THE following Index is a synoptical view of the English Poets in these particulars; namely, in prudential, moral and religious sentences; in remarkable proverbial sayings, either of a ludicrous or serious turn; in characters of celebrated persons, both ancient and modern; in descriptions of places and countries, and in accounts of remarkable events, either in the natural or political world, and of the ancient customs or antiquities; in critical observations on poets and poetry, by Dryden, Addison, Pope, &c. with strong remonstrances against the vile prostitution of the gift of heaven to impure and immoral purposes:

the whole in the words of the poets, when they could conveniently be brought within the compass of a line, and in the very arrangement of their words, in order to preserve entire the harmony and emphasis of the sentence, more especially in the proverbial sayings, which are much of the same nature with the sententious, differing only in point of authority, the latter being the result of the observation of the wise and learned, and expressed with dignity; but the former, that of the vulgar, and generally as vulgarly expressed, yet equally true with the sententious. Proverbial sayings could not well be disarranged, without spoiling them, or at least making them sound harsh to an ear unaccustomed to an unusual arrangement. When a quality stands alone, without the express mention of its subject, either person or thing, but which it necessarily implies, it is in all languages, both learned and unlearned, taken substantively; it may therefore lead the sentence, according to the general rule of index-making; namely, that a substantive is always to be the leading word; the truth of which will be considered hereafter. For instance, we say, the virtuous, the vicious, &c. with respect to persons; and with respect to a thing, the good, the ill, the vain, &c. of life. When quality and subject are both expressed together, I consider them as one word; both on account of their necessary connection; and especially, because the stress of the sentence turns upon them: I therefore scruple not to make them the leading words: Dryden, for instance, to mention no other, says, lively faith bears aloft the mind: if the above rule, namely that of always making a substantive to lead the sentence, be made an invariable and universal rule, it will necessarily exclude, from a place in an index, very many important sentences, which are without a substantive. Dryden again says, write well, or not at all: I therefore scrupled not to make a verb the leading word; or even an adverb, if used emphatically; for instance, greatly wise to talk with our past hours, Young. I endeavoured all along, in the arrangement, to form some connection between the articles under the same alphabetical head, unless where they happen to be contradictory, and which the order of the alphabet, and not their connection, brought together.

	Conscience,

- Conscience, of guilt is prophecy of pain,
 ——— makes the guilty squeak,
 ——— interest ill-disguis'd,
 ——— should have vacation,
 ——— stretchers, who,
 Conscientious frauds,
 Conscious honour supplies peace of mind,
 ——— merit, justly bold,
 Consent makes the act one's own,
 Consequences imputed, if not necessary, unfair,
 Consolation,
 ——— cancels the complaint,
 ——— lost on the afflicted,
 ——— source of from above,
 Consolations, what heights of, crown my song,
 Conspiracies no sooner form'd than executed,
 Constable, to outrun,
 Constancy, like a rock,
 ——— is built on manly minds,
 ——— true, no time, no power can move,
 Constant,
 ——— to keep the purpos'd end in view,
 ——— minds by grief are try'd,
 Constantine, on his paintings,
 Constraint turns pleasure into pain,
 Consumption, a flattering disease,
 Contemplation, sedate compeer of night,
 Contempt of order, manners profligate,
 ——— symptoms of a diseas'd and bloated state, ib. 312
 Contending nations won and lost the day, Pope il 2 : 179
 Content,

Young 2 : 184*Gay* 2 : 123*Dry.* 2 : 103*Butl.* 1 : 201*Butl.* 2 : 108*Butl.* 2 : 87*Som.* 169*Dry.* 2 : 55*Butl.* 1 : 206*Black.* 6*Young* 3 : 1*Young* 3 : 18*Milt.* 3 : 29*Milt.* 3 : 29*Young* 3 : 81*Add.* 255*Butl.* 1 : 151*Dry.* 6 : 184*Rowe L.* 341*Gay* 2 : 226*Cow.* 1 : 302*Rowe L.* 101*Prior* 1 : 79*Hughes* 249*Som.* 281*Dry.* 5 : 224*Thom.* 1 : 160*West* 312*ib.* 312*Pope il* 2 : 179

Content,

	Death,

- Death, that opiate of the soul, Pope 2 : 108
 — the gift most welcome to woe, Gay 1 : 320
 — ends all pain, Milt. 3 : 26
 — the wretch's last relief, Pope 1 : 243
 — cure of the miser's wish, and coward's fear, Prior 2 : 183
 — anger dread not, but expect his power, Prior 2 : 184
 — in time of misery, delays, Pom. 228
 — is a path, that must be trod, Parn. 77
 — a port of calm, a state of ease, Parn. 77
 — sad refuge from the storms of fate, Gray 346
 — to the wretched is an end of care, Lanf. 294
 — is free, that last relief, Rowe L. 240
 — comes opportunely like a friend, Rowe L. 357
 — to set me free from fortune's power, Rowe L. 357
 — sets all free, Milt. 3 : 59
 — a sure retreat from infamy, Gartb 75
 — thou cure of all our idle strife, Broome 131
 — wish of the just, and refuge of th' oppress'd, Broome 131
 — the great arrears all must pay, Broome 44
 — unworthy of our fears, Rowe L. 122
 — to choose, distinguishes the brave, Rowe L. 187
 — is only certain oracle, Lytt. 97
 — the curtain drops, and shuts the scene of woe, Hughes 281
 — leads to life and to the blest abode, Black. 124
 — the wretch's last relief, Dry. 3 : 69
 — man's make encloses its sure seeds, Young 2 : 33
 — sure fate of every mortal, Pope od. 4 : 5
 — knocks, we hear, and yet we will not hear, Young 2 : 112
 — still draws nearer, never seeming near, Pope 2 : 57
 — hastes amain, Broome 165
 Death,

- Death, ill-exchang'd for bondage, Pope od. 4: 108
 — quite breaks the spring, and motion ends, Young 3: 74
 — opens to our eyes all science, Som. 244
 — makes the good man in a moment wise, Som. 244
 — is what we should disdain, Prior 1: 148
 — despised for fame, Buck. 98
 — flies from grief, Lanf. 162
 — how beautiful, when earn'd by virtue, Add. 325
 — pangs of, gentler than despair, Fent. 283
 — cave of, Garth 81
 — court of, Gay 2: 110
 — prospect of, Pom. 319
 — temple of, Buck. 11
 — vale of, Buck. 11
 — guardians of the temple of, Buck. 12
 — we seek and shun, Young 2: 25
 — the great teacher wait, Pope 2: 32
 — is beyond the goddess Fortune's power, Rowe L. 325
 — pursues the coward as he flies, Swift 1: 152
 — solemn thoughts of, Watts 338
 — black fear of, that saddens all, Pope 2: 256
 — unwinds the labyrinths of fate, Young 2: 135
 — and straightens its inextricable maze, Young 2: 135
 — great proprietor of all, Young 3: 10
 — the deep, the bitter draught, Pope od. 4: 197
 — wraps all in shades, Pope od. 4: 198
 — nor beauty can arrest, nor music charm, A. Phil. 315
 — dissolv'd the marriage-knot, Prior 2: 205
 — shall mix the fame of every field, Rowe L. 284
 — demands a tear, Mall. 243
 Death

- Death, ghastly with pale suffusion, Mall. 244
 — makes us all a name, Dry. 7 : 353
 — strikes the sexton no farther than his fees, Gay 2 : 193
 — a night-piece on, Parn. 75
 — a poem on, Broome 126
 — a thousand ways lead to, Broome 126
 — unaw'd by power, beggars and kings alike to it, ib. 127
 — the great birth-right of mankind, Thom. 2 : 180
 — the bark, that wafts us to the shore, Thom. 2 : 180

 — always buz about the great, Som. 264
 — create themselves new appetites, Young 1 : 123
 — in derision follow fools, Gay 2 : 101
 Fools

- Fools are the game, which knaves pursue,
 — are vain, when fools admire,
 — are insolent and vain,
 — doubly fools, endeavouring to be wise,
 — make attempts beyond their skill,
 — known by looking wise,
 — whom love or verse undo,
 — may our scorn, not envy raise,
 — are stubborn,
 — only choose wretches for their friends,
 — wicked at their own cost,
 — stay to feel, and are wise too late,
 Foot-ball described,
 Foot-man very arrogant,
 Footmen Lords and Dukes can act,
 Foot races,
 Footstool earth, canopy the skies,
 Fop, described,
 — outweighs in female scales,
 — can dance and make a leg,
 — can fetch and carry, cringe and beg,
 Fopland, the greatest part of this isle,
 Fops, who,
 — fly, never fix'd, but fugitives in love,
 — if once wrong, will needs be always so,
 Forbid, that want should sink me to a lye,
 Force greater than command,
 — to a generous mind unpleasing,
 — is of brutes,
 — in the lion dwells,

 — is the noblest work of God,
Honesty consists in meaning well,
 — way to,
 — plain is her look,
 — just alike to friends and foes,
 — thrice beauteous !
 — is often in the wrong,
 — when stubborn rules her zealots push,
Honiton, where lace industrious lasses weave,
Honour,
 — a fragment,
 — honest fame,
 — plac'd in probity alone,
 — from good deeds alone,
 — of adamant proof,
 — is the informing spirit of the soul,
 — answers faith in things divine,
 — comprehends all the virtues,
 — what it is not,
 — as my life, I prize,
 — is of man,
 — made sincere,
 — man of strict, undaunted,
 — spark of celestial fire,
 — treasure of a generous breast,
 — fair, godlike acts inspires,
 — the more obstructed, stronger shines,

Honour on yourself depends,	Gay 2 : 168
—— noble confidence,	Rob. 291
—— ye gods ! or let me gain or give,	Pope il. 2 : 181
—— like glassy bubble,	Butl. 1 : 203
—— is but a word,	Butl. 1 : 204
—— is an airy bubble,	Hughes 177
—— the hero's tyrant,	Garth 46
—— lives on air,	Garth 47
—— an idle name,	Cow. 2 : 100
—— barter for estate,	Prior 1 : 155
—— hurt, is wont to rage,	Butl. 1 : 163
—— lost, it is a relief to die,	Garth 75
—— is a lease for lives,	Butl. 1 : 138
—— truckle-bed of,	Butl. 1 : 138
—— and shame from no condition rise,	Pope 2 : 76
—— like a widow won,	Bull 1 : 46
—— is a sacred tie,	Add. 291
—— aids and strengthens virtue,	Add. 291
—— imitates her actions, where she is not,	Add. 291
Honour's the noblest chace,	Lanf. 256
—— temple, door through virtue,	Butl. 1 : 183
Honours make the face of virtue fair,	Young 3 : 162
—— if true, from seeds of merit grow,	Sav. 162
—— of the butt and laurel,	Pope 3 : 100
—— soaring to, like Icarus fate,	Cow. 1 : 50
Hook or crook, to carry by,	Butl. 2 : 47
Hope,	Sben. 154
—— against,	Cow. 1 : 274
—— for,	Cow. 1 : 275
—— the last thing that in us dies,	Buck. 19

Hope, fond inmate of the human mind,	West 215
—— kindliest inmate of youthful breast,	Aken. 127.
—— th' unhappy's last reserve,	Som. 65
—— fresh-blooming, daughter of the sky,	Pope 1 : 193.
—— revives my soul,	Parn. 225
—— conceived from despair,	Milt. 1 : 199.
—— tempts belief,	Milt. 3 : 58.
—— kind flatterer,	Sav. 100
—— the glad ray, glanc'd from eternal good,	Thom. 2 : 23
—— that life enlivens, and exalts its power,	Thom. 2 : 23
—— is but the dream of those that wake,	Prior 2 : 169
—— beguiling,	Hughes 171
—— like the moon and ocean smiling,	Hughes 171.
—— deferr'd has made me sick,	Parn. 199
—— fair-ey'd,	Parn. 227
—— enchanted smil'd,	Collins 271
—— high-minded,	Thom. 2 : 61
—— immortal, that sole anchor,	Young 2 : 221
—— travels through, nor quits us when we die,	Pope 2 : 52
—— sustains the human heart,	Mall. 276
—— lost in joy,	Prior 2 : 29
—— in darkness,	Watts 155
—— may some boundless future bliss embrace,	Hughes 195
—— but what, or when, or how, or where, mazes all,	id. 195
—— false,	Wall. 67
—— enlarges the prospect,	Yal. 364
—— relieves the miserable mind,	Rowe L. 82
—— how vain, and how vexatious thought,	Prior 2 : 183.
—— too long, with vain delusion fled,	Pope od. 2 : 46
—— in love,	Lytt. 6.
