

Bodleian Libraries

UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

This book is part of the collection held by the Bodleian Libraries and scanned by Google, Inc. for the Google Books Library Project.

For more information see:

<http://www.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/dbooks>

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 2.0 UK: England & Wales (CC BY-NC-SA 2.0) licence.

ENGLISH LIBRARY
UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

Par. E 387.

REMARKS

ON

Lord BOLINGBROKE'S

LETTERS

ON THE

STUDY and USE of HISTORY :

So far as they relate to the HISTORY of the OLD TESTAMENT ;

And especially to the CASE of NOAH, denouncing a Curse upon CANAAN.

In a Letter to a LADY of QUALITY.

By JAMES HERVEY, A. M.
Rector of Weston Favel, Northamptonshire.

Menses profundo, pulchrior evenit.

Hor.

LONDON;

Printed for J. and J. RIVINGTON, in St. Paul's Church-yard. MDCCLII.

P R E F A C E.

TH E Reader will see, from the Date of the following Letter, that it was written a considerable Time ago. From which Circumstance He will probably conclude, that it was not intended for Publication. A Conjecture, which is perfectly just. The Publication is owing to the right honourable Personage, whose Name, though it would grace and recommend his Papers, the Author is not allowed to mention. Her Ladyship's Commands, which would admit of no Excuse, drew the Remarks from his Pen ; and her Desire, which with Him will always have the Force of a Command, has brought them to the Press.---

P R E F A C E.

It will give Him the highest Pleasure, if, while He is paying the Debt of Obedience and Gratitude to a noble Friend, He may support the Dignity of the Divine Word ; may raise its Esteem, and promote its Study among Men. Because then, He may reasonably hope, to promote the best Interests of his Fellow-creatures; and subserve that grand Designation of the almighty Majesty, expressed by the Psalmist---Thou hast magnified thy Word above all thy Name. *

* Psalm cxx iii. 2.

R E-

M A D A M,

AS you was pleased to ask my Opinion, concerning LORD BOLINGBROKE'S Remarks on the Scriptural History, I have procured the Book; have perused what relates to the Subject; and submit to your Judgment, the Thoughts which occurred. Assuring your Ladyship, that, though many might discuss the Point, much more clearly and satisfactorily, than the Person you favoured with your Commands; yet, no one can think it a greater Honour to receive them, or a greater Pleasure to execute them.

“ The Old Testament, it is alledged, “ is no sufficient Foundation for Chrono- “ logy from the Beginning of Time.”^a —
To enter upon the Niceties of Chronology, would, perhaps, be too difficult a Research;

B at

^a See Lord Bolingbroke's Letters, on the Study and Use of History, Vol. I. Pag. 98.

at least, it would require from your Ladyship a more painful Attention, than I should chuse to occasion by any of my Letters. And I very frankly own, that I am by no means Master of the Argument, nor equal to the Task. Others, I don't doubt, whose Inclination has disposed, and whose Genius has fitted them for this particular Study, will undertake to decide the Question; and give the Honour, where the Honour is due. — This, however, from a very scanty Survey of the Case, I can easily discern; That the Chronologer will no where find such memorable Events, for fixing his Æras; nor such early and substantial Aids, for computing his Time; as from the Mosaic Monuments, and the sacred Annals.

From the Beginning of the World to the Flood, we have an orderly Gradation of Time, marked out by the Lives of ten eminent Patriarchs. — From the Flood, we may proceed to that glorious Promise of a Redeemer, made to Abraham; In thy Seed shall all the Nations of the Earth be blessed. — From this Promise, to the miraculous Deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian Bondage. — From thence, to the Building of Solomon's Temple; which was an illustrious Type^a of that divine Person,

^a Gen. xxii. 18. John ii. 21.

Person, in whom dwells all the Fulness of the Godhead bodily.—From the Building of this magnificent Structure, to the Demolition of it by the Babylonian Monarch.—From thence, to the Conquest of Babylon by Cyrus the Persian.—And from the Reign of Cyrus, to that grand, that most important of all Transactions, the Death of Messiah the Prince: when He finished the Transgression, and made an end of Sins, and made Reconciliation for Iniquity, and brought in everlasting Righteousness.^a

The intermediate Space, between each of these very distinguished Periods, may, I believe, be ascertained, to a considerable Degree of Exactness, from the sacred Volumes. If so, this will constitute a more comprehensive and perfect System of Chronology, than can be derived from the Olympiads of the Grecians, or the Hegira of the Mahometans; from the Persian, the Roman, or any other Epocha.

But the History of the Old Testament is much more necessary to be known, and much more easy to be understood. Yet this, my Lord suggests, is not a complete History of the first Ages.^b—We allow the Suggestion. It neither is, nor has Materials

B 2

^a Dan. ix. 24.^b Pag. 83.

terials for, a complete universal History. It pretends to nothing more, than to relate the Affairs of one particular Family; in which the Church of GOD was to subsist, and from which the SAVIOUR of Men was to spring. Nevertheless, so many collateral Incidents are touched upon; so many Branches of this main Stream are occasionally pursued; as present Us with a Collection of the most ancient, the most curious, and most instructive Facts.

Here, we are brought acquainted with the Creation of the World, and the Formation of Man. The Origin of Evil, both natural and moral, is discovered in the Fall of our first Parents; and the Displeasure of GOD against Sin is manifested, by the Waters of a general Deluge.—Here, we see the Preservation of our Species in the Ark, and Re-peopling of the Earth by Noah; the Invention of polite Arts,^a and the Rise of useful Manufactures;^b the Establishment of Nations, and the Founders of their principal Kingdoms.^c Not to add; that these Records are the royal Archives,

^a Gen. iv. 21.

^b Gen. iv. 20, 22.

^c Gen. Chap. x. Which, though but little adverted to, is the noblest Piece of geographical Antiquity, extant in the World. It shews Us, how the whole Earth, from the three Sons of Noah, was overspread, inhabited, Archives, in which, the Charter of our Sovereignty^a over the Creatures, is preserved; and the original Draught of the Covenant of Grace^b, deposited. — Here then, may we not challenge any, or all the Books, written in every Language under Heaven? What Memoirs go so far back into Antiquity? What Memoirs are so interesting to all Mankind? — Had they been transmitted to us by any Grecian or Roman Author, how would they have been admired and valued! How lavishly, and indeed how justly, praised!

Another Excellency of these Writings (and peculiar to these alone) is, That they not only reach backward, as far as the very Birth of Things; but proceed forwards, even into the remotest Futurity. — They foretold the Ruin of Babylon,^c the noblest, the best fortified, and most commodiously situated, Metropolis in the Universe. Who said, and no one would have suspected it to be a vain Boast, I shall be a Lady for ever.^d Yet, the Scriptures pronounced her utter Destruction;^e and specibited, and denominated. It discovers the true Source of the several Nations; about which, profane Authors either say nothing at all, or else say what is chimerical, precarious, false.

^a Gen. i. 28.

^b Gen. iii. 15.

^c Isaiah

xiii. 19, &c. xvi. 23, 24.

^d Isaiah xlvii. 7.

^e Isaiah xiii. 19, 20, &c. Isaiah xvi. 23, 24.

specified the Person, who should bring about this great Catastrophe.—They pointed out the Place of his Abode.^a—They described him, by several distinguishing Circumstances.^b—They particularized the Genius of his warlike Enterprizes.^c—
They

^a Isaiah xlv. 11.

^b That He should besiege and take the most impregnable of Cities, Isaiah xlv. 1, 2.—That He should enrich himself with immense Spoils, Isaiah xlv. 3.—That He should not be a Tyrant, but a Shepherd to the captive Jews; should release them from their Captivity, and both permit and promote the Rebuilding of their Temple, Isaiah xlv. 28.

^c He is called a ravenous Bird, Isaiah xlv. 11. Denoting his Speed, Activity, and great Expedition. Which were more like the Flight of a swift-winged Bird, (this is the exact Sense of the original $\Psi\upsilon\gamma$) than the March of an Army with all its Encumbrances. This is acknowledged by Tigranes, in his fine expository Discourse with Cyrus: Ταχει δε τοσπον περιεγευσ αυτη, ωτε πορωθεν εφθασας ελθων συν πολλω σολω, πριν τελου την παρ εαυτω δυναμιν αθροισασθαι. You so far exceed the King of Armenia in the Swiftness of your Motions, that, before He could get together the few Forces quartered in his Neighbourhood, you are come from a distant Country, and have surrounded Him with a large Army. Xenoph. Cyro-pœd. Lib. III.—Thus Alexander, whose Marches and whose Victories were almost incredibly swift, is beautifully and exactly characterized by the Prophet Daniel. As I was considering, behold! an He-goat came from the West on the Face of the whole Earth, and touched not the Ground. Chap. viii. 5. No Orator, with all the Powers of Language, could more beautifully have described the Rapidity and the Extent of the Macedonian Conquests. Nor could any Historian, though writing after the Accomplishment of the Events, have described them more exactly.

They mentioned his very Name.^a—All this, some Hundreds of Years, before the Event took Place, or the Conqueror was born.

They foretold the Rejection and Calamities of the disobedient Jews; who are the chief Subject of their History. (And this, surely, could not be with a View to aggrandize their Nation, or to answer any sinister Design.) That they should be subdued by their Enemies, lose the Favour of their GOD, and the Possession of their native Land. Yet not be settled, as a Colony, in some particular Tract of the Victor's Dominions, but be scattered abroad under the whole Heavens.^b—This was threatened by their J E H O V A H,——this is recorded in their Books,——and this is, even now, so remarkably fulfilled, as to be a Fact of the utmost Notoriety. Go into the most polite or most barbarous Countries, the nearest or most distant Parts of the World; you will, every where, find living Evidences of this scriptural Prediction.

The Scriptures speak in the most explicit and peremptory Terms, with regard to the

^a Isaiah xlv. 28. xlv. 1.

^b Deut. xxviii. 64. Amos ix. 9.

the Restoration of the Jews.^a—This Restoration could not be effected, at least could not be observed, if they had been blended and incorporated with the Inhabitants of other Climes. Therefore, to be a presumptive Proof of its Accomplishment; and to render it, when accomplished, the most observable of all Revolutions; they have subsisted a distinct People, amidst all the Regions, whither they have been driven.—A most singular and astonishing Circumstance! How soon were the Danes, the Saxons, and the Normans, mingled with the Britons! And how entirely

^a Ezek. xi. 17. Amos ix. 14, 15. Zechar. xiv. 10, 11. I have not ventured to determine, whether this Restoration of the Jews, is to be understood of a Return to their own Country, or of their Conversion to the Faith of CHRIST. Though I think, the latter is the Meaning of the Holy Spirit; will be no less wonderful than the former; and seems to be supported by such Passages as the following.—They shall look on ME, whom they have pierced, and mourn. The Gift of Repentance, not the Circumstance of Place, is the material Point, Zech. xiii. 10.—When it shall turn, not the Tribes of Israel to Jerusalem, but the Heart of the Israelites to the LORD, 2 Corinth. iii. 16.—Then all Israel shall be saved, Rom. xi. 26. shall be made Partakers of the Gospel, of its sacred Privileges, and its great Salvation. In which they will enjoy all, more than all the Blessings, which Canaan could afford. Of which, that goodly Land, in its utmost Fertility, Affluence, and Glory, was but a Type.

irely are they all melted down and lost, among the natives of our Isle ! But the Jews, like a Drop of Oil on the Water, have continued a separate Community ; and, though dispersed into all Nations, are not, through the long Course of seventeen hundred Years, embodied with any.—This is such a Peculiarity in the Dispensations of Providence, as I can never sufficiently admire : and is, I think, an undeniable voucher to the Authenticity of the Scriptures ; held forth, as it were by the Hand of Omnipotence, in the Sight of all the World.

Such Events the antient Scriptures foretell, and such Facts they relate. Facts of incomparable Grandeur, and Events of the greatest Importance. All which are delivered in such a majestic Simplicity of Style, as nothing can equal but their precise Veracity.—Yet these Books Lord Bolingbroke disparages ; and, at the same Time, extols the writings of Tacitus.—The Remains of Tacitus, He tells us, “ are precious Remains.”^a Those of the Holy Scripture, “ are dark and imperfect Accounts.”^b In Tacitus, “ History preserves her Integrity and her Lustre.”^c In the Holy Scripture, in-

C stead

^a Pag. 161.

^b Pag. 108.

^c Pag. 161.

stead of History, you have “ an Heap of “ Fables; which can pretend to nothing
 “ but some inscrutable Truths, and there“ fore useless to Mankind.” ^d — Every Line of Tacitus has Weight, ^e and cannot be mentioned without Admiration. Whereas, the sacred History is put upon a Level with the Extravagancies of Amadis of Gaul,^f and “ can never gain sufficient Credit from “ any reasonable Man.” ^g

Who is this uncircumcised Philistine, said David, that He should defy the Armies of the living GOD? ^h And who is this Tacitus, would I ask, this darling Author, that He should be raised to the Skies, while the divine Historians are trodden to the Dust?
 — If your Ladyship is un-acquainted with his Character, let me give it in the Words of a most elegant and masterly Critic.

^d Pag. 121.^e Pag. 161.^f Pag. 121.

Pag. 118. — If, in the Pages I have referred to,
 and the Sentences I have quoted, my Lord does not aim at the Scriptural Records, I shall very willingly, nay, most gladly acknowledge myself mistaken. To me, after a repeated and attentive Perusal of the Passages, He appears to mean those, and those principally.
 He means, according to his own Profession, such an-tient History as He had been describing (See Pag. 118):
 and I am very sure, the principal Subject of the preceding Sheets, was the sacred. — But why should not his Lordship speak his Sentiments plainly? Is it for Want of Ingenuity? Or owing to Diffidence in the Cause?

^h 1 Samuel xvii. 26.

Critic. “ Having considered the principal “ Qualities of Tacitus as a Writer and an “ Historian ; I cannot help thinking,
 “ that there is a false sublime and Affec“ tation in his Description : a Scurrility
 “ and satyrical Vein, with too Epigram“ matical a Conciseness in his Wit ; an “ Acuteness, but too speculative, and a “ Policy over refined in his Observations ;
 “ a malignant and ill-natur’d Turn in his “ Characters ; a Philosophy too abstracted
 “ and elevated in his Reasoners, and a “ Vanity in his Learning. In short, that “ He is in Antiquity a Pedant ; in the “ Philosophy of Nature a Sceptic ; in “ Morals loose ; in Description gaudy and “ pompous ; in Politics subdolous, re“ fined and knavish.”¹

Yet this is the Writer, that must be placed in such great Superiority to Moses, Joshua, and Samuel. This the History (rise Criticism, and resent the Indignity!) that is spoken of with Applause and Rapture, even while the sacred Annals are treated with Disrespect and Obloquy.

C 2

I

¹ The Treatise, which furnishes me with this Extract, is written by Mr. Hunter ; is entitled Observations on Tacitus ; and, if my Reader has not perused them, I dare venture to assure Him, that He has one of the highest Entertainments in polite Literature yet to come. See pag. 184.

I might recount the glorious Privileges, exhibited in this blessed Book; the inestimable Promises, made to the Righteous; the tenderly compassionate Invitations, addressed to Sinners; the refined and exalted Displays of Morality; with many other noble Particulars — which it is the Prerogative of Scripture, to contain — the Wisdom of Mankind, to believe — and the only Felicity of our Nature, to be interested in them, and influenced by them.

But my Lord is ready to agree on these Topics. He expresses, in some Places at least, no Dislike of the doctrinal and prophetical Parts. Nay, He has contrived an Expedient, to rescue them from the Dishonour, which He would bring upon the historical. He allows the former, to be written under the Inspiration of the holy and un-erring Spirit. The latter, He affirms, are “purely human, and therefore fallible.”^k — Proceeding upon this Supposition, He scruples not to represent them, as the Devices of Craft, or the Blunders of Ignorance.^l ^k Pag. 96.

^l That this is no aggravated Imputation, every attentive Reader of his Lordship's Letters will easily perceive: and I believe, it will appear too plainly from the Passages, to be produced in the Sequel of this Epistle.

I must beg Leave to observe, that such a Distinction is without the least Ground of Reality, to support it: and would, if admitted, be an effectual method to subvert the Whole of Revelation. For, if it could be proved, that the Authors of this History were so weak, as to fall into palpable Errors, where a common Degree of Sagacity would have secured them from mistaking: or, if they were so treacherous, as to palm upon the World a multiplicity of Forgeries; so impious, as to ascribe their Falseness to the GOD of Truth: this would at once ruin their Character as Men, and destroy their Credit as Writers. At this rate, who could depend upon their Testimony in any Point whatever?

Besides; many of the doctrinal Parts of Scripture refer to, and are derived from, the historical. If the latter were a Parcel of Impositions and Mistakes, what Degree of Veracity or Dignity could the former claim? If the Foundation is a Bubble, how can the Superstructure stand?—Whether his Lordship, by such a specious Pretence of erving the Interests of true Religion, intended secretly to undermine it, I will not presume to say. But this I may venture to declare, that his Scheme is very shrewdly calculated to compass such an End. Grant what his Lordship asks; and what all the Enemies of Christianity wish, will unavoidably follow.
the

Farther, Madam—Such a Distinction is contrary to the express Declaration of the new Testament: which positively asserts, that ALL Scripture is given by Inspiration of GOD.^m—Our blessed LORD, who was very well qualified to discern Truth, and equally zealous to maintain it, makes no such Difference. He says in general, *Search the Scriptures;*ⁿ the whole Collection of sacred Writings.—Whatsoever Things, adds St. Paul, not some particular Passages only, but WHATSOEVER THINGS were written afore-time, were written for our Learning.^o And must therefore have been under such a divine Superintendency, as secured them from all Possibility of Error. Otherwise, they might be written, not for our Learning, but for our Deception.—So that St. Paul's Direction, is as contrary to Lord Bolingbroke's Distinction, as the East is opposite to the West. We may as soon bring those two Points of the Hemisphere together; as reconcile his Lordship's Refinements, with the Apostle's Religion.

I believe, it will be equally difficult, to render his Lordship consistent with Himself.

^m 2 Tim. iii. 16.
^o Romans xv. 4.

ⁿ John. v. 39.

self. His Concession overthrows his Distinction. Admitting the doctrinal Parts of the Scripture to be true, the Veracity of the historical is, by necessary Consequence, and beyond all Contradiction, established. They are indissolubly connected: they mutually bear on, and mutually sustain each other: and must stand or fall together. They are like an Arch most exactly finished; not a Stone of which can be taken away, without disconcerting the whole Structure: and like an Arch, firmly founded, as well as correctly finished, the more they are pressed, the stronger they will appear.

My Lord says indeed, That “CHRIST “ came not to consecrate all the written “ Traditions of the Jews.”^p He says it, but where or how does He prove it?—
 By written Traditions of the Jews, I suppose, we are to understand all the Hebrew Scriptures. The Drift of the Discourse, leads us to this Sense. Now it is apparent, that our Saviour has actually consecrated,
 has set the Seal of Authenticity and Infallibility to the Law of Moses, to the Psalms, and to the Prophets.^q By appealing to them as decisive, and by allowing them to be

^p Pag. 94.

^q Luke xxiv. 44.

be predictive; He has acknowledged them to be divinely inspired; to be unquestionably true. And a very little Acquaintance with Jewish Antiquities will inform us, that in these three Partitions, the whole Body of the Hebrew Scriptures is comprehended. — What then becomes of his Lordship's Assertion? Or to whose Discredit does it tend? That of the Jewish Scriptures, or that of his own Knowledge?

I must desire your Ladyship to take Notice of the Expression in this Passage. It is somewhat singular, and deserves a particular Regard. Written Traditions is the Phrase. Every one knows, that we explode, and very justly, those superstitious Whimsies of the Jews, which pass under the Denomination of Traditions. Yet my Lord thinks proper, to call the Histories of the Old Testament, by this disreputable Name: only He admits one Difference, that whereas the former were transmitted by Strength of Memory, the latter are committed to Writing. — But is this an honest Representation? Is this free from all malignant Disguise?

Let us put the Matter to the following Trial. The word Legend, when applied to any modern Story, raises the same contemptible and absurd Idea, as the word Tradition excites, when applied to any Jewish Notion.

Notion. Would my Lord, or would his Friends think, that due Honour or common Justice was done, to his Sketch of the History and State of Europe, if it should be styled in our public Papers, Lord Bolingbroke's written Legends? — The Impropriety and the Malevolence of such a Title, would be undeniable and odious? Who then can vindicate the Propriety of his Lordship's Language, or clear it from being a most injurious Mis-representation of the sacred Records? Which, however some of the Facts might come down, in a traditional Channel, to the Writers; by passing through their Hands, receive the Stamp of undoubted Certainty; and are no longer Traditions, but Oracles.

I wish, this had been the only Instance of Artifice and Imposition, used in the Letters under Examination. Why are so many idle Tales, and scandalous Stories, raked together, and exposed to View? — Why? but to put a Cheat upon the in-attentive Reader, and depretiate^b the Dignity

^a See pag. 85, 86, 88. — 102. — 108, 109.

^b I would by no means indulge a petulant or censorious Humour. Yet I cannot forbear thinking, that the Scriptures are too often depretiated in his Lordship's Performance: sometimes by Sneer: sometimes by Cavil: and sometimes even by languid Approbation, or a counterfeit sort of Praise. Such as — " If

Dignity of the divine Word? Depretiate it, much in the same manner, as its most illustrious Object and Author was formerly dishonoured; not only by the false Accusations, with which He was charged; but also by the infamous Company, with whom He was numbered. — Did my Lord imagine, that these Tales were really believed, even by the warmest Advocates for Holy Writ? No: He must know in his Conscience, that they never were received by the Generality of Divines; neither are mentioned by Authors of Discernment, unless it be to confute and reject them. — However, be they credited or not, it was apprehended, they might serve a Purpose. But whether it be the Purpose of

———“ If the Foundations of Christianity have “ been laid in Truth.” Pag. 123. — “ Passages “ which seem favourable to the Doctrine of the Tri- “ nity.” Pag. 98. — Though I should be loth to reject any Testimony, in Favour of Christianity: still more loth to give up so eminent a name as Lord B——e, to the deistical Party: yet I cannot prevail upon myself to acknowledge, that we are much, if at all obliged to Him, for these poor, jejune, cold Compliments. Such a Testimony and such Compliments, are just as serviceable to the momentous Cause, as a broken Tooth is serviceable to the Eater, or a Foot out of Joynt to the Walker. Prov. xxv. 19. They are, in Truth, mere δωρα αδωρα — or, as Mr. Pope more strongly expresses the Sentiment; They damn with faint Praise.

of Integrity, Impartiality, and Truth, I leave to the Determination of others.

Still it is urged, That these Scriptures are “ full of Additions, Interpolations, “ and Transpositions.”^c ——— That they are full of Additions, is more easily asserted, than evinced. I can find but one Instance, specified by his Lordship. Which is the Account “ of the Death and Sepulture of “ Moses, with a sort of funeral Panegy- “ ric,”^d recorded in the last Chapter of Deuteronomy. Here, it is taken for granted, that we are reduced to a terrible Dilemma——either to own, that this Paragraph was written by Moses himself; and then we may expect to hear of Impossibility and Absurdity——or else, that it is all supposititious; and then the Scriptures must have passed through tampering Fingers, and suffered Adulteration?—But suppose this small Appendix was made by Joshua: a Man, whose Mind was illuminated, and his Hand guided, by the Spirit of the most High? Does such an Addition deserve to be branded with an ignominious, or even brought into Disesteem by a suspicious Character? ——— Or, what if some other Prophet, whose Name is unknown,

D 2

super-

^c pag. 95, 96.^d pag. 102.

super-added this valuable Anecdote? Is the Concealment of the Penman's Name sufficient, to impeach the Genuineness, or invalidate the Authority, of the Passage? Especially, since it has been approved by other inspired Writers, and received the Imprimatur of the Holy Ghost? — I know not who is the Printer of his Lordship's two Volumes; yet, though ignorant of this Circumstance, for other very satisfactory Reasons, I have no Doubt but they are the genuine Productions of his Pen.

My Lord would have done well to consider—Whether it was a probable or a practicable Thing, to interpolate a set of Books, which were studied with so much Accuracy, and kept with so much Vigilance. The Number of whose Verses, especially in the Pentateuch, was computed; and the Arrangement of the very Letters known. Whether, after the Coming of Christ, the jealous Eye which the Jews and Christians had on each other, was not an unformountable Bar against any Innovations or material Alterations.—As for Transpositions, they are used by the most approved Historians. When used with Judgment, they redound to the Reputation of the Writer, and encrease the Pleasure of the Reader. And would his Lordship make that a Disparagement of the sacred Narrative, Narrative, which is a Recommendation of any ordinary Composition?

But my Lord imagines, that He has found out a substantial Reason for the aforementioned Distinction — has detected such Improprieties in the sacred Narrative, as “contradict all our Notions of Order and of Justice.”^c He produces, by way of Specimen, the Case of Noah, denouncing a Curse upon Canaan. — This, it seems, is the capital Absurdity; this the glaring Error; which, He concludes, is sufficient to un-canonize the Histories of the old Testament, and degrade their Writers from the Class of Inspiration. — This therefore, if your Ladyship pleases, we will examine a little more particularly.

The Charge in general is thus expressed.
 “One is tempted to think, that the Patriarch was still drunk; and that no Man in his Senses, could hold such Language, or pass such a Sentence.” — Was I at Leisure to criticise upon Words, I should be tempted to observe, that the Diction “no Man could hold such Language,” may be French, but is scarcely English. However, from the Expression I pass to the
 the

^c pag. 110.

the Sentiment. — This, for Candour and Solidity, is much like the Reflection of the Jews, on the memorable Day of Pentecost. When the Apostles addressed the Inhabitants of various Countries, each in his own native Tongue; some of their Hearers ascribed this miraculous Ability— to what? we are amazed, when we read — to the intoxicating Power of Wine.^f Strange! that excessive Drinking, which incapacitates other People for talking common Sense, should enable the Disciples of CHRIST to speak all Kinds of Languages! — Is it not equally strange, that a drunken Disorder should enable the Patriarch to deliver Prophecies, and foretell future Events? Which (as I hope to prove) was the real Import of the Speech.

Perhaps, this Curse may seem to be the Effect, if not of disorderly Indulgence, yet of intemperate Passion. And how incompatible is this, with the Character of a Preacher of Righteousness? Surely Noah should not have been so forward, to call for the Thunderbolts of Vengeance. Any benevolent Man, much more a pious Progenitor, would rather have deprecatèd the Blow. — I wonder, his Lordship did not start this Objection. Which would have been ^f Acts. ii. 13.

been much more plausible, and much less shocking. To this, in Case it had been started, we might reply; — That Noah acted as the Oracle of GOD. This and many other such Passages, which seem to be Imprecations, are really Predictions. Holy Men spoke, as they were influenced by the Spirit; and uttered, not the Suggestions of their own Minds, but the Will of Almighty GOD. — Which inclines me to think, it might be no less proper, and much more suitable to the prophetic Style, if we translated such Passages, as Indicatives, rather than Imperatives; making them declaratory of what is decreed in the Cabinet of Heaven, and will as certainly take Place, as if it already existed. Cursed is, rather than be, Canaan. Blessed of the LORD is, instead of be, his Land. Deut. xxxiii. 13. Thus Isaiab, foretelling the Incarnation of that wonderful and adorable Person, whom He styles The mighty GOD, says, To us a Child is born. * So, calling the Things that are not, as though they were. — Such a Manner of speaking, would remove from this particular Passage, all that sounds harsh, or seems uncharitable: and would, in the general, impart an unequalled

* Isai. ix. 6.

equall'd Majesty^h to the Language of Scripture.

It was GOD then, and not Man, from whom this avenging Sentence came. And GOD, to shew his utter Detestation of all Iniquity; to manifest his singular Delight in all Virtue; frequently takes Occasion to denounce Vengeance, or promise Happiness, when some notorious Evil is committed, or some laudable Good performed. And was there not a most notorious Evil committed Here?—Charity, says the Apostle, covereth all Things:ⁱ draws a Veil over the various Infirmities of every common Neighbour. But this Man (Man shall I say? rather Monster of Ingratitude) sees the Shame of a Father--an aged^k Father,--a pious Father; and instead of concealing, when He cometh forth, He telleth

^h Blessed be, is what any holy Person might say, and comprehends no more than a supplicatory Benediction. Blessed is, suits only the Mouth of a Prophet, and implies an authoritative Blessing.

ⁱ Corinth. xiii. 7. παντα σκεπει. This is one Article in the finest Display of social Virtue, that ever was exhibited to the World. And should, I think, be translated (not beareth, but) covereth or concealeth all Things. The natural Import of the Word justifies, and the Context evidently requires, this Sense. Otherwise, the first and last Clauses of the Verse, will co-incide in their Meaning; or rather make an un-meaning Tautology.

^k Levit. xix. 32.

eth it.—Fools they are, abandoned Profligates, that make a Mock at Sin. What Name then can be bad enough, for a profane and un-natural Wretch ; who makes Sport with a Parent's Folly, a Parent's Sinfulness, a Parent's Misery ? —Surely this was a most flagrant Violation of filial Reverence, filial Love, and filial Duty.¹ Which not only implied so many particular Offences, each attended with its respective Guilt, but indicated the Offender to be destitute of all Piety. For, to argue in the Apostle's Strain ; How could this Man venerate a Father in Heaven, whom He had ¹ The Turpitude and Immorality of this Offence, will appear in blacker Colours, if we consider the very peculiar Reverence ; which, in those Days of primitive Simplicity, was paid to any aged Person, much more to an aged Parent.

*Credebant hoc grande nefas, & Morte piandum
Si Juvenis Vetulo non assu rexerat, & si Barbato cuicumque Puer.*

Juven. Satyr. XIII.

We may see, from that awful Threatning, Prov. xxx. 17. with what extreme Detestation the most holy GOD resents such un-natural Behaviour. The Eye that MOCKETH AT HIS FATHER, and despiseth to obey his Mother, the Ravens of the Valley shall pick it out, and the young Eagle shall eat it. Nay, it should seem from this Text, as though all Nature was ready to testify its Abhorrence of such a Crime ; and, rather than it should escape condign Punishment, the most insensible Animals would rise up to execute Vengeance.

had not seen? If he was so irreverent to a Father on Earth, whom He had seen?

But supposing the Turpitude and Immorality of the Action to be very enormous, and such as deserved some signal Vengeance: the Vengeance, it is objected, was misapplied. For, “Ham alone offended; Canaan was innocent.”—My Lord is not sure, that Canaan was innocent; though He asserts it pretty confidently. The contrary Notion has obtained among the Jews. They apprehend, that Canaan was first in the Transgression; and, instead of being reprobated, was imitated by his Father. Bishop Patrick, Mr. Pool, and other eminent Commentators, think this to be no improbable Opinion.

If his Lordship was un-acquainted with the Hebrew, He will scarcely be thought qualified to pronounce so peremptorily, concerning a Case related in that Language. If He was acquainted with the Original, He acts somewhat unfairly in saying; “This Notion is not only “with“out, but against the express Autho“rity of the Text.”^m For He must know, that it receives some Countenance even from the Text itself. I would by no means means offend your Ladyship's Eyes, with any rugged Figures, or uncouth Quotations. But you may venture to believe me, when I assure you, That the most exact Translation of Verse 24th is, Noah *knew what his Son had done to Him, the or that little one.*ⁿ Ham could not so properly be styled The little one; since He was the middlemost, and is always placed in that Order: Shem, Ham, Japheth. But the Description agrees perfectly well with Canaan, the Grandson of Noah: and it was customary among the Jews, to call the Grandchildren, the Sons of their Grand-Father.^o

^m pag. 111.

Canaan, it is added " was alone cursed." —The Words would run smoother, if transposed in this manner, Canaan alone was cursed. As for the Fact, that wants some better Confirmation, than my Lord's bare Assertion. To me it is evident, that Ham was not exempted from the Curse,

E 2

What ?

ⁿ Though it would have been very unpolite, to quote Hebrew in writing to a Lady: it may be judged proper, perhaps be thought necessary, now the Letter is made public, to produce the original Expression. That, where an Argument is derived from the precise Signification of the Phrase, the learned Reader may examine and determine for Himself. —בְּנוֹ הַקָּטָן
Gen. ix. 24. The word קָטָן is used of Benjamin, Jacob's youngest Son, and translated a little one; Gen. xlv. 20.

^o Gen. xxix. 5. 1 Chron. i. 17.

What? If it did not fall upon Him in Person? yet, to be punished in his Offspring, must be very affecting, and no less afflicting.

But hold——my Lord has forestalled us in this Reply. Instead of waiting for it, or acquiescing in it; He plays it upon us, with an Air of Triumph. “ Will it “ be said——this has been said——That “ Ham was punished in his Posterity.” *
 ——It has: and with his Lordship’s Leave, I will venture to say it again. Nor should I, in case Lord Bolingbroke was alive, have went farther than his own Breast, for a Proof of my Assertion. Would He, with all his exalted Ideas of Liberty, have thought it no Punishment on Himself, provided He had been the Father of Children, to have hear’d them doomed to a State of Slavery; nay, to be, as He very rightly explains the sacred Phrase, “ the vilest and worst of “ Slaves?” —— Especially if, like Ham, He was appointed, in the Course of Providence, to be the Father of several Nations? —— And if the Doom had been pronounced by a Person, of whose prophetic Spirit there was so incontestable an Evidence, as the universal Inundation was of Noah’s?

Since

* Pag. cxi.

Since my Lord has no more Communication with us or our Affairs, I appeal to any, to every parental Heart. Let Nature——fond, compassionate, yearning Nature speak——Whether the Infliction of such a Penalty on the Son, (perhaps, a favourite Son, like Joseph) the Son's Sons, and the latest Posterity——Whether this be not properly a Punishment of the Father? Whether the Father must not feel by Anticipation, what his wretched Progeny must endure in Reality?——Nature once spoke to such a Query, and this was her Language: O my Son Absalom! my Son, my Son Absalom! Would GOD I had died for Thee! O Absalom my Son, my Son!
^b Did History ever record, or Poetry ever invent, so melancholy a Moan? It breathes the very Soul of Woe; and exemplifies the Sentiment, which his Lordship would explode.

David, it is plain, was punished in the calamitous Exit of this young Prince; in the Disasters sustained, and the Disorders committed, by his other Children. ^c Adam thought Himself punished in the Ruin which He brought upon the human Race;
 and laments it, in the most pathetic Terms,
 as the severest Distress attending his Apo-stacy.

^b 2 Sam. xviii. 33.

^c 2 Sam. xii. 10.

stacy. ^d — One wiser than Adam, One greater than David, whose Judgment is always according to Truth, is evidently of the same Opinion: and, for that Reason, has formed the Sanction of a most sacred Commandment, upon this very Principle; He will visit the Iniquities of the Fathers upon the Children, unto the third and fourth Generation of them that hate Him. — What GOD has so expressly threatened, He has actually done: not on this only, but on various other Emergencies. Thus Esau suffered in his Descendants; ^e Jebu in his Family; ^f and Hezekiab in his Children. ^g Who all, like the Canaanites, were Children of their Father's Disobedience: ^h Inheritors of their Sin, as well as of their Name. — But

^d See the whole of Adam's disconsolate Complaint; Part of which are the following Lines.

————— *Yet well, if here would end
The misery; I deserv'd it, and would bear
My own Deservings; but this will not serve.
All that I eat, or drink, or shall beget
Is propagated Curse. O Voice! once hear'd Delightfully, Increase and Multiply;
Now Death to hear!*

Parad. Lost. Book x. 725.

^e Compare Gen. xxvii. 40. with 2 Sam. viii. 14. Thou shalt serve thy Brother: Here, is the Sentence. All they of Edom became David's Servants: Here, its Execution.

^f Hosea i. 4.

^g Isai. xxxix. 6, 7.

^h Morum quoque Filii.

Juvenal Satyr. XIII.

—But this would anticipate the Reply to another Objection.

Where is the Equity of cursing a People, that are yet unborn? Does not this “contradict all our Notions of Order and “of Justice?”—It may be contrary to our Notions, at least it would be unjustifiable in our Practice. But is quite otherwise, with regard to the all-seeing GOD. Is it not agreeable to the strictest Rules of Justice, for a Magistrate, when He has heard the Witnesses, summed up the Evidence, and found the Prisoner guilty— Is it not agreeable to the strictest Rules of Justice, to pass Sentence upon such a Criminal? The Question can admit of no Doubt. Yet it is equally certain, that this was the very Case, with Reference to the supreme Judge, and those Sinners the Canaanites.—They practiced the grossest and most inhuman Idolatries. They abandoned themselves to the most horrid Immoralities: such as violated Nature; confounded all Order; and such as it would be shocking even to mention. ^r—Now all these provoking Crimes, were present to the View of HIM, by whose Inspiration Noah spake. He saw them with the same circumstantial Exactness, as if they had had

^r Levit. xviii. 24.

had been already perpetrated.—— Let us take these very important Particulars into Consideration, the excessive Wickedness of those Nations, and the all-foreseeing Discernment of JEHOVAH, and then who will dare to insinuate? That the everlasting Sovereign acted unjustly. That He launched the Lightenings of his Indignation, in an arbitrary manner, or upon an innocent People.—— Who will be so precipitate, as to affirm with my Lord? That “ no other Writer but a Jew, could im-“ pute to the Economy of divine Provi“ dence the Accomplishment of such a “ Prediction; nor make the supreme Be“ ing the Executor of such a Curse.”*

The former of those Circumstances will set in a proper Light, what his Lordship calls, “ the Cruelties committed by Joshua “ in the Conquest of the Canaanites.” It will make them appear to be acts of righteous Vengeance; a much needed and most desirable Extirpation of a pestilent People: altogether as serviceable to the Public, as it was formerly, to destroy the Wolves from our Island; or as it is, at present, to deliver over some flagitious Malefactors to the Sentence of the Law.—— Yet the Execution of this Vengeance was delayed, Year after Year, Century after Century. The seed of Abraham, for several Ages, were were not permitted to enter upon the Possession of their destined Inheritance; because the Iniquity of the Amorites, which was the Cause of their Extermination, was not yet full.^s — Does it then, bespeak the Man of Integrity, to represent those Proceedings of Joshua, under the abhorred Image of Cruelties; which were Acts of a Justice, exemplary, salutary, and greatly to be revered. Is it becoming an honest Inquirer after Truth, to suggest, without the least Shadow of Proof, a selfish and malignant Reason, for the Destruction of the Canaanites; when a Reason, the most equitable in its Nature, the most beneficial in its Consequences, is expressly and repeatedly assigned by the sacred Historian? — This

I

^s Gen. xv. 16.

^t Gen. xv. 16. Deut. ix. 5. FOR THE WICKEDNESS of those Nations, the LORD thy GOD doth drive them out from before Thee — See also Levit. xviii. 25. Where the sacred Writer describes their execrable and un-paralleled Vileness, by one of the strongest and boldest Figures imaginable. So vile they were, that the very Country loathed them; was weary to bear them; and acted like a disgusted nauseating Stomach, when oppressed with foul and offensive Food: the Land itself vomiteth out her Inhabitants. — Let no squeamish Critic betray his false Taste, and worse Temper, by carping at the Expression. But let all be astonished at the outrageous Impiety of the Canaanites; and adore the vindictive Arm of JEHOVAH; and acknowledge, that such horrible Miscreants

I refer to your Ladyship's Decision. Who, I am sure, will not err on the uncharitable Extreme. Yet I believe, will find it difficult, with all your Good-nature, to acquit the Author of these Letters from the Charge of Dis-ingenuity.

May I not add?— This Way of fore-telling, yet respiting the Punishment, is gracious both in itself, and in its Consequences.—— In itself: because, a Reprieve is always reckoned an Alleviation of the Sentence, even though it be not the Forerunner of a Pardon.—— In its Consequences: because, it afforded large Space for Recollection, and should have awakened the Offenders to a Sense of their Guilt. It should have incited them to use all possible Diligence to avert the Doom, both by a personal Reformation, and by educating their Families religiously. Why did they not act, as King Abab acted, " and argue as the Men of Nineveh argued; " in a following Age, but on a like Occasion? — Instead of this; instead of betaking themselves to Consideration and Prayer,

to creants were (not for some Reasons of State, as my Lord is pleased to insinuate, deemed only, but were) really, & on the most substantial Principles of Justice, an accursed Race. Pag. 112.

" 1 Kings xxi. 27, 29.

" Jonah iii. 9.

to Repentance and Amendment, they ran to the same, to greater Excess of Ungodliness.

So that these People, being evidently Inheritors of their Father's sinful Nature, and obstinately persisting in their Father's sinful Ways, were most deservedly Partakers of his Curse. And though GOD is that uncontrollable Sovereign, who giveth not, is under no Obligation to give, Account of any of his Matters; * though He often has Reasons for his Dispensations, absolutely unsearchable by any Mortal; yet, Here He is clearly vindicated even before Men—even before the Sinners themselves. They themselves must confess the Justice of their Doom; and own, That GOD hath done righteously, but they have done wickedly. That GOD has shewed all Long-Suffering; and given full Warning, before the Blow fell. Whereas they, notwithstanding this Forbearance and this Admonition, have continued incorrigible; and without any other Change, but that of becoming more consummately vile.

Agreeably to all this, and conformably to the most acknowledged Rules of Equity, it is declared by the sacred Historian, That the Amorites, the Descendants of Canaan, suffered not, till they had filled up

F 2

* Job xxxiii. 13.

up the Measure of their Iniquities; ^b their own, as well as their Father's.—All which, I should imagine, is sufficient, not only to justify the Counsels, but to glorify the Judgments, of the great JEHOVAH. Sufficient also to satisfy any Inquirer, who is (as my Lord very handsomely expresses Himself) “ candid but not implicit, willing to be informed yet curious to examine.”

My Lord's Curiosity to examine, shall I say? Or his Resolution to be dissatisfied? proceeds still farther. Accordingly He adds; “ who does not see, that the Curse “ and the Punishment, in this Case, fell “ on Canaan and his Posterity, exclusively “ of the rest of the Posterity of Ham?” ^c ———The Particle of, so frequently repeated, in a single Sentence, can hardly be admired as an Elegance ^d of Speech. But, taking no more Notice of such little Blemishes, I shall consider the Weight, not the Polish, of his Lordship's Arguments. — As for this Argument, I verily think, when ^b Gen. xv. 16.

^c Pag. 110, 112.

^d This, and one or two preceding Remarks of the same Nature, are scarcely worth our Notice. Neither should I have mentioned them, had they not fell in my way; and were it not to put a Query upon the popular Notion, That his Lordship's Style is so correct, elegant, and when laid in the Ballance of Impartiality and Candour, it will be found wanting. For, admitting the Objection in its full Scope, what follows? Why, that the righteous GOD pardoned some Criminals, when He might justly punish all. And if it should have pleased the Supreme Judge, to repeal the Sentence, and remit the Penalty, with regard to some Offenders, who shall arraign his Conduct? Who shall censure his Providence? To exercise Mercy is his great Prerogative: an Act not of Debt, but of royal Bounty, which He exercises, when and to whom, it seemeth good in his Sight: I will have Mercy on whom I will have Mercy, ^e is his high and holy Resolve.

I might therefore answer his Lordship's Question, by asking another. Which I might propose, in the plain but solemn Words of our LORD JESUS CHRIST. "If these are spared, while those are punished, what is that to Thee? Is thine Eye evil, because GOD is good?" — But I shall rather reply to the Objection, by denying and noble, as to be a Standard for fine Writing. It cannot, in my Apprehension, justly claim this Honour, if others think differently, I leave them to enjoy their Opinion; and shall not (though it would be easy enough to multiply Proofs) add a Word more upon the Subject.

^e Rom. ix. 16.

nying the Fact. The Punishment was not confined to Canaan and his Posterity. It reached the other Descendants of Ham; Misraim Himself, the Father of the Egyptians (as will be shewn in a proper Place) not excepted. Canaan, 'tis true, is particularly mentioned.——Because, He was (as from this very Circumstance is extremely probable) an Accomplice° with Ham, in the Breach of filial Duty.——Because, this Branch of the Family was more than ordinarily corrupt, nay, beyond Measure vicious.——Because the Canaanites were, in the first Place, and in the fullest Manner, to feel the Effects of the Curse.——And Moses, being charged with a Commission to execute the Vengeance on this People only, had no Occasion to concern Himself with any other. Just as the Sheriff of a County, demanding the Body of a condemned Malefactor, produces the dead Warrant for his Execution; without inter-meddling, or thinking Himself under any Necessity to inter-

° This is rendered still more credible, by that Particularity of Style, which the Scripture uses in speaking of Ham. Ham the Father of Canaan. Gen. ix. 18, 22. Why of Canaan so especially? Had He not other Children, other Sons?——Several other.——But this Distinction seems to be a Brand of Infamy, set upon the Offender; and intimates, that He who was Father of Canaan by Blood, was his Partner, was his Brother in Iniquity.

inter-meddle, with the other Prisoners in the Jayl. — This leads me to a new, and, if I judge right, by far the most important Inquiry; namely, whether the Curse was executed, as well as pronounced.

As I hasten to the Proof of this Particular, my Lord embarrasses and retards me with a fresh Obstacle. He Himself has thought proper to inform us, “ why the “ Posterity of Canaan was to be deemed an “ accursed Race.” But He lets the World know; “ It is not so easy to account, why “ the Posterity of the righteous Shem, that “ great Example of filial Reverence, be- “ came Slaves to another Branch of the “ Family of Ham, during more than four- “ score Years.” * — I am by no means convinced, that the Point proposed enters into the Merits of our Cause. Should the Reasons for this Dispensation remain an impenetrable Secret; yet, if we clear up the Propriety, and demonstrate the Equity, of the Curse denounced; we compass our main End, and confute the grand Censure. However, as the Question is presented, it shall be considered: And though his Lordship should affect to sneer, I chuse rather, in in Imitation of those noble Writers, whose Dignity I would assert, to be serious.

* Pag. 112.

Why were the Israelites Sojourners in Egypt?—A Reason occurs, that is worthy of a gracious GOD, and greatly for the public Good. That they might carry thither the Knowledge of the everlasting JEHOVAH, and of the promised MESSIAH; of the only acceptable Method of Worship, and the only effectual Way of Salvation.—As Egypt was the Parent of Literature, and the Fountain-Head of Science: as Men of Letters and Curiosity came, from all Parts of the World, to complete their Studies at Egypt: if these heavenly Doctrines were received THERE, they would be more likely, some Streams of them at least, to be transfused into all Climes, and improve every Nation. So that the People of the LORD, the only Depositories of divine Philosophy, were settled in this Land of general Resort, with much the same wise and beneficent Views, as the ablest Professors of Learning are placed at our famous Universities.

But why were they Slaves in Egypt?—This might be to try them, and to humble them; to show them what was in their Heart, and to purge out their Dross. We are taught in Scripture, that the Almighty ty chastens whom He loves; and scourges the Men, whom He receiveth to Himself. Even the beaten Classics, my Lord's favourite Authors, have frequently remarked; That Adversity is a School, in which both private Persons, and public Societies, have learned the most heroic Virtues.— Besides; this might be intended to animate and inspirit the Israelites for their Invasion of Canaan. They were, in the general, a supine and grovelingⁱ Set of People. Had they been settled in a State tolerably easy, or in Territories that were but moderately commodious; they might never have aspired after the Land flowing with Milk and Honey; never have made any resolute Efforts, to possess their destin'd Inheritance. But, being driven by the Lash, and instigated by the Goad, of pungent galling Slavery, they were even constrained to burst the Chains, and push ther way to Liberty and Canaan. Their insupportable Slavery, was somewhat like bending the Bow, and straining the String, in order to launch the Arrow.—Farther; GOD Almighty assures ⁱ Let none imagine, that the Wisdom of GOD is impeached, by selecting to Himself a People of this Character. His Clemency, his Forbearance, and all those benign Perfections, which are so necessary for the Salvation of Sinners, are hereby displayed with peculiar Advantage, and to our unspeakable Consolation.

Abraham,

Abraham, that his Seed, though enslaved for a while, should come out of their Bondage with great Substance; ^k with the Silver, the Gold, the Jewels, and the choicest Treasures of Egypt. So that, when labouring for their Task Masters, they were, in Fact, labouring for themselves. The Wealth of the Oppressors, was laid up for the Oppressed. And the Season of their Affliction in the Enemies Country, was like the rigorous Cold of Winter; which, far from obstructing, only makes Preparation, for the Blossoms of Spring, and the Fruits of Autumn.—These Considerations might have solved the Difficulty to his Lordship, as a Politician.

Other Reasons are suggested by our Divines; which, if my Lord had thought it worth his while to regard, might have given better Satisfaction, and yielded more Edification. They would have reminded the right honourable Querist—That such a gloomy Aspect of the Jewish Affairs, made way for the brightest Manifestation of GOD's glorious Attributes: of his Power, in rescuing them from their tyrannical Rulers: of his Faithfulness, in fulfilling his Promise, made to their Fathers: of his Goodness, in supporting and conducting them; keeping them, amidst the most formidable Dangers,

^k Gen. xv. 14.

Dangers; as the Apple of an Eye; and bearing them, even through the most insuperable Difficulties, as on Eagle's Wings.¹ This also opened a most conspicuous Theatre, for that amazing Train of Miracles; which have been, in all Ages, as serviceable to the Faith of Christians, as they were formerly conducive to the Welfare of the Jews.

—They would farther have informed his Lordship, and have confirmed their Opinion by apostolical Authority; That the Whole of this most wonderful Transaction, was typical of spiritual Things: was a Series of living Lessons; delivered, according to the Eastern method of conveying Knowledge, in Figures and Emblems. The Egyptian Bondage was a Resemblance of our natural Condition; which is a State of the most abject Slavery to Sin.—The arbitrary and injurious Impositions of the Task-Masters shadow forth, though but faintly, the Tyranny of unruly Appetites, and imperious Passions.—That barbarous Edict for the Destruction of all the infant

G 2

¹ See Deut. xxxii. 10, 11. These, I think, are most delightful and inimitably delicate Representations. Let the pious Critic try, if He can conceive those tender Offices, that un-intermitted Vigilance, and Assiduity of protecting cherishing Cares, which are expressed in these fine Images. For my Part, I own myself incapable of describing them. But most earnestly wish, that every Reader as well as myself, may learn them in that best of Schools, the School of Experience.

infant Males, fitly enough represents the genuine Tendency of carnal and corrupt Affections; which destroy our true Comfort; subvert our noblest Interests; are as Death to the Joys and to the Hopes of our Souls.—Their Deliverance from that miserable State, was an expressive Sign of our Redemption, from the Guilt and the Dominion of Sin. ^m Both which the LORD JESUS accomplishes: the one by Price, the other by Power. Not by slaying the first-born, but by shedding his own Blood: not by softening Rocks into a Stream, but by taking away the Heart of Stone: not by turning the Current of Jordan backward, but by turning all our Desires into a new Channel.—The many Troubles and Oppositions they met with in the Wilderness, exhibit a lively Picture of the Molestations

^m The divine Writer to the Hebrews, makes the Land of Canaan, typical of a better Country, even of an Heavenly. Heb. xi. 16. xii. 22. According to the same Author, the peaceful Settlement of the Israelites in Canaan, suggested to their Thoughts, and pointed out to their Faith, that everlasting Rest which remaineth for the People of GOD. Heb. iii. 4, 5, &c. Since the Terminus ad quem, (as the School-men speak) is evidently mystical and allegorical: may we not conclude, that the Terminus a quo is mystical and allegorical likewise? Then it will follow, upon the clearest Principles of Analogy, that the intermediate Steps and Advances are of the same Nature; significative of refined and spiritual Things, under earthly and sensible Images.—This, if I mistake not, is put beyond all Doubt. 1 Corinth. x. 1, 2. &c, lestations that attend, and the Temptations that assault, the Christian. Trials await Us. Snares are around Us. Through many Conflicts, and much Tribulations We must enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. Only let Us beware, lest, like the ungrateful Israelites, We forget the GOD of our Salvation, and fall after the same Example of Unbelief.—The Cloud, that was spread over them by Day, to intercept the Glare, and screen them from the Heat of the Sun: The Fire, that shone before them in the Night, to cheer the nocturnal Darkness, and lead them through the trackless Desert: were not these very amiable and exact Emblems of our Saviour's Merits, and of his holy Word? The former of which, are refreshing to the guilty Conscience, as the Veil of a thick interposing Cloud is welcome to a Traveller in sultry Climes. The latter, is a Light to our Feet, and a Lantern to our Paths, to guide us in the Way everlasting.—Their Passage through Jordan, the Priests that bare the Ark of the Covenant going before them, ^a and standing in the midst of the River, till all the Congregation were passed over: this very emphatically prefigured our great High-Priest; bearing our Sins; fulfilling the Law in our Stead; abolishing Death;

^a See Joshua iii. 13, 14. &c.

Death; and making it a safe as well as short Transition to Life eternal.

You will excuse me, Madam, for expatiating upon these Topics. They are so inviting, so pleasing, so comfortable, that I can hardly persuade myself to leave them.— If any other Parts of the Epistle, through a Kind of unhappy Necessity almost inseparable from Controversy, should resemble the Asperity of the Thorn; this I hope, will bear some Affinity to the Fragrance of the Rose. For which Cause it is, that I chuse only to touch, and but lightly touch, the one; while I would open the other, into a full Expansion, and a rich Effusion.— Let me add one more Observation on this Head, and I have done. It is apprehended by very judicious Persons, that the Punishment of the Egyptians, and their total Overthrow, may be a Prefage of the Misery and Ruin; which will sooner or later fall upon Individuals and Nations, that reject the glorious Gospel, and vilify its sacred Repository THE BIBLE.

If the Reasons I have offered, are neither tiresome, nor un-satisfactory to your Ladyship, I shall proceed the more cheerfully to shew, That the Curse was executed, as well as pronounced.— Had it been the senseless Extravagance of a Man intoxicated with Liquor ; or the rash Imprecation of a Man heated with Resentment ; or the designing Interpolation of some crafty Statesman ; would the holy, the gracious, the true GOD have set the broad Seal of Heaven to it ? Would HE, who over-rules all Events, have suffered it to succeed——have commanded it to succeed——nay, have brought it Himself to pass, by a mighty Hand, and stretched out Arm ? Impossible to conceive !—If therefore it was really brought to pass ; and with a surprising Punctuality ; and not by any Competency of human Means, but by the most evident Display of divine Power : this will be such a Proof of its Credibility, its Reasonableness, and Equity, as no One, who thinks reverently of the Deity, can deny.
senseless

Canaan was to be Servant to Shem.—— This was accomplished, when the Israelites, the Descendants of Shem, conquered the Land of Canaan ; slew thirty of its Kings ;ⁿ and took Possession of their Cities. When the Gibeonites particularly, who composed one of their principal States, ° became Hewers of Wood, and Drawers of Water, to the Congregation ;^p or, in other Words, the most menial Servants to the lowest of the People. By ⁿ Josh. xii. 24.

° Josh. x. 2.

^p Josh. ix. 27.

By what Instruments was this extraordinary Revolution wrought? — By one of the finest Armies in the East or West? Marshalled by the bravest Officers, and headed by the most experienced General? No: but by a raw, undisciplined, enslaved People. Who were destitute of military Skill; and without any personal Qualifications, or warlike Apparatus for so difficult, so dangerous an Enterprize.

Through what Obstacles was it begun, carried on, and compleated? — In spite of the Attempts of one potent Monarch, to detain them in Servitude. In spite of the Resolution of several combined Kings, to dispute with them every Inch of Ground, to the last Drop of their Blood. — A deep River, and an Arm of the Sea must be crossed, by six hundred thousand Men, with their Wives, their Children, their Cattle; and without any Vessel to transport them, or any Bridge to transmit them. — They must dwell, forty Years, in a desolate, inhospitable, barren Wilderness. Which was infested by ravenous Beasts, and fiery flying Serpents. In which there was neither Water; nor Corn; nor any sort of Accommodation for Abode, or Sustenance for Life.

How were all these Difficulties surmounted? — Not by the Arm of Flesh. This was was utterly impracticable. But by the most astonishing Interposition of Omnipotence.—The Egyptian Tyrant is humbled, and brought to their Terms, by the Infliction of ten tremendous Plagues.—The Waters of the River are dried up, and the Waves of the great Deep are divided, so as to yield them a safe unobstructed^a Passage.—A Stream gushes even from the hard Rock; and gives them Drink, as it had been out of the great Depths.—Prodigious Quantities of Manna^r descend, with every Morning-Dew; and supply them, not from the Garner, but from Heaven, with their daily Bread.—Vast Flights of Quails arrive, with every setting Sun; and drop,

^a He led them through the Deep, encumbered as they were with their Kneading-Troughs, and surrounded with frightful Billows, as an Horse in the Wilderness; with as much Ease and Spirit, as some courageous Courier makes his Way through (מַדְבָּר) a plain, open, champaign Country. Isai lxiii. 13.

^r We are not to think, that the Manna took its Name, from any Resemblance to the medicinal Drug, which, among us, is so commonly known, and so frequently used. It is rather derived from the abrupt Expression of the Israelites, on their first beholding this wonderful Food. They cried out with Amazement, מַן הוּא Man Hu? What is this? Which Exclamation, denoting their own Surprize, and the unexpected as well as unparalleled Nature of the Gift, became both a Memorial of the one, and a Denomination of the other.

drop, like a Bird shot through the Wing,^a in the midst of their Camp, and round about their Habitations.—The Walls of an impregnable City fall to the Ground, at the Blast of Rams-Horns.^c The Sun stands still in the midst of Heaven, at the Voice of a Man.^u All the Hosts of the Nations, with all their Weapons of War, are driven asunder as the Foam upon the Waters, and cut off as the Tops of the Ears of Corn.

And is it probable? Can it be possible? That every Element, and all Nature, should not only concur; but alter their established Course; depart from the fundamental Laws of their Creation; on purpose to ratify, what was bolted out by the Patriarch in a drunken

^a This is described with the utmost Vigour and Beauty, in that sublime Piece of sacred Poetry, Psal. lxxviii. 27, 28. He rained Flesh upon them as Dust, and winged (here lies a peculiar Emphasis, and thus should the Original כנף כנף be translated, winged) Fowl like as the Sand of the Sea. Yet, though they were furnished with Wings, and therefore might easily escape, they neglected to make Use of their natural Powers. They fell round the Israelitish Tents, like the Rain from Heaven, which returneth not; and like the Sand of the Shore, which cannot be numbered.

This whole Psalm is a manifest Proof of the Observation, which was made in a preceding Paragraph —That the historical and doctrinal Passages of Scripture are, like the Deed and its Counter-Part, in their Substance exactly corresponding: and like the several Links of the same Chain, in their Connection absolutely inseparable.

^c Josh. vi.

^u Josh. x. 12, 13.

drunken Revel, or foisted into the Text by some Hebrew Macchiavilian?

Canaan was to be Servant also to Japheth.—Pursuant to this Prediction, did not the Greeks and Romans, who derive their Lineage from Japheth, make themselves Masters of the Residue of Canaan. Tyre built by the Sidonians, and Thebes † by Cadmus, were both destroyed by Alexander the Grecian. Carthage, founded by Dido, was, after a long Succession of Losses, and a vast Effusion of Blood, demolished by Scipio the Roman. Which Losses made Hannibal, a Child of Canaan, cry out with a Mixture of Astonishment and Despondency; Agnosco Fortunam Carthaginis! i. e. " " I " see plainly the Hand of Destiny working;

H 2

† " Alexander laid Siege to this City, took it by Storm, and entirely destroyed it; slaying ninety thousand of the Inhabitants, and selling the rest, to the number of thirty thousand more, into Slavery." Prideaux's Connect. Vol. I. Pag. 479.

" Vid. Liv. Lib. xxvii. ad finem.—A Writer of the first Repute, for elegant Taste, and penetrating Judgment, thinks it more than probable, that Hannibal, in this dispirited and hopeless Acknowledgment, refers to the Prophecy under Consideration. Which will justify my free, though I hope, not erroneous Translation of the Passage.—What the same Author adds, is so very ingenious, “ ing ; I see that oracular Doom hastening to “ its Accomplishment ; in these dreadful “ Calamities sustained by Carthage!”

If these Facts are true, which have the unanimous Consent of Historians for their Support, what can we say of his Lordship's Assertion ; “ that Canaan was Servant to Shem, though not to Japheth?”^w This, I am ingenious, and so apposite to my Purpose, that I will beg Leave to transcribe it.

“ That the Romans were no Strangers to the same “ divine Oracle, appears from Virgil.”

*Progeniem sedenim Trojano a Sanguine duci Audierat, Tyrias olim quæ verteret Arces:
Hinc Populum latè Regem, Belloque superbum, Venturum Excidio Lybiæ. Sic volvere Parcas.*

“ In translating which, if we only name the An- “ cestors, instead of the Descendants, the original “ Prophecy glares upon us.”

*From Japheth's Loins deriv'd, a Race she knew Design'd the Strength of Canaan to subdue:
Wide-spread their Empire, destin'd to succeed
And waste the Sons of Ham : So Fate decreed!*

See Mr. Ridley's Sermons at Lady Moyer's Lecture.
Pag. 252.

^w The Words at large are, “ Canaan became Ser“ vant of Servants to Shem, though not to Japheth, “ when the Israelites conquered Palestine.” Pag. 111.
—— I must beg Leave to inquire, why the last Clause is added? Is it to prove, that, when the Israelites subdued the Canaanites, the Descendants of Ham were not, by this Victory, made Servants to Japheth's Offspring?

am apprehensive, will be found as false, as the following Objection is weak. In which He urges; That “ Canaan was Servant to “ one of his Uncles, not to his Brethren.”
 * ——— Such a Cavil (for certainly it deserves no better Name) discovers an utter Ignorance of the Hebrew Phraseology; or else, a strange Inattention to it; I would not say, an egregious Misrepresentation of it. I thought every one had known, till Lord Bolingbroke undeceived me, That nothing is more common in the oriental Idiom, than to express any Relatives of the Male Line, by the Denomination of Brethren.^y

I hope, your Ladyship will not think this, or any of my other Remarks, indecently spring? If so, my Lord encounters a Phantom of his own raising; and confutes, what no Man asserts. — Is it to insinuate, that, because the Race of Canaan were not, at this Time, made Vassals to the Posterity of Japheth, therefore they never were; and, of Consequence, the Prophecy was eluded? This seems to be the Design of the Sentence. Abstracted from this Design, I see not what End it can answer. But this is to draw, from Premises that are true, a Conclusion that is false. And is just as good Logic, as the Libertine’s Argument is found Divinity; “ Vengeance is not yet, therefore it never will be, Executed.” See 2 Pet. iii. 4.

x Pag. 111.

^y See Gen. xiii. 8. Where Abraham and Lot, though Uncle and Nephew, are called Brethren. — Gen. xxiv. 48. Where Bethuel, another of Abraham’s Nephews, is styled his Brother. — Gen. xvi. 12. xxiv. 27.

cently free. In the Presence of the most High GOD, all Men are upon a Level. When the Honour of his divine Word or glorious Attributes is concerned, We are to know no Man after the Flesh:^y pay no deferential Regard to the Distinctions of Birth, or Elevations of Character. In these Lifts the Privileges of Peerage cease. And I should reckon myself the most abject of Creatures, if, through Respect of Persons, I could palliate or secrete the Truth, when the ever-venerable Oracles of Inspiration are treated with Contempt. A Violation of Decency this! by whatever Hand it is offered, or from whatever Quarter it comes, incomparably more flagrant than Scandalum Magnatum.

Pardon, Madam, this Digression, and permit me farther to observe——That the Progeny of Ham, in another Line, are, to this very Day, the Slaves of the whole trading World. The Negroes I mean: whose Descent is from that unhappy Man. And what is their Country, but the Market of Slavery? Are not their Persons bought^z and sold, as the meanest Commodities? Are they not debased to the most

^y 2 Corinth. v. 16.

^z No less than thirty Thousand, I have been informed, are, every Year, bought for Slaves by the English only.

most sordid, and harrassed with the most toilsome Drudgery? made, in the strictly literal Sense of the Phrase, Servants of Servants?

I have not forgotten what I promised to make appear, with relation to the Egyptians; neither shall I overlook what his Lordship has remonstrated, from the same Quarter. “The Descendants of Mitfrain,” He says, “another of the Sons of Ham, were “the Egyptians: And they were so far “from being Servants of Servants to their “Cousins the Shemites, that these were “Servants of Servants to them.”^a——
For a Season, they were. But this Servitude was calculated for the Good of their Community, and redounded to the Glory of their GOD. It terminated in such a signal Deliverance, as brought Honour and Opulence to themselves, Confusion and Ruin to their Enemies. Does it then follow, from this temporary Superiority of the Egyptians, which ended in so disastrous a manner, that they were excepted in the Denunciation of the Curse, or favoured with an Act of Indemnity?

^a Pag. 112.

What says the supreme Arbitrator? The Nation whom they serve, will I judge: I myself will punish; not by any human Instruments, but by my own immediate Hand. Accordingly, they were visited with the most dreadful and destructive Plagues. In the last of which, the First-born, the Flower of their Kingdom, were cut off; and at length, their King, and his whole Army, perished in the Red Sea. Does my Lord make no Account of these most terrible and unexampled Judgments?

Besides; what was the Condition of this People in the following Ages? If we consult Ezekiel, He will declare it, as clearly by the Spirit of Prophecy,^b as if He had lived on the Spot, and seen the Face of Affairs. And it came to pass in the eleventh Year, in the first Month, in the seventh Day of the Month, that the Word of the LORD came unto me, saying; Son of Man, I have broken the Arm of Pharoah King of Egypt; and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a Roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the Sword. — I will scatter the Egyptians among the Nations, and will disperse them through the Countries. — Egypt shall be the basest of Kingdoms, neither shall it exalt itself any more among the Nations. — And ^a Gen. xv. 14.

^b Ezek. xxx. 20, 21, 23. xxix. 15. xxx. 13.

——— And there shall be no more a Prince of the Land of Egypt.——— Is not all this confirmed, by antient History, and by the present State of Africa? From the one We learn, That the Egyptians were subject, first to the Persians; next to the Grecians; then to the Romans; afterwards to the Arabs. And from the other it appears, That they now wear the Turkish Yoke: are governed, not by a Prince of their own, but by the Grand Seignor and his Bashaws.

Nay; let any Person look round upon all the Countries, peopled by the Progeny of Ham; and I am much mistaken, if He does not find them, what the Psalmist describes, Dark Places of the Earth, and full of the Habitations of Cruelty:^a the Dens of Rapine, and the Dungeons of Ignorance: where Slavery drags the Chain, and Tyranny lifts the Scourge. —— Infomuch, that We need not scruple to say, in the emphatical Words of Joshua; Not one Thing has failed of all the Good, or the evil Things, which the LORD spake by the Mouth of Noah, concerning each of his Sons respectively. All are come to pass, not one Thing has failed.^b

This calls upon me to clear up another Part of the Prediction.——— The Blessing

I

pro-

^a Psal. lxxiv. 20.^b Josh. xxiii. 14.

pronounced upon Shem, and the Enlargement promised to Japheth. Which will afford a new Argument, to maintain the Authenticity of the Passage, and assert its divine Inspiration.

I said, the Blessing pronounced upon. Because, I would not translate the Words, Blessed be the LORD GOD of Shem; but, Blessed of the LORD GOD is Shem. This will put a striking Contrast, between the Doom of the irreligious Scoffer, and the Reward of filial Piety: this is what we naturally expect from a GOD, who is not unrighteous to forget his People, and their Labours of Love: this Sense the original Language will very commodiously bear,^c and the Event seems to require. For, how manifestly, how eminently, was this benedictive Sentence fulfilled! Since, in the Posterity of Shem, the Church of GOD was established, and his true Worship propagated. From Him, the Redeemer of Mankind, that Blessing of Blessings, according to the Flesh sprung.

The great Enlargement of Japheth's Territories, is no less certain, and no less remarkable.

^c Gen. ix. 26. בָּרַךְ יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵי שֵׁם — Words of the very same Import, in the very same Construction, are thus rendered by our Translators, Deut. xxxiii. 13. and will hardly admit of any other Interpretation; מְבֹרָכַת יְהוָה אֲרָצוֹ Blessed OF the LORD &c.

markable. He had, for his Possession, the Isles of the Sea Westward, and the fine extensive Countries near them; Spain, Italy, Greece, Asia the less, all Europe, and the vast Regions towards the North; which antiently the Scythians, now the Tartars inhabit; from whom the Americans, the People of the new World, seem to be derived. —By Japheth's dwelling in the Tents of Shem, is meant The Conversion of the European Gentiles, to the Gospel of CHRIST. Who, through a long Progression of Years, were Aliens from the Commonwealth of Israel; Strangers to the Covenants of Promise; having no Hope of eternal Life, and without any saving Knowledge of GOD in the World.^d But were, in due Time, persuaded to embrace the true Faith: were made (as the Apostle elegantly speaks, and in a Strain perfectly corresponding with the Language of our Prophecy) Fellow-citizens with the Saints, and of the Household of GOD.^e An Event, altogether as undeniable, as it is important, delightful, and glorious.

Upon the whole; I cannot but think that his Lordship has planted his Battery, and played his Artillery, if not like an unskilful, at least like an unsuccessful Engineer. He has planted his Battery against a Place, too well fortified to admit of any Impression, and that must infallibly triumph over every Assault. He has so played his Artillery, that it recoils upon Himself, and crushes his own Design.—And this, I apprehend, will always be the Issue, when Men even of the finest Genius and most improved Capacities, presume to attack the Scriptures of eternal Truth.

I 2

neer

^d Ephes. ii. 12.^e Ephes. ii. 19.

This very Passage, instead of depreting, unspeakably ennobles, the divine Writings. It shews, that they bear the Stamp—of that all-over-ruling Power, which purposes, and none shall disannull it—of that all-comprehending Knowledge, which discerns Events, long, long before they come into Existence.—And let any unprejudiced Reader judge, what Degree of Esteem those Books may fairly challenge; whose least considerable, or, in his Lordship's Opinion, most obnoxious Parts, have such a Depth and such a Dignity of Wisdom! Such as will be admired and revered, so long as historic Truth has any Credit, or commercial Intelligence any Being.

Shall I trespass upon your Ladyship's Patience, a little farther?—The Penmen men of the Old Testament, carry all the Marks of the most disinterested and undesigned Sincerity. They record the Failings of their favourite and most illustrious Heroes; without concealing the Punishment, inflicted on such Miscarriages.—— The uniform Tendency of their Narratives and Observations is, To promote a Religion the most pure, the most benevolent, the most elevated imaginable; as remote from all selfish Aims, and every low Art of Collusion, as the Heavens are higher than the Earth.—— They were Men singularly qualified for their Work; being either Eye-Witnesses of the Facts, they relate; or else Cotemporaries with the Persons, they describe; or still more remarkably distinguished, by their Ability to work Miracles, and their Insight into Futurity.—— As to the Facts related, some of them had anniversary Solemnities, on which they were commemorated: Some of them had significant Ceremonies, by which they were represented. They were publicly read in the Synagogues, and universally known through the Nation. It was a Duty of Religion, to talk of them by Day, to meditate on them by Night, and diligently to instruct the Children in them. And were not these Circumstances a Security, an invincible Security against any Attempt to corrupt, to innovate, or alter?—So that their Writings appear with every Character, both internal and external, of genuine Truth; and with the most unquestionable Credentials, from the GOD of Power, and GOD of Wisdom.^d Consequently, they have a Credibility of their own: sufficient both to claim, and to support, the Faith of an antient Jew. Such as must command the Assent of every rational and honest Inquirer, even before the Christian Dispensation took Place.

to

If my Lord had duly adverted to these Considerations; surely, He would have expunged that bold and rash Assertion, “without Christianity we have no Obligation to believe the Old Testament.”^e—Surely, he would never have left behind Him, that unwarrantable and injurious Insinuation; That the Hebrew Original deserves

^d Another very extraordinary Peculiarity in these Writings; and, to me at least, an undoubted Proof, that their Authors were divinely inspired; is, Their perfect Agreement, and entire Consistency throughout.—Though they were composed by different Men; placed in very different Stations of Life; and flourishing in very distant Ages of the World: Yet, they are as consonant and harmonious, as if they had all been penned by the same Hand.—Any Thing equal to this, I never saw; never heard of; and I believe, the most inveterate or most sagacious Adversaries of the Old Testament, will not attempt to produce a Parallel.

^e Pag. 94.

serves no better Credit, than the fabulous Story ^f of the Septuagint Translation.— Nor have found any Reason to “ protest, “ that He knew of no Rule to go by,” ^g (in settling the Degree of Assent, due to the several Parts of the Old Testament) but the fanciful Distinction, which has already been examined. — He would rather have found Reason to adopt and subscribe Agur’s Confession of Faith. A Man, who was famous in his own, who will be famous in every Generation; and for this, among other most judicious Maxims; EVERY word of GOD is pure. ^h ’Tis all Gold, fine Gold, without any the least Alloy.

For my own Part, I freely acknowledge to your Ladyship, that I value the sacred History (even exclusive of its Connection with the transcendent Glories of CHRIST, and the unspeakable Benefits of Redemption) on the very same Principles, which incline incline our Connosseurs to value those celebrated Antiques, they call Medals singular. Because, it is supposed, there is but one of the Sort extant.—Considering the private Interests, and personal Attachments, which are so apt to bias the human Mind; considering the imperfect Information, and Ignorance of Causes, to which all other Writers are unavoidably subject; I cannot but conclude, that the sacred History is, in Point of strict, precise, universal Veracity, SINGULAR. There is none other besides this, no, not one in the whole World, that is free from all the false Colourings of Prejudice; clouded with no Mixture of Uncertainty; most minutely true; and to be depended on, in every Particular. The Sacred History, is not only seated on the Throne of Truth; but, in these Respects, possesses it without a Rival.

^f The Story is told, pag. 86.—The Insinuation is made, in a prolix, confused, and obscure Paragraph, pag. 87.

^g Pag. 100.

^h Prov. xxx. 5. St. Peter bears much the same Testimony, to the whole Order of scriptural Writings. With regard to their Use, He calls them Milk; because, nothing is so well adapted to nourish our Faith and our Holiness. With regard to their Quality, He styles them (αδολον) sincere, unadulterated, pure; without any Mixture of Falshood, or any Tincture of Folly. 1 Pet. ii. 2.

Lord Bolingbroke is fond of Davila:¹ because, Davila discovers the hidden Springs

¹ He wrote a History of the civil Wars of France, in fifteen Books; containing all that was remarkable, from the Death of Henry II. in 1559, to the Peace of Verwins in 1598. It was originally written in Italian, and translated into French by J. Bodain. Collier's Hist. Dict.

Springs of Action, and traces up almost every Enterprize to it's Source. * — Is this so valuable a Qualification in the Italian? How then should we admire the inspired Historians? Who disclose to us, not the secret Measures of a Court, but the unsearchable Counsels of Heaven: Not the little Motives, that actuate the Politician, but the deep Designs of the universal Sovereign: And all this, not from precarious Surmise, but with the fullest Assurance. An Excellency! to which no other Narrative on Earth, can lay any Claim.

The Scriptures throw Light upon the most memorable Transactions, that have passed in the Heathen World, and are recorded by the classic Authors. — When the Assyrian Monarch subdues Kingdoms, and ravages Nations; We are apt to think, He is only gratifying his insatiable Ambition. But the Scripture assures us, that He was the Staff in J EHOVAH's Hand, and the Rod of his Indignation.¹ An Instrument, made use of by the King of Kings, to execute his righteous Vengeance. — When Cyrus is habituated to all the noble Exercises, educated in all the fine Accomplishments, that form the gallant Prince, and constitute the complete General; neral;

K

* Pag. 167.

¹ Isai. x. 5.

neral; Xenophon sees nothing more, than the Exertion of human Policy. But Isaiab beholds the all super-intending Arm of the LORD, girding^m this Hero, and preparing Him for the Deliverance of his People.—So that the Scripture-History is itself the grandest and most useful; while its inter-current Observations, are a Key to open, the most celebrated Affairs, which give Weight and Estimation to other Annals.

The grandest, and most useful.——This will appear to be more than a bare Assertion, if we recollect; That Here is a Display of that great Messiah, who is the Hope of Israel, and the Desire of all Nations.^o A Display of Him, in his mysterious Incarnation; his wonderful Person; and all the gracious, the benign Majesty of his mediatorial Offices. From the original Promise, (made to our first Parents) through all its progressive Evolutions; till He arises in the New Testament, as the only begotten of ^m Isai. xlv. 5. I have girded Thee, though Thou hast not known me. Xenophon's Κυρῶν Παιδεία, though written with quite a different View, is a very fine, and perhaps the very best Comment, on Isaiab's beautiful and expressive Phrase, ךְרַבֵּנִי.

ⁿ Acts xxviii. 20.

^o Hag. ii. 7:

of the Father; ^p with a Lustre and Dignity, suitable to so divine a Personage.— Which is an Event, of such incomparable Condescension, Magnificence, and Grace, that all the Prophets bear Witness to it, ^q and the very Angels desire to look into it. ^r

How then must your Ladyship be surpris'd, to see Lord Bolingbroke undertaking to assign the principal Scope of the Mosaic History, ^s (the former Part of it at least,) and not enlarging, not dwelling upon, no, nor so much as mentioning, the Redeemer. That all-glorious, all-important REDEEMER, who is the Sum and Substance of the whole Scriptures: the Alpha and Omega in all the Revelations of GOD. — Of whom Moses wrote, ^t and whose Day Abraham saw. ^u — Whose Righteousness was preached by Noah, ^w and his final Advent foretold by Enoch. ^x — Whose merits, apprehended by Faith, were the Recommendation of Abel's Sacrifice; ^y and the Consolation of Adam, ^z under the Loss of Immortality, and Expulsion from Paradise. — From whom many, if not all,

K 2

the

^p John i. 14. ^q Acts x. 43. ^r 1 Pet. i. 12.
^s Pag. 109. ^t John v. 46. ^u John viii. 56.
^w 2 Pet. ii. 5. It can hardly be doubted, but Noah preached the very same Righteousness, of which he himself was an Heir: and that, we are assured, was the Righteousness of Faith; Heb. xi. 7.
^x Jude xiv. ^y Heb. xi. 4. ^z Gen. iii. 15.

the Ante-diluvian Patriarchs, borrow their Honours; and stand upon everlasting Record, chiefly as being in the Number of his Progenitors.—This capital Omission is (to use his Lordship's own Language) “ a manifest Abuse of sacred History, and “ quite inexcusable in a Writer, who knew, “ or should have known,”^a that, in its most early as well as in its later Periods, it invariably testifies of CHRIST.^b

Thus to undertake, and thus to execute, is as if some Pretender to Anatomy, should engage to explain the Nature of Animal Motion; and say not a Word, concerning the Nerves, the Muscles, the Heart. Or, as if some Smatterer in Geography, should offer to exhibit a complete Map of our Country; and leave entirely out of his Plan, the Cities, the Towns, and the Rivers.— Yet, this is not the only Incident, on which my Lord, however critical in profane Literature, discovers Himself to have been very remiss in the Study, at least very superficial in the Knowledge, of his Bible.

From which Hint I would take Occasion to entreat, and with the most affectionate Earnestness, all that are inclined to dispute against this divine Book, first to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with it.—

And

^a Pag. 178.

^b John v. 39.

And would they once set about the momentous Work, with a candid, upright, and impartial Mind: Free from the Jaundice of Prejudices; not blinded with the Fumes of Self-Conceit; nor intoxicated with the Cup of vicious Pleasure: If they would thus examine the inspired Volumes, they would soon perceive such a lovely Constellation of Truth, of Wisdom, and of Grace, shining forth from every Page; as must turn their Disesteem into Admiration, and their Aversion into Delight.

But if they bring with them a Fondness for Fame; a haughty Self-sufficiency of Spirit; or an ignoble Attachment to sensual Gratifications: If they are determined to cherish, and will on no Consideration divorce, these Seducers of the Heart, and Perversers of the Judgment: We cannot wonder, that the Scriptures should appear to them, with much the same Aspect, as the miraculous Cloud appeared to the Egyptians. Which threw Darkness on their Paths, and shed Horror on their Souls; even while it gave Light to the Steps, and Alacrity to the Hopes, of the Israelites.^c ———In this Case, we may assign a Reason for their Opposition, from the unhappy Circumstances

^c Exod. xiv. 20. It was a Cloud and Darkness to them, but it gave Light by Night to these.

cumstances recorded of Ishmael:^d Their Hand, their Tongue, their Pen, is against the Word of GOD; because, the Word of GOD is against them, their Tempers, and their Ways.

In the sacred Narrations, we behold the Arm of the LORD revealed.—Other Historians, only guess at the Interposition of an avenging, or propitious GOD. And, though Conjectures of this Kind, occur but very rarely, in their Works; they are frequently censured, as a presumptuous Intrusion upon the Arcana of Heaven.—But the Pen-men of Scripture, with unerring Certainty declare; This is the LORD's Doing; a Stroke from the Sword of his Justice,^e or a Reward from the Riches of his Goodness.^f

Here

^d Gen. xvi. 12. His Hand will be against every Man, and every Man's Hand against Him.

^e See 2 Chron. x. 15.—xv. 6.—xxv. 20. xxviii. 5, 6.—xxix. 8, 9.

^f See 2 Chron. xii. 7.—xiii. 15, 16, 18, xiv. 6, 12.—xxvi. 5.—xxvii. 6. —I refer to the Chronicles, rather than to the other Parts of sacred History, in order to create a higher Esteem for these excellent Memoirs. Many People, I believe, are contentedly ignorant of the Chronicles. Because, some of the first Chapters consist of Hebrew Names, which are forbidding, and of genealogical Tables, which are useless, to the Generality of Readers.—But, notwithstanding Here we perceive, as in the brightest Mirrour, what Practices He favours, and what Methods He opposes: what Courses are attended with his Blessing, and what Behaviour provokes his Displeasure.—These Records set before us the most striking Exemplifications, both of the divine Threatnings, and of the divine Promises: demonstrating, from repeated Experience, that the former, are more than vain Menaces; the latter, are far from alluring Fallacies. By which Means, they are admirably well adapted, to inculcate those fundamental Lessons of practical Religion—a continual Advertence to GOD—a believing Dependence on GOD—and an habitual Expectation of Success in our Schemes, not merely from any Address or Industry of our own, but from the all-powerful Benediction of GOD.—Which are, of all other Precepts, perhaps, the most salutary and beneficial to Mankind.

My

withstanding their unpromising Introduction, they contain the most memorable and momentous Occurrences. They are interspersed with the most weighty and edifying Remarks. They are worthy of our repeated Perusal, and will amply repay the most careful Attention. — I would compare them to some noble Mine, whose Surface is barren, and seems to include nothing valuable. But, as you penetrate the Soil, the Treasure opens. The deeper you go, the more Riches you find. And, instead of regretting the little Toil of Application, you are only grieved, that you undertook the gainful Search no sooner.

My Remarks would be immoderately prolix, were they to enumerate all the Perfections of Sacred History. I shall content myself with wishing, that your Ladyship may esteem, may reverence, may love the whole Book of GOD,——only in Proportion to its Worth. Then, I am persuaded, it will have your highest Esteem, your profoundest Reverence, and most devoted Love.

Before I conclude, give me Leave, Madam, to make one Request. Which I make, under a Sense of my various Obligations to your Ladyship; with all the engaging Acts of your Condescension and Generosity, full in my View. It ought therefore to be, and it really is, expressive of the most unfeigned Thankfulness for your Favours, and of the truest Zeal for your Happiness. It is this——That you would carry on a daily Intercourse, and cultivate a holy, an intimate Familiarity, with the inspired Writers, and their inestimable Volumes.——Read them. Recollect them. Weigh them.——Contemplate them, in their magnificent Whole; in their beautiful Parts; and their harmonious Connections.

I should be afraid to recommend, in this zealous Manner, and to this assiduous Perusal, rufal, the most correct Compositions, that ever proceeded from a human Pen. But Here, I am under no Apprehension, of your exhausting the Mine, and complaining of Emptiness: under no Apprehension, lest the Entertainment should flatten upon your Taste, and create Disgust. The more We search those Store-Houses of Wisdom; the better We understand those Oracles of Truth; the more they will approve themselves to our Judgment, and become dearer, still dearer to our Affections.——The Pages of Scripture, like the Productions of Nature, will not only endure the Test, but improve upon the Trial. The Application of the Microscope to the one, and a repeated Meditation on the other, are sure to display new Beauties, and present Us with higher Attractives.——Nay, the very Attempts of an Adversary to blacken the Scriptures, serve only to encrease their Lustre. For my Part, I never should have seen the Prediction of Noah, rising, with such Perspicuity, Propriety, and Glory, to Observation; had not Lord Bolingbroke made an Effort, to over-whelm it with Objections, and sink it into Discredit.

Above

§ An Allusion to the Motto, in the Title Page, Merses profundo, pulchrior evenit, and expressive of its Meaning.

Above all, may We bring to this best of Studies, an bumble Mind. A Mind, deeply sensible of its own Ignorance and Weakness; yet frequently and chearfully lifted up to GOD, for his enlightening and animating Spirit. That, by his blessed Influences, our Understandings may be opened to understand the Scriptures,^h and our *Hearts opened to receive them:*ⁱ to understand them, in all the Fulness of their heavenly Meaning; to receive them, in all the Force of their transforming Power. — That, reading the Threatnings, We may tremble^k at the awful Word; and acknowledge ourselves justly liable, to those terrible Judgments. But at the same Time believe, that CHRIST has delivered Us from the Curse of the ^h Luk. xxiv. 45.

ⁱ Act. xvi. 14. — Such is the Darkness, such the Depravity of our Minds, that they will not, they cannot, be made wise unto Salvation, even from the Scriptures themselves, without the powerful Agency of the blessed Spirit. Unless his Influences enlighten our Understandings; and apply the Doctrines, when understood, to our Hearts; We shall be, even with the Word of Light and Life in our Hands, somewhat like blind Bartimeus, sitting amidst the Beams of Day; or like the withered Arm, with invaluable Treasures before it. This, I think, Experience must acknowledge; this, I am very certain, the Texts referred to, in Concert with many others, evince.

^k See Ezra x. 3. — 2 Chron. xxxiv. 27. Where it might not be amiss, to compare the Temper of true Believers, and the Behaviour of an illustrious King, with the Spirit that runs through his Lordship's Performance.

*the Law, being made a Curse for Us.*¹——

That, reading the Promises, We may confess Ourselves unworthy of an Interest, in such unspeakable Blessings. Yet rest assured, that all the Promises of GOD are Yea and Amen in CHRIST JESUS:^m are our unquestionable Portion, through his Merits and Atonement; and will certainly be fulfilled, through his Intercession and Faithfulness. —— Reading the Precepts, let Us rejoyce in the Belief, that our Saviour, obedient unto Death, has fulfilled them perfectly for our Justification: that our Saviour, exalted unto Heaven, has engaged to put his Spirit within Us for our Sanctification; *causing Us to walk in his Statutes, and to keep his Judgments, and do them.*ⁿ —— Contemplating the various Examples, may We use some of them, as admonitory Sea-Marks, to avoid the Rocks of Sin: use others, as a conducting Clue, to guide our Feet into the way of Peace: use all, as so many Incitements, to awaken our Circumspection, or quicken our Diligence, in making our Calling and Election sure.

Then, We shall have another Proof, that the Original of these holy Books, is not from Man, but from the LORD JEHOVAH. A Proof, which some People may

L 2

¹ Gal. iii. 13.

^m 2 Corinth. i. 20.

ⁿ Ezek. xxxvi. 27.

may explode, as imaginary or enthusiastical : but is really of the utmost Solidity, and of the last Importance. Which, though by no Means independent on, much less exclusive of, other Evidences ; is, nevertheless, to each individual Person, incomparably more valuable, than any, or every other Attestation. We shall HAVE THE WITNESS IN OURSELVES. ° We shall experience, on our own Souls, the happy Energy of the Scriptures. They will be the Instrument of working, such a lively Faith in CHRIST ; such an ardent Love of GOD ; such a cordial Benevolence for our Fellow-Creatures ; † as cannot fail to exalt our Desires, refine our Affections, and dignify,

° 1 John v. 10.

† This is what his Lordship means, or ought to mean, when He speaks of “ the proper Force of Religion ? “ that Force which subdues the Mind, and awes the “ Conscience by Conviction,” pag. 182. And I am well assured, whatever He may surmise to the contrary, that this Voucher to the real Inspiration of the Scriptures, and divine Original of Christianity, “ is not wanting.” Nay, I durst venture to engage, that it never will be wanting to any Person, who seeks it with due Attention, and becoming Diligence : and neither forgets, nor neglects those necessary Preparatives, prescribed by the great Master of the Christian School—the one, comprehended in this Maxim ; If any Man will do his Will, He shall know of the Doctrine, whether it be of GOD. John vii. 17. The other, delivered in the following Direction ; If any of you lack Wisdom, let Him ask of GOD, who giveth to all Men liberally, and upbraideth not, and it shall be given Him. Jam. i. 5.

dignify our Tempers.—Such as will administer Comfort under Affliction, and impart an additional Relish to Prosperity.—Such as will teach Us to order our Conversation right, amidst all the Snares, all the Labyrinths of Time; and gradually train Us up, for the pure Bliss, and consummate Enjoyments of Eternity.

May THIS Proof, Madam, be written on your Heart—written in bright and indelible Characters—written by the Finger of the living GOD!—Then, I am assured, every Attempt to stagger your Belief, or withdraw your Veneration from THE BIBLE; will be like an Attempt, to shatter the Rock in Pieces with a Bubble, or to pierce the Adamant with a Feather.—This is not only the sincere Wish; but, so long as Religion and Gratitude have any Place in my Breast, it will also be the earnest Prayer of much obliged,

YOUR LADYSHIP'S

and most obedient humble Servant,

April 22d.

1752.

JAMES HERVEY.

P O S T S C R I P T.

I Have taken no Notice of his Lordship's Animadversions, relating to the Genuineness of the Gospel-History. Because, this would be entering upon a new Field; which I leave open and untouched, for some more able Defender of that invaluable Depositem. — Not that I apprehend, there is any Thing very formidable in the Attack. But I think it would be serviceable, as I am persuaded it is easy, to shew the Weakness and Unreasonableness of those Arguments; which Men of superior Abilities are obliged to take up with, when they list themselves under the Banner of Scepticism or Infidelity. — It would also be a Piece of public Justice, to enquire into the Sincerity, Probity, and Consistency of those Writers; who, in some Places, lay a mighty Stress upon the Authority of the New Testament; (pag. 94.) in others, endeavour to sap the very Foundation of its Credibility; (pag. 177.)

F I N I S.

✎ Since the Postscript was written, an Incident has occurred, which affords me the Pleasure of informing the Public—That Lord Bolingbroke's Objections to the Authenticity of the Evangelical Historians, will shortly receive an Answer, from the Pen of my learned and judicious Friend, the Revd. Mr. WHALLEY of Northampton.

Lately Publish'd,
In TWO VOLUMES, Price 6s. bound,
The NINTH EDITION of MEDITATIONS
AND CONTEMPLATIONS.

CONTAINING,

VOL. I.	VOL. II.
MEDITATIONS among the TOMBS.	CONTEMPLATIONS on the NIGHT.
REFLECTIONS on a FLOWER-GARDEN; And, A DESCANT ON CREATION.	CONTEMPLATIONS on the STARRY HEA- VENS; And, A WINTER-PIECE.

By JAMES HERVEY, A. M.
Rector of Weston Favel, Northamptonshire.

Printed for JOHN and JAMES RIVINGTON,

Of whom may be had,

A Metzotinto Head of the Rev. Mr. HERVEY. Done by Mr. Faber, from a Painting of Mr. John Michael Williams.

