more to ymperverifhe and quite undoe the fame Townefmen and the Inhabitaunts, the Cowntrie neare adjoyninge, which were wont Twice a Weeke to come and bringe Victualls to the Towne, and thiere then alſo bie their Neceſſaries, have nowe altogether left of from commynge, or in any wiſe tradinge to the fame Towne. So that that Towne which heretofore harbored all Kynds of Trads, Sciens, and Handicrafts, doth nowe, by reaſon of the Debilitie thereof, harbor non at all, but onlie the Freeholders of the fame Towne, which live onlie their uppon their Lands, and ſuffer the Buyldings thereof dalie to decaye. Thus have I related unto your Worſhip the Cauſe of the Ruyen of the fame Towne, and the preſent State thereof, ſo farr furth as I can by any Manner of Meanes learne. And nowe herebie your Worſhip ſhall further underſtaunde of the Priviledge and Liberties which I have alſo learned belonge to the fame Towne, which beinge put in Execution might enritche the fame Towne.

The Liberties and Priveledges to the fame Towne of Kidwillie, viz.

Imprimis, The Maior of the fame Towne, for the Yere of his Mayraltie, is within the fame Towne Juſtice of Peace, and Juſtice of Quorum.

Item, Everie Fiſteane Daeis he kepeth a Corte for all Manner of Actions and Suits whatſoever.

Item,

Item, The Balives of the same Towne, are all the Yere of their Balliwicks, within the same Towne, Justices of Peace, and do receive the Towne Rents, and all Amerciaments appertyninge to the same Libertie.

Item, The Officers of the same Towne are within the same Towne chosen, and appointed in like Manner as in other Townes of Corporation. }

Item, All Felons Goods and Escheats whatsoever, do belonge to the Maior, Balives, and Burgesses. }

Item, The Balives of the same Towne, by Force of their Charter, have and maie take Custome for any Commodity or Marchandize commynge from any Partes beyond the Seas to the same Towne, and for Custom of any Wares Out-wardes, and also have by Force of their Charter, a Seale, with Auſthoritie to make Warraunts under their Seale. }

Item, Everie Burgis of the same Towne, is free from payinge any Custome or Toll in any Markett or Faire within this Realme, the Reason is, for that the same Towne is under the Dutchie of Lancaster. }

Item, The Three Commotts of Kidwillie are to kepe within the same Towne, Two Dais Markett everie Weeke, and sholde come with their Victualls and other Necessaries to serve the same Towne. }

Item, No Baker, Brewer, or other Artificer whatsoever, can dwell, or occupie any of their saide Trades, within the Towne or Commotts aforesaide, without speciall Licence of the Maior and Balives of the Towne aforesaide. }

Item, The Commons of the same Towne are verrie great and large. }

Item, Everie Yere there belongeth Two Faers to the same Towne, in which Faers, the Maior and Balives have great and large Priviledgs. }

Item, Within their Charter is speciallie set downe, that no Manner of Person or Persons whatsoever shall be Maior or Balives within the saide Towne, unlesse he be a meare Englishe Man. }

In Consideration of all which Grants, Royalties, Priveledgs, and Advantags by the Charter aforefaide, the same Towne yerelie sholde paie, by Force of the same Charter, to the Kings and Queens, and their Successors of this Realme of England, the Some of Twentie-fixe Pounds xiii<sup>s</sup>. iiij<sup>d</sup>. which yerelie Payment, by reason the Towne is so decayed as aforefaide, uppon humble Suite and Peticion made by the same Inhabitaunts, towchinge the Mittigation thereof, it was graunted they sholde paie onlie for their Fee Farms but Thirteane Poundes, Sixe Shillings, and Eight Pence, untill suche Time as they were of better Habilitie. And so no more as yet they paie. Dyvers other Priveledgs and Commodities, by force of the same Charter, do belonge to the same Towne, as by the same Charter more at large appear-eth.

Nowe, Right Worshipfull, it resteth accordinge to my sypmple Skill to relate unto you by what Means the Towne, so decayed and depopulated, maie be newlie reedified and florishe, and the Inhabitaunts thereof become ritche and wealthie, wherebie they maie be able as well to relieve themselves as the Poore about them, which dailie encrease in great Number, to the great Charge of the Towne, and utter Ympoverishment thereof if speedie Redresse be not sought for. And therefore in the Behalf of the same Towne and the Inhabitaunts thereof, I profer to your Worship's Consideration the Premisses hereafter followinge, in which if your Worship' Will be Assistaunt, no doubt but in short Tyme the Towne will florishe, and the Inhabitaunts thereof growe to Wealth. And lastlie it will be greatlie beneficiall to your Worship.

And First, wheras your Worship by force of the Queen's Majestie's Letters Pattents, have Libertie for the fyndinge and ferching of all Mynes of Mettall, &c. That your Worship wolde suffer the same Mettals to be tried, and transported onlie within and out of the same Towne, which in Tyme will bringe great Trade, the Mynnes beinge founde profittable, which I trust they will so prove.

Item, That your Worship wolde take the Towne Liberties and Fraunchises thereof in Fee Farme, for which the Towne now paieith by the Mittigacion as aforefaide xiii<sup>l</sup>. vi<sup>s</sup>. viii<sup>d</sup>. Herein you might benefitt yourself, and no White hurt the Towne, for they do no good with their Charter, and better it were for them to surrender it upp then kepe it. And for that your Worship shall be certenlie perswaded, if you charge yourself with the Fee Farme Rent of xiii<sup>l</sup>. vi<sup>s</sup>. viii<sup>d</sup>. you shall susteyne no Kynde of Losse therebie, you shall understaunde there is to discharge and to paie that, theis Somes of Money, viz.

The Towne Rents is Tenn Pounds and better.

The Amerciaments and Fynes of the Corte likewise amount to Tenn Pounds, which be yerelie leived nowe in the Towne, notwithstandinge the poore Estate thereof. And further, if your Worship will so well thinke of the Premisses as gett the Fee Farme under, and with the Previledgs and Advantags belonginge to the same Towne, I will, if you please to accept me your Farmor, yerelie paie and give you for, and in Respect of the Markett Toll and the Ingrett and Outgrett of the same Towne, Twentie Poundes.

And for the more better Meane to bringe Trade into the same Towne, which cannot be don unlesse the Inhabitaunts thereof be monyed, therefore the same Inhabitaunts have thought good, and by me do make humble Peticion unto your Worship, whome rather they wolde a Benefitt sholde arrise to, then any other, that it wolde please you to consider uppon theis speciall Points followinge; that is to saie,

If your Worship will either by yourself, or your Meanes lende or procure to be lent to the Inhabitaunts of the Towne aforesaid, the Sum of Fyve hundereth Poundes in Money for Tenn Yeares, after the Rate of Tienn Poundes for the Hundereth, for the lucre Repayment whereof the same Inhabitaunts will morgage sufficient Lande. This Fyve hundereth Poundes they then meane shall be divided amongst them, to Twentie and five Freeholders of the same Towne, who shall everie One of them disburse and laie it out in severall Commodities and Marchandizes, together with their owne Stockes. This therebie will shortlie bringe the Trade of their Markett agayne, and be a chief Enteraunce and Meanes, that the same Towne, now depopulated, shall be greatlie populated, and shortlie be in good Trade.

Item, Whereas there is in the same Towne a hundered decayed Howses and more, which heretofore have yelded a Rent to the Queen's Majesty, the Walls whereof are for the most Parte standing; if theis Houses wer buylt and of newe made up, they wolde not onlie greatlie bewtifie the Towne, but be a Meane to allure and bringe Artificers and Handicraft Men thither, which wold dwell and occupie them with their Trades, and that it might be so brought to passe, with little Charge and in short Tyme, your Worship shall herein hear my Devise, viz.

If your Worship for Fyve Yeres together will laie out and disburse everie yere Threskore Poundes, viz. to every Artificer that will come and dwell there Three Poundes, and reasonable

reasonable and sufficient Tymber out of your Wood, called The Wenall, to buylde those decayed Howfes, and graunt to suche Artificer a Lease of the same Howfes, by him so to be buylded for xxi Yeres, under, and for the yerelie Rent of Tenn Shillings per Annum, I durst undertak herein for the Benefitt of your Worship, to procure everie Yere at least Twentie such Persons, which sholde so come and dwell there, and do as aforefaide. By which Meanes in Fyve Yeres, by the layinge out your Money as aforefaide, wolde be comynge and yerelie arrising to you and your Heires Fifty Poundes.

Item, There is yerelie had and gathered within the Liberties and Comynotts aforefaide, Two thousande Stone of Wool, everie Stone conteynge Twentie Poundes, which Woolls so gathered, is carried to other Places and wrought, whereas if they were wrought within the Towne and Liberties aforefaid, by Strangers such as I colde bringe into the Towne, who wold also bringe with them great Somes of Money in Stocke, therobie wolde the Towne be greatlie benefitted, and your Worship thereby as I know yerelie profitted at least to the yerelie Some of Fiftie Poundes.

Thus, Right Worshipfull, I have, accordinge to my Symplicitie, as brieflie as I can, (thoughe not as I wolde) declared unto you, as I take the Meane wherebie not onlie you shal be greatlie benefitted, but also the Towne aforefaide advaunced, which I wishe in Respect of my Countrie, for which I knowe I was partlie borne. And also for the Good I beare unto you, whome I wishe encrease of Honor to, knowinge it more fitter for you then any other, inso-muche you have Liberties and Royalties thereabouts. Neverthelesse herein I crave your Determynation, with the reasonable Speade you maie, certifeinge you to make hereof Enformation to you, I came up to London of Purpose, and so the Heighest encrease your Honor,

Your most humble to command,

JOHN CADE.
