Much labour has been given to the compilation of the work ; the basis of each table (a pound sterling) has been carried in Indian currency to nine places of decimals of a pie, and the values shown give in every case to within the one-hundred-and-sixtieth part of a penny Sterling of exactitude.

The calculations have all been tested by various independent methods of verification, and the work is presented to the public with a feeling of confidence that it will be found strictly correct throughout.
