PREFACE.

In a little book, published about four years ago, I endeavoured to give, shortly and succinctly, information as to the most available roads for Bicycle Riders. The unexpected success attained by that work, has induced me to use the notes I have made during an extended career as a rider of the Bicycle, for the purpose of supplying to the public in general, and to Bicycle Riders in particular, a guide to the best Routes to be taken to all parts of the country. The necessity for a work of this kind was amply demonstrated a few years ago, during a ride undertaken by myself and a few friends from London to John o' Groats, N.B.

I have hitherto been prevented from devoting the time necessary to such a tedious task as the preparation of the Work; but I now offer the present volume to my brother-Bicyclists, confidently anticipating that it will aid materially in the enjoyment of their rides along the pleasant lanes and roads of Old England.

Although the greatest pains have been taken to ensure accuracy in compiling the work, it is quite possible that some errors may have crept in; and the Publishers will therefore be much obliged if those who use the book will take the trouble to point out any which they may discover, in order that they may be corrected in a future edition.

CHARLES SPENCER.

THE "HUMBER BICYCLE" for 1880,

MANUFACTURED BY

Messrs. HUMBER & Co.

WORKS AT NOTTINGHAM AND BEESTON.

This Machine has during the past year again proved its great superiority over all other makes. The latest improvements, which are of great importance to riders, are as follows: A new arrangement in the front hub by which the feet are brought much closer together, the wheel still retaining that strength for which these Machines are justly famous; a spring of the greatest elasticity, on an entirely new principle; hollow forks, the perfection of strength and elegance; and a ball-bearing to the back wheel which will run 500 miles without re-oiling. Before ordering elsewhere, intending purchasers are respectfully requested to call and inspect the above improvements at the London Depôt, 78, RICHMOND ROAD, WEST BROMPTON, when their great advantage will at once be apparent.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From "The Bicycling Times."

"Harrison's Continuous Alarm Bell, for which he has obtained Letters Patent.—This Bell as now constructed is certainly the best Bicycle Bell in the market. It is neat in appearance, and effective to a degree that will be appreciated by those who use it. The weight of the Bell is only eight ounces."—Nov. 27, 1879.

L. & CO. beg to call special attention to their "ADVANCE SAFETY BICYCLE," which is, without doubt, the best, lightest, and safest that has ever been brought before the public, as you can stop to talk to your friends without having to dismount for fear of falling to the ground, as is the case with other machines. It has two small wheels at the front by which you steer, and one large wheel behind, with a double crank, giving you much more power to work it than those now in use. The IRONWORK, what little there is of it, is almost all made from hollow tubes, excepting the parts where greater strength is required to make the machine safe and fit for the roads. The BEARINGS are cones tothe front wheels, and adjustable rollers to the hind one, or is fitted with the ÆOLUS ADJUSTABLE BALL BEARINGS.

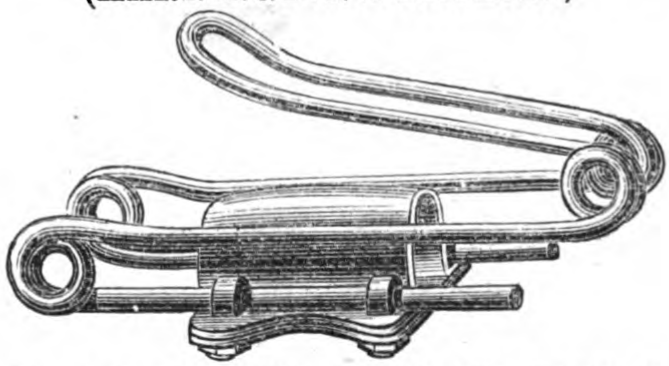
ST. LUKE'S,
LONDON, E.C.,
A Few Minutes' Walk from Aldersgate or Moorgate Street Stations.

Bicycle Repairs done by Experienced Workmen.

THE "ARAB" CRADLE SPRING.

(HARRINGTON'S PATENT.)



This Spring having a compound action, the three following results are attained :—

Ascending the hill the rider dips forward to his work. When descending, the action is reversed, thus throwing the weight of the rider well to the rear; whilst on a level road, a perfectly vertical movement is produced, the ease of which is quite extraordinary.

This Spring may be attached to any machine in a few minutes, no drilling being necessary, and the only tool required is a spanner, which is always supplied.

Upon the quality and character of the Spring, as being the connexion between the rider and his machine, depend both the comfort of the former, and, to a great extent, the durability of the latter. Keeping these important considerations in view, Mr. HARRINGTON has invented and patented a Spring, an Illustration and a Description of which are here given.

This Spring has no roller or slide, and consequently no drilling or weakening of the spine or neck is necessary. It is noiseless, has no wearing surfaces, and thus requires no oil.

No part of this Spring intervening between the saddle and the spine, space is gained for greater range of elasticity.

The price of this Spring is—

15s. Polished. 21s. Nickel Plated.

JOHN HARRINGTON & CO., 18 & 20, Norman's Buildings, St. Luke's, E.C.

THE "ARAB" CRADLE SPRING.

"Having had four months' constant riding on Harrington's new Cradle Spring, with which my new 'Arab' steed was fitted last autumn, I can assure 'Pax' that the Spring is all a bicyclist can desire in the way of ease and comfort. It has, moreover, other qualities I never anticipated when it was first brought under my notice; for instance, I find my new 48-inch machine far better within my reach than my old 46, and as a help to mounting hills the effect is very marked. Altogether, I look upon this invention as one of the happiest hits we have lately been favoured with. 48-INCH."

"In answer to the inquiry of 'Pax' re the 'Arab' Cradle Spring: I have ridden it a good deal on the London stones, and find it the best I have yet had, as it stops most of the vibration, and in hill-riding, when leaning forward, it adapts itself to the position, and is therefore suitable for all kinds of work.

"WREST

"BRIDGE WHARF, HOXTON,
"April 9th, 1880. LONDON, N.

GENTLEMEN,—In answer to your request for a report on your Cradle Spring: I have carefully tested it over all kinds of roads, and find that in ordinary riding it absorbs the vibration better, and in going over stones it reduces the force of the concussion more than any spring I ever had. This is caused not only by the peculiar shape, but also, I believe, because the Spring is fixed to the backbone immediately under the saddle, and consequently, the rider is saved the constant shaking of the back wheel, which in the ordinary patterns is communicated to him by the [illegible] the Spring resting on the [illegible]is is most important to [illegible]roads, and as your Spring [illegible] I consider it a great step [illegible]ction.

"Yours truly,
