P R E F A C E.

THE high estimation in which THOMSON'S INTEREST TABLES have hitherto been held by the commercial and monetary world, is the best proof of their accuracy and utility. To make this justly celebrated work still more acceptable to the general community, the Publishers have arranged the whole on an entirely new plan, which they hope will be found a great improvement on preceding editions. Instead of the various rates being separated from each other, these now all appear in each page, thus saving the trouble and annoyance of referring to other pages when a combination of rates is required. The days of the month and year, with the number of days from 1st January to 30th June and 31st December, the usual periods for balancing accounts, are also given. A Time Reckoner has been added ; also Tables of Exchange or Commission, Profit and Loss, Discount, Foreign Moneys, Stamp Duties, &c. Altogether this may justly be styled a greatly improved edition, whether as regards arrangement, information, or price,—the work now containing numerous valuable additions, at less than one-half of its original cost.
