Advertisement to this Edition.

THE publisher thinks that it is due to Mr. HALLIWELL to state that he is in no way responsible for this re-impression of a work to which he contributed a few notes at the commencement of his literary career, more than twenty-five years since. This professes to be no more than a careful and accurate reprint of the edition of 1839.

Introduction.

THE text of the following volume is taken from MS. Cotton. Tit. C. xvi., as given in the edition of 1725 (Lond. 8vo), and was printed before the work was placed in my hands. This Introduction, then, the Additional Notes, and Glossary, are the only portions for which I am responsible. All, I believe, that is known of the author's life, is given in the preface of the former editor; and it will be only necessary here to notice the different MSS. and editions which I have been fortunate enough to meet with. Many other MSS. may also be found in the libraries of Oxford, Cambridge, and in almost every collection: so numerous, indeed, are they, owing to its great popularity, that it would be an endless labour to collate them all, though scarcely any two copies agree to any extent. I have consequently thought it a work of supererogation to point out the minor differences.

There are nineteen copies in the British Museum; and there may perhaps be more among the manuscripts not yet catalogued. In Heber's collection there was a very fine MS. of the French version; but I am not acquainted with its present possessor.

1. Bib. Reg. 17 C. xxxviii.

A small folio on vellum, written in double columns, of the latter end of the fourteenth century. It has a list of chapters at the commencement, and the following colophon:—"Here bygynneth the book of John Maundevile, Knyght of Ingelond, that was y bore in the toun of Seynt Albons, and travelide aboute in the worlde in manye diverse contreis to se mervailles and customes of countreis, and diversiteis of folkys, and diverse shap of men, and of beistis, and all the mervail that he say he wrot and tellith in this book, the which book conteyneth xxii chapteris. And this knyght wente of Ingelond, and passid the see, the 3er of our lord mcccxxxjj, and passid thorgh many londes, contreis, and Iles, and compiled this book, and let write hit the 3er of our lord mcccclxvj, at xxxjjjj 3er after that he wente out of his contre, ffor xxxjjjj 3er he was in travelyng." It has several drawings, some agreeing with the woodcuts in this reprint: imperfect at the end.

2. Arundel. 140. f. 5 b.—41 b.

A folio of the fifteenth century, on paper; imperfect in various places. This MS. seems to be of little value.

3. Sloan. 1464. ff. 164.

An octavo on vellum, of the beginning of the fifteenth century, in French.

4. Sloan. 560. f. 2—55.

A folio on vellum, of the fifteenth century, in French.

5. Cotton. Tit. C. xvi. ff. 132.

A quarto on vellum, written about the year 1400, and from which the present text is taken. It ought to be observed, that the modern letter z had been substituted by the former editor for the middle-age character 3, as was commonly done till lately, and of course is retained in this reprint. Hearne uses the Saxon character ȝ; but that most generally employed now is the nondescript letter 3, which I have substituted in the Glossary for the sake of conformity with the present custom; and I do not think that the change will present any difficulty to the generality of readers.

6. Cotton. Append. iv. f. 59—102.

A folio on vellum, of the latter part of the fifteenth century, in Latin.

7. Bib. Reg. 17 B. xliii.

A quarto on vellum, of the fifteenth century, in English: imperfect at the end.

8. Harl. 3954.

A tall folio, of the end of the fourteenth century, on vellum. This is a very fine manuscript, and contains better and more numerous drawings than the one in the Royal Library, though they are none of them properly finished. The text is good.

9. Harl. 175.

A small quarto on vellum, of the fifteenth century, in Latin. At the end:—"Explicit Itinerarium domini Johannis de Maundeville militis de mirabilibus mundi."

10. Harl. 212. ff. 107.

A quarto on vellum, of the beginning of the fifteenth century, in French:—"Le geste de seigneur John Maundeville de mervailles de monde." This, in common with most of the French versions, has the date of 1332 instead of 1322, in the prologue. This manuscript has (f. 107) the copy of the letter from Maundeville to King Edward. From a manuscript note at the end, it appears that this copy must have been transcribed before the year 1425.

11. Harl. 82.

A folio on vellum, of the fifteenth century, in Latin. Imperfect both at the beginning and end. The forms of the Greek letters in this manuscript are worthy of observation.

12. Harl. 204. ff. 98.

A quarto on vellum, of the fifteenth century, in French; with the copy of the letter to King Edward at the end.

13. Harl. 1739.

Another French MS. on vellum and paper, in quarto, of the fifteenth century, and bound with the preceding. This MS. has the letter to King Edward.

Introduction.

14. Harl. 3589.

A folio on paper, of the fifteenth century, in Latin:— “Incipit itinerarius magistri Johannis de Mandevelt ad partes Herosolumtanas et ad ulteriores partes transma-rinas, qui obiit Leodii, anno domini mcccclxxxjjº.” This
MS. has a list of the chapters, and a larger prologue than
I have observed in other Latin manuscripts.

15. Harl. 4383.

A folio on vellum, of the fifteenth century, in French;
imperfect at the end. Some of the chapters have rubricated arguments.

16. Harl. 3940.

A quarto on vellum, of the fifteenth century, in French:—“Cy commenche le livre de Jeh. de Mandeville chevalier.”

17. Bib. Reg. 20 A. i. ff. 119.

A quarto on vellum, of the fourteenth century, written in double columns, in French: a table of contents, and the letter to King Edward the Third, are at the end:—
“Explicit le geste de sire John Maundevill Chivaler de Seint Albonz en Engleterre.” On the last leaf is an English poem on our Saviour, not mentioned in Casley’s catalogue.

18. Bib. Reg. 20 B. x. ff. 83.

A folio on vellum, of the fourteenth century, in French, with the letter to King Edward. A list of the chapters is inserted at the commencement.

19. Bib. Reg. 13 E. ix. f. 40 a.—71 d.

A very large folio volume on vellum, finely written, about the year 1400, in double columns, in Latin. At the end:—“Explicit itinerarium domini Johannis de Maundevile militis de mirabiliis mundi, etc. Deo gracias.”

At p. 5, Maundevile says, "And 3ee schulle undirstonde, that I have put this boke out of Latyn into Frensche, and translated it a3en out of Frensche into Englyssche, that every man of my nacioun may undirstonde it." This passage, and what follows, I find only in the Cotton manuscript. In the Latin copies nothing is said on this point; but in MS. Sloan. 1464, and in many of the French versions, I find the following:—"Et sachez que jeo usse mis ceste liverette en Latyn pur plus briefment deviser, mès pur ceo que plusours entendent mieultz Romanz que Latin, jeo l'ai mys en Romanz pur ceo que l'entende. Et que li seignours et li chivalers et les autres nobles hommes que ne scevent point Latin ou poi, et que ount eté outre mer, sachent et entendent si jeo dye voir ou noun, et jeo erre en disaunt, pus noun sovenanz ou autrement q'ils puissent atresser et amender. Car chose de longe temps passé par le vewe tournet en obli, et memorie de homme ne poet mie tout tenir et comprendre." f. 4, r<sup>o</sup>.

The copy of the author's letter to King Edward the Third, already mentioned as being at the end of some of the French copies, is as follows:—

"La copie de la lettre maundé ovesque cest escript, à très noble Prince Monsieur Edward de Wyndesore, roy de Engleterre et de Fraunce, par Monsieur John de Maundeville autour suisdit.

"Principi excellentissimo, pre cunctis mortalibus precipue venerando, domino Edwardo, divina providentia, Francorum et Anglorum regi serenissimo, Hiberniæ domino, Aquitaniæ duci, mari ac ejus insulis occidentalibus dominant, eufamie et ornatui, universorumque arma gerentium tutori, ac probitatis et strenuitatis exemplo; principi quoque invicto, mirabilis Alexandri sequaci, ac universo orbi tremendo; cum reverentia, non qua decet, cum ad talem et tantam reverentiam minus sufficientes extiterint, sed qua parvitas et possibilitas mittentis et offerentis se extendunt, contenta tradantur."

This letter is found only in the French copies, and in some of these it is omitted.

Much to illustrate these travels may be found in Marsden's edition of Marco Polo. Indeed, the frequent agreements with Marco Polo would lead us to think that he had not been unacquainted with that author; and one person has suggested that Maundevile may never have gone to the East at all, but compiled his book out of previous journals. If the slightest negative evidence can be obtained, I grant that there may be sufficient room for carrying out the conjecture; but otherwise, I think that such a sweeping conclusion is wholly unjustifiable. It appears to me little less than certain, that if it had not been well known that Maundevile had travelled to the East before he published his book, it could never have been taken up with such general popular avidity; and so popular, that I will undertake to say that, of no book, with the exception of the Scriptures, can more manuscripts be found of the end of the fourteenth and beginning of the fifteenth centuries.

The marvellous stories so readily credited by our author, and the great respect he pays to every relic, are not matters of surprise, when we take into consideration the enthusiasm of a zealous Roman Catholic of the fourteenth century. He was treading on sacred ground, and credited, because he desired to credit, every idle story that came floating before his view. I transcribe from Chateaubriand's travels the translation of a tale respecting David's tomb, related by Benjamin of Tudela; because I think it affords a striking illustration of the sort of stories then circulated; and it is one which, from its very nature, is the kind of marvel that would have been most eagerly devoured, and credited without suspicion.

"Jerusalem is encompassed all round with lofty hills; but it is on Mount Sion that the sepulchres of David's family must be situated, though the exact spot is not known. About fifteen years ago, one of the walls of the temple, which, as I have observed, stands on Mount Sion, fell down. Upon this the patriarch ordered a priest to repair it with such stones as were to be procured from the foundation of the walls of ancient Sion.

To this end, the latter hired about twenty workmen, between two of whom subsisted the closest friendship. One of these took the other home with him one morning to breakfast. Returning after their repast, the overseer inquired why they came so late: they replied that they would make up for it by working an hour over the regular time. Accordingly, while the rest of the men were at dinner, and these were continuing their work as they had promised, they raised a stone which closed the mouth of a cavern, and said to one another, 'Let us see if there be not some treasure concealed here.' Having entered, they went forward till they came to a palace supported by marble pillars, and covered with plates of gold and silver. Before it was a table, on which lay a crown and sceptre. This was the sepulchre of David king of Israel; that of Solomon, with similar ornaments, was on the left, as were also the tombs of several other kings of Judah of the Family of David, who were interred in this place. They saw also chests which were locked up; so that what they contained is not known to this day. The two men were proceeding to enter the palace, when a violent whirlwind rushing in at the mouth of the cavern threw them upon the ground, where they remained as if dead till night. Another blast of wind roused them from this situation, and they heard a voice resembling that of a man, which said to them, 'Arise, and begone from this place.' Overcome with terror, they precipitately departed, and related all that had befallen them to the patriarch, who made them repeat the account in the presence of Abraham of Constantinople, the Pharisee, surnamed the Pious, who then resided at Jerusalem. He had sent for him to inquire what he thought of the matter; on which he replied, that this was the burial-place of the house of David, prepared for the kings of Judah. The following day the two men were found confined to their beds, and very ill in consequence of the fright. They refused to return to the spot for any reward whatever; declaring that it was vain for any mortal to attempt to penetrate into a place the entrance of which was defended by God himself; so that it was stopped up by the command of the patriarch, and it has thus been concealed from sight to this day."

This story seems to be a revival of that related by Josephus respecting the same tomb: Herod the Great having attempted to open David's coffin, flames issued from it, and prevented the accomplishment of his design. I remember when very young, that I was much excited by this same story of Benjamin of Tudela, and cried heartily because "papa" would not let me go immediately to the Holy Land, to let me try whether I could not be more successful than the two brother workmen.

The passage on Paradise is most singular; and, for the sake of the general reader, I will give it in modern language. It is at p. 303 of this reprint.

"Of Paradise I cannot speak properly, for I was never there. It is far beyond, and that I repented, and also I was not worthy. But as I have heard say of wise men beyond, I will tell you with good will. Earthly Paradise, as wise men say, is the highest point of the earth, that is, in all the world; and it is so high, that it nearly touches the circle of the moon as the moon turns. For it is so high, that the flood of Noah could not reach it, but covered all the rest of the world above and below. And this Paradise is enclosed all round with a wall, and men know not whereof it is. For the walls are covered all over with moss, as it appears. And it appears that the wall is not of natural stone. And that wall stretches from the south to the north, and it has but one entrance, which is closed by burning fire, so that no mortal dare enter. And in the highest place of Paradise, in the middle, is a well, out of which issue four streams that run through different lands: of the which the first is called Phison or Ganges, which is all one, and it runs through India or Emlak, in which river are many precious stones, and much lignum aloes, and much gold-dust; and the next river is called the Nile, or Gyson, that goes through Ethiopia and Egypt; and the next is called Tigris, that runs by Assyria and Armenia the greater; and the next is called Euphrates, that runs through Media, Armenia, and Persia. And men there beyond say that all the sweet waters of the world, above and below, take their origin from the well of Paradise; and out of that well all waters come and go. The first river is called Phison; that is to say, in their language, assemblage; for many other rivers meet it, and join it there. And some men call it Ganges, for there was a king in India, who was called Gangeres, and it ran through his land. And that water is in some places clear, and in others thick; in some hot, and in others cool. The second river is called Nile or Gyson, for it is always rough; and Gyson, in the language of Ethiopia, is to say trouble; and in the language of Egypt also. The third river, which is called Tigris, is as much as to say swift running, for it runs faster than any other. And there is also a beast that is called a tiger, which is a swift runner. The fourth river is called Euphrates, that is to say, well-bearing; for many goods grow upon that river, as corn, fruit, and other goods in plenty."

This, I think, does not look much like plagiarism: the commencing words are too natural for us easily to admit the probability of such a conjecture; and, after a perusal of the whole volume, the judgment of any impartial reader would, I am sure, repudiate any such opinion.

Here I should have terminated, had I not been permitted, with the greatest kindness and liberality, to inspect and use the splendid collection of manuscripts and editions of this traveller preserved in the choice and magnificent library of the Right Hon. Thomas Grenville. I proceed, without further remark, to make a short enumeration of them, merely observing that, in a bibliographical point of view, nothing can exceed the beauty of their condition.

1. A small 4to, printed by Pynson, and one of the earliest productions of his press.

This is believed to be unique, and was purchased at the sale of the library of Sir Francis Freeling, but is unfortunately rather imperfect. It possesses the following colophon at the end:—"Here endeth the boke of John Maundvyle knyght. of wayes to Jerusalem and of marveylys of ynde and of other countrees. Emprinted by Rychard Pynson." Mr. Grenville remarks that "the text varies very much from Este's edition."

2. 4to. Lond. 1696. pp. 139.

This edition is rare, but there is nothing much worthy of observation about it except the woodcuts. It appears to be a reprint of the following:—

3. 4to. Lond. 1684.

4. 4to. Lond. 1618.

Not mentioned by Lowndes or by Watt.

5. 4to. T. Este. s. a.

See Ames, ii. 1022. It is of rare occurrence.

6. MS. fol. paper. xv. cent.

"Here begynnth the boke of Moundevyle knyjt. that techyth the weyes to Jerusalem and of the mervelis of Ynde and of the londes of perstre John and of the grete Cham and of Constantynople and of many other contreys."

"Here endyth the boke of John Maundevyle knyjte of dyvers wheys and many merveles," &c.

This MS. is in beautiful preservation, but omits the passage given at the end of the prologue in the Cotton MS.

7. MS. fol. vellum.

This is a beautiful and valuable manuscript, in the French language, of the beginning of the fifteenth century. It has the following colophon at the commencement:—"Ci commence le livre qui parle des diversités des pais qui sunt par universe monde. lequel livre fut copilé fait et ordonné par mesire Jehan Mandeville chevalier né d'Angleterre de la ville con dit Saint Albain."

It has the usual French passage relative to the languages in which the book was written, at the end of the prologue. The MS. came originally from the collection of some foreign prince.

8. Small 4to. Venet. 1521. Ital.

I should think that this Italian version is from the French, for the same variation occurs at the end of the prologue ut supra. See f. 2, v<sup>o</sup>.

9. 4to. Milano, 1517. Ital.

This edition is very rare, and is not to be found in the lists of Panzer, Pinelo, Meuselius, Haym, Richarderie, or Crofts.

10. 4to. Bologna, 1497. Ital.

11. 4to. Milano, 1497. Ital.

12. 4to. Venexia, 1496. Ital.

13. 4to. s. a. et l. Lat.

This has the list of chapters at the commencement. The traveller is called in this edition Johannes de Monte Villa. It appears to have been printed about the close of the 15th century, and is not noticed by Panzer.

14. 4to. Antwerp, 1494. Flem.

15. 4to. Firenze, 1492. Ital.

The Italian editions vary very little. This book shews in its title-page its translation from the French, by calling the hero "Cavaliere asperondoro," meaning, I suppose, "aux éperons d'or." stuff 'Asperon doro = a speuron d'oro.

16. 4to. Bologn. 1492. Ital.

17. 4to. Venezia, 1491. Ital.

18. 4to. Bologna, 1488. Ital.

19. 4to. s. a. et l. Lat.

The first of the Latin editions, and printed probably about 1480.

20. 4to. Med. 1480. Ital.

This is the earliest date affixed to any of the printed editions. It may be mentioned here, that Laire supposes the first Latin edition (No. 19) to be printed between 1480 and 1490; and, in a MS. note, states that the author wrote his travels in French, Italian, and in Latin.

21. Folio. Strasburgh, 1484. Germ.

This very rare German version is attributed to Michelfeld, or, as he is sometimes called, Michelfelser. The illuminations are most curious, and very similar to those in the Harleian manuscript: the alphabets of the different nations are also very well worthy of observation.

22. Folio. 1480. Français.

This is splendidly printed in double columns; but without place, or name of printer. Nothing can exceed the beautiful condition of this exemplar.

Besides the editions here mentioned, several others were printed at different periods, all of which are very rare. For a further account of them, see Brunet, iii. p. 1355; Lowndes, p. 1204; or New Edit., p. 1463; Watt, ii. 639. Bergeron published an abridgment in 1735, in his "Voyages faits principalement en Asie dans les xii, xiii, xiv, et xv Siècles." 4to. A la Haye.

An article on our traveller will also be found in the Retrospective Review, vol. iii. p. 269-93.

The illustrations are fac-simile copies, by Mr. F. W. Fairholt, from the older editions, and from the MSS. in the Harleian collection; and have been engraved under his superintendance.

The Editor's Preface

TO THE EDITION OF 1727.

THE Reader has here an Edition of The Voiage and Travaile of Sir John Maundevile, Kt. published from a Manuscript in the Cottonian Library, (marked, Titus. C. XVI.) about 300 Years old; and collated with seven MSS. some near as old as the Author's time; and four old printed Editions. Two of the MSS. French, two English, and one Latin are in the King's Library; one Latin in the Cottonian; and one English in a private Hand. The printed Editions are two Latin; one Sans Date, the other in R. Hakluyts Collection, printed at London, 1598; one English, printed at London, 1568, and one Italian,—1537. The Variations of the Latin Copies are marked, L. 1, 2, 3, 4; of the English, E. 1, 2, 3, 4; of the French, F. 1, 2, ; and of the Italian, I. Here are also two Indices; one of the Contents, the other of obsolete Words.

This Edition agrees with the Latin and French MSS.; and appears to be the genuine Work of the Author; who says, that he translated it out of Latin into French, and out of French into English;<sup>a</sup> whereas all other printed Editions are so curtail'd and transpos'd, as to be made thereby other Books. The three English MSS. named above, as well as the English printed Edition, contain a third part less than this. For Instance; they wholly want, what is contain'd here, from Page 38 to 58.

The Author, according to the humour of the times of Ignorance he liv'd in, has put into his History abundance of Miracles and strange things; so that the Title of one of the Latin MSS. is Itinerarium Johannis Maundevile, de Mirabilibus Mundi: and his English Transcribers and Editors have taken care to preserve them all; but have dropt a great deal of what, now a days, will be counted the best part of the Book. He was ambitious of saying all he could, of the places he treats of; and therefore has taken Monsters out of Pliny, Miracles out of Legends, and strange Stories out of what will now be called Romances. Thus his Story of the Sparrow-hawk,<sup>b</sup> kept in a Castle in Armenia the less, he has from John of Arras's History of Melusine:<sup>c</sup> who after invocating the Divine Assistance, says, "The which Hystory I have bygonne, after the veray and true Cronykles, —and many other Bokes, that I have sought and overredde, for to accomplysse hit." So that the falsities in this History are occasioned by other Authors, at that time accounted true; and the fault of the Historian, that he did not name his Authors. However, when he tells the most improbable Stories, he prefaces them with, "Thei seyn," or, "men seyn, but I have not sene it." And particularly, in Page 314 and 315, he owns, that his Book is made partly from Hear-say, and partly of his own Knowledge. Where he adds, that at his Request, the Pope caused it to be examined by his Council; who compar'd it with the Book, by which Mappa Mundi was made, and found it true: and thereupon it obtain'd the approbation of his Holiness. And if old Authors must be rejected for putting strange Stories and Improbabilities into their History, what will become of Venerable Bede, Gildas, Geoffry of Monmouth, and the rest of our English Historians?

Why then should not this Author have his due Place and Regard, amongst the Writers of the Age he liv'd in; and be believ'd, in what he says of his own Observation, as much as other Historians of those times, and of such like Matters? He had extraordinary Qualifications and Opportunities, and was the chief Traveller of his time; having been 33 Degrees, 16 Minutes, Southern Latitude, and 62 Degrees, 10 Minutes, Northern.<sup>d</sup> He mentions one, that travail'd round the Globe; which he had heard of when he was young:<sup>e</sup> this probably inspir'd him with an early Passion for Travell. He was of a Family, that came into England with the Conqueror. He was a Man of Learning and Substance, had studied Physic and Natural Philosophy.<sup>f</sup> He was a conscientious good Man; as appears from several Instances in the Book:<sup>g</sup> particularly in p. 35; where he says, that the Sultan of Egypt would have married him to a great Prince's Daughter, if he would have chang'd his Religion; and that he refus'd. He had the Sultan's great Seal, which procur'd him extraordinary Privileges, throughout his Dominions:<sup>h</sup> and was admitted to private Conversation with him;<sup>i</sup> and "duelled with him, as Soudyour in his Werres a gret while."<sup>k</sup> He also with his Fellow Travellers were Soldiers under the Great Can of Cathay fifteen Months.<sup>l</sup> gives him a fine Character: which follows, as translated by R. Hakluyt.

“John Mandevil Knight, borne in the Towne of S. Albans, was so well given to the study of Learning from his childhood, that he seemed to plant a good part of his felicitie in the same: for he supposed, that the honour of his Birth would nothing availe him, except he could render the same more honourable, by his knowledge in good letters. Having therefore well grounded himselfe in Religion, by reading the Scriptures, he applied his Studies to the Art of Physicke, a Profession worthy a noble Wit: but amongst other things, he was ravished with a mightie desire to see the greater parts of the World, as Asia and Africa. Having therefore provided all things necessary for his journey, he departed from his Countrey, in the Yeere of Christ 1322; and, as another. Ulysses, returned home, after the space of 34 Yeeres, and was then knowen to a very fewe. In the time of his Travaile he was in Scythia, the greater and lesse Armenia, Egypt, both Libyas, Arabia, Syria, Media, Mesopotamia, Persia, Chaldæa, Greece, Illyrium, Tartarie, and divers other Kingdomes of the World: and having gotten by this meanes the knowledge of the Languages, least so many and great varieties, and things miraculous, whereof himself had bene an eie witnes, should perish in oblivion, he committed his whole Travell of 34 Yeeres to writing, in three divers tongues, English, French and Latine. Being arrived again in England, and having seene the wickednes of that Age, he gave out this Speech: 'In our time, (said he) it may be spoken more truly then of olde, that Vertue is gone, the Church is under foote, the Clergie is in errour, the Devill raigneth, and Simonie beareth the sway,' &c. He died at Leege, in the Yeere 1371, the 17 day of November, being there buried in the Abbie of the Order of the Gulielmites."

Abr. Ortelius, in his Itinerarium Belgiae p. 16, has printed his Epitaph, which he found in the foresaid Abbie, thus: Hic jacet Vir nobilis, Dominus Johannes de Mandeville, aliter dictus, ad Barbam, Miles, Dominus de Campdi, natus de Anglia, Medicine Professor, devotissimus Orator, & bonorum largissimus pauperibus erogator, qui toto quasi Orbe lustrato, Leodii diem vite sue clausit extremum, anno Domini 1371, Mensis Novembris die 17. And he says, that upon the same Stone with the Epitaph, is ingraven a Man in Armour, with a forked Beard, treading upon a Lion; and at the head of him, a hand of one blessing him, and these Words in French, Vos ki paseis sor mi, pour l'amour Deix, proies por mi; that is, Ye that pass over me, for the love of God, pray for me. There is also a void place, for a Scutcheon; wherein, he was told, was formerly a Brass Plate, with his Armes ingraven thereon; viz. a Lion Argent, with a Lunet Gules at his Breast, in a Field Azure, and a Bordure ingraled Or.<sup>m</sup> The Churchmen there shewed him also, the Knives, the Furniture of his Horse, and the Spurs, which he used in his Travells.

It's not unlikely, but Sir John Mandevil might get the Nick-name of ad Barbam, from his using to wear a long Beard, when he was grown old. But at the end of the Latin printed Edition of his Travells, there is mentioned a venerable old Physician, called Johannes ad Barbam; whom he met with at Liege, and after some conversation, recollected that they had been acquainted at Cayro in Egipt; and that this Doctor, after having done him singular service, as a Physician, both persuaded and assisted him to write his Travells. However none of the above named MSS. have this Passage.

John Weever, in his ancient funeral Monu- 163/
ments, p. 568, says, he saw the foresaid Epitaph at Liege; and the Verses following, hanging by on a Table. That he was borne here in this Towne I cannot much deny; but I am sure that within these few yeares, I saw his Tombe in the Citty of Liege, within the Church of the religious house of the Guiltlesse, with this Inscription upon it (see last p.), and the Verse following hanging by on a Table.

The Language of this History is such as our Ancestors spoke, three hundred Years ago: which is a Curiosity, will compensate the Reader for the Solecisms and uncouth Expressions, he will meet with. Before the Art of Printing was found out, there was no settled method of spelling: therefore the same Word here is often spelt different ways; and that even in the same Page; as, Heved, Heed, Hed, Hede; Awtier, Awtere, Awteer, Awtiere, &c.

Crist schalle be born of the Virgyne Marie, and I trowe in hym. And the Date whan it was leyd in the Erthe, was 2000 zeer before oure Lord was born. And zet is the Plate of Gold in the Thresorye of the Chirche. And Men seyn, that it was Hermogene the Wise Man.

And zif alle it so be, that Men of Grece ben Cristene, zit they varien from oure Feithe. For thei seyn, that the Holy Gost may not come of the Sone; but alle only of the Fadir. And thei are not obedyent to the Chirche of Rome, ne to the Pope. And thei seyn, that here Patriark hathe as meche Power over the See, as the Pope hathe on this syde the See. And therefore Pope Johne the 22<sup>d</sup> sende Lettres to hem, how Cristene Feithe scholde ben alle on; and that thei scholde ben obedyent to the Pope, that is Goddis Vacie on Erthe; to whom God zaf his pleyn Power, for to bynde and to assoille: And therefore thei scholde ben obedyent to him. And thei senten azen diverse Answeres; and amonges othere, thei seyden thus: Potentiam tuam summam, circa tuos subjectos, firmiter credimus. Superbiam tuam summam tolerare non possumus. Avaritiam tuam summam satiare non intendimus. Dominus tecum: quia Dominus nobiscum est. That is to seye: We trowe wel, that thi Power is gret upon thi Subgettes. We mai not suffre thin highe Pryde. We ben not in purpos to fulfille thi gret Covetyse. Lord be with The: For oure Lord is with us. Fare welle. And other Answeres myghte he not have of hem. And also thei make here Sacrement of the Awteer of Therf Bred: For oure Lord made it of suche Bred, whan he made his Mawndee. And on the 24 Scherethors Day make thei here Therf Bred, in tokene of the Mawndee, and dryen it at the Sonne, and kepen it alle the Zeer, and zeven it to seke Men, in stede of Goddis Body. And thei make but on Unxioun, whan thei Cristene Children. And thei anoynte not the seke Men. And thei saye, that there nys no Purgatorie, and the Soules schulle not have nouthere Joye ne Peyne, tille the Day of Doom. And thei seye, that Fornicatioun is no Synne dedly, but a thing that is kyndely: and the Men and Women scholde not wedde but ones; and whoso weddethe oftene than ones, here Children ben Bastardis and geten in Synne. And here Prestis also ben wedded. And thei seye also, that Usure is no dedly Synne. And thei sellen Benefices of Holy Chirche: And so don Men in othere Places: God amende it, whan his Wille is. And that is gret Schlaudre. For now is Symonye Kyng crowned in Holy Chirche: God amende it for his Mercy. And thei seyn, that in Lentone, Men schulle not faste, ne synge Masse; but on the Satreday and on the Sondag. And thei faste not on the Satreday, no tyme of the Zeer, but it be Cristemasse even or Estre even. And thei suffre not the Latynes to synge at here Awteres: And zif thei done, be ony Aventure, anon thei wasschen the Awteer with holy Watre. And thei seyn, that there scholde be but o Masse seyde at on Awtier, upon o Day. And thei seye also, that oure Lord ne eet nevere Mete: But he made tokene of etyng. And also thei seye, that wee synne dedly, in schavyngge oure Berdes. For the Berd is tokene of a Man, and Zifte of oure Lord. And thei seye, that wee synne dedly, in etyngge of Bestes, that weren forbidden in the Old Testament, and of the olde Lawe; as Swyn, Hares, and othere Bestes, that chewen not here Code. And thei seyn, that wee synnen, whan wee eten Flessche on the Dayes before Assche Wednesday, and of that that wee eten Flessche the Wednesday, and Egges and Chese upon the Frydayes. And thei accursen alle tho, that absteynen hem to eten Flessche the Satreday. Also the Emperour of Costantynoble makethe the Patriarke, the Erchebysschoppes and the Bischoppes; and zevethe the Dignytees and the Benefices of Chirches, and deprivethe hem that ben worthy, whan he fyndethe ony Cause. And so is he Lord bothe temperelle and spirituelle, in his Contree. And zif zee wil wite of here A, B, C, what Lettres thei ben, here zee may seen hem, with the Names, that thei clepen hem there amonges hem.

And alle be it that these thinges touchen not to o way, nevertheles thei touchen to that, that I have hight zou, to schewe zou a partie of Customes and Maneres, and dyversitees of Contrees. And for this is the firste Contree, that is discordant in Feythe and in Beleeve, and variethe from oure Feythe, on this half the See, therefore I have sett it here, that zee may knowe the dyversitee that is betwene oure Feythe and theirs. In this Contree is the Cytee of Araym, where Abrahames Fadree duelled, and from whens Abraham departed, be Commandement of the Aungelle. And of that Cytee was Effraym,<sup>k</sup> that was a gret Clerk and a gret Doctour. And Theophilus was of that Cytee also, that oure Ladye savede from oure Enemye. And Mesopotame durethe fro the Ryvere of Eufrates, unto the Ryvere of Tygris. For it is betwene tho 2 Ryveres. And bezonde the Ryvere of Tygre, is Caldee, that is a fulle gret Kyngdom. In that Rewme, at Baldak aboveseyd, was wont to duelle the Calyffeez, that was wont to ben bothe as Emperour and Pope of the Arabyenez; so that he was Lord Spirituelle and Temporelle. And he was Successour to Machomete, and of his Generatioun. That Cytee of Baldak was wont to ben cleped Sutsis:<sup>l</sup> and Nabugodonozor founded it. And there duelled the Holy Prophete Daniel; and there he saughe Visionnes and that on sytt nyghe that other. Babyloyne sytt

Ryvere of Nyle, alle the zeer, whan the Sonne en-wexe; and it wexethe alle weys, als longe as the Sonne is in Cancro, and in the Signe of Lyoune.

And it wexethe in suche manere, that it is somtyme
so gret, that it is 20 Cubytes or more of depnesse;
and thanne it dothe gret Harm to the Godes, that ben upon the Lond. For thanne may no Man travaylle to ere the Londes, for the grete Moystnesse: And therefore is there dere Tyme in that Contree. And also whan it wexethe lytylle, it is dere Tyme in that Contree: For defaute of Moys-ture. And whan the Sonne is in the Signe of Virgo, thanne begynnethe the Ryvere for to wane and to decrece lytyl and lytylle; so that whan the Sonne is entred in to the Signe of Libra, thanne

thei entren betwene theise Ryveres. This Ryvere comethe rennyng from Paradys terrestre, betwene the Desertes of Ynde; and afre it smytt unto Londe, and rennethe longe tyme many grete Contrees undre Erthe: And afre it gothe out undre an highe Hille, that Men clepen Alothe, that is betwene Ynde and Ethiope, the distance of five Moneths Journeyes fro the entree of Ethiope. And afre it envyronnethe alle Ethiope and Morekane,<sup>m</sup> and gothe alle along fro the Lond of Egipte, unto the Cytee of Alisandre, to the ende of Egipte; and there it fallethe into the See. Aboute this Ryvere, ben manye Briddes and Foules, as Sikoynes, that thei clepen Ibes.

Egypt is a long Contree; but it is streyt, that is to seye narrow; for thei may not enlargen it toward the Desert, for defaute of Watre. And the Contree is sett along upon the Ryvere of Nyle; be als moche as that Ryvere may serve be Flodes or otherwise, that whanne it flowethe, it may spreden abroad thorghe the Contree: so is the Contree large of Lengthe. For there it reyneth not but litylle in that Contree: and for that Cause, they have no Watre, but zif it be of that Flood of that Ryvere. And for als moche as it ne reynethe not in that Contree, but the Eyr is alwey pure and cleer, therefore in that Contree ben the gode Astronomyeres; for thei fynde there no Cloudes, to letten hem. Also the Cytee of Cayre is righte gret, and more huge than that of Babyloyne the lesse: And it sytt aboven toward the Desert of Syrye, a litylle aboven the Ryvere aboveseyd. In Egypt there ben 2 parties; the Heghte, that is to-Egipt is a strong Contree: for it hath manye schrewede Havenes, because of the grete Roches, that ben stronge and daunge-rouse to passe by. And at Egipt, toward the Est, is the rede See, that durethe unto the Cytee of Coston: and toward the West, is the Contree of Lybye, that is a fulle drye Lond, and litylle of Fruyt: for it is over moche plentee of Hete. And that Lond is clept Fusthe. And toward the partie Meridionale is Ethiope. And toward the Northe is the Desart, that durethe unto Syrye: And so is the Contree strong on alle sydes. And it is wel a 15 Journeyes of Lengthe, and more than two so moche of Desert: and it is but two Journeyes in Largenesse. And betwene Egipt and Nubye, it hath wel a 12 Journees of Desert. And Men of Nubye ben Cristene: but thei ben blake as the Mowres, for grete Hete of the Sonne.

In Egipt there ben 5 Provynces; that on highte Sahythe, that other highte Demeser,<sup>so H</sup> another Resithe, that is an Ile in Nyle, another Alisandre, and another the Lond of Damiete. That Cytee was wont to be righte strong: but it was twyes wonnen of the Cristene Men: And therefore after that the Sarazines beten down the Walles. And with the Walles and the Tour thereof, the Sarazines maden another Cytee more fer from the See, and clepeden it the newe Damyete. So that now no Man duellethe at the rathere Toun of Damyete. And that Cytee of Damyete is on of the Havenes of Egypt: and at Alisandre is that

And who so stopped that Watre from hem, thei myghte not endure there. In Egypt there ben but fewe Forcelettes or Castelles, be cause that the Contree is so strong of him self. At the Desertes of Egypte was a worthi Man, that was an holy Heremyte; and there mette with hym a Monstre, (that is to seyne, a Monstre is a thing diffomed azen Kynde both of Man or of Best or of ony thing elles: and that is cleped a Monstre). And this Monstre, that mette with this holy Heremyte, was as it hadde ben a Man, that hadde 2 Hornes trenchant on his Forhede; and he hadde a Body lyk a Man, unto the Nabele; and benethe he hadde the Body lyche a Goot. And the Heremyte asked him, what he was. And the Monstre answerde him, and seyde, he was a dedly Creature, suche as God hadde formed, and duelled in tho Desertes in purchasyng his Sustynance; and besoughte the Heremyte, that he wolde preye God for him, the whiche that cam from Hevene for to saven alle Mankynde, and was born of a Mayden, and suffred Passioun and Dethe, (as we well knowen) be whom we lyven and ben. And zit is the Hede with the 2 Hornes of that Monstre at Alisandre for a Marveyle.<sup>o</sup>

And he comethe to brenne him self upon the Awtere of the Temple, at the ende of 5 Hundred Zeer: for so longe he lyveth. And at the 500 Zeres ende, the Prestes arrayen here Awtere honestly, and putten there upon Spices and Sulphur vif and other thinges, that wolen brenne lightly. And than the Brid Fenix comethe, and brennethe him self to Ashes. And the first Day next aftre, Men fynden in the Ashes a Worm; and the secunde Day next aftre, Men funden a Brid quyk and perfyte; and the thridde Day next aftre, he fleethe his wey.<sup>p</sup> And so there is no mo Briddes of that Kynde in alle the World, but it allone. And treuly that is a gret Myracle of God. And Men may well lykne that Bryd unto God; be cause that there nys no God but on; and also, that oure Lord aroos fro Dethe to Lyve, the thridde Day. This Bryd Men seen often tyme, fleen in tho Contrees: And he is not mecheles more than an Egle. And he hathe a Crest of Fedres upon his Hed more gret than the Pooock hathe; and his Nekke is zalowe, aftre colour of an Orielle, that is a Ston well schynynge; and his Bek is coloured blew, as Ynde; and his Wenges ben of Purpre Colour, and the Taylle is zelow and red, castynge his Taylle azen in travers. And he is a fulle fair Brid to loken upon, azenst the Sonne: for he schynethe fully gloriously and nobely.<sup>q</sup>

and Herbes, the whiche beren Frutes 7 tymes in the Zeer. And in that Lond Men fynden many fayre Emeraudes and y nowe. And therefore thei ben there grettere cheep. Also whan it reynethe ones in the Somer, in the Lond of Egipt, thanne is alle the Contree fulle of grete Myrs. Also at Cayre, that I spak of before, sellen Men comounly bothe Men and Wommen of other Lawe, as we don here Bestes in the Markat. And there is a comoun Hows in that Cytee, that is alle fulle of smale Furneys; and thidre bryngen Wommen of the Toun here Eyren of Hennes, of Gees and of Dokes, for to ben put in to tho Furneyses. And thei that kèpen that Hows coveren hem with Hete of Hors Dong, with outen Henne, Goos or Doke or ony other Foul; and at the ende of 3 Wekes or of a Monethe, thei comen azen and taken here Chickenes and norissche hem and bryngen hem forthe: so that alle the Contree is fulle of hem. And so Men don there bothe Wyn-tre and Somer.

Also in that Contree, and in othere also, Men fynden longe Apples to selle, in hire cesoun: and Men clepen hem Apples of Paradys; and thei ben righte swete and of gode Savour. And thoghe zee kutte hem in never so many Gobettes or parties, overthwart or end longes, everemore zee schulle fynden in the myddes the figure of the Holy Cros of oure Lord Jesu. But thei wil roten within 8 Days: And for that Cause Men may not carye of the Apples to no fer Contrees, And thei han grete Leves, of a Fote and an half of lengthe: and thei ben covenably large. And Men fynden there also the Appulle Tree of Adam, that han a byte at on of the sydes. And there ben also Fyge Trees, that beren no Leves, but Fyges upon the smale Braunches : and Men clepen hem Figes of Pharo. Also besyde Cayre, withouten that Cytee, is the Feld where Bawme growethe : And it comethe out on smale Trees, that ben non hyere than a Mannes breek Girdille ; and thei semen as Wode that is of the wylde Vyne. And in that Feld ben 7 Welles, that oure Lord Jesu Crist made with on of his Feet, whan he wente to pleyen with other Children. That Feld is not so well closed, but that Men may entren at here owne list. But in that Cesonne, that the Bawme is growynge, Men put there to gode kepyng, that no Man dar ben hardy to entre. This Bawme growethe in no Place, but only there. And thoughe that Men bryngen of the Plauntes, for to planten in other Contrees, thei growen wel and fayre, but thei bryngen forthe no fructuous thing : and the Leves of Bawme ne fallen noughte. And Men kутten the Braunches with a scharp Flyntston or with a scharp Bon, whanne Men wil go to kutte hem : For who so kutte hem with Iren, it wolde destroye hys Vertue and his Nature. And the Sarazines clepen the Wode Enonch balse ; and the Fruyt, the whiche is as Quybybes,<sup>r</sup> thei clepen Abebissam ; and the Lycour, that droppethe fro the Braunches, thei clepen Guybalse. And Men maken alle weys that Bawme to ben tyled of the Cristenemen, or elles it wolde not fructifye ; as the Sarazines seyn hem self : for it hathe ben often tyme preved. Men seyn also, that the Bawme growethe in Ynde the more, in that Desert where the Trees of the

Sonne and of the Mone spak to Alisaundre. But I have not seen it. For I have not ben so fer aboven upward: because that there ben to many perilouse Passages. And wyte zee wel, that a Man oughte to take gode kepe for to bye Bawme, but zif he cone knowe it righte wel: for he may righte lyghtely be disceyved. For Men sellen a Gome, that Men clepen Turbentyne, in stede of Bawme; and thei putten there to a littille Bawme for to zeven gode Odour. And sume putten Wax in Oyle of the Wode of the fruyt of Bawme, and seyn that it is Bawme: and sume destyllen Clowes of Gylofre and of Spykenard of Spayne and of othere Spices, that ben well smellynge; and the Lykour that gothe out there of, thei clepe it Bawme: and thei wenen, that thei han Bawme; and thei have non. For the Sarazines countrefeten it be sotyltee of Craft, for to disceyven the Cristene Men, as I have seen fulle many a tyme. And aftre hem, the Marchauntis and the Apotecaries countrefeten it eftsones, and than it is lasse worthe, and a gret del worse. But zif it lyke zou, I schalle schewe, how zee schulle knowe and preve, to the ende that zee schulle not ben disceyved. First zee schulle wel knowe, that the naturelle Bawme is fulle cleer, and of Cytrine colour, and stronge smellynge: And zif it be thykke, or reed or blak, it is sophisticate, that is to seyne, contrefeted aud made lyke it, for disceyt. And undrestondethe, that zif zee wil putte a litylle Bawme in the Pawme of zoure hond, azen the Sonne, zif it be fyn and gode, zee ne schulle not suffre zoure hand azenst the hete of the Sonne. Also takethe a litylle Bawme, with the poynt of a Knif, and touche it to the fuyr, and zif it brenne, it is a gode signe. Aftre take also a drope of Bawme, and put it in to a Dissche or in a Cuppe with Mylk of a Goot; and zif it be naturelle Bawme, anon it wole take and beclippe the Mylk. Or put a Drope of Bawme in clere Watre, in a Cuppe of Sylver or in a clere Bacyn, and stere it wel with the clere Watre; and zif that the Bawme be fyn and of his owne kynde, the Watre schalle nevere trouble: And zif the Bawme be <sup>so</sup>sophisticate, that is to seyne countrefeted, the Watre schalle become anon trouble: And also zif the Bawme be fyn, it schalle falle to the botme of the Vesselle, as thoughe it were Quyksylver: For the fyn Bawme is more hevvy twyes, than is the Bawme that is sophisticate and countrefeted. Now I have spoken of Bawme: and now also I schalle speke of an other thing, that is bezonde Babyloyne, above the Flode of Nyle, toward the Desert, betwene Affrik and Egypt: that is to seyn, of the Gernereres of Joseph, that he leet make, for to kepe the Greynes for the perile of the dere Zeres. And thei ben made of Ston, fulle wel made of Masonnes craft: of the whiche two ben merveylouse grete and hye; and the tothere ne ben not so grete. And every Gernerer hathe a Zate, for to entre with inne, a lytille hyghe fro the Erthe. For the Lond is wasted and fallen, sithe the Gernereres were made. And with inne thei ben alle fulle of Serpentes. And aboven the Gernereres with outen ben many scriptures of dyverse Langages. And sum Men seyn, that thei ben Sepultures of grete Lordes, that weren somtyme; but that is not trewe: for alle the comoun rymour and speche is of alle the peple there, bothe fer and nere, that thei ben the Garneres of Joseph. And so fynden thei

in here Scriptures and in here Cronycles. On that other partie, zif thei werein Sepultures, thei scholden not ben voyd with inne. For zee may well knowe, that Tombes and Sepultures ne ben not made of suche gretnesse, ne of suche highnesse. Wherefore it is not to beleve, that thei ben Tombes or Sepultures. In Egypt also there ben dyverse Langages and dyverse Lettres, and of other manere condicioun, than there ben in other parties. As I schalle devyse zou, suche as thei ben, and the names how thei clepen hem; to suche entent, that zee mowe knowe the difference of hem and of othere. Athoimis, Bunchi, Chinok, Durain, Eni, Fin, 65- / Gomor, Heket, Janny, Karacta, Luzanim, Miche, Naryn, Oldache, Pilon, Quyn, Yron, Sichen, Thola, Urmron, Yph and Zarm, Thoit.

Now will I retourne azen, or I procede ony ferthere, for to declare zou the othere weyes, that drawen toward Babiloyne, where the Soudan him self duellethe, that is at the entree of Egypt; for als moche as mony folk gon thidre first, and afre that to the Mount Synay, and afre retournen to Jerusalem, as I have seyde zou here befor. For thei fulfillen first the more long Pilgrymage, and afre retournen azen be the nexte Weyes; because that the more nye Weye is the more worthi, and that is Jerusalem. For no other Pylgrymage is not lyk, in comparson to it. But for to fulle fyllen here Pilgrymages more esily and more sykerly, men gon first the longer weye. But whoso wil go to Babyloyne be another weye, more schort from the Contrees of the West, that I have reherced before; or from other Contrees next fro hem; than Men gon by Fraunce, be Burgoyne and be Lombardye.

It nedethe not to telle zou the names of the Cytees, ne of the Townes that ben in that Weye : For the Weye is comoun, aud it is knowen of many Naciouns. And there ben many Havenes, that Men taken the See. Sume Men taken the See at Gene, some at Venyce, and passen by the See Adryatyk, that is clept the Goulf of Venyse, that departethe Ytaylle and Greece on that syde. And some gon to Naples, some to Rome, and from Rome to Brandys,<sup>s</sup> and there thei taken the See : and in many othere places, where that Havenes ben. And Men gon be Tussye, be Champayne, be Calabre, be Appuille, and be the Hilles of Ytaylle, Chorisqe, be Sardyne, and be Cycile, that is a gret Ile and a gode. In that Ile of Cycile there ys a maner of a Gardyn, in the whiche ben many dyverse Frutes. And the Gardyn is always grene and florissing, alle the cesouns of the Zeer, als wel in Wyntre es in Somer. That Yle holt in compas aboute 350 Frensche Myles. And betwene Cycile and Itaylle there is not but a lytille Arm of the See, that Men clepen the Farde of Mescyne. And Cycile is betwene the See Adryatyk and the See of Lombardye. And fro Cycile in to Calabre is but 8 Myles of Lombardye. And in Cycile there is a manere of Serpentes, be the whiche Men assayen and preven, where here Children ben Bastardis or none, or of lawefulle Mariage. For zif thei ben born in righte Mariage, the Serpentes gon aboute hem, and don hem non harm : and zif thei ben born in Avowtrie, the Serpentes byten hem and envenyme hem. And thus manye wedded Men preve, zif the Children ben here owne. Also in that Ile is the Mount Ethna, that Men clepen Mount Gybelle; and the Vulcanes that ben everemore brennyng. And there ben 7 places, that brennen and that casten out dyverse flawmes and dyverse colour. And be the chaungynge of tho Flawmes, Men of that Contree knowen, whanne it schalle be Derthe or gode tyme, or cold or hoot, or moyst or drye, or in alle othere maneres, how the tyme schalle be governed. And from Itaille unto the Vulcanes nys but 25 Myle. And Men seyn, that the Vulcanes ben Weyes of Helle.

Also whoso gothe be Pyse, zif that Men list to go that Weye, there is an Arm of the See, where that Men gon to othere Havenes in tho Marches. And than Men passen be the Ile of Greaf, that is at Gene: And afre arryvethe Men in Grece at the Havene of the Cytee of Myrok, or at the Havene of Valone, or at the Cytee of Duras: and there is a Duk at Duras, or at othere Havenes in tho Marces: And so Men gon to Costantynoble. And afre gon Men be Watre to the Ile of Crete and to the Ile of Rodes, ond so to Cypre, and so to Athens, and fro thens to Costantynoble.

To holde the more righte Weye be See, it is wel a 1880 Myle of Lombardy. And afre fro Cipre Men gon be See, and leven Jerusalem and alle the Contree on the left hond, unto Egypt, and arryven at the Cytee of Damyete, that was wont to be fulle strong, and it sytt at the entree of Egypt. And fro Damyete gon Men to the Cytee of Alizandre, that sytt also upon the See. In that Cytee was seynte Kateryne beheded. And there was seynt Mark the Evangelist martyred and buryed.

But the Emperour Leoun made his Bones to ben broughte to Venyse. And zit there is at Alizandre a faire Chirche, alle white withouten peynture : and so ben alle the othere Chirches, that weren of the Cristene Men, alle white with inne. For the Panemes and the Sarrazynes maden hem white, for to fordon the Ymages of Seyntes, that weren peynted on the Walles. That Cytee of Alizandre is wel 30 Furlonges in lengthe : but it is but 10 on largenesse. And it is a full noble Cytee and a fayr. At that Cytee entrethe the Ryvere of Nyle in to the See ; as I to zou have seyde before. In that Ryvere Men fynden many precyouse Stones, and meche also of Lignum Aloes : and it is a manere of Wode, that comethe out of Paradys terrestre, the whiche is good for manye dyverse Medicynes : and it is righte dereworthe. And fro Alizandre Men gon to Babyloyne, wherethe Soudan dwellethe ; that sytt also upon the Ryvere of Nyle. And this Weye is most schort, for to go streyghte unto Babiloyne.

Now schall I seye zou also the Weye, that gothe fro Babiloyne to the Mount of Synay, where Seynte Kateryne lythe. He moste passe be the Desertes of Arabye; be the whiche Desertes Moyses ladde the Peple of Israel: and thanne passe Men be the Welle, that Moyses made with his hond in the Desertes, whan the People gruced, for thei fownden no thing to drynke. And than passe Men be the Welle of Marache, of the whiche the Watre was first byttre: but the Children of Israel putten there inne a Tree; and anon the Watre was swete and gode for to drynke. And thanne gon Men be Desart unto the Vale of Elyn; in the whiche Vale be 12 Welles: and there ben 72 Trees of Palme, that beren the Dates, the whiche Moyses fond with the Children of Israel. And fro that Valeye is but a gode Journeye to the Mount of Synay.

And whoso wil go be another Weye fro Babiloyne, than Men gothe be the Rede See, that is an Arm of the See Occean. And there passed Moyses, with the Children of Israel, overthwart the See, alle drye, whan Pharao the Kyng of Egypt chaced hem. And that See is wel a 6 Myle of largenesse in bredthe. And in that See was Pharao drowned and alle his Hoost, that he ladde. That See is not more reed than another See; but in some place thereof is the Gravelle reede: and therefore Men clepen it the Rede See. That See rennethe to the endes of Arabye and of Palestyne. That See lastethe more than 4 Journeyes. And then gon Men be Desert unto the Vale of Elyn: and fro thens to the Mount of Synay. And zee may wel undirstonde, that be this Desert, no Man may go on Hors back, be cause that there nys nouter Mete for Hors ne Watre to drynke. And for that cause Men passen that Desert with Camelle. For the Camaylle fynt alle wey Mete in Trees and on Busshes, that he fedethe him with. And he may well faste fro Drynk 2 dayes or 3 : and that may non Hors don.

And wyte wel, that from Babiloyne to the Mount Synay is wel a 12 gode Journeys : and som Men maken hem more : and some Men hasten hem and peynen hem ; and therefore thei maken hem lesse. And alle weys fynden Men Latyneres to go with hem in the Contrees, and ferthere bezonde, in to tyme that Men conne the Langage. And it behovethe Men to bere Vitaille with hem, that schalle duren hem in tho Desertes, and other necessities for to lyve by.

And the Mount of Synay is clept the Desert of Syne, that is for to seyne, the Bussche brennyng : because there Moyses sawghe oure Lord God many tymes, in forme of Fuyr brennyng upon that Hille ; and also in a Bussche brennyng ; and spak to him. And that was at the Foot of the Hille. There is an Abbeye of Monkes, wel bylded and wel closed with Zates of Iren, for drede of the wylde Bestes. And the Monkes ben Arrabyenes, or Men of Greece : and there is a gret Covent ; and alle thei ben as Heremytes ; and thei drynken no Wyn, but zif it be on principalle Festes : and thei ben fulle devoute Men, and lyven porely and sympely, with Joutes and with Dates : and thei don gret Abstynence and Penaunce. of Olyves y now, bothe for to brenne in here Lampes, and to ete also: And that plentee have thei be the Myracle of God. For the Ravenes and the Crowes and the Choughes, and other Foules of the Contree assemblen hem there every Zeer ones, and fleen thider as in pilgrymage: and everyche of hem bringethe a Braunche of the Bayes or of Olyve, in here Bekes, in stede of Offryng, and leven hem there; of the whiche the Monkes maken gret plentee of Oyle; and this is a gret Marvaylle. And sithe that Foules, that han no kyndely Wytte Resoun, gon thidre to seche that gloriouse Virgyne; wel more oughten Men than to seche hire and to worschipen hire. Also behynde the Awtier of that Chirche is the place where Moyses saughe oure Lord God in a brennyng Bussche. And whanne the Monkes entren in to that place, thei don of bothe Hosen and Schoon or Botes always; be cause that oure Lord seyde to Moyses, Do of thin Hosen and thi Schon: for the place that thou stondest on is Lond holy and blessed. And the

Monkes clepen that place Bezeleel, that is to seyne, the Schadew of God. And besyde the highe Awtiere, 3 degrees of heichte, is the Fertre<sup>t</sup> of Alabastre, where the Bones of Seynte Kateryne lyzn. And the Prelate of the Monkes schewethe the Relikes to the Pilgrymes. And with an Instrument of Sylver, he frotethe the Bones; and thanne ther gothe out a lytylle Oyle, as thoughe it were a maner swetyng, that is noutheryche to Oyle ne to Bawme; but it is fulle swete of smelle: And of that thei zeven a litylle to the Pilgrymes; for there gothe out but litylle quantitee of the Likour. And aftre that thei schewen the Heed of Seynte Kateryne, and the Clothe that sche was wrapped inne, that is zit alle bloody. And in that same Clothe so y wrapped, the Aungeles beren hire Body to the Mount Synay, and there thei buryed hire with it. And thanne thei schewen the Bussche, that brenned and wasted nought, in the whiche oure Lord spak to Moyses, and othere Relikes y nowe. Also whan the Prelate of the Abbeye is ded, I have undirstonden, be informacioun, that his Lampe quenche the. And whan thei chesen another Prelate, zif he be a gode Man and worthi to be Prelate, his Lampe schal lighte, with the Grace of God, withouten touchinge of ony Man. For everyche of hem hathe a Lampe be him self. And be here Lampes thei knowen wel whan ony of hem schalle dye. For whan ony schalle dye, the Lyghte begynethe to chaunge and to wexe dym. And zif he be chosen to ben Prelate, and is not worthi, is Lampe quenched anon. And other Men han told me, that he that syngethe the Masse for the

Prelate that is ded, he schalle fynde upon the Awtier the Name writen of him that schalle be Prelate chosen. And so upon a Day I asked of the Monkes, bothe on and other, how this befelle. But thei wolde not telle me no thing, in to the tyme that I seyde, that thei scholde not hyde the Grace, that God did hem; but that thei scholde publissche it, to make the Peple to have the more Devocioun; and that thei diden synne, to hide Goddis Myracle, as me seemed. For the Myracles, that God hathe don, and zit dothe every Day, ben the Wytnesse of his Myghte and of his Merveylles; as David seythe in the Psaultere; Mirabilia Testimonia tua, Domine: that is to seyn, Lord, thi Merveyles ben thi Wytnesse. And thanne thei tolde me, bothe on and other, how it befelle fulle many a tyme: but more I myghte not have of hem. In that Abbeye ne entrethe not no Flye ne Todes ne Ewtes, ne suche foule venymouse Bestes, ne Lyzs ne Flees, be the Myracle of God and of oure Lady. For there were wont to ben many suche manere of Filthes, that the Monkes weren in wille to leve the Place and the Abbeye, and weren gon fro thens, upon the Mountayne aboven, for to eschewe that Place. And oure Lady cam to hem, and bad hem tournen azen: And fro this forewardes nevere entred suche Filthe in that Place amonges hem, ne nevere schalle entre here aftre. Also before the Zate is the Welle, where Moyses smot the Ston, of the whiche the Watre cam out plenteously.

Fro that Abbeye Men gon up the Mountayne of Moyses, be many degrees: and there Men fynden first a Chirche of oure Lady, where that sche mette the Monkes, whan thei fledden away for the Vermyn aboveseyd. And more highe upon that Mountayne is the Chapelle of Helye the Prophete.

 And that Place thei clepen Oreb, where of Holy Writt spekethe. *Et ambulavit in fortitudine Cibi

 And he wente in Strengthe of that Mete, unto the Hille of God, Oreb. And there nyghe is the Vyne that Seynt Johne the Evaungelist planted, that Men clepen Reisins, Staphis. And a lytille aboven is the Chapelle of Moyses, and the Roche where Moyses fleghe to, for drede, whan he saughe oure
 Lord face to face. And in that Roche is prented the forme of his Body; for he smot so strongly and so harde him self in that Roche, that alle his Body was dolven with inne, thorghe the Myracle of God.
 And there besyde is the Place where oure Lord toke to Moyses the 10 Comandementes of the Lawe.
 And there is the Cave undre the Roche, where Moyses duelte, whan he fasted 40 Dayes and 40
 Nyghtes. And from that Mountayne Men passen
 a gret Valeye, for to gon to another Mountayne, where seynt Kateryne was buryed of the Aungeles of oure Lord. And in that Valey is a Chirche of 40 Martyres: and there singen the Monkes of the Abbeye often tyme. And that Valey is right cold.
 And aftre Men gon up the Mountayne of seynt Kateryne, that is more highe then the Mount of Moyses. And there, where seynt Kateryne was buryed, is nouthur Chirche ne Chapelle, ne other duellynge place: But there is an heep of Stones aboute the place, where the Body of hire was put of the Aungeles. There was wont to ben a Chapelle:
 but it was casten downe, and zit lyggen the Stones
 there. And alle be it that the Collect of Seynte

Of the Desert betwene the Chirche of Seynte Kate- ryne and Jerusalem. Of the drie Tre; and how Roses cam first in the World.

Now afre that Men had visited tho holy Places, thanne will thei turnen toward Jerusalem. And than wil thei take leve of the Monkes, and recom- menden hem to here Preyeres. And than thei zeven the Pilgrimes of here Vitaylle, for to passe with the Desertes, toward Surrye. And tho Desertes duren wel a 13 Journeyes. In that Desert duellyn manye of Arrabyenes, that Men clepen Bedoynes and Ascopardes. And thei ben folke fulle of alle evylle Condiouns. And thei have none Houses, but Tentes, that thei maken of Skynnes of Bestes, as of Camaylles and of othere Bestes, that thei eten; and there benethe thei couchen hem and duellen, in Place, where thei may fynden Watre, as on the Rede See or elles where. For in that Desert is fulle gret defaute of Watre : and often time it fallethe, that where Men fynden Watre at o tyme in a Place, it faylethe another tyme. And for that skylle, thei make none Habitaciouns there. Theise folk, that I speke of, thei tylen not the Lond, ne thei laboure noughte ; for thei eten no Bred, but zif it be ony that dwellen nyghe a gode Toun, that gon thidre and eten Bred som tyme. And thei rosten here Flesche and here Fische upon the hote Stones azenst the Sonne. And thei ben stronge Men and wel fyghtynge. And there is so meche multytude of that folk, that thei ben withouten nombre. And thei ne recchen of no thing, ne don not, but chacen afre Bestes, to eten hem. And thei recchen no thing of here Lif : and therefore thei dowten not the Sowdan, ne non othre Prince ; but thei dar wel werre with hem, zif thei don ony thing that is grevance to hem. And thei han often tyme Werre with the Soudan ; and namely, that tyme that I was with him. And thei beren but o Scheld and o

Spere, with outen other Armes. And thei wrappen here Hedes and here Necke with a gret quantytee of white linnen Clothe. And thei ben righte felonouse and foule, and of cursed kynde.

And whan Men passen this Desert, in comynge toward Jerusalem, thei comen to Bersabee, that was wont to ben a fulle fair Town and a delitable of Cristene Men : And zit there ben summe of here Chirches. In that Toun dwelled Abraham the Patriark, a long tyme. That Toun of Bersabee, founded Bersabee the Wif of Sire Urye, the Knyghte; on the whiche, Kyng David gatt Salomon the wyse, that was Kyng aftre David, upon<sup>u</sup> the 12 Kynredes of Jerusalem, and regned 40 Zeer. And fro thens gon Men to the Cytee of Ebron, that is the montance of 2<sup>x</sup> gode Myle. And that Cytee was also Sacerdotalle, that is to seyne, seyntuarie, of the Tribe of Juda: And it was so fre, that Men resceyved there alle manere of Fugityfes of other places, for here evyl Dedis. In Ebron, Josue, Calephe, and here Companye comen first to aspyen, how thei myghte wynnen the Lond of Beheste. In Ebron regned first Kyng David 7 Zeer and an half: And in Jerusalem he regnede 33 zeer and an half. And in Ebron ben alle the Sepultures of the Patriarkes, Adam, Abraham, Ysaac, and of Jacob; and of here Wyfes, Eve, Sarre, and Rebekke, and of Lya: the whiche Sepultures the Sarazines kepen fulle curiously, and han the place in gret reverence, for the holy Fadres, the Patriarkes, that lyzn there. And thei suffre no Cristene man entre in to that Place, but zif it be of specyalle grace of the Soudan. For thei holden Cristene men and Jewes as Dogges. And thei seyn, that thei scholde not entre in to so holy Place. And men clepen that Place, where they lyzn, Double Spelunke, or double Cave or double Dyche; for als meche as that on lyethe above that other. And the Sarazines clepen that Place in here Langage, Karicarba;<sup>y</sup> that is to seyne, the Place of Patriarkes. And the Jewes clepen that Place, Arbothe. And in that same Place was Abrahames Hous: and there he satt and saughe 3 Persones, and worschipte but on; as Holy Writt seythe, Tres vidit et unū adoravit: that is to seyne, He saughe 3, and worschipped on: and of tho same

And righte faste by that Place is a Cave in the

thei weren putt out of Paradyse ; and there goten thei here Children. And in that same Place was Adam formed and made ; afre that that sum men

Place, the Feld of Damasce ; because that it was in the Lordschipe of Damask. And fro thens was he translated in to Paradys of Delytes, as thei seyn : and afre that he was dryven out of Paradys, he was there left. And the same Day that he was putt in Paradys, the same Day he was putt outt :
for anon he synned. There begynnethe the Vale of the Aungelle commaunded Adam, that he scholde

Jesu Crist was born. In that Valeye is a Feld, not make the hole ne the Cave, where it is taken out of the Erthe, so depe ne so wyde, but that it is, at the Zeres ende, fulle azen up to the sydes, thorgh the Grace of God.

And 2 Myle from Ebron is the Grave of Lothe, that was Abrahames Brother. And a lyttille fro Ebron is the Mount of Mambre, of the whiche the Valeye takethe his Name. And there is a Tree of

From Ebron, Men gon to Bethelem, in half a day : for it is but 5 Myle ; and it is fulle fayre Weye, be Pleynes and Wodes fulle deletable. Bethelem is a litylle Cytee, long and narwe and well walled, and in eche syde enclosed with gode Dyches ; and it was wont to ben cleped Effrata ; as Holy Wrytt seythe, Ecce audivimus eum in Efrata ;<sup>a</sup> that is to seye, Lo, wee herde him in Efrata. And betwene the Cytee and the Chirche is the Felde Floridus ; that is to seyne, the Feld florisched : For als moche as a fayre Mayden was blamed with wrong, and sclaundred, that sche hadde don Fornycacioun ; for whiche cause sche was demed to the Dethe, and to be brent in that place, to the whiche sche was ladd. And whan sche hadde thus seyde, sche entred in to the Fuyr: and anon was the Fuyr quenched and oute: and the Brondes that weren brennyng, becomen rede Roseres; and the Brondes that weren not kyndled, becomen white Roseres, fulle of Roses. And theise weren the first Roseres and Roses, both white and rede, that evere ony Man saughe. And thus was this Mayden saved be the Grace of God. And therfore is that Feld clept the Feld of God florysscht: for it was fulle of Roses. Also besyde the Queer of the Chirche, at the right syde, as men comen downward 16 Greces, is the place where oure Lord was born, that is, fulle welle dyghte of Marble, and fulle richely peynted with Gold, Sylver, Azure and other Coloures. And 3 Paas besyde, is the Crybbe of the Ox and the Asse. And besyde that, is the place where the Sterre felle, that ladde the 3 Kynges, Jaspas, Melchior and Balthazar: but Men of Grece clepen hem thus, Galgalathe, Malgalathe and Sarahie: and the Jewes clepen in this manere, in Ebrew, Appelius, Amerrius and Damasus. Theise 3 Kynges offreden to oure Lord, Gold, Ensence and Myrre: and thei metten to gedre, thorghe Myracle of God: for thei metten to gedre in a Cytee in Ynde, that Men clepen Cassak, that is 53 Journeyes fro Bethелеem; and thei weren at Bethелеem the 13 Day. And that was the 4 Day afre that thei hadden seyn the Sterre, whan thei metten in that Cytee: and thus thei weren in 9 Dayes, fro that Cytee at Bethелеem; and that was gret Myracle. And faste besyde that Chirche, a 60 Fedme, is a Chirche of Seynt Nicholas, where oure Lady rested hire, aftre sche was lyghted of oure Lord. For in that Boke, Machomete cursed alle tho that drynken Wyn, and alle hem that sellen it. in poudre, therefore the Soudan hathe do make a Walle aboute the Sepulcre, that no man may towche it. But in the left syde of the Walle of the Tabernacle is well the heighte of a man, a gret Ston to the quantytee of a mannes Hed, that was of the Holy Sepulcre: and that Ston kissen the Pilgrymes, that comen thidre. In that Tabernacle ben no Wyndowes: but it is alle made lighte with Lampes, that hangen before the Sepulcre. And there is a Lampe, that hongethe before the Sepulcre, that brennethe lighte: and on the Gode Fryday it gothe out be him self; and lyghtith azen be him self at that Oure, that oure Lord roos fro Dethe to lyve. Also within the Chirche, at the righte syde, besyde the Queer of the Chirche, is the Mount of Calvarye, where oure Lord was don on the Cros: and it is a Roche of white Colour, and a lytille medled with red: And the Cros was set in a Morteys, in the same Roche: and on that Roche dropped the Woundes of our Lord, whan he was payned on the Crosse; and that is cleped Golgatha. And Men gon up to that Golgatha be Degrees: and in the place of that Morteys was Adames Hed founden, afre Noes flode; in tokene that the Synnes of Adam scholde ben boughte<sup>h</sup> in that same place. And upon that Roche made Abraham Sacrifice to oure Lord. And there is an Awtere: and before that Awtere lyzn Godefray de Boleyne and Bawdewyn, and othere Cristene Kynges of Jerusalem. And there nyghe, where oure Lord was crucyfied, is this writen in Grew: ‘Ο Θεός Βασιλεύς ἡμῶν πρὸ αἰώνων εἰργάσατο σωτηρίαν ἐν μέσῳ τῆς γῆς’ that is to seyne, in Latyn,

Deus Rex noster ante Secula operatus est Salutem, in medio Terræ; that is to seye, God oure Kyng, before the Worldes, hathe wroughte Hele in myddis of the Erthe. And also on that Roche, where the Cros was sett, is writen with in the Roche theise Wordes; Ὁ εἶδεις, ἐστὶ βάσις τῆς πίστεως ὅλης τοῦ κόσμου τούτου that is to seyne in Latyn, Quod vides, est fundamentū totius Fidei hujus Mundi; that is to seye, That thou seest, is ground of alle the Feythe of this World. And zee schulle undirstonde, that whan oure Lord was don upon the Cros, he was 33 zere and 3 Monethes of elde. And the Prophecye of David<sup>i</sup> seythe thus; Quadragesima annis proximus fui<sup>k</sup> generationi huic; that is to seye, Fourty zeer was I neigheboore to this Kynrede. And thus scholde it seme, that the Prophecyes ne were not trewe: but thei ben bothe trewe: for in old tyme men maden a Zeer of 10 Monethes; of the whiche, Marche was the firste, and Decembre was the laste. But Gayus, that was Emperour of Rome, putten theise 2 Monethes there to, Janyver and Feverer; and ordeyned the Zeer of 12 Monethes; that is to seye, 365 Dayes, with oute Lepe Zeer, afre the propre cours of the Sonne. And therefore, afre cowntyng of 10 Monethes of the Zeer, he dyede in the 40 Zeer; as the Prophete seyde: and afre the Zeer of 12 Monethes, he was of age 33 Zeer and 3 Monethes. Also with in the Mount of Calvarie, on the right side, is an Awtere, where the Piler lyzthe, that oure Lord Jesu was bounden to, whan he was scourged. And there besyde ben 4 Pileres

And nyghe that Awtier is a place undre Erthe, 42 Degrees of depnesse, where the Holy Croys was founden, be the Wytt of Seynte Elyne, undir a Roche, where the Jewes had hidde it. And that was the verray Croys assayed : for thei founden 3 Crosses ; on of oure Lord, and 2 of the 2 Theves : and Seynte Elyne preved hem on a ded Body, that aros from Dethe to lyve, whan that it was leyd on it that oure Lord dyed on. And there by in the Walle is the place where the 4 Nayles of oure Lord weren hidd : for he had 2 in his Hondes, and 2 in his Feet : and of on of theise, the Emperour of Costantynoble made a Brydille to his Hors, to bere him in Bataylle ; and thorghe vertue there of, he overcam his Enemyes, and wan alle the Lond of Asye the lesse; that is to seye, Turkye, Ermony the lasse and the more; and from Surrye to Jerusalem, from Arabye to Persie, from Mesopotayme to the Kyngdom of Halappee, from Egypt the highe and the lowe, and all the othere Kyngdomes, unto the Depe of Ethiope, and into Ynde the lesse, that then was Cristene. And there were in that tyme many gode Holy Men and Holy Heremytes; of whom the Book of Fadres Lyfesspekethe: and thei ben now in Paynemes and Sarazines Honds. But whan God alle myghty wole, righte als the Londes weren lost thorghe Synne of Cristene Men, so schulle thei ben wonnen azen be Cristen men thorghe help of God. And in myddes of that Chirche is a Compas, in the whiche Joseph of Aramathie leyde the Body of oure Lord, whan he had taken him down of the Croys: and there he wassched the Woundes of oure Lord: and that Compas, seye men, is the myddes of the World. And in the Chirche of the Sepulchre, on the Northe syde, is the place where oure Lord was put in Presoun; (for he was in Presoun in many places) and there is a partye of the Cheyne that he was bounden with: and there he appered first to Marie Magdaleyne, whan he was rysen; and sche wende that he had ben a Gardener. In the Chirche of Seynt Sepulchre was wont to ben Chanouns of the ordre of seynt Augustyn, and hadden a Priour: but the Patriark was here Sovereigne. And withe oute the Dores of the Chirche, on the right syde, as men gon upward 18 Greces, seyde oure Lord to his Moder, Mulier, ecce filius tuus; that is to seye, Woman, lo thi Sone. And aftre that, he seyde to John his Disciple, Ecce mater tua; that is to seyne,

Lo, behold thi Modir: And these wordes he seyde on the Cros. And on theise Greces wente oure Lord, whan he bare the Crosse on his Schuldir. And undir this Grees is a Chapelle; and in that Chapelle syngen Prestes, Yndyenes; that is to seye, Prestes of Ynde; noght aftir oure Lawe, but aftir here: and alle wey thei maken here Sacrement of the Awtier, seyenge, Pater noster, and othere Preyeres there with: with the which Preyeres, thei seye the Wordes, that the Sacrement is made of. For thei ne knowe not the Addiciouns, that many Popes han made: but thei synge with gode Devocioun. And there nere, is the place where that oure Lord rested him, whan he was wery, for berynge of the Cros. And zee schulle undirstonde, that before the Chirche of the Sepulcre, is the Cytee more feble than in ony othere partie, for the grete playn that is betwene the Chirche and the Citee. And toward the Est syde, with oute the Walles of the Cytee, is the Vale of Josaphathe, that touchethe to the Walles, as thoughe it were a large Dyche. And anen that Vale of Josaphathe, out of the Cytee, is the Chirche of seynt Stevens,

And there beside, is the gildene Zate, that may not ben opened; be the whiche Zate, oure Lord entrede on Palmesonday, upon an Asse; and the Zate opened azenst him, whan he wolde go unto the Temple: And zit apperen the Steppes of the Asses feet, in 3 places of the Degrees, that ben of fulle harde Ston. And before the Chirche of seynt Sepulcre, toward the Southe, a 200 Paas, is the gret Hospitalle of Seynt John; of the whiche the Hospitleres hadde here foundacioun. And with inne the Palays of the Seke Men of that Hospitalle ben 124 Pileres of Ston: and in the Walles of the Hows, with oute the nombre aboveseyd, there ben 54 Pileres, that beren up the Hows. And fro that Hospitalle, to go toward the Est, is a fulle fayr Chirche, that is clept Nostre Dame la Graund. And than is there another Chirche right nyghe, that is clept Nostre Dame de Latyne. And there weren Marie Cleophee and Marie Magdaleyne, and teren here Heer, whan oure Lord was peyned in the Cros.

tene man ne Jewes to come there in; for thei seyn, that none so foule synfulle men scholde not come in so holy place: but I cam in there, and in othere places, where I wolde; for I hadde Lettres of the Soudan, with his grete Seel; and comounly other Men han but his Signett. In the whiche Lettres he cōmanded, of his specyalle grace, to all his Subgettes, to lete me seen alle the places, and to enforme me pleynty alle the Mysteries of every place, and to condyte me fro Cytee to Cytee, zif it were nede, and buxomly to resceyve me and my Companye, and for to obeye to alle my requestes resonable, zif thei weren not gretly azen the Royalle power, and dignytee of the Soudan or of his Lawe. And to othere, that asken him grace, suche as han served him, he ne zevethe not but his Signet; the whiche thei make to be born before hem, hangynge on a Spere; and the folk of the Contree don gret worshippe and reverence to his Signett or his Seel, and knelen there to, as lowly as wee don to Corpus Domini. And zit men don fulle grettere reverence to his Lettres. For the Admyralle and alle othere Lordes, that thei ben schewed to, before or thei resceyve hem, thei knelen doun, and than thei take hem, and putten hem on here Hedes, and aftre thei kissen hem, and than thei reden hem, knelynge with gret reverence, and than thei offren hem to do alle, that the berere askethe. And in this Templum Domini weren somtyme Chanouns Reguleres: and thei hadden an Abbot, to whom thei weren obedient. And in this Temple was Charlemayn, when that the Aungelle broughte him the Prepuce of oure Lord Jesu Crist, of his Circumcisioun: and aftre Kyng Charles leet bryngen it to Parys, in to his Chapelle: and aftre that, he leet brynge it to Peyteres, and aftre that to Chartres. And zee schulle undirstonde, that this is not the Temple that Salomon made: for that Temple dured not, but 1102 Zeer. For Tytus, Vespasianes Sone, Emperour of Rome, had leyd sege aboute Jerusalem, for to discomfyte the Jewes: for thei putten oure Lord to Dethe, with outen Leve of the Emperour. And whan he hadde wonnen the Cytee, he brente the Temple and beet it down, and alle the Cytee, and toke the Jewes, and dide hem to Dethe, 1100000: and the othere he putte in Presoun, and solde hem to Servage, 30 for o Peny: for thei seyde, thei boughte Jesu for 30 Penyes: and he made of hem better cheep, whan he zaf 30 for o Peny. And aftre that tyme, Julianus Apostate, that was Emperour, zaf leue to the Jewes to make the Temple of Jerusalem : for he hated Cristene Men ; and zit he was cristned, but he forsoke his Law, and becam a Renegate. And whan the Jewes hadden made the Temple, com an Erthe quakeng, and cast it doun (as God wolde) and destroyed alle that thei had made. And aftre that, Adryan, that was Emperour of Rome, and of the Lynage of Troye, made Jerusalem azen, and the Temple, in the same manere, as Salomon made it. And he wolde not suffre no Jewes to dwelle there, bnt only Cristene men. For alle thoughe it were so, that hee was not cristned, zet he lovede Cristene men, more than any other Nacioun, saf his owne. This Emperour leet enclose the Chirche of seynt Sepulcre, and walle it, within the Cytee, that before was with oute the Cytee, long tyme befor. And he wolde have chaunged the Name of Jerusalem, and have cleped it Elya : but that Name lasted not longe. Also zee schulle undirstonde, that the Sarazines don moche reverence to that Temple; and thei seyn, that that place is right holy. And whan thei gon in, thei gon barefote, and knelen many tymes. And whanne my Felowes and I seyge that, whan we comen in, wee diden of oure Schoon, and camen in barefote, and thoughten that we scholden don as moche Worschipe and Reverence there to, as ony of the mysbeleevynge men scholde, and as gret compunctioun in Herte to have. This Temple is 64 Cubytes of wydenesse, and als manye in lengthe; and of heighte it is 120 Cubites : and it is with inne, alle aboute, made with Pyleres of Marble : and in the myddel place of the Temple ben manye highe Stages, of 14 Degrees of heighte, the Jewes callen Sancta Sanctorum; that is to seye,

Stages, afre thei ben of Dignytee or of Worschipe;
so that thei alle may see the Sacrifice. And in that in the Est Zate,oure Lorde seyde, *Here is Jeru-

with in the Zate, there is a Welle; but it rennethe noght; of the whiche Holy Writt spekethe, and seythe, Vidi Aquam egredientem de Templo; that is to seyne, I saughe Watre come out of the Temple.
And on that other syde of the Temple, there is a Roche, that men clepen Moriache: but afre it was clept Bethel; where the Arke of God, with Relykes of Jewes, weren wont to ben put. That Arke or

In that Arke weren the 10 Cōmandementes, and of whiche he made the Rede See departen, as it had

Roche; and the Watre cam out of it: And with that Zerde he dide manye Wondres. And there in was a Vessel of Gold, fulle of Manna, and Cloth-

And upon that Roche, was Jacob slepyng, when he saughe the Aungeles gon up and down, by a Laddre, and he seyde, Vere Locus iste sanctus est, et ego ignorabam; that is to seyne, Forsothe this place is holy, and I wiste it nought. And there an Aungel helde Jacob stille, and turned his Name, and cleped him Israel. And in that same place, David saughe the Aungelle, that smot the folk with a Swerd, and put it up blody in the Schethe. And in that same Roche, was seynt Symeon, when he resceyved oure Lord in to the Temple. And in this Roche he sette him, whan the Jewes wolde a stoned him; and a Sterre cam down, and zaf him light. And upon that Roche, prechede our Lord often tyme to the Peple; and out of that seyde Temple, oure Lord drof the Byggeres and the Selleres. And he preyed oure Lord, that alle tho that preyeden to him, in that place, with gode Herte, that he wolde heren here Preyere and graunten it hem, zif thei asked it rightfullyche : and oure Lord graunten it him : and therefore Salomon cleped that Temple, the Temple of Conseille and of Help of God. And with oute the Zate of that Temple is an Awtiere, where Jewes werein wont to offren Dowves and Turtles. And betwene the Temple and that Awtiere was Zacharie slayn. And upon the Pynacle of that Temple was oure Lord brought, for to ben tempted of the Enemye, the Feend. And on the heichte of that Pynacle, the Jewes setten Seynt Jame, and casted him down to the Erthe, that first was Bisschopp of Jerusalē. And at the entree of that Temple, toward the West, is the Zate that is clept Porta speciosa.<sup>1</sup> And nyghe besyde that Temple, upon the right syde, is a Chirche covered with Leed, that is clept Salomones Scole. And fro that Temple, towards the Southe, right nyghe, is the Temple of Salomon, that is righte fair and wel pollisscht. And in that Temple duellen the Knyghtes of the Temple, that weren wont to be clept Templeres: and that was the foundacioun of here Ordre: so that there duelleden Knyghtes; and in Templo Domini, Chanouns Reguleres. Fro that Temple toward the Est, a 120 Paas, in the Cornere of the Cytee, is the Bathe of oure Lord: and in that Bathe was wont to come Watre fro Paradys, and zit it droppethe. And there besyde, is our Ladyes Bed. And faste by, is the Temple of Seynt Symeon: and with oute the Cloyster of the Temple, toward the Northe, is a fulle faire Chirche of Seynte Anne, oure Ladyes Modre: and there was oure Lady conceyved. And before that Chirche, is a gret Tree, that began to growe the same nyght. And there besyde, was Pylates Hows. And faste by, is Kyng Heroudes Hows, that leet sle the Innocentes. This Heroude was over moche cursed and cruelle: for first he leet sle his Wif, that he lovede righte welle; and for the passynge Love, that he hadde to hire, whan he saughe hire ded, he felle in a rage, and oute of his Wytt, a gret while; and sithen he cam azen to his Wytt: and aftre he leet sle his two Sones, that he hadde of that Wyf: and aftre that, he leet sle another of his Wyfes, and a Sone, that he hadde with hire: and aftre that, he leet sle his owne Modre: and he wolde have slayn his Brother also, but he dyede sodeynly. And aftre he fell into Seknesse, and whan he felte, that he scholde dye, he sente aftre his Sustre, and aftre alle the Lordes of his Lond; and whan thei were comen, he leet cōmande hem to Prisoun, and than he seyde to his Sustre, he wiste wel, that men of the Contree wolde make no Sorwe for his Dethe; and therefore he made his Sustre swere, that sche scholde lete smyte of alle the Heds of the Lordes, whan he were ded; and than scholde alle the Lond make Sorwe for his Dethe, and else nought: and thus he made his Testement. But his Sustre fulfilled not his Wille: for als sone as he was ded, sche delyvered alle the Lordes out of Presoun, and lete hem gon, eche Lord to his owne; and tolde hem alle the purpos of hire Brothers Ordynance: and so was this cursed Kyng never made Sorwe for, as he supposed for to have ben. And zee schulle undirstonde, that in that tyme there weren 3 Heroudes, of gret Name and Loos for here crueltee. This Heroude, of whiche I have spoken offe, was Heroude Ascalonite: and he that leet beheden seynt John the Baptist, was Heroude

Antypa : and he that leet smyte of seynt James hed, was Heroude Agrippa ; and he putte seynt Peter in Presoun.

Also furthermore, in the Cytee, is the Chirche of Seynt Savyour : And there is the left Arm of John Crisostom, and the more partye of the Hed of seynt Stevene. And on that other syde of the Strete, toward the Southe, as Men gon to Mount Syon, is a Chirche of seynt James, where he was

And there was wont to ben an Abbot of Chanouns Reguleres. And fro thens, was sche born of the Apostles, unto the Vale of Josaphathe. And there is the Ston, that the Aungelle broughte to oure Lady, fro the Mount of Synay ; and it is of that colour, that the Roche is of seynt Kateryne. And there besyde, is the Zate, where thorghe oure Ladye wente, whan sche was with Childe, whan sche wente to Bethелеem. Also at the entree of

And there also is a Ston, in a Walle, besyde the Zate, of the Pyleer, that oure Lord was scourged ate: And there was Annes Hows, that was Bishop of the Jewes, in that tyme. And there was oure Lord examyned in the nyght, and scourged and smytten and vylently entreted. And in that same place, seynt Peter forsoke oure Lord thries, or the Cok crew. And there is a party of the Table, that he made his Souper onne, whan he made his Maundee, with his Discyple; whan he zaf hem his Flesche and his Blode, in forme of Bred and Wyn. And undre that Chapelle, 32 Degrees, is the place, where oure Lord wossche his Discyple Feet: and zit is the Vesselle, where the Watre was. And there besyde that same Vesselle, was seynt Stevene buryed. And there is the Awtier, where oure Lady herde the Aungeles synge Messe. And there appered first oure Lord to his Discyple, after his Resurrexioun, the Zates enclosed, and seyde to hem, Pax vobis; that is to seye, Pees to Zou. And on that Mount, appered Crist to seynt Thomas the Apostle, and bad him assaye his Woundes; and there beleeved he first, and seyde, Dominus meus & Deus meus; that is to seye, my Lord and my God. In the same Chirche, besyde the Awteer, weren alle the Aposteles on Mount Syon is with inne the Cytee ; and it is a lyttille hiere than the other syde of the Cytee : and the Cytee is strongere on that syde, than on that other syde. For at the foot of the Mount Syon, is a faire Castelle and a strong, that the Soudan leet make. In the Mount Syon weren buryed Kyng David and Kyng Salomon, and many othere Kynges, Jewes of Jerusalem. And there is the place, where the Jewes wolden han cast up the body of oure Lady, whan the Apostles beren the Body to ben buryed, in the Vale of Josaphathe.

And there is the Place, where Seynt Petir wepte fulle tenderly, aftre that he hadde forsaken oure Lord. And a Stones cast fro that Chapelle, is another Chapelle, where oure Lord was jugged: for that tyme, was there Cayphases Hows. From that Chapelle, to go toward the Est, at 140 Paas, is a depe Cave undre the Roche, that is clept the Galylee of oure Lord ; where seynt Petre hidde him, whanne he had forsaken oure Lord. Item, betwene the Mount Syon and the Temple of Salomon, is the place, where oure Lord reysed the Mayden, in hire Fadres Hows. Undre the Mount Syon, toward the Vale of Josaphathe, is a Welle, that is clept Natatorium Siloe; and there was oure Lord wasshen, aftre his Bapteme: And there made oure Lord the blynde Man to see. And there was y buryed Ysaye the Prophete. Also streghte from he hadde, whan he solde and betrayed oure Lord. And there besyde, was the Synagoge, where the Bysshoppes of Jewes and the Pharyses camen to gidere, and helden here Conseille. And there caste Judas the 30 Pens before hem, and seyde, that he hadde synned, betrayenge oure Lord. And there nyghe was the Hows of the Apostles, Philippe and Jacob Alpei. And on that other syde of Mount Syon, toward the Southe; bezonde the Vale, a Stones cast, is Acheldamache; that is to seye, the Feld of Blood; that was bought for the 30 Pens, that oure Lord was sold fore. And in that Feld ben many Tombes of Cristene Men: for there ben manye Pilgrymes graven. And there ben many Oratories, Chapelles and Heremytages, where Heremytes weren wont to duelle. And

Also fro Jerusalem, toward the West, is a fair Chirche, where the Tree of the Cros grew. And 2 Myle fro thens, is a faire Chirche; where oure Lady mette with Elizabethe, whan thei weren bothe with Childe; and seynt John stered in his Modres Wombe, and made reverence to his Creatour, that he saughe not. Also on that other syde, 200 Pas fro Jerusalem, is a Chirche, where was wont to be the Cave of the Lioun: and undre that Chirche, at 30 Degrees of Depnesse, weren entered 12000 Martires, in the tyme of Kyng Cosdroe,<sup>m</sup> that the Lyoun mette with<sup>n</sup> alle in a nyghte, be the wille of God. Also fro Jerusalem 2 Myle, is the Mount Joye, a fulle fair place and a delicyous: and there lythe Samuel the Prophete in a fair Tombe: and men clepen it Mount Joye; for it zevethe joye to Pilgrymes hertes, be cause that there men seen first Jerusalem. Also betwene Jerusalem and the Mount of Olyvete, is the Vale of Josaphathe, undre the Walles of the Cytee, as I have seyde before: and in the myddes of the Vale, is a lytille Ryvere, that men clepen Torrens Cedron; and aboven it, over thwart, lay a Tre, (that the Cros was made offe) that men zeden over onne: and faste by it is a litylle pytt in the Erthe, where the foot of the

Also in the myddel Place of the Vale of Josaphathe, is the Chirche of oure Lady : and it is of 43 Degrees, undre the Erthe, unto the Sepulcre of oure Lady. And oure Lady was of Age, when sche dyed, 72 Zeer. And beside the Sepulcre of oure Lady, is an Awtier, where oure Lord forzaf seynt Petir alle his Synnes. And fro thens, toward the West, undre an Awtere, is a Welle, that comethe out of the Ryvere of Paradys. And witethe wel, that that Chirche is fulle lowe in the Erthe; and sum is alle with inne the Erthe. But I suppose wel, that it was not so founded : but for because that Jerusalem hathe often tyme ben destroyed, and the Walles abated and beten down and tumbled in to the Vale, and that thei han ben so filled azen, and the ground enhaunced ; and for that skylle, is the Chirche so lowe with in the Erthe : and natheles men seyn there comounly, that the Erthe hathe so ben cloven, sythe the tyme, that oure Lady was there buryed : and zit men seyn there, that it wexethe and growethe every day, with outen dowte. In that Chirche were wont to ben blake Monkes, that hadden hire Abbot. And besyde that Chirche, is a Chapelle, besyde the Roche, that highte Gethesamany : and there was oure Lord kyssed of Judas ; and there was he taken of the Jewes; and there laft oure Lord his Disciples, whan he wente to preye before his Passioun, whan he preyed and seyde, Pater, si fieri potest, transeat a me Calix iste ; that is to seye, Fadre, zif it may be, do lete this Chalys go fro me. And whan he

This Josaphathe was Kyng of that Contree, and was converted by an Heremyte, that was a worthi man, and dide moche gode. And fro thens a Bowe draughte, toward the South, is the Chirche, where seynt James and Zacharie the Prophete weren buryed. And above the Vale, is the Mount of Olyvete: and it is cleped so, for the plentee of Olyves, that growen there. That Mount is more highe than the Cytee of Jerusalem is: and therefore may men, upon that Mount, see manye of the Stretes of the Cytee. And betwene that Mount and the Cytee, is not but the Vale of Josaphathe, that is not fulle large. And fro that Mount, steighe oure Lord Jesu Crist to Hevene, upon Ascencioun day: and zit there schewethe the schapp of his left Foot, in the Ston. And there is a Chirche, where was wont to be an Abbot and Chanouns reguleres. And a lytylle thens, 28 Pas, is a Chapelle, and there in is the Ston, on the whiche oure Lord sat, whan he prechede the 8 Blessynges, and seyde thus; Beati pauperes Spiritu: And there he taughte his Disciples the Pater noster; and wrote with his finger in a Ston. And there nyghe is a Chirche of Seynte Marie Egipciane; and there sche lythe in a Tombe. And fro thens toward the Est, a 3 Bow schote, is Bethfagee; to the whiche oure Lord sente seynt Peter and seynt James, for to feche the Asse, upon Palme Sunday, and rode upon that Asse to Jerusalem. And in comynge doun fro the Mount of Olyvete, toward the Est, is a Castelle, that is cleped Bethanye: and there dwelte Symon leprous, and there herberwed oure Lord; and aftre, he was baptized of the Apostles, and was clept Julian, and was made Bisschoppe: and this is the same Julyan, that men clepe to for gode Herberghgagge: for oure Lord herberwed with him, in his Hous. And in that Hous, oure Lord forzaf Marie Magdaleyne hire Synnes; there sche whassched his Feet with hire Teres, and wyped hem with hire Heer. And there served seynt Martha, oure Lord. There oure Lord reysed Lazar fro Deth to lyve, that was ded 4 dayes and stank, that was brother to Marie Magdaleyne and to Martha. And there duelte also Marie Cleophe. That Castelle is wel a Myle long fro Jerusalem. Also in comynge doun fro the Mount of Olyvete, is the place where oure Lord wepte upon Jerusalem. And there besyde is the place, where oure Lady appered to seynt Thomas the Apostle, aftre hire Assumptioun, and zaf him hire Gyrdylle. And right nyghe is the Ston, where oure Lord often tyme sat upon, whan he prechede: and upon that same schalle he sytte, at the day of Doom; righte as him self seyde.

Also aftre the Mount of Olyvete, is the Mount of Galilee: there assembleden the Apostles, whan Marie Magdaleyne cam, and tolde hem of Cristes uprisynge. And there, betwene the Mount Olyvete and the Mount Galilee, is a Chirche, where the

That Cytee tok Josue, be myracle of God and cōmandement of the Aungel, and destroyed it and cursed it, and alle hem that bylled it azen. Of that Citee was Zacheus the Dwerf, that clomb up in to the Sycomour Tre, for to see oure Lord; be cause he was so litille, he myghte not seen him for the peple. And of that Cytee was Raab the comoun Wōman, that ascaped allone, with hem of hire lynage; and sche often tyme refressched and fed the Messageres of Israel, and kepte hem from many grete periles of Dethe: and therefore sche hadde gode reward; as Holy Writt seythe: Qui accipit Prophetam in nomine meo, mercedem Prophetæ accipiet; that is to seye, He that takethe a Prophete in my name, he schalle take mede of the Prophete: and so hadde sche; for sche prophecyed to the Messageres, seyenge, Novi quod Dominus tradet vobis Terram hanc; that is to seye, I wot wel, that oure Lord schal betake zou this Lond: and so he dide. And aftre Salomon, Naasones Sone, wedded hire; and fro that tyme was sche a worthi Wōman, and served God wel. Also from Betanye gon men to flom Jordan, by a Mountayne, and thorghe Desert; and it is nyghe a Day iorneye fro Bethanye, toward the Est, to a gret hille, where oure Lord fasted 40 dayes. Upon that Hille, the enemy of Helle bare oure Lord, and tempted him, and seyde; Dic ut lapides isti panes fiant; that is to seye, Sey, that theise Stones be made Loves. In that place, upon the hille, was wont to ben a faire

Upon that hille duelte Abraham a gret while: and therfore men clepen it, Abrahames Gardyn. And betwene the Hille and this Gardyn renneth a lytille Broke of Watre, that was wont to ben byttre; but be the blessing of Helisee the Prophete, it becam swete and gode to drynke. And at the foot of this Hille, toward the Playn, is a gret Welle, that entrethe in to Flom Jordan. Fro that Hille to Jerico, that I spak of before, is but a Myle, in goynge toward Flom Jordan. Also as men gon to Jerico, sat the blynde man, cryenge, Jesu, fili David, miserere mei; that is to seye, Jesu, Davides sone, have mercy on me: and anon he hadde his sighte. Also 2 Myle fro Jerico, is Flom Jordan: and an half myle more nyghe, is a faire Chirche of Seynt John the Baptist; where he baptised oure Lord: and there besyde, is the Hous of Jeremye the Prophete.

Betwene Jerico and that See, is the Lond of Dengadde; and there was wont to growe the Bawme: but men make drawe the braunches there of, and berē hem to ben graffed at Babiloyne;<sup>p</sup> and zit men clepen hem Vynes of Gaddy. That dede See departethe the Lond of Ynde and of Arabye: and that See lastethe from Soara unto Arabye. The Watre of that See is fulle bytter and Salt: and ziff the Erthe were made moyst and weet with that Watre, it wolde nevere bere Fruyt. And the Erthe and the Lond chaungeth often his colour. And it castethe out of the Watre a thing that men clepen Aspalt; also gret peces, as the gretnesse of an Hors, every day, and on alle sydes. And fro Jerusalem to that See, is 200 Furlonges. That See is in lengthe 580 Furlonges, and in brede 150 Furlonges: and it is clept the dede See, for it rennethe nought, but is evere unmevable. theise ben thinges azenst kynde. And also the Cytees there weren lost, be cause of Synne. And there besyden growen trees, that beren fulle faire

Apples, and faire of colour to beholde ; but whoso brekethe hem or cuttethe hem in two, he schalle fynde with in hem Coles and Cyndres ; in tokene that, be Wratthe of God, the Cytees and the Lond weren brente and sonken in to Helle. Sum men clepen that See, the Lake Dalfetidee ; summe, the Flom of Develes ; and sūme, the Flom that is ever stynkyng. And in to that See sonken the 5 Cytees, be Wratthe of God ; that is to seyne, Sodom, Gomorre, Aldama, Seboym and Segor, for the abhomyneof Sodomye, that regned in hem. But Segor, be the preyer of Lothe, was saved and kept a gret while : for it was sett upon an hille ; and zit schewethe therof sum party, above the Watre : and men may see the Walles, when it is fayr Wedre and cleer. In that Cytee Lothe dwelte, a lytylle while ; and there was he made dronken of his Doughtres, and lay with hem, and engendred of hem Moab and Amon. And the cause whi his Doughtres made him dronken, and for to ly by him, was this; because thei sawghe no man aboute hem, but only here Fadre: and therefore thei trowed, that God had destroyed alle the World, as he hadde don the Cytees; as he hadde don before, be Noes Flood. And therefore thei wolde lye with here Fadre, for to have Issue, and for to replenyschen the World azen with Peple, to restore the World azen be hem: for thei trowed, that ther had ben no mo men in alle the World. And zif here Fadre had not ben dronken, he hadde not y lye with hem. And the hille aboven Segor, men cleped it thanne Edom: and aftre men cleped it Seyr, and aftre Ydumea. Also at the righte syde of that dede See, dwellethe zit the Wife of Lothe, in lyknesse of a salt Ston; for that schee loked behynde hire, whan the Cytees sonken in to Helle. This Lothe was Araammes sone, that was Brother to Abraham. And Sarra Abrahames Wif, and Melcha Nachors Wif, weren Sustren to the seyd Lothe. And the same Sarra was of elde 90 Zeer, when Ysaac hire sone was gotten on hire. And Abraham hadde another sone Ysmael, that he gat upon Agar his Chambrere. And when Ysaac his sone was 8 dayes olde, Abraham his Fadre leet him ben circumcyded, and Ysmael with him, that was 14 Zeer old: wherfore the Jewes, that comen of Ysaaces lyne, ben circumcyded the 8 Day; and the Sarrazines, that comen of Ysmaeles lyne, ben circumcyded whan thei ben 14 Zeer of Age.

And zee schulle undirstonde, that with in the dede See rennethe the Flom Jordan, and there it dyethe; for it rennethe no furthermore: and that is a place, that is a Myle fro the Chirche of seynt

John the Baptist, toward the West, a lytille benethe the place, where that Cristene men bathen hem comounly. And a Myle from Flom Jordan, is the Ryvere of Jabothe, the whiche Jacob passed over, whan he cam fro Mesopotayme. This Flom Jordan is no gret Ryvere; but it is plenteous of gode Fissime: and it cometh out of the hille of Lyban be 2 Welles, that ben cleped Jor and Dan: and of tho 2 Welles hath it the name. And it passethe be a Lake, that is clept Maron; and aftre it passethe by the See of Tyberye, and passethe undre the hilles of Gelboe: and there is a fulle faire Vale, bothe on that o syde and on that other of the same Ryvere. And men gon the hilles of Lyban, alle in lengthe, unto the desert of Pharan. And tho hilles departen the kyngdom of Surrye and the Contree of Phenesie. And upon tho hilles growen Trees of Cedre, that ben fulle hye, and thei beren longe Apples, and als grete as a mannes heved. And also this Flom Jordan departeth the Lond of Galilee and the Lond of Ydumye and the Lond of Betron: and that rennethe undre Erthe a gret weye, unto a fayre playn and a gret, that is clept Meldan, in Sarmoyz; that is to seye, Feyre or Markett, in here Langage; be cause that there is often Feyres in that pleyn. And there becomethe the Watre gret and large. And that Playn is the Tombe of Job. And in that Flom Jordan aboveseyd, was oure Lord baptized of seynt John; and the voys of God the Fadre was herd seyenge, Hic est Filius meus dilectus, &c.; that is to seye, This is my beloved sone, in the whiche I am well plesed; herethe hym. And the Holy Gost alyghte upon hym, in lyknesse of a Colver: and so at his Bap-

And thorghe that Flom passeden the Children of Israel, alle drye feet: and thei putten Stones there in the myddel place, in tokene of the Myracle, that the Watre withdrowghe him so. Also in that Flom Jordan, Naaman of Syrie bathed him; that was fulle riche, but he was meselle: and there anon he toke his hele. Abouten the Flom Jordan ben manye Chirches, where that manye Cristene men dwelleden. And nyghe therto is the Cytee of Hay, that Josue assayed and toke. Also bezonde the Flom Jordan, is the Vale of Mambre; and that is a fulle fair Vale. Also upon the hille, that I spak of before, where oure Lord fasted 40 dayes, a 2 Myle long from Galilee, is a faire hille and an highe; where the Enemye, the Fend, bare oure Lord, the thridde tyme, to tempte him, and schewede him alle the Regiouns of the World, and seyde, Hec omnia tibi dabo, si cadens adoraveris me; that is to seyne, All this schalle I zeve the, zif thou falle and worschipe me.

Also fro the dede See, to gon Estward out of the Marches of the Holy Lond, that is clept the Lond of Promyssioun, is a strong Castelle and a fair, in an hille, that is clept Carak, en Sarmoyz; that is to seyne, Ryally. That Castelle let make kyng Baldwyn, (that was Kyng of France) whan he had conquered that Lond; and putte it in to Cristene mennes hondes, for to kepe that Contree. And for that cause, was it clept the Mownt rialle. And undre it there is a Town, that hight Sobache: and there alle abowte dwellen Cristene men, undre Trybute. fro thens, there is 3 Journeyes to Jerusalem: and men gon be the Provynce of Galylee, be Ramatha, be Sothym and be the highe hille of Effraim; where Elchana and Anna, the Modre of Samuelle the Prophete, dwelleden. There was born this Prophete: and aftre his Dethe, he was buried at Mount Joye, as I have seyde zou before. And than gon men to Sylo; where the Arke of God with the Relikes weren kept longe tyme, undre Ely the Prophete. There made the peple of Ebron Sacrifice to oure Lord: and ther thei zolden up here Avowes: and there spak God first to Samuelle, and schewed him the mutacioun of ordre of Presthode, and the misterie of the Sacrement. And right nyghe, on the left syde, is Gabaon and Rama and Beniamyn; of the whiche Holy Writt spekethe offe. And aftre men gon to Sychem, sumtyme clept Sychar; and that is in the Provynce of Samaritanes; and there is a fulle fair Vale and a fructuose, and there is a fair Cytee and a gode, that men clepen Neople. And from thens is a jorneye to Jerusalem. And there is the Welle, where oure Lord spak to the Wōman of Samaritan. And there was wont to ben a Chirche; but it is beten doun. Besyde that Welle, Kyng Roboas let make 2 Calveren of Gold, and made hem to ben worschipt, and put that on at Dan, and that other at Betelle. And a Myle fro Sychar, is the Cytee of Deluze. And in that Cytee dwelte Abraham, a certeyn tyme. Sychem is a 10 Myle fro Jerusalem, and it is clept Neople; that is for to seyne, the newe Cytee. And nyghe besyde is the Tombe of Josephe the Sone of Jacob, that governed Egypt: for the Jewes baren his Bones from Egypt, and buried hem there. And thidre gon the Jewes oftentye in Pilgrimage, with gret Devocioun. In that Cytee was Dyne Jacobes Doughter ravysscht; for whom hire Bretheren slown many persones, and diden many harmes to the Cytee. And there besyde, is the hille of Garasoun, where the Samaritanes maken here sacrifice: in that hille wolde Abraham have sacrificed his Sone Ysaac. And

but the Cytee is not now so gret, as it was wont to be. There was buried seynt John the Baptist, betwene 2 Prophetes, Helyseus and Abdyan : but he was beheded in the Castelle of Macharyme, besyde the dede See : and afre he was translated of his Disciples, and buried at Samarie : and there let Julianus Apostata dyggen him up, and let brennen his Bones ; (for he was that time Emperour) and let wyndwe the Askes in the Wynd. But the Fynger, that schewed oure Lord, seyenge, Ecce Agnus Dei ; that is to seyne, Lo the Lamb of God : that nolde nevere brenne, but is alle hol : that Fynger leet seynte Teclle the holy Virgyne be born in to the hille of Sebast ; and there maken men gret feste. In that place was wont to ben a faire Chirche ; and many othere there weren ; but thei ben alle beten doun. There was wont to ben the heed of seynt John Baptist, enclosed in the Walle : but the Emperour Theodosie let drawe it out, and fond it wrapped in a litille Clothe, alle blody ; and so he leet it to be born to Costantynoble : and zit at Costantynoble is the hyndre partye of the Heed : and the for partie of the Heed, til undre the Chyn, is at Rome, undre the Chirche of seynt Silvestre, where ben Nonnes of an hundred Ordres :<sup>9</sup> and it is zit alle broylly, as thoughe it were half brent : for the Emperour Julianus aboveseyd, of his cursednesse and malice, let brennen that partie with the other bones ; and zit it schewethe : and this thing hathe ben preved, both be Popes and by Emperours. And sum men seyn, that the Heed of seynt John is at Amyas, in Picardye : and other men seyn, that it is the Heed of seynt John the Bysschop. I wot nere, but God knowethe : but in what wyse than men worschpen it, the blessed seynt John holt him a payd.

From this Cytee of Sebast unto Jerusalem, is 12 Myle. And betwene the Hilles of that Contree, there is a Welle, that 4 Sithes in the Zeer chaungethe his Colour ; somtyme grene, somtyme reed, somtyme cleer, and somtyme trouble : and men clepen that Welle Job. And the folk of that Contree, that men clepen Samaritanes, weren converted and baptized by the Apostles ; but thei holden not wel here Doctryne ; and alle weys thei holden Lawes by hem self, varyenge from Cristene men, from Sarrazines, Jewes and Paynemes. And the Samaritanes leeven well in o God : and thei seyn wel, that there is but only o God, that alle formed, and alle schalle deme : and thei holden the Bible afre the Lettre ; and thei usen the Psawtere, as the Jewes don : and thei seyn, that thei ben the righte Sones of God : and among alle other folk, thei seyn that thei ben best beloved of God ; and that to hem belongethe the Heritage, that God behighte to hise beloved Children : and thei han also dyverse Clothinge and Schapp, to loken on, than other folk han ; for thei wrappen here Hedes in red Linnene Clothe, in difference frō othere. And the Sarazines wrappen here Hedes in white lynnene Clothe. And the Cristene men, that duellen in the Contree, wrappen hem in blew of Ynde ; and the Jewes in zelow Clothe. In that Contree duellen manye of the Jewes, payenge Tribute, as Cristene men don. And zif zee wil knowe the Lettres, that the Jewes usen, thei ben suche ; and the names ben, as thei clepen hem, written aboven, in manere of here A. B. C.

Of the Province of Galilee, and where Antecrist schalle be born. Of Nazareth. Of the Age of oure Lady. Of the Day of Doom; and of the Customes of Facobites, Surryenes; and of the Usages of Georgyenes.

FROM this Contree of the Samaritanes, that I have spoken of before, gon men to the Playnes of Galilee. And men leven the hilles, on that o partye. And Galilee is on of the Provynces of the Holy Lond: and in that Provynce is the Cytee of Naym and Capharnaum and Chorosaym and Bethsayde. In this Bethseyde was seynt Petre and seynt Andrew born. And thens, a 4 Myle, is Chorosaym: and 5 Myle fro Chorosaym, is the Cytee of Cedar, where of the Psautre spekethe: Et habitavi cum habitantibus Cedar; that is for to seye, And I have dwelled with the dwellynge men in Cedar. In Chorosaym schalle Antecrist be born, as sum men seyn; and other men seyn, he schalle be born in Babyloyne: for the Prophete seyth; De Babilonia Coluber exiet, qui totum mundum devorabit; that is to seyne, Out of Babiloyne schal come a Worm, that schal devourē alle the World. This Antecrist schal be noryscht in Bethsayda, and he schalle regne in Capharnaum: and therefore seythe Holy Writt; Ve tibi, Chorasaym: ve tibi, Bethsayda: ve tibi, Capharnaum; that is to seye, Wo be to the, Chorosaym: wo to the, Bethsayda: wo to the,

Capharnaum. And alle these Townes ben in the Lond of Galilee. And also, the Cane of Galilee is 4 Myle fro Nazarethe : of that Cytee was Symon Chananeus, and his Wif Canee ; of the whiche the Holy Evaungelist spekethe off : there dide oure Lord the firste Myracle at the Wedyng, whan he turned Watre in to Wyn. And in the ende of Galilee, at the hilles, was the Arke of God taken ; and on that other syde is the Mownt Hendor or Hermon. And there aboute gothe the Broke of Cison : and there besyde, Barache, that was Abymeleche Sone, with Delbore the Prophetisse, overcam the Oost of Ydumea, whan Cysera the Kyng was slayn of Gebelle, the Wif of Aber ;<sup>r</sup> and chaced bezonde the Flom Jordan, be Strengthe of Sword, Zeb and Zebee and Salmana ; and there he slowghe hem. Also a 5 Myle fro Naym, is the Cytee of Jezreel, that somtyme was clept Zarym ; of the whiche Cytee Jexabel the cursed Queen was Lady and Queen, that toke away the Vyne of Nabaothe, be hire Strengthe. Faste by that Cytee, is the Feld Magede, in the whiche the Kyng Joras was slayn of the Kyng of Samarie, and aftre was translated and buryed in the Mount Syon. And a Myle fro Jezrael ben the Hilles of Gelboe, where Saul and Jonathas that weren so faire, dyeden : wherfore David cursed hem, as Holy Wrytt seythe ; Montes Gelboe, nec Ros nec Pluvia, &c. ; that is to seye, Zee Hilles of Gelboe, nouthen Dew ne Reyn com upon zou. And a Myle fro the Hilles of Gelboe, toward the Est, is the Cytee of Cyrople, that was clept before Bethsayn.

And upon the Walles of that Cytee was the Hed of Saul honged.

Aftre gon men be the hille, besyde the Pleynes of Galylee, unto Nazarethe, where was wont to ben a gret Cytee and a fair : but now there is not, but a lytille Village, and Houses a brood here and there. And it is not walled ; and it sytt in a litille Valeye, and there ben Hilles alle aboute. There was oure Lady born : but sche was gotten at Jerusalem. And be cause that oure Lady was born at Nazarethe, therfore bare oure Lord his Surname of that Town. There toke Joesephe our Lady to Wyf, whan sche was 14 Zeere of Age : and there Gabrielle grette our Lady, seyenge, Ave gratia plena, Dominus tecum ; that is to seyne, Heyl fulle of Grace, oure Lord is with the. And this Salutacioun was don in a place of a gret Awteer of a faire Chirche, that was wont to be somtyme : but it is now alle downe : and men han made a litylle Resceyt, besyde a Pylere of that Chirche, for to resceyve the Offrynges of Pilgrymes. And the Sarrazines kepen that place fulle derely, for the profyte that thei han there offe : and thei ben fulle wykked Sarrazines and cruelle, and more dispytous than in ony other place, and han destroyed alle the Chirches. There nyghe is Gabrielles Welle, where oure Lord was wont to bathe him, whan he was zong : and fro that Welle bare he Watre often tyme to his Modre : and in that Welle sche wossche often tyme the Clowtes of hire Sone Jesu Crist. And fro Jerusalem unto thidre, is 3 Journeyes. At Nazarethe was oure Lord norisscht. Nazarethe is als meche to seye, as Flour of the Gardyn: and be gode skylle may it ben clept Flour; for there was norisscht the Flour of Lyf, that was Crist Jesu. And 2 Myle fro Nazarethe, is the Cytee of Sephor, be the Weye, that gothe fro Nazerethe to Acon. And an half Myle fro Nazarethe, is the Lepe of oure Lord: for the Jewes ladden him upon an highe Roche, for to make him lepe doun, and have slayn him: but Jesu passed amonges hem, and lepte upon another Roche; and zit ben the Steppes of his Feet sene in the Roche, where he allyghte. And therfore seyn sum men, whan thei dreden hem of Thefes, on ony Weye, or of Enemyes; Jesus autem transiens per medium illorū ibat; that is to seyne, Jesus forsothe passynge be the myddes of hem, he wente: in tokene and mynde, that oure Lord passed thorghe out the Jewes Crueltee, and scaped safly fro hem: so surely mowe men passen the perile of Thefes. And than sey Men 2 Vers of the Psautre, 3 Sithes: Irruat super eos formido & pavor, in magnitudine Brachii tui, Domine. Fiant immobiles, quasi Lapis, donec pertranseat populus tuus, Domine; donec pertranseat populus tuus iste, quem possedisti. And thanne may men passe with outen perile. And zee schulle undirstonde, that oure Lady hadde Child, whan sche was 15 Zeere old: and sche was conversant with hire Sone 33 Zeer and 3 Monethes. And afre the Passioun of oure Lord, sche lyvede 24 Zeer.

Also fro Nazarethe, men gon to the Mount Thabor; and that is a 4 Myle: and it is a fulle faire Hille, and well highe, where was wont to ben a Toun and many Chirches; but thei ben alle destroyed ; but zit there is a place, that men clepen the Scole of God, where he was wont to teche his Disciples, and tolde hem the Prevytees of Hevene. And at the foot of that Hille, Melchisedeche, that was Kyng of Salem, in the turnynge of that Hille, mette Abraham in comynge azen from the Bataylle, whan he had slayn Abymeleche : and this Melchisedeche was bothe Kyng and Prest of Salem, that now is cleped Jerusalem. In that Hille Thabor, oure Lord transfigured him before seynt Petre, seynt John and seynt Jame ; and there thei sawghe gostly Moyses and Elye the Prophetes besyde hem : and therfore seyde seynt Petre, Domine, bonum est nos hic esse ; faciamus tria Tabernacula ; that is to seye, Lorde, it is gode for us to ben here ; make we here 3 dwellyng places. And there herd thei a Voys of the Fadir, that seye, Hic est filius meus dilectus, in quo mihi bene complacui. And oure Lord defended hem, that thei scholde not telle that Avisioun, til that he were rysen from Dethe to Lyf. In that Hille and in that same place, at the day of Doom, 4 Aungeles, with 4 Trompes, schulle blowen and reysen alle men, that hadden suffred Dethe, sithe that the World was formed, from Dethe to Lyve ; and schulle comen in Body and Soule in Juggement ; before the face of oure Lord, in the Vale of Josaphathe. And the Doom schalle ben on Estre Day, suche tyme as oure Lord aroos : and the Dom schalle begynne, suche houre as oure Lord descended to Helle and dispoyled it : for at such Houre schal he dispoyle the World, and lede his chosene to Blisse ; and the othere schalle be condempne to perpetuelle Peynes : and thanne schalle every man have aftir his dissert, outhere Gode or Evylle ; but zif the Mercy of God passe his Rightewisnesse.

Also a Myle from Mount Thabor, is the Mount Heremon ; and there was the Cytee of Naym. Before the Zate of that Cytee, reysed oure Lord the Wydewes sone, that had no no Children. Also 3 Myle fro Nazarethe, is the Castelle Saffra ; of the whiche, the Sones of Zebedee and the Sones of Alphee weren. Also a 7 Myle fro Nazarethe, is the Mount Kayn ; and undre that is a Welle, and besyde that Welle, Lameche Noees Fadre sloughe Kaym with an Arwe. For this Kaym wente thorghe Breres and Bussches, as a wylde Best ; and he had lyved fro the tyme of Adam his Fadir, unto the tyme of Noe ; and so he lyvede nyghe to 2000 Zeer. And this Lameche was alle blynd for elde.

*cf. Coosmby
Mysteries
ff. 41-46*

Fro Saffra, men gothe to the See of Galylee and to the Cytee of Tyberye, that sytt upon the same See. And alle be it, that men clepen it a See, zit is it nouthere See ne Arm of the See : for it is but a Stank of fresche Watir, that is in lengthe 100 Furlonges ; and of brede 40 Furlonges ; and hathe with in him gret plentee of gode Fissche, and rennethe in to Flom Jordan. The Cytee is not fulle gret, but it hathe gode Bathes with in him. And there, as the Flom Jordan partethe fro the See of Galilee, is a gret Brigge, where men passen from the Lond of Promyssioun, to the Lond of Baazan and the Lond of Gerrasentz, that ben about the Flom Jordan, and the begynnyng of the See of Tyberie. And fro thens may men go to Damask, in 3 dayes, be the Kyngdom of Traconye ; the whiche Kyngdom lastethe fro Mount

Heremon to the See of Galilee, or to the See of Tyberie, or to the See of Jenazarethe ; and alle is o See, and this the Stank that I have told zou ; but it chaungethe thus the name, for the names of the Cytees that sytten besyde hem. Upon that See, went oure Lord drye feet ; and there he toke up seynt Petir, when he began to drenche with in the See, and seyde to him, Modice Fidei, quare dubitasti? And aftre his Resurrexioun, oure Lord appered on that See, to his Disciples, and bad hem fyssche, and filled alle the Nett fulle of gret Fisshes. In that See rowed oure Lord often tyme ; and there he called to hym, seynt Petir, seynt Andrew, seynt James and seynt John, the Sones of Zebedee. In that Cytee of Tyberie, is the Table, upon the whiche oure Lord eete upon, with his Disciples, aftre his Resurrexioun ; and thei knewen him in brekyng of Bred, as the Gospelle seythe ; Et cognoverunt eum in fractione Panis. And nyghe that Cytee of Tyberie, is the Hille, where oure Lord fedde 5 thousand Persones, with

5 barly Loves and 2 Fisshes. In that Cytee, a man cast an brennyng Dart in wratthe aftir oure Lord, and the Hed smot in to the Eerthe, and wax grene, and it growed to a gret Tree; and zit it growethe, and the Bark there of is alle lyk Coles. Also in the Hed of that See of Galilee, toward the Sep-temtryon, is a strong Castelle and an highe, that highte Saphor: and fast besyde it, is Capharnaum: with in the Lond of Promyssioun, is not so strong a Castelle: and there is a gode Toun benethe, that is clept also Saphor. In that Castel, seynt Anne oure Ladyes Modre was born. And there benethe was Centurioes Hous. That Contree is clept the Galilee of Folk,<sup>s</sup> that weren taken to Tribute of Sabulon, and of Neptalym. And in azen comynge fro that Castelle, a 30 Myle, is the Cytee of Dan, that somtyme was clept Belynas, or Cesaire Philippon, that sytt at the foot of the Mount of Lyban, where the Flom Jordan begynneth. There begynneth the Lond of Promyssioun, and durethe unto Bersabee, in lengthe, in goynge toward the Northe in to the Southe; and it conteyneth well a 180 Myles: and of brede, that is to seye, fro Jericho unto Jaffe, and that conteyneth a 40 Myle of Lombardye, or of oure Contree, that ben also lytylle Myles. These ben not Myles of Gascoyne, ne of the Provynce of Almayne, where ben gret Myles. And wite zee welle, that the Lond of Promyssioun is in Sirye. For the Reme of Syrie durethe fro the Desertes of Arabye, unto Cecyle, and that is Ermony the grete, that is to seyne, fro the Southe to the Northe: and fro the Est to the West, it durethe fro the grete Desertes of Arabye unto the West See. But in that Reme of Syrie, is the Kyngdom of Judee, and many other Provynces, as Palestyne, Galilee, litylle Cilicye, and many othere. In that Contree and other Contrees bezonde, thei han a Custom, whan thei schulle usen Werre, and whan men holden Sege abouten Cytee or Castelle, and thei with innen dur not senden out Messagers with Lettres, frō Lord to Lord, for to aske Sokour, thei maken here Letters and bynden hem to the Nekke of a Colver, and leten the Colver flee ; and the Colveren ben so taughte, that thei fleen with tho Lettres to the verry place, that men wolde sende hem to. For the Colveres ben norysscht in tho Places, where thei ben sent to ; and thei senden hem thus, for to beren here Lettres. And the Colveres retournen azen, where as thei ben norisscht ; and so thei don comounly.

And zee schulle undirstonde, that amonges the Sarazines, o part and other, duellen many Cristene men, of many maneres and dyverse names ; and alle ben baptized, and han dyverse Lawes and dyverse Customes : but alle beleven in God the Fadir and the Sone and the Holy Gost : but alle weys fayle thei, in some Articles of oure Feythe. Some of theise ben clept Jacobytes : for seynt Jame converted hem, and seynt John baptized hem. They seyn, that a Man schal maken his Confessioun only to God, and not to a Man : for only to him, scholde man zelden him gylty of alle, that he hathe mys don. Ne God ordeyned not, ne never devysed, ne the Prophete nouthere, that a man scholde schryven him to another, (as thei seyn) but only to God : as Moyses writethe in the Bible, and as David seythe in the Psawtre Boke ; Confitebor tibi, Domine, in toto Corde meo : and, Delictum meum tibi cognitum feci : And, Deus meus

P. xxxii. 5

es tu, & confitebor tibi ; And, Quoniam cogitatio hominis confitebitur tibi ; &c. For thei knowen alle the Bible, and the Psautere : and therefore allegge thei so the Lettre : but thei alleggen not the Auctoritees thus in Latyn, but in here Langage, fulle appertely ; and seyn wel, that David and othere

Prophetes seyn it. Natheles seynt Austyn and seynt Gregory seyn thus : Augustinus ; Qui scelera sua cogitat, & conversus fuerit, veniam sibi credat. Gregorius ; Dominus potius mentem quam verba respicit. And seynt Hillary seythe ; Longorū temporum crimina, in ictu Oculi pereunt, si Cordis nata fuerit compunctio. And for suche Auctoritees, thei seyn, that only to God schalle a man knoueleche his Defautes, zeldynge him self gyilty, and cryenge him mercy, and behotyng to him to amende him self. And therefore whan thei wil schryven hem, thei taken Fyre, and sette it besyde hem, and casten therin Poudre of Frank encens ; and in the Smoke therof, thei schryven hem to God, and cryen him mercy. But Sothe it is, that this Confessioun was first and kyndely : but seynt Petre the Apostle, and thei that camen afre him, han ordeynd to make here Confessioun to man ; and be gode Resoun : for thei perceyveden wel, that no Syknesse was curable, by gode Medycyne to leye therto, but zif men knewen the nature of the Maladye. And also no man may zeven covenable Medycyne, but zif he knowe the qualitee of the Dede. For o Synne may be grettere in o man than in another, and in o place and in o tyme than in another: and therfore it behovethe him, that he knowe the kynde of the Dede, and there-upon to zeven him Penance.

There ben othere, that ben clept Surienes; and thei holden the Beleeve amonges us, and of hem of Grece. And thei usen alle Berdes, as men of Grece don: and thei make the Sacrement of therf Bred: and in here Langage, thei usen Lettres of Sarrazines; but afre the Misterie of Holy Chirche, thei usen Lettres of Grece; and thei maken here Confessiou, right as the Jacobytes don.

There ben othere, that men clepen Georgyenes, that seynt George converted; and him thei worshipen, more than ony other Seynt; and to him thei cryen for help: and thei camen out of the Reme of George. Theise Folk usen Crounes schaven. The Clerkes han rounde Crounes, and the lewed men han Crownes alle square: and thei holden Cristene Lawe, as don thei of Grece; of whom I have spoken of before.

Othere there ben, that men clepen Cristene men of Gyrdyng: for thei ben alle gyrt aboven. And ther ben othere, that men clepen Nestoryenes; and summe Arryenes, sūme Nubyenes, sūme of Grees, sūme of Ynde, and sūme of Prestre Johnes Lond. And alle theise han manye Articles of oure Feythe, and to othere thei ben varyaunt. And of here variance, were to longe to telle; and so I wil leve, as for the tyme, with outen more spekyng of hem.

Cap. XI.

Of the Cytee of Damasce. Of 3 Weyes to Jerusalem; on be Londe and be See; another more be Londe than be See; and the thridde Weye to Jerusalem, alle be Londe.

Now aftre that I have told zou sum partye of Folk, in the Contrees before, now wille I turnen azen to my Weye, for to turnen azen to this half. Thanne whoso wil go fro the Lond of Galilee, of that that I have spoke, for to come azen on this half, men comen azen be Damasce, that is a fulle fayre Cytee, and fulle noble, and fulle of alle Merchandises, and a 3 Journeyes long fro the See, and a 5 Journeyes fro Jerusalem. But upon Camaylles, Mules, Hors, Dromedaries and other Bestes, men caryen here Marchandise thidre: and thidre comethe Marchauntes with Marchandise be See, from Yndee, Persee, Caldee, Ermonye, and of manye othere Kyngdomes. This Cytee founded Helizeus Damascus, that was Zoman and Despenser of Abraham, before that Ysaac was born: for he thoughte for to have ben Abrahames Heir: and he named the Toun aftre his Surname Damasc. And in that place, where Damasc was founded, Kaym sloughe Abel his Brother. And besyde Damasc is the Mount Seyr. In that Cytee of Damasc, ther is gret plentee of Welles: and with in the Cytee and with oute, ben many fayre Gardynes, and of dyverse frutes. Non other Cytee is not lyche in comparisoun to it, of faire Gardynes, and of faire Desportes. The Cytee is gret and fulle of Peple, and wel walled with double Walles. And there ben manye Phisicyens. And seint Poul him self was there a Phisicyen, for to kepen mennes Bodies in hele, before he was converted; and aftre that, he was Phisicien of Soules. And seynt Luke the Evaungelist was Disciple of seynt Poul, for to lerne Phisik; and many othere. For seynt Poul held thanne Scole of Phisik. And neere besyde Damasce, was he converted: and aftre his Conuersioun, he duelte in that Cytee 3 Dayes, with outen sight, and with outen Mete or Drinke. And in tho 3 Dayes he was ravisscht to Hevene, and there he saughe many prevytees of oure Lord. And faste besyde Damasce, is the Castelle of Arkes, that is bothe fair and strong. From Damasce, men comen azen, be oure Lady of Sardenak, that is a 5 Myle on this half Damasce; and it is sytt upon a Roche, and it is a fulle faire place, and it semethe a Castelle; for there was wont to ben a Castelle: but it is now a fulle faire Chirche. And there with inne, ben Monkes and Nonnes Cristene. And ther is a Vowt, undre the Chirche, where that Cristene men duellen also: and thei han many gode Vynes. And in the Chirche, behynde the highe Awtere, in the Walle, is a Table of black Wode, on the whiche somtyme was depeynted an Ymage of oure Lady, that turnethe into Flesche; but now the Ymage schewethe but litille: 'but evermore thorewe the grace of God, that Table droppeth as hyt were of Olyve. And there is a Vessel of Marbre, undre the Table, to resseyve the Oyle, thare of thay yeven unto Pylgrymes: for it heleth of many Sykenesses. And he that kepeth it clanly a yere, aftre that yere, hyt turneth yn to Flesche and Bloode.

that ylke way. And who so gooth that, he mote goon thorewe Almaȳn and Pruys; and so un to Tartarye. This Tartarye ys holden of the great Chan, of whom y schal speke more afterwarde. For thydur lasteth hys Lordschup. And the Lordes of Tartarye yeldeth unto the grete Chan Trybute. Thys ys a ful ille Lande, and a sondye, and wel lytel fruyt beryng. For thare groweth lytel goude of Corne or Wyn, ne Benes ne Pese: but Beestes ben thare y nowē, and that ful grete plente. And thare ete thay nougt but Flesche with outen Brede; and thay soupe the Brothe there of: and also thay drynke the mylk. And alle manere of wylde Beestes they eten,<sup>d</sup> Houndes, Cattes, Ratouns, and alle othere wylde Bestes. And thei have no Wode, or elle lytyle. And therfore thei warmen and sethen here Mete with Hors Dong and Cow Dong, and of other Bestes, dried azenst the Sonne. And Princes and othere eten not, but ones in the day; and that but lytyle. And thei ben righte foule folk and of evyl kynde. And in Somer, be alle the Contrees, fallen many Tempestes and many hydouse Thondres and Leytes, and slen meche Peple and Bestes also, fulle often tyme. And sodeynly is there passynge hete, and sodeynly also passynge cold. And it is the foulest Contree, and the most cursed, and the porest, that men knowen. And here Prince, that governethe that Contree, that thei clepen Batho, duellethe at the Cytee of Orda. And treuly no gode man scholde not duellen in that Contre. For the Lond and the Contree is not worthi Houndes to dwelle inne. It were a gode Contree to sowen inne Thristelle and Breres and Broom and Thornes; and for no other thing is it not good. Natheless there is gode Londe in sum place; but it is pure litille, as men seyn. I have not ben in that Contree, ne be tho Weyes: but I have ben at other Londes, that marchen to tho Contrees; and in the Lond of Russye, and in the Lond of Nyflan, and in the Reme of Crako, and of Letto, and in the Reme of Daresten, and in manye other places, that marchen to the Costes: but I wente never be that weye to Jerusalem; wherfore I may not wel telle zou the manere. But zif this matiere plesse to ony worthi man, that hathe gon be that weye, he may telle it, zif him lyke; to that entent, that tho that wole go by that weye, and maken here viage be tho Costes, mowen knowen what weye is there. For no man may passe be that Weye godely, but in tyme of Wyntir, for the perilous Watres, and wykkede Mareyes that ben in tho Contrees; that no man may passe, but zif it be strong Frost, and Snowe aboven. For zif the Snow ne were, men myght not gon upon the Yse, ne Hors ne Carre nouthur. And it is wel a 3 Journeys of suche Weye, to passe frō Prusse to the Lond of Sarazin habitable. And it behovethe to the Cristene men, that schulle Werre azen hem every Zeer, to bere here Vitaylles with hem: for thei schulle fynde there no good. And than most thei let carye here Vitaylle upon the Yse, with Carres that have no Wheelles, that thei clepen Scleyes. And als longe as here Vitaylles lasten, thei may abide there, but no longer. For there schulle thei fynde no Wight, that will selle hem ony Vitaille or ony thing. And whan

And zee schulle undirstonde, that it fresethe more strongly in tho Contrees than on this half; and therefore hathe every man Stewes in his Hous, and in tho Stewes thei eten and don here Occupatiouns, alle that thei may. For that is at the Northe parties, that men clepen the Septentrionelle, where it is alle only cold. For the Sonne is but lytille or non toward tho Contreyes: and therefore in the Septentryon, that is verry Northe, is the Lond so cold, that no man may duelle there: and in the contrarye, toward the Southe, it is so hoot, that no man ne may duelle there; because that the Sonne, whan he is upon the Southe, castethe his Bemess alle streghte upon that partye.

Cap. XII.

Of the Customes of Sarasines, and of hire Lawe; and how the Soudan arresond me, Auctour of this Book. And of the begynnynge of Machomete.

Freeman's "Saracens" p. 90. "It is at least the last century the truest and most liberal account of the Mahometan system was to be found in the medieval traveller Sir John Maundevile."

Now because that I have spoken of Sarazines and of here Contree, now zif zee wil knowe a party of here Lawe and of here Beleve, I schalle telle zou, afre that here Book, that is clept Alkaron, tellethe. And sum men clepen that Book Meshaf: and sum men clepen it Harme, afre the dyverse Langages of the Contree. The whiche Book Machamete toke hem. In the whiche Boke, among other thinges, is writen, as I have often tyme seen and radd, that the Gode schulle gon to Paradys, and the Evele to Helle: and that beleven alle Sarrazines. And zif a Man aske hem, what Paradys thei menen; thei seyn, to Paradys, that is a place of Delytes, where men schulle fynde alle maner of Frutes, in alle Cesouns, and Ryveres rennyng of Mylk and Hony, and of Wyn, and of swete Watre; and that thei schulle have faire Houses and noble, every man aftre his Dissert, made of precyous Stones, and of Gold, and of Sylver; and that every man schalle have 80<sup>e</sup> Wyfes, alle Maydenes; and he schalle have ado every day with hem, and zit he schalle fynden hem alle weys Maydenes. Also thei beleven and speke gladly of the Virgine Marie and of the Incarnacioun. And thei seyn, that Marye was taughte of the Angel; and that Gabrielle seyde to hire, that sche was forchosen from the begynnyng of the World; and that he schewed to hire the Incarnacioun of Jesu Crist; and that sche conceived and bare Child, Mayden: and that wytnessthe here Boke. And thei seyn also, that Jesu Crist spak als sone as he was born; and that he was an Holy Prophete and a trewe, in woord and dede, and meke and pytous and rightefulle and with outen ony vyce. And thei seyn also, that whan the Angel schewed the Incarnacioun of Crist unto Marie, sche was zong, and had gret drede. For there was thāne an Enchantour in the Contree, that deled with Wycche craft, that men clepten Taknia, that be his Enchaumentes cowde make him in lyknesse of an Angel, and wente often tymes and lay with Maydenes: and therefore Marie dredde, lest it hadde ben Taknia,

that cam for to desceyve the Maydenes. And therefore sche conjured the Angel, that he scholde telle hire, zif it were he or no. And the Angel answerde and seyde, that sche scholde have no drede of him : for he was verry Messenger of Jesu Crist. Also here Book seythe, that whan that sche had childed undre a Palme Tree, sche had gret schame, that sche hadde a Child ; and sche grette, and seyde, that sche wolde that sche hadde ben ded. And anon the Child spak to hire and comforted hire, and seyde, Modir, ne dismaye the noughte ; for God hathe hidd in the his prevytees, for the salvacioun of the World. And in othere many places seythe here Alkaron, that Jesu Crist spak als sone as he was born. And that Book seythe also, that Jesu was sent from God alle myghty, for to ben Myroure and Ensamble and Tokne<sup>f</sup> to alle men. And the Alkaron seythe also of the day of Doom, how God schal come to deme alle maner of folk ; and the Gode he schalle drawen on his syde, and putte hem in to Blisse ; and the wykkede he schal condempne to the peynes of Helle. And amonges alle Prophetes, Jesu was the most excellent and the moste worthi, next God ; and that he made the Gospelles, in the whiche is gode Doctryne and helefulle, fulle of Charitee and Sothefastnesse, and trewe prechinge to hem that beleeven in God ; and that he was a verry Prophete, and more than a Prophete ; and lyved with outen Synne, and zaf syghte to the Blynde, and helede the Lepres, and reysede dede men, and steyghe to Hevene. And whan thei mowe holden the Boke of the Gospelles of oure

Lord writen, and namely, Missus est Angelus Gabriel; that Gospel thei seyn, tho that ben lettred, often tymes in here Orisouns, and thei kissen it and worschipen it, with gret devocioun. Thei fasten an hool Monethe in the Zeer, and eten noughte but be nyghte, and thei kepen hem fro here Wyfes alle that Monethe: but the seke men be not constreyned to that Fast. Also this Book spekethe of Jewes; and seythe, that thei ben cursed; for thei wolde not beleven, that Jesu Crist was comen of God; and that thei lyeden falsely on Marie and on hire Sone Jesu Crist, seyenge that thei hadden crucyfied Jesu the Sone of Marie: for he was nevere crucyfied, as thei seyn; but that God made him to stye up to him with outen Dethe, and with outen Anoye: but he transfigured his lyknesse in to Judas Scariothe, and him crucyfieden the Jewes, and wenden that it had ben Jesus: but Jesus steyghe to Hevenes alle quyk; and therefore thei seyn, that the Cristene men erren and han no gode knowleche of this, and that thei beleeven folyly and falsly, that Jesu Crist was crucyfied. And thei seyn zit, that and he had ben crucyfied, that God had don azen his rightewisnesse, for to suffre Jesu Crist, that was innocent, to ben put upon the Cros, with outen Gylt. And in this Article thei seyn, that wee faylen, and that the gret Rightewisnesse of God ne myghte not suffre so gret a wrong. And in this, faylethe here Feythe. For thei knoulechen wel, that the Werkes of Jesu Crist ben gode, and his Wordes and his Dedes and his Doctryne by his Gospelles, weren trewe, and his Meracles also trewe; and the blessed Virgine Marie is good, and holy Mayden, before and aftre the Birthe of Jesu Crist; and that alle tho, that beleven perfytely in God, schul ben saved. And because that thei gon so nye oure Feythe, thei ben lyghtly converted to Cristene Lawe, whan men prechen hem and schewen hem distynctly the Lawe of Jesu Crist, and tellen hem of the Prophecyes. And also thei seyn, that thei knowen wel, be the Prophecyes, that the Lawe of Machomete schalle faylen, as the Lawe of the Jewes dide; and that the Lawe of Cristene peple schalle laste to the day of Doom. And zif ony man aske hem, what is here Beleeve; thei answeren thus, and in this forme, Wee beleven God Formyour of Hevene and of Erthe and of alle othere things, that he made. And withouten him is no thing made. And we beleven of the day of Doom, and that every man schalle have his Meryte, aftre he hathe disserved. And we beleve it for Sothe, alle that God hathe seyde be the mouthes of his Prophetes. Also Machomet cōmanded in his Alkaron, that every man scholde have 2 Wyfes or 3 or 4; but now thei taken unto 9, and of Lemmanes als manye as he may susteyne. And zif ony of here Wyfes mys beren hem azenst hire Husbonde, he may caste hire out of his House, and departe from him, and take another: but he schalle departe with hire his Godes. Also whan men speken to hem, of the Fadre and of the Sone and of the Holy Gost, thei seyn, that thei ben 3 persones; but not o God. Fore here Alkaron spekethe not of the Trynyte. But thei seyn wel, that God hathe speche, and elle where he dowmb; and God hathe also a Spirit, thei knowen wel, for elle thei seyn, he were not in lyve. And whan men speken to hem of the Incarnaciōū, how that, be the word of the Angel, God sente his Wysdom in to Erthe, and enumbred him in the Virgyne Marie: and be the woord of God, schulle the Dede bē reysed, at the day of Doom; thei seyn, that it is Sothe, and that the Woord of God hathe gret Strengthe. And thei seyn, that whoso knew not the Woord of God, he scholde not knowe God. And thei seyn also, that Jesu Crist is the Woord of God; and so seythe here Alkaron, where it seythe, that the Angel spak to Marie and seyde, Marie, God schalle preche the Gospel be the Woord of his Mowthe, and his name schalle be clept Jesu Crist. And thei seyn also, that Abraham was Frend to God, and that Moyses was famileer spekere with God; and Jesu Crist was the Woord and the Spirit of God; and that Machomete was right Messager of God. And thei seyn, that of theise 4, Jesu was the most worthi and the most excellent and the most gret; so that thei han many gode Articles of oure Feythe, alle be it that thei have no parfite Lawe and Feythe, as Cristene men han; and therefore ben thei lightly converted; and namely, tho that undirstonden the Scriptures and the Prophecyes. For thei han Gospelles and the Prophecyes and the Byble, writen in here Langage. Wherfore thei conne meche of Holy Wrytt, but thei undirstonde it not, but aftre the Lettre: and so don the Jewes; for thei undirstonde not the Lettre gostly, but bodyly: and therefore ben thei repreved of the wise, that gostly understonden it. And therefore seythe seynt Poul; Litera occidit; Spiritus vivificat. Also the Sarazines seyn, that the Jewes ben cursed: for

studii de particule in sine

thei han defouled the Lawe, that God sente hem be Moyses. And the Cristene ben cursed also, as thei seyn: for their kepen not the Comandementes and the Preceptes of the Gospelle, that Jesu Crist taughte hem. And therefore I schalle telle zou, what the Soudan tolde me upon a day, in his Chambre. He leet voyden out of his Chambre alle maner of men, Lordes and othere: for he wolde speke with me in Conseille. And there he askede me, how the Cristene men governed hem in oure Contree. And I seyde him, Righte wel: thonked be God. And he seyde me, Treulyche, nay: for zee Cristene men ne recthen righte noghte how untrewly to serve God. Ze scholde zeven ensample to the lewed peple, for to do wel; and zee zeven hem ensample to don evylle. For the Comownes, upon festyfulle dayes, whan thei scholden gon to Chirche to serve God, than gon thei to Tavernes, and ben there in glotony, alle the day and alle nyghte, and eten and drynken, as Bestes that have no resoun, and wite not whan thei have y now. And also the Cristene men enforcen hem, in alle maneres that thei mowen, for to fighte, and for to desceyven that on that other. And there with alle thei ben so proude, that thei knowen not how to ben clothed; now long, now schort, now streyt, now large, now swerded, now daggered, and in alle manere gyses. Thei scholden ben symple, meke and trewe, and fulle of Almes dede, as Jhesu was, in whom thei trowe: but thei ben alle the contrarie, and evere enclyned to the Evylle, and to don evylle. And thei ben so covetous, that for a lytylle Sylver, thei sellen here Doughtres, here Sustres and here owne Wyfes, to putten hem to Leccherie. And on with drawethe the Wif of another: and non of hem holdethe Feythe to another: but thei defoulen here Lawe, that Jhesu Crist betook hem to kepe, for here Salvacioun. And thus for here Synnes, han thei lost alle this Lond, that wee holden. For, for hire Synnes here God hathe taken hem in to oure Hondes, noghte only be Strengthe of our self, but for here Synnes. For wee knowen wel in verry sothe, that whan zee serve God, God wil helpe zou: and whan he is with zou, no man may be azenst you. And that knowe we wel, be oure Prophecyes, that Cristene men schulle wynnen azen this Lond out of oure Hondes, whan thei serven God more devoutly. But als longe als thei ben of foule and of unclene Lyvyng, (as thei ben now) wee have no drede of hem, in no kynde: for here God wil not helpen hem in no wise. And than I asked him, how he knew the State of Cristene men. And he answerde me, that he knew alle the state of the Comounes also, be his Messangeres, that he sente to alle Londes, in manere as thei weren Marchauntes of precyous Stones, of Clothes of Gold and of othere thinges; for to knowen the manere of every Contree amonges Cristene men. And than he leet clepe in alle the Lordes, that he made voyden first out of his Chambr; and there he schewed me 4, that weren grete Lordes in the Contree, that tolden me of my Contree, and of many othere Cristene Contrees, als wel as thei had ben of the same Contree: and thei spak Frensche righte wel; and the Sowdan also, where of I had gret Marvaylle. Allas! that it is gret sclaudre to oure Feythe and to oure Lawe, ger Machomet; to the whiche, as thei seyne, seynt Gabrielle the Aungel often tyme tolde the wille of God. And zee schulle undirstonde, that Macha-mote was born in Arabye, that was first a pore Knave, that kept Cameles, that wenten with Marchantes for Marchandize; and so befelle, that he wente with the Marchandes in to Egipt: and thei weren than Cristene, in tho partyes. And at the Desertes of Arabye, he wente in to a Chapelle, where a Eremyte duelte. And when he entred in to the Chapelle, that was but a lytille and a low thing, and had but a lityl Dore and a low, than the Entree began to wexe so gret and so large and so highe, as thoughe it had ben of a gret Mynstre, or the Zate of a Paleys. And this was the firste Myracle, the Sarazins seyn, that Machomete dide in his Zouth. Afre began he for to wexe wyse and riche; and he was a gret Astronomer: and afre he was Goveronour and Prince of the Lond of Cozrodane; and he governed it fully wisely, in suche manere, that whan the Prince was ded, he toke the Lady to Wyfe, that highte Gadrige. And Machomete felle often in the grete Sikenesse, that men callen the fallynge Evylle: wherfore the Lady was fulle sorry, that evere sche toke him to Husbonde. But Machomete made hire to beleeve, that alle tymes, whan he felle so, Gabriel the Angel cam for to speke with him; and for the gret lighte and brightnesse of the Angelle, he myghte not susteyne him fro fallynge. And therefore the Sarazines seyn, that Gabriel cam often to speke with him. This Machomete regned in Arabye, the Zeer of oure Lord Jhesu Crist 610; and was of the Generacioun of Ysmael, that was Abrahames Sone, that he gat upon Agar his Chamberere. And therefore ther ben Sarazines, that ben clept Ismaelytenes; and sūme Agaryenes, of Agar: and the othere proprly ben clept Sarrazines, of Sarra: and sūme ben clept Moabytes, and sūme Amonytes; fro the 2 Sones of Lothe, Moab and Amon, that he begat on his Doughtres, that weren aftirward grete erthely Princes. And also Machomete loved wel a gode Heremyte, that duelled in the Desertes, a Myle fro Mount Synay, in the Weye that men gon fro Arabye toward Caldee, and toward Ynde, o day journey fro the See, where the Marchauntes of Venyse comen often for Marchandise. And so often wente Machomete to this Heremyte, that alle his men weren wrothe: for he wolde gladly here this Heremyte preche, and make his men wake alle nyghte: and therefore his men thoughten to putte the Heremyte to Dethe: and so it befelle upon a nyght, that Machomete was dronken of gode Wyn, and he felle on slepe; and his men toke Machometes Swerd out of his Schethe, whils he slepte, and there with thei slowghe this Heremyte; and putten his Swerd alle bldy in his Schethe azen. And at morwe, whan he fond the Heremyte ded, he was fulle sory and wrothe, and wolde have don his men to Dethe:

 but thei alle with on accord seyde, that he him self had slayn him, when he was dronken, and schewed him his Swerd alle bldy: and he trowed, that thei hadden seyde sothe. And than he cursed the Wyn, and alle tho that drynken it. And therefore Sarrazines, that be devout, drynken nevere no Wyn: but sūme drynken it prevyly. For zif thei dronken it openly, thei scholde ben repreved.
 But thei drynken gode Beverage and swete and norysshynge, that is made of Galamelle: and that is that men maken Sugar of, that is of righte gode savour: and it is gode for the Breest. Also it befallethe sumtyme, that Cristene men becomen Sarazines, outhere for povertie, or for symplenesse, or elles for here owne wykkednesse. And therefore

Of the Londes of Albanye, and of Libye. Of the Wisshinges, for Wacchinge of the Sperhawk; and of Noes Schippe.

Now sithe I have told zou befor of the Holy Lond, and of that Contree abouten, and of many Weyes for to go to that Lond, and to the Mount Synay, and of Babyloyn the more and the lesse, and to other places, that I have spoken befor; now is tyme, zif it lyke zou, for to telle zou of the Marches and Iles, and dyverse Bestes, and of dyverse folk bezond theise Marches. For in the Contrees bezonden, ben many dyverse Contrees, and many grete Kyngdomes; that ben departed be the 4 Flodes, that comen from Paradys terrestre. For Mesopotayme and the Kyngdō of Caldee and Arabye, ben betwene the 2 Ryveres of Tygre and of Eufrates. And the Kyngdom of Mede and of Persye, ben betwene the Ryveres of Nile and of Tigres. And the Kyngdom of Syrie, where of I have spoken befor, and Palestyne and Phenyce, ben betwene Eufrates and the See Medytterrane: the whiche See durethe in Lengthe, fro Mayrok, upon the See of Spayne, unto the grete See; so that it lastethe bezonde Costantynople

And afre undre Schithie, and fro the See of Caspie, unto the Flom Thainy, is Amazoyne, that is the Lond of Femynye, where that no man is, but only alle Wommen. And afre is Albanye, a fulle gret Reme. And it is clept Albanye, because the Folk ben whitere there, than in other Marches there abouten. And in that Contree ben so gret Houndes and so stronge, that thei assaylen Lyouns, and

The which Lond of Lybye, (that is to seyne Libye the lowe) that begynneth at the See of Spayne, fro thens where the Pyleres of Hercules ben, and durethe unto aneyntes Egipt and toward Ethiope. In that Contree of Libye, is the See more highe than the Lond; and it semethe that it wolde covere the Erthe, and nathes zit it passethe not his Markes. And men seen in that Contre a Mountayne, to the whiche no man comethe. In this Lond of Libye, whoso turnethe toward the Est, the Schadewe of him self is on the right syde: and here in oure Contree, the schadwe is on the left syde. In that See of Libye, is no Fische: for thei mowe not lyve ne dure, for the gret hete of the Sonne; because that the Watre is evermore boyllynge, for the gret hete. And many othere Londes there ben, that it were to long to tellen or to nombren: but of sum parties, I schal speke more pleynty here aftre.

Whoso wil thanne gon toward Tartarie, toward Persie, toward Caldee, and toward Ynde, he most entre the See, at Gene or at Venyse or at sum other Havene, that I have told zou before.

And than passe men the See, and arryven at Trapazond, that is a gode Cytee; and it was wont to ben the Havene of Pountz. There is the Havene of Persanes and of Medaynes and of the Marches there bezonde. In that Cytee lythe seynt Athanasie, that was Bisshopp of Alisandre, that made the Psalm, Quicumq; vult. This Athanasius was a gret Doctour of Dyvynytee: and because that he preched and spak so depely of Dyvynytee and of the Godhede, he was accused to the Pope of Rome, that he was an Heretyk. Wherefore the Pope sente aftre hym, and putte him in Presoun: and whils he was in Presoun, he made that Psalm, and sente it to the Pope, and seyde; that zif he were an Heretyk, that was that Heresie; for that, he seyde, was his Beleeve.

And whan the Pope saughe it, and had examyned it, that it was parfite and gode, and verryly oure Feythe and oure Beleeve, he made him to ben delyvered out of Presoun, and cōmanded that Psalm to ben seyde every day at Pryme: and so he held Athanasie a gode man. But he wolde nevere go to his Bisshopriche azen, because that thei accused him of Heresy. Trapazond was wont to ben holden of the Emperour of Costantynople: but a gret man, that he sente for to kepe the Contree azenst the Turkes, usurped the Lond, and helde it to himself, and cleped him Emperour of Trapazond.

And from thens, men gon thorghe litille Ermony. And in that Contree is an old Castelle, that stont upon a Roche, the whiche is cleped the Castelle of the Sparrehawk, that is bezonde the Cytee of Layays, beside the Town of Pharsipee, that belongethe to the Lordschipe of Cruk; that is a riche Lord and a gode Cristene man; where men fynden a Sparehawk upon a Perche righte fair, and righte wel made; and a fayre Lady of Fayrye, that kepethe it. And who that wil wake that Sparhawk, 7 dayes and 7 nyghtes, and as sūme men seyn, 3 dayes and 3 nyghtes, with outen Companye and with outen Sleep, that faire Lady schal zeven him, whan he hathe don, the first Wyssche, that he wil wyssche, of erthely thinges: and that hathe been proved often tymes. And o tyme befelle, that a Kyng of Ermony, that was a worthi Knyght and doughty man and a noble Prince, woke that Hawk sum tyme: and at the ende of 7 dayes and 7 nyghtes, the Lady cam to him, and bad him wisschen; for he had wel disserved it. And he answerde, that he was gret Lord y now, and wel in pees, and hadde y nowghe of worldly Ricchesse; and therefore he wolde wisse non other thing, but the body of that faire Lady, to have it at his wille. And sche answerde him, that he knew not what he asked; and seyde, that he was a Fool, to desire that he myghte not have: for sche seyde, that he scholde not aske, but erthely thing: for sche was non erthely thing, but a gostly thing. And the Kyng seyde, that he ne wolde asken non other thing. And the Lady answerde, Sythe that I may not withdrawe zou fro zoure lewed Corage, I schal zeve zou with outen wysschinge, and to alle hem that schulle com of zou. Sire Kyng, zee schulle have Werre withouten Pees, and alle weys to the 9 Degree, zee schulle ben in Subjeccioun of zoure Enemyes; and zee schulle ben nedy of alle Godes. And nevere sithen, nouter the Kyng of Ermony, ne the Contree, weren never in Pees, ne thei hadden never sithen plentee of Godes ; and thei han ben sithen alle weyes undre Tribute of the Sarrazines. Also the sone of a pore man woke that Hauke, and wissed that he myghte cheve<sup>s</sup> wel, and to ben happy to Marchandise. And the Lady graunted him. And he becam the most riche and the most famouse Marchaunt, that myghte ben on See or on Erthe. And he becam so riche, that he knew not the 1000 part of that he hadde : and he was wysere, in wisschyng, than was the Kyng. Also a Knyght of the Temple wooke there ; and wyssched a Purs evere more fulle of Gold ; and the Lady graunted him. But sche seyde him, that he had asked the destruccioun of here Ordre ; for the grete pryde, that thei scholde haven : and so it was. And therefore loke, he kepe him wel, that schalle wake : for zif he slepe, he is lost, that nevere man schalle seen him more. This is not the righte Weye for to go to the parties, that I have nempned before ; but for to see the Merveyle, that I have spoken of.

And therefore who so will go right weye, men gon fro Trapazond toward Ermony the grete, unto a Cytee that is clept Artyroun,<sup>h</sup> that was wont to ben a gode Cytee and a plentyous ; but the Turkes han gretly wasted it. There aboute growethe no Wyn ne Fruyt, but litylle or elle non. In this Lond, is the Erthe more highe than in ony other ; and that makethe gret cold. And there ben many gode Watres, and gode Welles, that comen undre erthe, fro the Flom of Paradys, that is clept Eufrates, that is a Jorneye besyde that

Besyde the Lond of Caldee, is the Lond of Amazoyne. And in that Reme is alle Wōmen, and no man; nocht, as sūme men seyn, that men

mowe not lyve there, but for because that the Wōmen will not suffre no men amonges hem, to ben here Sovereynes. For sum tyme, ther was a Kyng in that Contrey; and men maryed, as in other Contreyes: and so befelle, that the Kyng had Werre, with hem of Sithie; the whiche Kyng highte Colopeus, that was slayn in Bataylle, and alle the gode Blood of his Reme. And whan the Queen and alle the othere noble Ladyes sawen, that thei weren alle Wydewes, and that alle the rialle Blood was lost, thei armed hem, and as Creatures out of Wyt, thei slown alle the men of the Contrey, that weren laft. For thei woldē, that alle the Wōmen weren Wydewes, as the Queen and thei weren. And fro that tyme hiderwardes, thei nevere wolden suffren man to dwelle amonges hem, lenger than 7 dayes and 7 nyghtes; ne that no Child that were Male, scholde duelle amonges hem, lenger than he were noryscht; and thanne sente to his Fader. And whan thei wil have ony companye of man, than thei drawen hem towards the Londes marchynge next to hē: and than thei have Loves, that usen hem; and thei duellen with hem an 8 dayes or 10; and thanne gon hom azen. And zif thei have ony knave Child, thei kepen it a certeyn tyme, and than senden it to the Fadir, whan he can gon allone, and eten be him self; or elle thei sleen it: and zif it be a femele, thei don away that on Pappē, with an hote Hiren: and zif it be a Womman of gret Lynage, thei don away the left Pappē, that thei may the better beren a Scheeld: and zif it be a Wōman of symple Blood, thei don away the rygt Pappē, for to scheten with Bowe Turkeys: for thei schote well with Bowes. In that Lond thei have a Queen, that governethe alle that Lond: and alle thei ben obeyssant to hire. And always thei maken here Queen by Eleccioun, that is most worthy in Armes. For thei ben right gode Werryoures, and wyse, noble and worthi. And thei gon often tyme in sowl, to help of other Kynges, in here Werres, for Gold and Sylver, as othere Sowdyoures don: and thei meyntenen hem self right vygouresly. This Lond of Amazoyne is an Yle, alle envioured with the See, saf in 2 places, where ben 2 entrees. And bezond that Watir, duellen the men, that ben here Paramoures and hire Loves, where thei gon to solacen hem, whan thei wole. Besyde Amazoyne, is the Lond of Tarmegyte, that is a gret Contree and a fulle delectable: and for the godnesse of the Contree, Kyng Alisandre leet first make there the Cytee of Alisandre; and zit he made 12 Cytees of the same name: but that Cytee is now clept Celsite. And fro that other Cost of Caldee, to ward the Southe, is Ethiope, a gret Contree, that strecchethe to the ende of Egypt. Ethiope is departed in 2 princypalle parties; and that is, in the Est partie and in the Meridionelle partie: the whiche partie meridionelle is clept Moretane. And the folk of that Contree ben blake y now, and more blake than in the tother partie; and thei ben clept Mowres. In that partie is a Welle, that in the day it is so cold, that no man may drynke there offe; and in the nyght it is so hoot, that no man may suffre his hond there in. And bezonde that partie, toward the Southe, to passe by the See Ocean, is a gret Lond and a gret Contrey: but men may not duelle there, for the fervent brennyng of the Sonne; so is it passynge hoot in that Contrey. In Ethiope alle the Ryveres and alle the Watres ben trouble, and thei ben somdelle salte, for the gret hete that is there. And the folk of that Contree ben lyghtly dronken, and han but litille appetyt to mete: And thei han comounly the Flux of the Wombe: and thei lyven not longe. In Ethiope ben many dyverse folk: and Ethiope is clept Cusis. In that Contree ben folk, that han but o foot: and thei gon so fast, that it is marvaylle: and the foot is so large, that it schadewethe alle the Body azen the Sonne, whanne thei wole lye and reste hem.<sup>d</sup> In Ethiope, whan the Children ben zonge and lytille, thei ben alle zelowe: and whan that thei wexen of Age, that zalownesse turnethe to ben alle blak. In Ethiope is the Cytee of Saba; and the Lond, of the whiche on of the 3 Kynges, that presented oure Lord in Bethleem, was Kyng offe.

Fro Ethiope men gon to Ynde, be manye dyverse Contreyes. And men clepen the highe Ynde, Emlak. And Ynde is devyded in 3 princypalle parties; that is, the more, that is a fulle hoot Contree; and Ynde the lesse, that is a fulle atempree Contrey, that strecchethe to the Lond of Mede: and the 3 part toward the Septentrion, is fulle cold; so that for pure cold and contynuelle Frost, the Watre becomethe Cristalle. And upon tho Roches of Cristalle, growen the gode Dyamandes,<sup>e</sup> that ben of trouble Colour. Zalow Cristalle drawethe Colour lyke Oylle. And thei ben so harde, that no man may pollysche hem: and men clepen hem Dyamandes in that Contree, and Hamese in another Contree. Othere Dyamandes men fynden in Arabye, that ben not so gode; and thei ben more broun and more tendre. And other Dyamandes also men fynden in the Ile of Cipre, that ben zit more tendre; and hem men may wel pollische. And in the Lond of Macedoyne men fynden Dyamaundes also. But the beste and the most precyouse ben in Ynde. And men fynden many tymes harde Dyamandes in a Masse, that comethe out of Gold, whan men puren it and fynen it out of the Myne; whan men breken that Masse in smale peces. And sum tyme it happenethe, that men fynden sūme as grete as a pese, and sūme lasse; and thei ben als harde as tho of Ynde. And alle be it that men fynden gode Dyamandes in Ynde, zit natheles men fynden hem more comounly upon the Roches in the See, and upon Hilles where the Myne of Gold is. And thei growen many to gedre, on lytille, another gret. And ther ben sūme of the gretnesse of a Bene, and sūme als grete as an Haselle Note. And thei ben square and poynted of here owne kynde, bothe aboven and benethen, with outen worchinge of mannes hond. And thei growen to gedre, male and femele. And thei ben noryscht with the Dew of Hevene. And thei engendren comounly, and bryngen forthe smale Children, that multiplen and growen alle the Zeer. I have often tymes assayed, that zif a man kepe hem with a litylle of the Roche, and wete hem with May Dew ofte sithes, thei schulle growe everyche Zeer; and the smale wole wexen grete. For righte as the fyn Perl congelethe and wexethe gret of the Dew of Hevene, righte so dothe the verray Dya- mand: and righte as the Perl of his owne kynde take the Roundnesse, righte so the Dyamand, be vertu of God, take the squarenesse. And men schalle bere the Dyamaund on his left syde: for it is of grettere vertue thanne, than on the righte syde. For the strengthe of here growynge is toward the Northe, that is the left syde of the World; and the left parte of man is, whan he turnethe his Face toward the Est. And zif zou lyke to knowe the Vertues of the Dyamand, (as men may fynde in the Lipidarye, that many men knowen noght) I schalle telle zou: as thei bezonde the See seyn and affermen, of whom alle Science and alle Philosophie comethe from. He that berethe the Diamand upon him, it zevethe him hardynesse and manhode, and it kepethe the Lemes of his Body hole. It zevethe him victorye of his Enemyes, in Plee and in Werre; zif his cause be rightefulle: and it kepethe him that berethe it, in gode Wytt: and it kepethe him fro Strif and Riot, fro Sorwes and fro Enchaumentes and from Fantasyes and illusiouns of wykked Spirites. And zif ony cursed Wycche or Enchauntour wolde bewycche him, that berethe the Dyamand; alle that Sorwe and myschance schalle turne to him self, thorghe Vertu of that Ston. And also no wylde Best dar assaylle the man, that berethe it on him. Also the Dyamand scholde ben zoven frely, with outen covetyng and with outen byggyng: and than it is of grettere vertue. And it makethe a man more strong and more sad azenst his Enemyes. And it helethe him that is lunatyk, and hem that the Fend pursuethe or travaylethe. And zif Venym or Poysoun be broughte in presence of the Dyamand, anon it begynnethe to wexe moyst and for to swete. There ben also Dyamandes in Ynde, that ben clept Violastres; (for here colour is liche Vyolet, or more browne than the Violettes) that ben fulle harde and fulle precyous: but zit sum men love not hem so wel as the othere: but in sothe to me, I wolde loven hem als moche as the othere; for I have seen hem assayed. Also there is an other maner of Dyamandes, that ben als white as Cristalle; but thei ben a litylle more trouble: and thei ben gode and of gret vertue, and alle thei ben square and poynted of here owne kynde. And sūme ben 6 squared, sūme 4 squared, and sūme 3, as nature schapethe hem. And therefore whan grete Lordes and Knyghtes gon to seche Worschipe in Armes, thei beren gladly the Dyamaund upon hem.

I schal speke a litille more of the Dyamandes, alle thoughe I tarye my matere for a tyme, to the ende that thei that knowen hem not, be not deceyved be Gabberes,<sup>f</sup> that gon be the Contree, that sellen hem. For whoso wil bye the Dyamand, it is nedefulle to him, that he knowe hem; be cause that men counterfeten hem often of Cristalle, that is zalow; and of Saphires of cytryne colour, that is zalow also; and of the Saphire Loupe, and of many other Stones. But I telle zou, theise contrefetes ben not so harde; and also the poyntes wil breken lightly, and men may esily pollische hem. But sūme Werkmen, for malice, will not pollische hem, to that entent, to maken men beleve, that thei may not ben pollischt. But men may assay hē in this manere; First schere with hem or write with hem in Saphires, in Cristalle or in other precious Stones. Aftre that men taken the Ademand, that is the Schipmannes Ston, that drawethe the Nedle to him, and men leyn the Dyamand upon the Ademand, and leyn the Nedle before the Ademand; and zif the Dyamand be gode and vertuous, the Ademand drawethe not the Nedle to him, whils the Dyamand is there present. And this is the preef, that thei bezonde the See maken. Natheles it befallethe often tyme, that the gode Dyamande lesethe his vertue, be syne and for Incontynence of him, that berethe it: and thanne it is nedfulle to make it to recoveren his vertu azen, or elle it is of litille value.

smale Iles. In every Ile, is gret plentee of Cytees and of Townes and of folk, with outen nombre.<sup>a</sup> For men of Ynde han this condicioun of kynde, that thei nevere gon out of here owne Contree; and therefore is ther gret multitude of peple: but thei ben not sterynge ne mevable, be cause that thei ben in the firste Clymat, that is of Saturne. And Saturne is sloughe and litille mevyng: for he taryethe to make his turn be the 12 Signes, 30 Zeer; and the Mone passethe thorghe the 12 Signes in o Monethe. And for be cause that Saturne is of so late sterynge, therefore the folk of that Contree, that ben undre his Clymat, han of kynde no wille for to meve ne stere to seche strange places. And in oure Contree is alle the contrarie. For wee ben in the seventh Clymat, that is of the Mone. And the Mone is of lyghtly mevyng; and the Mone is Planete of Weye: and for that skylle, it zevethe us wille of kynde, for to meve lyghtly, and for to go dyverse weyes, and to sechen strange thinges and other dyversitees of the World. For the Mone envyrouneth the Erthe more hastyly than any othere Planete.

Also men gon thorghe Ynde be many dyverse Contrees, to the grete See Ocean. Fro that Ile, men gon be See to another Ile, that is clept Chana, where is gret plentee of Corn and Wyn; and it was wont to ben a gret Ile, and a gret Havene and a good; but the See hathe gretly wasted it and over comen it. The Kyng of that Contree was wont to ben so strong and so myghty, that he helde Werre azenst King Aliandre. The folk of that Contree han a dyvers Lawe: for sūme of hem, worschipe the Sonne, sūme the Mone, sūme the Fuyr, sūme Trees, sūme Serpentes, or the first thing that thei meeten at morwen: and sūme worschipen Symulacres, and sūme Ydoles. But betwene Symulacres and Ydoles, is a gret difference. For Symulacres ben Ymages made aftre lyknesse of Men or of Wōmen, or of the Sonne or of the Mone, or of ony Best, or of ony kyndely thing: and Ydoles, is an Ymage made of lewed wille of man, that man may not fynden among kyndely thinges; as an Ymage, that hathe 4 Hedes, on of a Man, another of an Hors, or of an Ox, or of sum other Best, that no man hathe seyn aftre kyndely disposicioun. And thei that worschipen Symulacres, thei worschipen hem for sum worthi man, that was sum tyme, as Hercules and many othere, that diden many marvayles in here tyme. For thei seyn wel, that thei be not Goddes: for thei knowen wel, that there is a God of kynde, that made alle thinges; the whiche is in Hevene. But thei knowen wel, that this may not do the Marvayles that he made, but zif it had ben be the specyalle zifte of God : and therefore thei seyn, that he was wel with God. And for be cause that he was so wel with God, therefore thei worschipe him. And so seyn thei of the Sonne ; be cause that he chaungethe the tyme and zevethe hete and norisschethe alle thinges upon Erthe ; and for it is of so gret profite, thei knowe wel, that that myghte not be, but that God loveth it more than any other thing. And for that skylle, God hath zoven it more gret vertue in the World : therefore it is gode resoun, as thei seyn, to don it Worschipe and Reverence. And so seyn thei, that maken here resounes, of othere Planetes ; and of the Fuyr also, because it is so profitable. And of Ydoles, thei seyn also, that the Ox is the moste holy Best, that is in Erthe, and most pacyent and more profitable than any other. For he dothe good y now, and he dothe non evylle. And thei knowen wel, that it may not be with outen specyalle grace of God : and therefore maken thei here God, of an Ox the on part, and the other halfondelle of a Man : because that man is the most noble creature

And thei worschipe also specyally alle tho that thei han gode meetyng of; and whan thei speden wel in here iorneye, aftre here meetyng; and namely suche as thei han preved and assayed be experience of longe tyme. For thei seyn, that thilke gode meetyng ne may not come, but of the grace of God. And therefore thei maken Ymages lyche to tho thinges, that thei han beleve inne, for to beholden hem and worschipe hem first at morwe, or thei meeten ony contrarious thinges. And there ben also sum Cristene men, that seyn, that sūme Bestes han gode meetyng, that is to seye, for to meete with hem first at morwe; and sūme Bestes wykked meetyng: and that thei han preved ofte tyme, that the Hare hathe fulle evylle meetyng, and Swyn, and many othere Bestes. And the Sparhawk and other Foules of Raveyne, whan thei fleen aftre here praye, and take it before men of Armes, it is a gode Signe: and zif he fayle of takyng his praye, it is an evylle sygne. And also to suche folk, it is an evylle meetyng of Ravenes. In theise thinges and in suche othere, ther ben many folk, that beleeven; because it happenethe so often tyme to falle, aftre here fantasies. And also there ben men y nowe, that han no beleve in hem. And sithe that Cristene men han suche beleve, that ben enformed and taughte alle day, be holy doctryne, where inne thei schold beleve, it is no marvaylle thanne, that

And treuly I have seen of Paynemes and Sarazines, that men clepen Augurynes, that whan wee ryden in Armes in dyverse Countrees, upon oure Enemyes, be the flyenge of Foules, thei wolde telle us the prenosticaciouns of thinges that felle aftre: and so thei diden fulle often tymes, and profreden here hedes to wedde, but zif it wolde falle as thei seyden. But natheles ther fore scholde nocht a man putten his beleve in suche thinges: but always han fulle trust and beleve in God oure Sövereyn Lord. This Ile of Chana, the Sarazines han wönen and holden. In that Ile ben many Lyouns, and many othere wylde Bestes. And there ben Rattes in that Ile, als grete as Houndes here: and men taken hem with grete Mastyfes: for Cattes may not take hem. In this Ile and many othere, men berye not no dede men: for the hete is there so gret, that in a litylle tyme the Flesche wil consume fro the Bones.

Fladrine, and that other Zinglantz. And in every of hem, duellen Cristene men, and Jewes, gret plentee. For it is a gode Contree and a plenteous: but there is over meche passynge hete. And zee schulle undirstonde, that the Peper growethe, in maner as dothe a wylde Vyne, that is planted faste by the Trees of that Wode, for to susteynen it by, as dothe the Vyne. And the Fruyt therof hangethe in manere as Reysynges. And the Tree is so thikke charged, that it semethe that it wolde breke: and whan it is ripe, it is alle grene as it were Ivy Beryes; and than men kyttten hem, as men don the Vynes, and than thei putten it upon an Owven, and there it waxethe blak and crisp. And there is 3 maner of Peper, alle upon o Tree; long Peper, blak Peper, and white Peper. The long Peper men clepen Sorbotyn; and the blak Peper is clept Fulfulle, and the white Peper is clept Bano. The long Peper comethe first, whan the Lef begynnethe to come; and it is lyche the Chattes of Haselle, that comethe before the Lef, and it hangethe lowe. And afre comethe the blake with the Lef, in manere of Clustres of Reysynges, alle grene: and whan men han gadred it, than comethe the white, that is somdelle lasse than the blake; and of that men bryngen but litille in to this Contree; for thei bezonden with holden it for hem self, be cause it is bettere and more attempree in kynde, than the blake: and therefore is ther not so gret plentee as of the blake. In that Contree ben manye manere of Serpentes and of other Vermyn, for the gret hete of the Contree and of the Peper. And sūme men seyn, that whan thei will gadre the Peper, thei maken Fuyr,

FROM that Contree men passen be many Marches, toward a Contree, a 10 iourneyes thens, that is clept Mabaron: and it is a gret Kyngdom, and it hathe many faire Cytees and Townes. In that Kyngdom lithe the body of seynt Thomas the Apostle, in Flesche and Bon, in a faire Tombe, in

And the Arm and the Hond, (that he putte in oure Lordes syde, whan he appered to him, aftre his Resurrexioun, and seyde to him, Noli esse incredulus, set fidelis) is zit lyggyng in a Vesselle with outen the Tombe. And be that Hond thei

For whan ther is ony dissentioun betwene 2 partyes, and every of hem meynetenethe his Cause, and seyth, that his Cause is rightfulle, and that other seythe the contrarye, thanne bothe partyes writen here Causes in 2 Billes, and putten hem in the Hond of seynt Thomas; and anon he castethe away the Bille of the wrong Cause, and holdethe stille the Bille with the righte Cause. And therefore men comen from fer Contrees to have Juggement of doutable

there is a gret Ymage, more than ony of the othere, that is alle covered with fyn Gold and precyous Stones and riche Perles: (and that Ydole is the God of false Cristene, that han reneyed hire Feythe.) And it syttethe in a Chayere of Gold,

And schortly to seye zou; thei suffren so grete peynes and so harde martyrdomes, for love of here Ydole, that a Cristene man, I trowe, durst not taken upon him the tenthe part of the peyne, for love of oure Lord Jhesu Crist. And aftre, I seye zou, before the Chare, gon alle the Mynstrelles of the Contrey, with outen nombre, with dyverse Instrumentes; and thei maken alle the melodye, that thei cone. And whan thei han gon alle aboute the Cytee, thanne thei returnen azen to the Mynstre, and putten the Ydole azen in to his place. And thanne, for the love and in worschipe of that Ydole, and for the reverence of the Feste, thei slen hemself, a 200 or 300 persones, with scharpe Knyfes, of the whiche thei bryngen the bodyes before the Ydole; and than thei seyn, that tho ben Seyntes, be cause that thei slown hemself of here owne gode wille, for love of here Ydole. And as men here, that hadde an holy Seynt of his kyn, wolde thinke, that it were to hem an highe worschipe, right so hem thinkethe there. And as men here devoutly wolde writen holy Seyntes Lyfes and here Myracles, and sewen for here Canonizaciouns, righte so don thei there, for hem that sleen hem self wilfully, for love of here Ydole; and seyn, that thei ben gloriouse Martyres and Seyntes, and putten hem in here Wrytynges and in here Letanyes, and avaunten hem gretly on to another of here holy Kynnesmen, that so becomē Seyntes; and seyn, I have mo holy Seyntes in my Kynrede, than thou in thin. And he alle naked hath a ful scharp Knyf in his hond, and he cuttethe a gret pece of his Flesche and castethe it in the face of his Ydole, seyenge his Orysounes, recōmendynge him to his God: and than he smytethe himself, and makethe grete Woundes and depe here and there, till he falle doun ded. And than his Frenedes presenten his Body to the Ydole; and than thei seyn, syngynge, Holy God, behold what thi trewe Servant hath don for the; he hathe forsaken his Wif and his Children and his Ricchesse and alle the Godes of the Worlde and his owne Lyf, for the love of the, and to make the Sacrifise of his Flesche and of his Blode. Wherfore, Holy God, putte him among thi beste belovede Seyntes in thi Blisse of Paradys: for he hathe wel disserved it. the Custom there is such, that men and wōmen seyn, that God made Adam and Eve alle naked;

and that no man scholde schame, that is of kyndely nature. And thei seyn, that thei that ben clothed, ben folk of another World, or thei ben folk, that trowen not in God. And thei seyn, that thei beleeven in God, that formede the World, and that made Adam and Eve, and alle other thinges. And thei wedden there no Wyfes: for alle the Wōmen there ben cōmoun, and thei forsake no man. And whan thei han Children, thei may zeven hem to what man thei wole, that hathe companyed with hem. And also alle the Lond is comoun: for alle that a man holdethe o zeer, another man hathe it another zeer. And every man takethe what part that him lykethe. azen the Transmontayne, is the tother Sterre, that is clept Antartyke; as I have seyde before. And tho 2 Sterres ne meeven nevere. And be hem turnethe alle the Firmament, righte as dothe a Wheel, that turnethe be his Axille Tree: so that tho Sterres beren the Firmament in 2 egalle parties; so that it hathe als mochel aboven, as it hathe benethen. Afre this, I have gon toward the parties meridionales, that is toward the Southe: and I have founden, that in Lybye, men seen first the Sterre Antartyk. And so fer I have gon more forthe in tho Contrees, that I have founde that Sterre more highe; so that toward the highe Lybye, it is 18 Degrees of heghte, and certeyn Minutes (of the whiche, 60 Minutes maken a Degree). Afre goynge be See and be Londe, toward this Contree, of that I have spoke, and to other Yles and Londes bezonde that Contree, I have founden the Sterre Antartyk of 33 Degrees of heghte, and mo mynutes. And zif I hadde had Companye and Schippyng, for to go more bezonde, I trowe wel in certeyn, that wee scholde have seen alle the roundnesse of the Firmament alle aboute. For as I have seyde zou be for, the half of the Firmament is betwene tho 2 Sterres: the whiche halfondelle I have seyn. And of the tother halfondelle, I have seyn toward the Northe, undre the Transmontane 62 Degrees and 10 Mynutes; and toward the partie meridionale, I have seen undre the Antartyk 33 Degrees and 16 Mynutes: and thanne the halfondelle of the Firmament in alle, ne holdethe not but 180 Degrees. And of tho 180, I have seen 62 on that o part, and 33 on that other part, that ben 95 Degrees, and nyghe the halfondelle of a Degree; and so there ne faylethe but that I have seen alle the Firmament, saf 84 Degrees and the halfondelle of a Degree; and that is not the fourthe part of the Firmament. For the 4 partie of the roundnesse of the Firmament holt 90 Degrees: so there faylethe but 5 Degrees and an half, of the fourthe partie. And also I have seen the 3 parties of alle the roundnesse of the Firmament, and more zit 5 Degrees and an half. Be the whiche I seye zou certeynly, that men may envirowne alle the Erthe of alle the World, as wel undre as aboven, and turnen azen to his Contree, that hadde Companye and Schippyng and Conduyt: and alle weyes he scholde fynde Men, Londes, and Yles, als wel as in this Contree. For zee wyten welle, that thei that ben toward the Antartyk, thei ben streghte, feet azen feet of hem, that dwellen undre the transmontane; als wel as wee and thei that dwellyn under us, ben feet azenst feet. For alle the parties of See and of Lond han here appositees, habitables or trepassables, and thei of this half and bezond half. And wytethe wel, that aftre that, that I may parceyve and comprehende, the Londes of Prestre John, Emperour of Ynde, ben undre us. For in goynge from Scotlond or from Englund toward Jerusalem, men gon upward always. For oure Lond is in the lowe partie of the Erthe, toward the West: and the Lond of Prestre John is the lowe partie of the Erthe, toward the Est: and thei han there the day, whan wee have the nyghte, and also highe to the contrarie, thei han the nyghte, whan wee han the Day. For the Erthe and the See ben of round forme and schapp, as I have seyde befor. And that that men gon upward to o Cost, men gon downward to another Cost. Also zee have herd me seye,<sup>b</sup> that Jerusalem is in the myddes of the World; and that may men preven and schewen there, be a Spere, that is pighte in to the Erthe, upon the hour of mydday, whan it is Equenoxium, that schewethe no schadwe on no syde. And that it scholde ben in the myddes of the World, David wytnessethe it in the Psautre, where he seythe, Deus operatus est salutē in medio Terre.<sup>c</sup> Thanne thei that parten fro the parties of the West, for to go toward Jerusalem, als many iorneyes as thei gon upward for to go thidre, in als many iorneyes may thei gon fro Jerusalem, unto other Confynyes of the Superficialtie of the Erthe bezonde. And whan men gon bezonde tho iorneyes, toward Ynde and to the foreyn Yles, alle is envyronyng the roundnesse of the Erthe and of the See, undre oure Contrees on this half. And therefore hathe it befallen many tymes of o thing, that I have herd cownted, whan I was zong; how a worthi man departed somtyme from oure Contrees, for to go serche the World. And so he passed Ynde, and the Yles bezonde Ynde, where ben mo than 5000 Yles: and so longe he wente be See and Lond, and so enviround the World be many seyns, that he fond an Yle, where he herde speke his owne Langage, callynge on Oxen in the Plowghe, suche Wordes as men speken to Bestes in his owne Contree: whereof he hadde gret Mervayle: for he knewe not how it myghte be. But I seye, that he had gon so longe, be Londe and be See, that he had envyround alle the Erthe, that he was comen azen envyrounyng, that is to seye, goynge aboute, unto his owne Marches, zif he wolde have passed forthe, til he had founden his Contree and his owne knouleche. But he turned azen from thens, from whens he was come fro; and so he loste moche peynefulle labour, as him self seyde, a gret while aftre, that he was comen hom. For it befelle aftre, that he wente in to Norweye; and there Tempest of the See toke him; and he arryved in an Yle; and whan he was in that Yle, he knew wel, that it was the Yle, where he had herd speke his owne Langage before, and the callynge of the Oxen at the Plowghe: and that was possible thinge. But how it semethe to symple men unlerned, that men ne mowe not go undre the Erthe, and also that men scholde falle toward the Hevene, from undre! But that may not be, upon lesse, than wee mowe falle toward Hevene, fro the Erthe, where wee ben. For fro what partie of the Erthe, that men duelle, outhr aboven or benethen, it semethe always to hem that duellen, that thei gon more righte than ony other folk. And righte as it semethe to us, that thei ben undre us, righte so it semethe hem, that wee ben undre hem. For zif a man myghte falle fro the Erthe unto the Firmament; be grettere resoun, the Erthe and the See, that ben so grete and so hevy, scholde fallen to the Firmament: but that may not be: and therfore seithe oure Lord God, Non timeas me, qui suspendi Terrā ex nichilo?<sup>c</sup> And alle be it that it be possible thing, that men may so envyrone alle the World, natheles of a 1000 persones, on ne myghte not happen to returnen in to his Contree. For, for the gretnesse of the Erthe and of the See, men may go be a 1000 and a 1000 other weyes, that no man cowde redye him perfytely toward the parties that he cam fro, but zif it were be aventure and happ, or be the grace of God. For the Erthe is fulle large and fulle gret, and holt in roundnesse and aboute envyroun, be aboven and be benethen 20425 Myles, aftre the opynyoun of the olde wise Astronomeres. And here Seyenges I repreve noughte. But aftre my lytylle wytt, it semethe me, savyng here reverence, that it is more. And for to have bettere understandyng, I seye thus, Be ther ymagyned a Figure, that hathe a gret Compas; and aboute the poynt of the gret Compas, that is clept the Centre, be made another litille Compas: than aftre, be the gret Compas devised be Lines in manye parties; and that alle the Lynes meeten at the Centre; so that in as many parties, as the grete Compas schal be departed, in als manye schalle be departed the litille, that is aboute the Centre, alle be it that the spaces ben lesse. Now thanne, be the gret compas represented for the firmament, and the litille compas represented for the Erthe. Now thanne the Firmament is devysed, be Astronomeres, in 12 Signes; and every Signe is devysed in 30 Degrees, that is 360 Degrees, that the Firmament hathe aboven. Also, be the Erthe devysed in als many parties, as the Firmament; and lat every partye answer to a Degree of the Firmament: and wytethe it wel, that aftre the Auctoures of Astronomye, 700 Furlonges of Erthe answeren to a Degree of the Firmament; and tho ben 87 Miles and 4 Furlonges. Now be that here multiplied by 360 sithes; and than thei ben 31500 Myles, every of 8 Furlonges, aftre Myles of oure Contree. So moche hathe the Erthe in roundnesse, and of heghte enviroun, afre myn opynyoun and myn undirstondynge. And zee schulle undirstonde, that afre the opynyoun of olde wise Philosophres and Astronomeres, oure Contree ne Ireland ne Wales ne Scotland ne Norweye ne the other Yles costynge to hem, ne ben not in the superficyalte cownted aboven the Erthe; as it schewethe be alle the Bokes of Astronomye. For the Superficialtee of the Erthe is departed in 7 parties, for the 7 Planetes: and tho parties ben clept Clymates. And oure parties be not of the 7 Clymates: for thei ben descendynge toward the West. And also these Yles of Ynde, which beth evene azenst us, beth nocht reckned in the Clymates: for thei ben azenst us, that ben in the lowe Contree. And the 7 Clymates stretchen hem envyrounyng the World.

? on the coast

BESYDE that Yle that I have spoken of, there is another Yle, that is clept Sumobor, that is a gret Yle: and the Kyng thereof is righte myghty. The folk of that Yle maken hem always to ben marked in the visage with an hote Yren, bothe men and wōmen, for gret noblesse, for to

But fast besyde that Yle, for to passe be See, is a gret Yle and a gret Contree, that men clepen Java: and it is nyghe 2000 Myle in circuyt. And the Kyng of that Contree is a fulle gret Lord and a ryche and a myghty, and hathe undre him 7 other Kynges of 7 other Yles abouten hym. This Yle is fulle wel inhabyted, and fulle wel manned. There growen alle maner of Spicerie, more plentyfous liche than in ony other Contree; as of Gyngevere, Clowegylofres, Canelle, Zedewalle, ~~Notemuges~~ and Maces. And wytethe wel, that the Notemuge berethe the Maces. For righte as the Note of the Haselle hath an Husk with outen, that the Note is closed in, til it be ripe, and afre fallethe out; righte so it is of the Notemuge and of the Maces. Manye other Spices and many other Godes growen in that Yle. For of alle thing is there plenty, saf only of Wyn: but there is Gold and Silver gret plentee. And the Kyng of that Contree hath a Paleys fulle noble and fulle marveyllous, and more riche than ony in the World. For alle the Degrez to gon up in to Halles and Chambres, ben on of Gold, another of Sylver. And also the Pavmentes of Halles and Chambres ben alle square, on of Gold and another of Sylver: and alle the Walles with inne ben covered with Gold and Sylver, in fyn Plates: and in tho Plates ben Stories and Batayles of Knyghtes enleved. And the Crounes and the Cercles abouten here Hedes ben made of precious Stones and riche Perles and grete. And the Halles and the Chambres of the Palays ben alle covered with inne with Gold and Sylver: so that no man wolde trowe the richesse of that Palays, but he had seen it. And witethe wel, that the Kyng of that Yle is so myghty, that he hath many tymes overcomen the grete Cane of Cathay in Bataylle, that is the most gret Emperour that is undre the Firmament, outhr bezonde the See or on this half. For thei han had often tyme Werre betwene hem, be cause that the grete Cane wolde constreynen him to holden his lond of him: but that other at alle tymes defendethe him wel azenst him.

Afre that Yle, in goynge be See, men fynden another Yle, gode and gret, that men clepen

Pathen, that is a gret Kyngdom, fulle of faire Cytees and fulle of Townes. In that Lond growen Trees, that beren Mele, wherof men maken gode Bred and white, and of gode savour; and it semethe as it were of Whete, but it is not allynges of suche Savour. And there ben other Trees, that beren Hony, gode and swete; and other Trees, that beren Venym; azenst the whiche there is no Medicyne but on; and that is to taken here propre Leves, and stampe hem and tempere hem with Watre, and than drynke it: and elle he schalle dye; for Triacle will not avaylle, ne non other Medicyne. Of this Venym, the Jewes had let seche of on of here Frendes, for to enpoysone alle Cristiantee, as I have herd hem seye in here Confessioun, before here dyenge. But thanked be alle myghty God, thei fayleden of hire purpos: but alle weys thei maken gret mortalitee of poeple. And other Trees there ben also, that beren Wyn of noble sentement. And zif zou like to here how the Mele comethe out of the Trees, I schalle seye zou. Men hewen the Trees with an Hachet, alle aboute the fote of the Tree, tille that the Bark be parted in many parties; and than comethe out ther of a thikke Lykour, the whiche thei resceyven in Vesselles, and dryen it at the hete of the Sonne; and than thei han it to a Mylle to grynde; and it becomethe faire Mele and white. And the Hony and the Wyn and the Venym ben drawn out of other Trees, in the same manere, and put in Vesselles for to kepe. In that Yle is a ded See, that is a Lake, that hathe no Ground. And zif ony thing falle in to that Lake, it schalle nevere comen up azen. In that Lake growen Reedes, that ben

no Blood upon him: and therefore thei that han tho Stones upon hem, fighten fulle hardyly, bothe

makyng Houses and Schippes of Oke or of ony other Trees. And deme no man, that I seye it,

Bakkes, for to fyghten azen hire Enemyes : and so don other Kynges there aboute. For the maner of Werre is not there, as it is here or in other Contrees; ne the Ordynance of Werre nouthur. And men clepen the Olifantes, Warkes.

And in that Yle there is a gret Marvayle, more to speke of than in any other partie of the World. For alle manere of Fissches, that ben there in the See abouten hem, comen ones in the Zeer, eche manere of dyverse Fissches, on maner of kynde afre other; and thei casten hem self to the See Banke of that Yle, so gret plentee and multitude, that no man may unnethe See but Fissche; and there thei abyden 3 dayes: and every man of the Contree takethe of hem, als many as him lykethe: And afre, that maner of Fissche, afre the thridde day, departethe and gothe in to the See. And afre hem, comen another multitude of Fyssche of another kynde, and don in the same maner as the firste diden other 3 dayes. And afre hem, another; tille alle the dyverse maner of Fissches han ben there, and that men han taken of hem, that hem lykethe. And no man knowethe the cause wherfore it may ben. But thei of the Contree seyn, that it is for to do reverence to here Kyng, that is the most worthi Kyng, that is in the World, as thei seyn; because that he fulfillethe the Cōmandement, that God bad to Adā and Eve, whan God seyde, Crescite & multiplicamini & replete Terram. And for because that he multipliethe so the World with Children, therefore God sendethe him so the Fissches of dyverse kyndes, of alle that ben in the See, to taken at his wille, for him and alle his peple. And therefore alle the Fissches of the See comen, to maken him homage, as the most noble and excellent Kyng of the World, and that is best beloved with God, als thei seyn. I knowe not the resoun, whi it is: but God knowethe. But this, me semethe, is the moste marveylle, that evere I saughe. For this mer-vaylle is azenst kynde, and not with kynde, that the Fissches, that han fredom to enviroun alle the Costes of the See, at here owne list, comen of hire owne wille to profren hem to the dethe, with outen constreynynge of man: and therefore I am syker, that this may not ben, with outen a gret tokene.

There ben also in that Contree a kynde of Snayles, that ben so grete, that many persones may loggen hem in here Schelles, as men wolde done in a litylle Hous. And other Snayles there ben, that ben fulle grete, but not so huge as the other. And of theise Snayles, and of gret white Wormes, that han blake Hedes, that ben als grete as a mannes thighe, and sōme lesse, as grete Wormes that men fynden there in Wodes, men maken Vyaunde Rialle, for the Kyng and for other grete Lordes. And zif a man, that is maryed, dye in that Contree, men buryen his Wif with him alle quyk. For men seyn there, that it is resoun, that sche make him companye in that other World, as sche did in this.

From that Contree, men gon be the See Ocean, be an Yle that is clept Caffolos. Men of that Contree, whan here Frenedes ben seke, thei hangen hem upon Trees; and seyn, that it is better, that Briddes, that ben Angeles of God, eten hem, than the foule Wormes of the Erthe.

From that Yle men gon to another Yle, where the folk ben of fulle cursed kynde: for thei ncrysschen grete Dogges, and techen hem to strangle here Frenedes, whan thei ben syke: for thei wil noughte, that thei dyen of kyndely Dethe: for thei seyn, that thei scholde suffren to gret peyne, zif thei abyden to dyen be hem self, as Nature wolde: and whan thei ben thus enstrangled, thei eten here Flesche, in stede of Venysoun.

Afteward men gon be many Yles be See, unto an Yle, that men clepen Milke: and there is a fulle

Taylor ii. 379

cursed peple : for thei delyten in ne thing more, than for to fighten and to sle men. And thei drynken gladlyest mannes Blood, the whiche thei clepen Dieu. And the mo men that a man may slee, the more worschipe he hathe amonges hem. And zif 2 persones ben at debate, and peraventure ben accorded be here Frenedes or be sum of here Alliance, it behovethe that every of hem, that schulle ben accorded, drynke of otheres Blood : and elle the Accord ne the Alliance is noghte worthe, ne it schalle not be ne repref to him to breke the Alliance and the Acord, but zif every of hem drynke of otheres Blood.

And from that Yle, men gon be See, from Yle to Yle, unto an Yle, that is clept Tracoda ; where the folk of that Contree ben as Bestes and unreasonabe, and duellen in Caves, that thei maken in the Erthe ; for thei have no wytt to maken hem Houses. And whan thei seen ony man passynge thorghe here Contrees, thei hyden hem in here Caves. And thei eten Flesche of Serpentes ; and thei eten but litille, and thei speken nought; but thei hissen, as Serpentes don. And thei sette no prys be no richesse, but only of a precyous Ston, that is amonges hem, that is of 60 coloures. And for the name of the Yle, thei clepen it Tracodon. And thei loven more that Ston, than ony thing elle: and zit thei knowe not the vertue there of: but thei coveyten it and loven it only for the beautee.

Aftre that Yle, men gon be the See Ocean, be many Yles, unto an Yle, that is clept Nacumera; that is a gret Yle and good and fayr: and it is in kompas aboute, more than a 1000 Myle. And alle the men and wōmen of that Yle han Houndes Hedes: and thei ben clept Cynocephali:<sup>c</sup> and thei ben fulle resonable and of gode undirstondynge, saf that thei worschipen an Ox for here God. And also everyche of hem berethe an Ox of Gold or of Sylver in his forhed, in tokene that thei loven wel here God. And thei gon alle naked, saf a litylle Clout, that thei coveren with here Knees

And whan thei chesen here Kyng, thei taken him that Rubye, to beren in his Hond, and so thei leden him rydyng alle abouten the Cytee. And fro thens fromward, thei ben alle obeyssant to him. In that Yle is a gret Mountayne; and in mydd place of the Mount, is a gret Lake in a fulle faire Pleyne, and there is gret plentee of Watre. And thei of the Contree seyn, that Adam and Eve wepten upon that Mount an 100 Zeer, whan thei weren dryven out of Paradys. And that Watre, thei seyn, is of here Teres: for so moche Watre thei wepten, that made the forseide Lake. And in the botme of that Lake, men fynden many precious Stones and grete Perles. In that Lake growen many Reedes and grete Cannes: and there with inne ben many Cocodrilles and Serpentes and grete watre Leches. And the Kyng of that Contree, ones every zeer, zevethe leve to pore men to gon in to the Lake, to gadre hem precyous Stones and Perles, be weye of Alesesse, for the love of God, that made Adam. where that evere he be. And afre his Wyfes, on the same syde, sytten the Ladyes of his Lynage, zit lowere, afre that thei ben of Estate. And alle tho that ben maryed, han a Countrefete, made lyche a mannes foot, upon here Hedes, a cubyte long, alle wrought with grete Perles, fyne and oryent, and aboven, made with Pecokes Fedres and of other schynynge Fedres; and that stont upon here Hedes, lyke a Crest, in tokene that thei ben undre mannes fote and undre subiectioun of Man. And thei that ben unmaryed, han none suche. And afre, at the right syde of the Emperour, first syttethe his eldest Sone, that schalle regne afre him: and he syttethe also o Degree lowere than the Emperour, in suche manere of Seges, as don the Emperesses. And afre him, sytten other grete Lordes of his Lynage, every of hem a Degree lowere than other, as thei ben of Estate. And the Emperour hathe his Table allone be him self, that is of Gold and of precious Stones, or of Cristalle, bordured with Gold, and fulle of precious Stones or of Amatystes or of Lignū Aloes, that comethe out of Paradys, or of Ivory, bounden or bordured with Gold. And everyche of his Wyfes hathe also hire Table be hire self. And his eldest Sone, and the other Lordes also, and the Ladyes, and alle that sitten with the Emperour, han Tables allone be hem self, fulle riche. And there nys no Table, but that it is worthe an huge Tresour of Gode. And undre the Emperoures Table, sitten 4 Clerkes, that writen alle, that the Emperour seythe, be it good, be it evylle. lempne Festes, before the Emperoures Table, men bryngen grete Tables of Gold, and there on ben Pecokes of Gold, and many other maner of dyverse foules, alle of Gold, and richely wrought and enameled; and men maken hem dauncen and syngen, clappyng here Wenges to gydere, and maken gret noyse: and where it be by Craft or be Nygromancye, I wot nere; but it is a gode sight to beholde, and a fair: and it is gret marvayle how it may be. But I have the lasse marvaylle, be cause that thei ben the moste sotyle men in alle Sciences and in alle Craftes, that ben in the World. For of sotyltee and of Malice and of fercastyng, thei passen alle men undre Hevene. And therefore thei seyn hem self, that thei seen with 2 Eyen; and the Cristene men see but with on: be cause that thei ben more sotylle than thei. For alle other Naciouns, thei seyn, ben but blynde in conyng and worchyng, in comparisoun to hem. I did gret besynesse, for to have lerned that Craft: but the Maistre tolde me, that he had made a vow to his God, to teche it to no Creature, but only to his eldeste Sone. Also above the Emperours Table and the othere Tables, and aboven a gret partie in the Halle, is a Vyne, made of fyn Gold: and it spredethe alle aboute the Halle; and it hath many Clustres of Grapes, somme white, sōme grene, sūme zalowe and sōme rede and sōme blake, alle of precious Stones: the white ben of Cristalle and of Berylle and of Iris; the zalowe ben of Topazes; the rede ben of Rubies, and of Grenaz and of Alabraundynes; the grene ben of Emeraudes, of Perydos and of Crisolytes; and the blake ben of Onichez and Garantez. And thei ben alle so propurlyche made, that it semethe a verry Vyne, berynge kyndely Grapes. And before the Emperoures Table, stonden grete Lordes, and riche Barouns and othere, that serven the Emperour at the Mete. And no man is so hardy, to speke a word, but zif the Emperour speke to him; but zif it be Mynstrelles, that syngen Songes, and tellen Gestes or other desportes, to solace with the Emperour. And alle the Vesselle, that men ben served with, in the Halle or in Chambres, ben of precious Stones; and specially at grete Tables; outhere of Jaspre or of Cristalle or of Amatystez or of fyn Gold. And the Cuppes ben of Emeraudez and of Saphires or of Topazes, of Perydoz, and of many other precyouse Stones. Vesselle of Sylver is there non: for thei telle no prys there of, to make no Vesselle offe: but thei maken ther of Gre-cynges and Pileres and Pawmentes, to Halles and Chambres. And before the Halle Dore, stonden manye Barounes, and Knyghtes clene armed, to kepe that no man entre, but zif it be the wille or the Cōmandement of the Emperour, or but zif thei ben Servauntes or Mynstralle of the Household: and other non is not so hardy, to neighen nye the Halle Dore.

And zee schulle undirstonde, that my Felawes and I, with oure Zomen, we serveden this Emperour, and weren his Soudyours, 15 Monethes, azenst the Kyng of Mancy, that held Werre azenst him. And the cause was, for we hadden gret lust to see his Noblesse and the Estat of his Court and alle his Governance, to wite zif it were suche, as wee herde seye, that it was. And treuly, we fond

it more noble and more excellent and ricchere and more marveyllous, than ever we herde speke offe; in so moche, that we wolde never han leved it, had wee not seen it. For I trowe, that no man wolde beleve the Noblesse, the ricchesse, ne the multytude of folk that ben in his Court, but he had seen it. For it is not there, as it is here. For the Lordes here han folk of certeyn nombre, als thei may suffise: but the grete Chane hathe every day folke at his Costages and Expenses, as with outen nombre. But the Ordynance, ne the expenses in mete and drynk, ne the honestee ne the clenness, is not so arrayed there, as it is here: for alle the Comouns there eten withouten Clothe upon here knees; and thei eten alle maner of Flessche, and litylle of Bred. And aftre Mete, thei wypen here Hondes upon here Skyrtes: and thei eten not but ones a day. But the Estat of Lordes is fulle gret and riche and noble. And alle be it, that sum men wil not trow me; but holden it for Fable, to telle hem the Noblesse of his persone and of his Estate and of his Court and of the gret multytude of folk, that he holt, natheles I schalle seye zou, a partye of him and of his folk, aftre that I have seen, the manere and the ordynance, fulle many a tyme. And whoso that wole, may leve me, zif he wille; and who so wille not, may chuse. For I wot wel, zif ony man hathe ben in tho Contrees bezonde, thoughe he have not ben in the place, where the grete Chane duellethe, he schalle here speke of him so meche merveylouse thing, that he schalle not trowe it lightly: and treuly, no more did I my self, til I saughe it. And tho that han ben in tho Contrees and in the gret Canes Houshold, knowen wel, that I seye sothe. And therefore I wille not spare, for hem that knowe not, ne beleve not, but that that thei seen, for to telle zou a partie of him and of his estate, that he holt, whan he gothe from Contree to Contree, and whan he makethe solempne Festes.

Cap. XXI.

Wherefore he is clept the grete Chane. Of the Style of his Lettres, and of the Superscripcioun abowten his grete Sealle, and his pryvee Sealle.

FIRST I schalle seye zou, whi he was clept the gret Chane. Zee schulle undirstonde, that alle the World was destroyed be Noes Flood, saf only Noe and his Wif and his Children. Noe had 3 Sones, Sem, Cham and Japhethe. This Cham was he that saughe his Fadres prevy membres naked, whan he slepte, and scorned hem and schewed hem with his finger, to his Brethren, in scornynge wise: and ther fore he was cursed of God. And Japhethe turned his face away, and covered hem. Theise 3 Bretheren had Cesoun in alle the Lond: and this Cham, for his crueltee, toke the gretter and the beste partie, toward the Est, that is clept Asye: and Sem toke Affryk: and Japhethe toke Europe. And therefore is alle the Erthe departed in theise 3 parties, be theise 3 Bretheren. Cham was the grettest, and the most myghty: and of him camen mo generaciouns, than of the othere. And of his Sone Chuse, was engendred Nembrothe the Geaunt, that was the firste Kyng, that ever was in the World: and he began the foundaciō of the Tour of Babyloyne. And that tyme, the Fendes of Helle camen many tymes, and leyen with the Wōmen of his Generacioun, and engendred on hem dyverse folk, as Monstres, and folk disfigured, sūme with outen Hedes, sūme with grete Eres, sūme with on Eye, sūme Geautes, sūm with Hors feet,<sup>a</sup> and many other dyverse schapp, azenst kynde. And of that Generacioun of Cham, ben comen the Paynemes, and dyverse folk, that ben in Yles of the See, be alle Ynde. And for als moche as he was the moste myghty, and no man myghte withstonde him, he cleped him self the Sone of God, and Sovereyn of alle the World. And for this Cham, this Emperour clepeth him Cham and Sovereyn of alle the World. And of the Generacioun of Sem, ben comen the Sarrazines. And of the Generacioun of Japhethe, is comen the peple of Israel. And thoughe that wee duellen in Europe, this is the opynyoun, that the Syryenes and the Samaritanes han amonges hem; and that thei told me, before that I wente toward Ynde: but I fond it otherwise. Natheles the Sothe is this, that Tartarynes and thei that duellen in the grete Asye, thei camen of Cham. But the Emperour of Cathay clepeth him not Cham, but Can: and I schalle telle zou how. It is but litylle more but 8 score Zeer, that alle Tartarye was in subiectioun and in servage to othere nacyouns abouten: for thei weren but bestyalle folk, and diden no thing but kepten Bestes, and lad hem to Pastures. But among hem, thei hadden ~~7~~ princypalle Nacyouns, that weren Soveraynes of hem alle) of the whiche, H. the firste Nacyoun or Lynage was clept Tartar; Tatar and that is the most noble and the moste preysed. The seconde Lynage is clept Tanghot; the thridde H. Tanght Eurache; the 4 Valair; the 5 Semoche; the 6 Cunat Talair Megly; the 7 Coboghe. Now befelle it so, that Sordic of the firste Lynage, succeeded an old worthi man, Monghi Tebet that was not riche, that hadde to name Changuys. This man lay upon a nyght in his Bed, and he sawghe in a Visioun, that there cam before him a Knyght armed alle in white, and he satt upon a white Hors, and seyde to him, Can, slepest thou? The inmortalle God hathe sent me to the; and it is his Wille, that thou go to the 7 Lynages, and seye to hem, that thou schalt ben here Emperour. For thou schalt conquere the Londs and the Countrees, that ben abouten: and thei that marchen upon zou, schulle ben undre zoure Subieccioun, as zee han ben undre hires: for that is Goddes Wille inmortalle. And whan he cam at morwe, Changuys roos, and wente to the 7 Lynages, and tolde hem how the white Knyght had seyde. And thei scorned him, and seyden, that he was a fool; and so he departed fro hem alle aschamed. And the nyght sewynge, this white Knyght cam to the 7 Lynages, and commaunded hem, on Goddes behalve inmortalle, that thei scholde make this Changuys here Emperour; and thei scholde ben out of subieccioun; and thei scholde holden alle other Regionnes aboute hem in here servage, as thei had ben to hem befor. And on the Morwe, thei chosen him to ben here Emperour: and thei setten him upon a blak Ferte; and afre that, thei listen him up with gret solempnytee, and thei setten him in a Chayer of Gold, and diden hym alle maner of Reverence; (and thei cleped him Chan, as the white Knyght called him.) And whan he was thus chosen, he wolde assayen, zif he myghte trust in hem or non, and whether thei wolde ben obeyssant to him or non. And thanne he made many Statutes and Ordynances, (that thei clepen Ysya Chan.) The first Statute was, that thei scholde beleeven and obeyen in God inmortalle, that is allemyghty, that wolde casten hem out of servage; and at alle tymes clepe to him for help, in tyme of nede. The tother Statute was, that alle maner of men that myghte beren Armes, scholden ben nombred: and to every 10 scholde ben a Maystre, and to every 100 a Maystre, and to every 1000 a Maystre, and to every 10000 a Maystre. Aftre he cōmanded to the Princypales of the 7 Lynages, that thei scholde leven and forsaken alle that thei hadden in Godes and Heritage; and fro thens forthe to holden hem payd, of that that he wolde zeve hem of his Grace. And thei diden so anon. Aftre he cōmanded to the Princypales of the 7 Lynages, that every of hem scholde brynge his eldest Sone before him, and with here owne handes smyten of here Hedes, with outen taryenge. And anon his Cōmandement was performed. And whan the Chane saghe, that thei made non obstacle to performen his Cōmandement, thanne he thoughte wel, that he myghte trusten in hem, and cōmanded hem anon to make hem redy, and to sewen his Banere. And aftre this, Chane putt in subieccioun alle the Londes aboute him. Aftreward it befelle upon a day, that the Cane rood with a fewe Meynee {for to beholde the strengthe of the Contree, that he had wonnen;} and so befelle, that a gret multytude of his Enemyes metten with him; and for to zeven gode ensample of hardynesse to his peeple, he was the firste that faughte, and in the myddes of his Enemyes encountred; and there he was cast from his Hors, and his Hors slayn. And whan his folk saughe him at the Erthe, thei weren alle abasscht, and wenden he had ben ded, and flowen everych one; and hire Enemyes aftre, and chaced hem: but thei wiste not, that the Emperour was there. And whan thei weren comen azen fro the Chace, thei wenten and soughten the Wodes, zif ony of hem had ben hid in the thikke of the Wodes: {and manye thei founden and slown hem anon.) So it happend, that as thei wenten serching, toward the place that the Emperour was, thei saughe an Owle sittynge upon a Tree aboven hym; and than thei seyden amonges hem, that there was no man, be cause that thei saughe that Brid there: and so thei wenten hire wey; and thus escaped the Emperour from Dethe. And thanne he wente prevylly, alle be nyghte, tille he cam to his folk, that weren fulle glad of his comynge, and maden grete thankynge to God inmortalle, and to that Bryd, be whom here Lord was saved. And therefore princypally aboven alle Foules of World, thei worschipe the Owle: and whan thei han ony of here Fedres, thei kepen hem fulle precyously, in stede of Relykes, and beren hem upon here Hedes with gret reverence: and thei holden hem self blessed, (and saf from alle periles,) while that thei han hem upon hem; and therefore thei beren here Fedres upon here Hedes. Aftre alle this the Cane ordeyned him, and assembled his peple, and wente upon hem that hadden assayled hym before, and destroyed hem, and put hem in subieccioun and servage. And whan he had wonnē and putt alle the Londes and Contrees, on this half the Mount Belyan, in subieccioun, the whyte Knyght cam to him azen in his sleep, and seyde to him, Chan, the Wille of God inmortalle is, that thou passe the Mount Belyan; and thou schalt wynne the Lond, and thou schalt putten many Nacyouns in subieccioun: and (for thou schalt fynde no gode passage for to go toward that Contree,) go to the Mount Belyan, that is upon the See, and knele there 9 tymes toward the Est, in the Worschipe of God

And anon the See, that touched and was fast to the Mount, began to withdrawe him, and schewed fair weye of 9 fote brede large; and so he passed with his folk, and wan the Lond of Cathay, that is the grettest Kyngdom of the World. And for the 9 Knelynges, and for the 9 fote of Weye, the Chane and alle the men of Tartarye han the nombre of 9 in gret reverence. And therefore who that wole make the Chane ony present, {be it of Hors, be it of Bryddes, or of Arwes, or Bowes, or of Frute, or of ony other thing,} always he most make it of the nombre of 9. And so thanne ben the presentes of grettere plesance to him, and more benygnely he wil resceyven hem; than though he were presented with an 100 or 200. For hym semethe the nombre of 9 so holy, be cause the Messagre of God inmortalle devised it, Also whan the Chane {of Cathay} hadde wonnen the {Contree of Cathay} and put in subiec-

And whan he felte wel, that he scholde dye, he seyde to his 12 Sones, that everyche of hem scholde brynge him on of his Arewes; and so thei diden anon. And thanne he cōmanded, that men scholde bynden hem to gedre, in 3 places; and than he toke hem to his eldest Sone, and bad him breke hem alle to gedre. And he enforced hem with alle his myght to breken hem: but he ne myghte not. And than the Chane bad his seconde sone to breke hem; and so schortly to alle, eche aftre other: but non of hem myght breke hem. And than he bad the Zongest Sone dissevere everyche from other, and breken everyche be him self: and so he dide. And than seyde the Chane to his eldest Sone, and to alle the othere, Wherfore myght zee not breke hem? And thei answereden, that thei myght not, be cause that thei weren bounden to gydre. And wherfore, quoth he, hathe zoure litylle zongest Brother broken hem? Because, quoth thei, that thei weren departed eche from other. And thanne seyde the Chane, My Sones, quoth he, treuly thus wil it faren be zou. For als longe as zee ben bounden to gedere, in 3 places, that is to seyne, in Love, in Trouthe and in gode Accord, no man schalle ben of powere to greve zou: but and zee ben dissevered fro theise 3 places, that zoure on helpe not zoure other, zee schulle be destroyed and brought to nought: and zif eche of zou love other, and helpe othere, zee schulle be Lordes and Sovereynes of alle othere. And whan he hadde made his Ordynances, he dyed. And thanne after hym, regned Ecchecha<sup>a</sup> Cane his eldest Sone. (And his othere Bretheren wenten to wynnen hem many Contrees and Kyngdomes, unto the Lond of Pruyse and of Rossye, and made hem to ben cleped Chane: but thei weren alle obeyssant to hire eldre Brother; and therfore was he clept grete Chane.) Of the governance of the grete Chanes Court, and whan he makethe solempne Festes. Of his Philosophres. And of his Array, whan he ridethe be the Contre.

Now schalle I telle zou the Governance of the Court of the grete Chane, whan he makethe solempne Festes: and that is princypally 4 tymes in the Zeer. The firste Feste is of his Byrthe: that other is of his presentacioun in here Temple, (that thei clepen here Moseache,<sup>a</sup> where thei maken a manere of Circumcisioun: and the tother 2 Festes ben of his Ydoles. The firste Feste of the Ydole is, whan he is first put in to hire Temple and throned. The tother Feste is, whan the Ydole begynnethe first to speke or to worche Myracles. Mo ben there not of solempne Festes, but zif he marye ony of his Children. Now undirstondethe, that at every of these Festes, he hathe gret multytude of peple, well ordeyned and wel arrayed, be thousandes, be hundredes and be tenthes. And every man knowethe wel, what servyse he schalle do. And every man zevethe so gode hede and so gode attendance to his servyse, that no man fyndethe no defaute. And there ben first ordeyned 4000 Baronnes myghty and riche, for to governe and to make ordynance for the Feste, and for to

And alle tho Barouns han Crounes of Gold upon hire Hedes, fulle noble and riche, fulle of precious Stones and grete Perles oryent. And thei ben alle clothed in Clothes of Gold or of Tartaries or of Camokas, so richely and so perfytyly, that no man in the World can amenden it, ne better devisen it. And alle tho Robes ben orfrayed alle abouten, and dubbed fulle of precious Stones and of grete oryent Perles, fulle richely. And thei may wel do so: for Clothes of Gold and of Sylk ben gretter chep there a gret del, than ben Clothes of Wolle. And theise 4000 Barouns ben devised in 4 Companyes: and every thousand is clothed in Clothes alle of o colour; and that so wel arrayed and so richely, that it is marveylye to beholde. The firste thousand, that is of Dukes, of Erles, of Marquyses and of Amyralles, alle clothed in Clothes of Gold, with Tysseux of grene Silk, and bordured with Gold, fulle of preciose Stones, in maner as I have seyde before. The secounde thousand is alle clothed in Clothes dyapred of red Silk, all wroughte with Gold, and the Orfrayes sett fulle of gret Perl and precious Stones, fulle nobely wroughte. The 3 thousand is clothed in Clothes of Silk, of Purpre or of Ynde. And the 4 thousand is in Clothes of zalow. and the grete oryent Perles ben of gretter value, on this half the See, than thei ben bezond the See, in the Contrees. And whan thei ben thus apparaylled, thei gon 2 and 2 togedre, fulle ordynatly before the Emperour, with outen speche of ony Woord, saf only enclynyng to him. And everyche of hem berethe a Tablett of Jaspere or of Ivory or of Cristalle; and the Mynstralle goynge before hem, sownyng here Instrumentes of dyverse melodye. And whan the firste thousand is thus passed, and hathe made his Mostre, he withdrawethe him on that o syde. And than entrethe that other secunde thousand, and dothe right so, in the same manere of array and contenance, as did the firste; and aftre the thridde, and than the fourthe; and non of hem seythe not o Word.

And at o syde of the Emperours Table, sitten many Philosofres, that ben preved for wise men, in many dyverse Scyences; as of Astronome, Nigromancye, Geomancye, Pyromancye, Ydromancye, of Augurye and of many other Scyences. And everyche of hem han before hem Astrolabres of Gold; sum Speres, sūme the Brayn Panne of a ded man, sūme Vesselles of Gold fulle of Gravelle or Sond, sūme Vesselles of Gold fulle of Coles brennyng, sūme Vesselle of Gold fulle of Watre and of Wyn and of Oyle, and sūme Oriloges of Gold, mad ful nobely and richely wroughte, and many other maner of Instrumentes aftre hire Scyences. /And at certeyn houres, whan hem thinkethe the time, thei seyn to certeyn Officeres, that stonden before hem, ordeynd for the tyme, to fulfille hire cōmaundementes, Makethe Pees. And than seyn the Officeres, Now Pees lystenethe.

And aftre that, seyth another of the Philosophres,
Every man do Reverence, and encline to the Emperour, that is Goddes Sone and Soverayn Lord of alle the World; for now is tyme. And thanne every man bowethe his Hed toward the Erthe. And thanne cōmandethe the same Phi-losophre azen, Stondethe up. And thei don so.
And at another hour, seythe another Philosophre, Puttethe zoure litille fynger in zoure Eres. And anon thei don so. And at another hour, seythe another Philosophre, Puttethe zoure Honde before zoure Mouthe. And anon thei don so. And at another hour, seithe another Philosophre, Puttethe zoure Honde upon zoure Hede. And aftre that, he byddethe hem to don here hond a wey; and thei don so. And so from hour to hour, thei cōmanden certeyn thinges. And thei seyn, that tho thinges han dyverse significaciouns. And I asked hem prevyly, what tho thinges betokened.
And on of the Maistres told me, that the bowynge
of the Hed at that hour betokened this, that alle
tho that boweden here Hedes, scholden evere
more aftre ben obeyssant and trewe to the Em-perour; and nevere for ziftes, ne for promys in no kynde, ben fals ne Traytour unto him for gode ne evylle. And the puttynge of the litille fynger in the Ere, betokenethe, as thei seyn, that none of hem ne schalle not here speke no contrarious thing to the Emperour, but that he schalle telle
it anon to his Conseille, or discovere it to sum men that wille make relacioun to the Emperour;
thoughe he were his Fadre or Brother or Sone.
And so forthe of alle other thinges, that is don be the Philosophres, thei tolde me the Causes of many dyverse thinges. And trustethe righte wel in certeyn, that no man dothe no thing to the Emperour, that belongethe unto him, nouthere Clothinge, ne Bred, ne Wyn, ne Bathe, ne non other thing, that longethe to hym, but at certeyn houres, that his Philosophres wille devysen. And zif there falle Werre in ony syde to the Emperour, anon the Philosophres comen, and seyn here avys afre her calculaciouns, and conseynlen the Emperour of here avys, be here sciences; so that the Emperour dothe no thing with outen here conseil. And whan the Philosophres han don and perfourmed here Cōmandementes, thanne the Mynstralle begynnen to don here Mynstralcye, everyche in hire Instrumentes, eche afre other, with alle the melodye, that thei can devyse. And whan thei han done a gode while, on of the Officeres of the Emperour gothe up on an highe Stage wroughte fulle curiously, and cryethe and seythe with lowde voys, Makethe Pees. And than every man is stille. And thanne anon afre, alle the Lordes, that ben of the Emperoures Lynage, nobely arrayed in riche Clothes of Gold, and ryally apparayled on white Stedes, als manye as may wel sewen hem at that tyme, ben redy to maken here presentes to the Emperour. And than seythe the Styward of the Court to the Lordes be name, N. of N. and nempnethe first the most enoble and the worthieste be name, and seythe, Be zee redy with suche a nombre of white Hors, for to serve the Emperour, zoure Sovereyn Lord. And to another Lord, he seythe, N. of N. be zee redy with suche a nombre, to serve zoure sovereign Lord. And to another, right so. And to alle the Lordes of the Emperoures Lynage, eche aftre other, as thei ben of Estate. And whan thei ben alle cleped, thei entren eche after other, and presenten the white Hors to the Emperour; and than gon hire wey. And than aftre, alle the other Barouns every of hem zeven hem presentes, or Juelle, or sum other thing, aftre that thei ben of Estate. And than aftre hem, alle the Prelates of hire Lawe, and religiouse men and other; and every man zevethe him sum thing. And whan that alle men han thus presented the Emperour, the grettest of dignytee of the Prelates zevethe hem a Blessynge, seyenge an Orisoun of hire Lawe. And than begynnen the Mynstrelle to maken hire Mynstralcye, in dyverse Instrumentes, with alle the melodye that thei can devyse. And whan thei han don hire craft, than thei bryngen before the Emperour, Lyouns, { Libardes and othere dyverse Bestes; and Egles and Veutours, and other dyverse Foules; and Fissches, and Serpentes; } for to don him reverence. And than comen Jogulours and Enchauntoures, that don many marvaylles: for thei maken to come in the Ayr, the Sonne and the Mone, be semyng, to every mannes sight. And aftre thei maken the nyght so derk, that no man may see no thing. And aftre thei maken the Day to come azen, fair and plesant with bright Sonne, to every mannes sight. And than thei bryngen in Daunces of the faireste Damyselles of the World, and richest arrayed. And aftre thei maken to comen in, other Damyselles, bryngynge Coupes of Gold, fulle of Mylk of dyverse Bestes, and zeven drynke to Lordes and to Ladyes. And than thei make Knyghtes to jousten in Armes fulle lustyly; and thei rennen to gidre a gret randoum; and thei frusschen to gidere fulle fiercely; and thei breken here speres so rudely, that the Tronchouns flen in sprotes and peces alle aboute the Halle. And than thei make to come in huntyng, for the Hert and for the Boor, with Houndes rennyng with open Mouthe. And many other thinges thei don, be craft of hire Enchaumentes; that it is marveyle for to see. And suche pleyes of desport thei make, til the takyng up of the Boordes.

This gret Chan hathe fulle gret peple for to serve him, as I have told zou before. For he hathe of Mynstralles the Nombre of 13 Cumanez: but thei abyde not alle weys with hym. For alle the Mynstrelle that comen before hym, of what nacyoun that thei ben of, thei ben withholden with him, as of his Houshold, and entred in his Bokes, as for his owne men. And aftre that, where that evere thei gon, ever more thei cleymen for Mynstralle of the grete Chane: and undre that tyle, alle Kynges and Lordes, cherisschen hem the more with Ziftes and alle thing. And therefore he hathe so gret multytude of hem. And he hathe of certeyn men, as thoughe thei were Zomen, that kepen Bryddes, as Ostrycches, Gerfacouns, Sparehaukes, Faukons gentyls, Lanyeres, Sacres, Sacrettes, Papyngayes wel spekyng, and Briddes syngyng. And also of wylde Bestes, as of Olifauntz, tame and othere, Babewynes, Apes, Marmettes, and othere dyverse Bestes; the mountance of 15 Cumanez of Zomen. And of Phisicyens Cristene, he hathe 200. And of Leches, that ben Cristene, he hathe 210. And of Leches and Phisicyens, that ben Sarrazines 20 : but he trustethe more in the Cristene Leches, than in the Sarazines. And his other comoun Houshold is with outen nombre : and thei alle han alle necessaries, and alle that hem nedethe, of the Emperoures Court. And he hathe in his Court many Barouns, as Ser-vytoures, that ben Cristene and converted to gode Feythe, be the prechyng of religiose Cristen men, that duellen with him : but there ben manye mo, that wil not, that men knowen that thei ben Cristene.

This Emperour may dispenden als moche as he wile, with outen estymacioun. For he despendethe not, ne makethe no Money, but {of Lether emprented,} or of Papyre. And of that Moneye, is som of gretter Prys, and som of lasse prys, afre the dyversitee of his Statutes. And whan that Money hathe ronne so longe, that it begynnethe to waste, than men beren it to the Emperoures Tresorye : and than thei taken newe Money for the olde. And that Money gothe thorghe out alle the Contree, and thorghe out alle his Provynces. For there and bezonde hem, thei make no Money nouthur of Gold nor of Sylver. And therefore he may despende y now, and outrageously. And of Gold and Sylver, that men beren in his Contree, he makethe Cylours, Pyleres and Paumentes in his Palays, and other dyverse thinges, what him lykethe. This Emperour hathe in his Chambre, in on of the Pyleres of Gold, a Rubye and a Charboncle of half a fote long, that in the nyght zevethe so gret clartee and schynyng, that it is als light as day. And he hathe many other precyous

 This Emperour duellethe in Somer in a Cytee, that is toward the Northe, that is cleped Saduz: and there is cold y now. And in Wyntre, he duellethe in a Cytee, that is clept Camaaleche: and that is an hote Contree. But the Contree, where he duellethe in most comounly, is in Gaydo or in Jong, that is a gode Contree and a tempree, aftre that the Contree is there: but to men of this Contree, it were to passyng hoot. And whan this Emperour wille ryde from o Contree to another, he ordeynethe 4 Hostes of his folk; of the whiche, the firste Hoost gothe before him, a dayes journeye. For that Hoost schalle ben logged the nyght, where the Emperour schalle lygge upon the Morwe. And there schalle every man have alle maner of Vytaylle and necessaryes, that ben nedefulle, of the Emperoures costages. And in this firste Hoost is the nombre of poeple 50 Cumaunez; what of Hors, what of Fote: of the whiche, every Cumanez amounten to 10000, as I have told zou before. And another Hoost gothe in the right syde of the Emperour, (nygh half a iourneye fro him.) And another gothe on the left syde of him, in the same wise. And in every Hoost, is as moche multytude of peple, as in the firste Hoost. And thanne aftre comethe the 4 Hoost, that is moche more than ony of the othere, and that gothe behynden him, the mountance of a Bowe draught. And every Hoost hathe his iourneyes ordeyned in certeyn places, where thei schulle be logged at nyght: and there thei schulle have alle, that hem nedethe. And zif it befalle, that ony of the Hoost dye, anon thei putten another in his place; so that the nombre schal evere more ben hool. And zee schulle undirstonde, that the Emperour, in his propre persone, rydethe not as othere gret Lordes don bezonde; but zif him liste to go prevyly with fewe men, for to ben unknownen. And elle he rytt in a Charett with 4 Wheles, upon the whiche is made a faire Chambre; and it is made of a certeyn Wode, {that comethe out of Paradys terrestre,} that men clepen Lignum Aloes, {that the Flodes of Paradys bryngen out at dyverse cesouns,} as I have told zou here beforne.} And this Chambre is fulle wel smellynge, be cause of the Wode, that it is made offe. And alle this Chambre is covered with inne of Plate of fyn Gold, dubbed with precious Stones and grete Perles. And 4 Olifauntz and 4 grete Destreres<sup>b</sup> alle white, and covered with riche covertoures ledynge the Chariot. And 4 {or 5 or 6} of the grettest Lordes ryden aboute this Charyot, fulle richely arrayed and fulle nobely; so that no man schalle neyghe the Charyot, but only tho Lordes, but zif that the Emperour calle ony man to him, that him list to speke with alle. And above the Chambre of this Chariot, that the Emperour sit-tethe inne, ben sett upon a Perche 4 or 5 or 6 Gerfacouns;<sup>c</sup> to that entent, that whan the Emperour seethe ony wylde foul, that he may take it at his owne list, and have the desport and the pley of the flight; first with on, and aftre with another:

and so he takethe his desport passynge be the Contree. And no man rydethe before him, of his Companye; but alle aftre him. And no man dar not come nyghe the Chariot, by a Bowe draught, but tho Lordes only, that ben aboute him: and alle the Hoost cometh fayrely aftre him, in gret multitude. And also suche another Charyot, with suche Hoostes, ordeynd and arrayd, gon with the Emperesse, upon another syde, everyche be him self, with 4 Hoostes, right as the Emperour dide; but not with so gret multytude of peple. And his eldest sone gothe be another weye in another Chariot, in the same manere. So that there is betwene hem so gret multitude of folk, that it is marveyle to telle it. And no man scholde trowe the nombre, but he had seen it. And sum tyme it happethe, that whan he wil not go fer; and that it lyke him to have the Emperesse and his Children with him; than thei gon alle to gydere; and here folk ben alle medled in fere,<sup>d</sup> and devyded in 4 parties only.

And zee schulle undirstonde, that the Empire of this gret Chane is devyded in 12 Provynces; and every Provynce hathe mo than 2000 Cytees; and of Townes with outen nombre. This Contree is fulle gret. For it hathe 12 pryncypalle Kynges, in 12 Provynces. And every of tho Kynges han many Kynges undre hem; and alle thei ben obeyssant to the gret Chane. And his Lond and his Lordschipe durethe so ferre, that a man may not gon from on Hed to another, nouthere be See ne Lond, the space of 7 Zeer. And thorghe the Desertes of his Lordschipe, there as men may fynde no Townes, there ben Innes ordeyned be every iorneye, to resceyve bothe Man and Hors; in the whiche thei schalle fynde plentee of Vytaylle, and of alle thing, that hem nedethe, for to go be the Contree.

And there is a marveylouse custom in that Contree, (but is profitable) that zif ony contrarious thing, that scholde ben preiudice or grevance to the Emperour, in ony kynde, anon the Emperour hathe tydynges there of and fulle knowleche in a day, thoughe it be 3 or 4 iorneyes fro him or more. For his Ambassedours taken here Dromedaries or hire Hors, and thei priken in alle that evere thei may toward on of the Innes: and whan thei comen there, anon thei blowen an Horne; and anon thei of the In knowen wel y now, that there ben tydynges to warnen the Emperour of sum rebellyoun azenst him. And thanne anon thei maken other men redy, in alle haste that thei may, to beren Lettres, and pryken in alle that evere thei may, tille thei come to the other Innes with here Lettres: and thanne thei maken fressche men redy, to pryke forthe with the Lettres, toward the Emperour; whille that the laste bryngere reste him, and bayte his Dromedarie or his Hors. And so fro In to In, tille it come to the Emperour. And thus anon hathe he hasty tydynges of ony thing, that berethe charge, be his Corroures, that rennen so hastyly, thorghe out alle the Contree. And also whan the Emperour sendethe his Corroures hastyly, thorghe out his Lond, everyche of hem hathe a large thong fulle of smale Belles; and whan thei neyghen nere to the Innes of other Corroures, that ben also ordeyned be the ior-neyes, thei ryngen here Belles, and anon the other Corrours maken hem redy, and rennen here weye unto another In: and thus rennethe on to other, fulle spedly and swyftly, tille the Emperours entent be served, in alle haste. And theise Currours ben clept Chydydo,<sup>e</sup> aftre here Langage, that is to seye, a Messagere.

Also whan the Emperour gothe from o Contree to another, as I have told zou here before, and he passe thorghe Cytees and Townes, every man makethe a Fuyr before his Dore, and puttethe there inne Pouder of gode Gommess, that ben swete smellynge, for to make gode savour to the Emperour. And alle the peple knelethe doun azenst him, and don him gret reverence. And there where religyouse Cristene men dwellen, as thei don in many Cytees in the Lond, thei gon before him with processiou, with Cros and Holy Watre; and thei syngen, Veni Creator, Spiritus, with an highe Voys, and gon towards him. And whan he herethe hem, he cōmaundethe to his Lordes to ryde besyde him, that the religyouse men may come to him. And whan thei ben nyghe him, with the Cros, thanne he dothe a down his Galaothe,<sup>f</sup> that syt upon his Hede, in manere of a Chapelet, that is made of Gold and precieuse Stone and grete Perles. And it is so ryche, that men preysen it to the value of a Roialme, in that Contre. And than he knelethe to the Cros. And than the Prelate of the religyouse men seythe before him certeyn Orisouns, and zevethe him a Blessyng with the Cros: and he enclynethe to the Blessyng fulle devoutly. And thanne the

And he takethe on; and than men zeven to the othere Lordes, that ben aboute him. For the custom is suche, that no Straungere schalle come before him, but zif he zeve hym sum manere thing, aftre the olde Lawe, that seythe, Nemo accedat in conspectu meo vacuus. And thanne the Emperour seythe to the religious men, that thei withdrawe hem azen, that thei ne be hurt ne harmed of the gret multytude of Hors, that comen behynde him. And also in the same maner don the religious men, that dwellen there, to the Emperesses, that passen by hem, and to his eldest Sone; and to every of hem, thei presenten Frute.

Exod. xxxiv. 20

And zee schulle undirstonde, that the poeple, that he hathe so many hostes offe, abouten hym and aboute his Wyfes and his Sone, thei dwelle not contynuelle with him: but alle weys, whan him lykethe, thei ben sent fore; and aftre whan thei han don, thei retournen to hire owne Housholdes; saf only thei that ben dwellynge with hym in Houshold, for to serven him and his Wyfes and his Sones, for to governen his Houshold. And alle be it, that the othere ben departed fro him, aftre that thei han perfourmed hire Servyse, zit there abydethe contynuelle with him in Court, 50000 Men at Horse, and 200000 Men a Fote; with outen Mynstrelles, and tho that kepen wylde Bestes and dyverse Briddes, of the whiche I have tolde zou the nombre before.

Undre the Firmament, is not so gret a Lord, ne so myghty, ne so riche, as the grete Chane:

Nought Prestre Johan, that is Emperour of the highe Ynde, ne the Sowdan of Babyloyne, ne the Emperour of Persye. Alle theise ne ben not in comparisoun to the grete Chane; nouthur of Myght, ne of Noblesse, ne of Ryaltee, ne of Richesse: For in alle theise, he passethe alle erthely Princes. Wherefore it is gret harm, that he belevethe not feithfully in God. And natheles he wil gladly here speke of God; and he suffrethe wel, that Cristene men duelle in his Lordschipe, and that men of his Feythe ben made Cristene men, zif thei wile, thorghe out alle his Contree. For he defendethe no man to holde no Lawe, other than him lykethe.

In that Contree, sum man hathe an 100 Wyfes, sūme 60, sūme mo, sūme lesse. And thei taken the nexte of hire Kyn, to hire Wyfes, saf only, that thei out taken hire Modres, hire Doughtres, and hire Sustres of the Modre syde: but hire Sustres on the Fadir syde, of another Wōman, thei may wel take; and hire Bretheres Wyfes also aftre here Dethe; and here Step modres also in the same wyse.

And thei clepen the God of Kynde,<sup>d</sup> Yroga. And hire Emperour also, what name that evere he have, thei putten evermore therto Chane. thei beren alle weys a lytille Whippe in hire Hondes, for to chacen with hire Hors. And thei han gret Conscience, and holden it for a gret Synne, to casten a Knyf in the Fuyr, and for to drawe Flessche out of a Pot with a Knyf, and for to smyte an Hors with the handille of a Whippe, or to smyte an Hors with a Brydille, or to breke o Bon with another, or for to caste Mylk or ony Lykour, that men may drynke, upon the Erthe, or for to take and sle lytil Children. And the Wōmen maken alle thinges and alle maner Mysteres and Craftes ; as of Clothes, Botes and other thinges ; and thei dryven Cartes, Plowes and Waynes and Chariottes : and thei maken Houses and alle maner Mysteres, out taken Bowes and Arwes and Armures, that men maken. And alle the Wōmen weren Breech, as wel as men. Alle the folk of that Contree ben fulle obeyssant to hire Soverynes ; ne thei fighten not ne chiden not, on with another. And there ben nouthen Thefes ne Robboures in that Contree ; and every man worschipe the other : but no man there dothe no reverence to no Straungeres, but zif thei ben grete Princes. And thei eten Houndes, Lyounes, Lyberdes, Mares and Foles, Asses, Rattes and Mees, and alle maner of Bestes, grete and smale ; saf only Swyn, and Bestes that weren defended by the olde Lawe. And thei eten alle the Bestes, with outen and with inne, with outen castynge away of ony thing, saf only the filthe. And thei eten but litille Bred, but zif it be in Courtes of grete Lordes. And thei have not, in many places, nouthen Pesen ne Benes, ne non other Potages, but the Brothe of the Flessche. For littille ete thei ony thing, but Flessche and the Brothe. And whan thei han eten, thei wypen hire Hondes upon hire Skirtes : for thei use non Naperye, ne Towaylles, but zif it be before grete Lordes : but the comoun peple hathe none. And whan thei han eten, thei putten hire Dissches unwasschen in to the Pot or Cawdroun, with remenant of the Flessche and of the Brothe, til thei wole eten azen. And the ryche men drynken Mylk of Mares or of Camaylles or of Asses or of other Bestes. And thei wil ben lightly dronken of Mylk, or of another Drynk, that is made of Hony and of Watre soden to gidre. For in that Contree is nouthur Wyn ne Ale. Thei lyven fulle wrecched liche; and thei eten but ones in the day, and that but lytille, nouthur in Courtes ne in other places. And in soothe, o man allone in this Contree wil ete more in a day, than on of hem wil ete in 3 dayes. And zif ony straunge Messagre come there to a Lord, men maken him to ete but ones a day, and that fulle litille.

And whan thei werren, thei werren fulle wisely, and alle weys don here besynes, to destroyen hire enemyes. Every man there berethe 2 Bowes or 3, and of Arwes gret plentee, and a gret Ax. And the Gentyles han schorte Speres and large, and fulle trenchant on that o syde: and thei han Plates and Helmes, made of Quyrboylle;<sup>e</sup> and hire Hors covertoures of the same. And who so fleethe fro the Bataylle, thei sle him. And whan thei holden ony Sege abouten Castelle or Toun, that is walled and defensable, thei behoten to hem that ben with inne, to don alle the profite and gode, that it is marveylle to here: and thei graunten also to hem that ben with inne, alle that thei wille asken hem. And aftre that thei ben zolden, anon thei sleen hem alle, and kутten of hire Eres, and sowcen hem in Vynegre, and there of thei maken gret servyse for Lordes. Alle here lust and alle here Ymaginacioun, is for to putten alle Londes undre hire subieccioun. And thei seyn, that thei knowen wel be hire prophecyes, that thei schulle ben overcomen by Archieres, and be strengthe of hem: but they knowe not of what nacioun, ne of what Lawe

Also whan thei wille make hire Ydoles, or an Ymage of ony of hire Frendes, for to have remembrance of hym, thei maken alle weys the Ymage alle naked, with outen ony maner of Clothinge. For thei seyn, that in gode love scholde be no coverynge, that man scholde not love for the faire Clothinge, ne for the riche aray, but only for the body, suche as God hathe made it, and for the gode vertues that the body is endowed with of nature; not only for fair Clothinge, that is not of kyndely nature.

And zee schulle undirstonde, that it is gret drede for to pursue the Tartarines, zif thei fleen in Bataylle. For in fleyng, thei schooten behynden hem, and sleen bothe men and Hors. And thei preysen no thing the wytt of other naciouns. And amonges hem, Oyle of Olyve is fulle dere: for thei holden it for fulle noble medicyne. Thei ben fulle harde folk, and moche peyne and wo mow suffren and disese, more than ony other folk: for thei ben taughte therto in hire owne Contree, of Zouthe: and therefore thei spenden, as who seythe, right nought.

And whan ony man schalle dye, men setten a spere besyde him: and whan he drawethe towards the dethe, every man fleethe out of the Hous, tille he be ded; and aftre that, thei buryen him in the Feldes. And whan the Emperour dyethe, men setten him in a Chayere in myddes the place of his Tent: and men setten a Table before him clene, covered with a clothe, and there upon Flesche and dyverse vyaundes, and a Cuppe fulle of Mares mylk. And men putten a Mare besyde him, with hire Fole, and an Hors sadeled and brydeled; and thei leyn upon the Hors Gold and Silver gret quantytee: and thei putten abouten him gret plentee of Stree: and than men maken a gret pytt and a large; and with the Tent and alle theise other thinges, thei putten him in Erthe. And thei seyn, that whan he schalle come in to another World, he schalle not ben with outen an Hous, ne with owten Hors, ne with outen Gold and Sylver: and the Mare schalle zeven him mylk, and bryngen him forthe mo Hors, tille he be wel stored in the tother World. For thei trowen, that aftre hire Dethe, thei schulle be etynge and drynkyng in that other World, and solacyng hem with hire Wifes, as thei diden here. And aftre tyme, that the Emperour is thus entered, no man schalle be so hardy to speke of him before his Frenedes. And zit natheles som-

And thanne thei seyn, that he is ravisht in to another world, where he is a grette Lord, than he was here. THIS Lond of Cathay is in Asye the depe. And aftre, on this half, is Asye the more. The Kyngdom of Cathay marchethe toward the West, unto the Kyngdom of Tharse; the whiche was on of the Kinges, that cam to presente our Lord in Bethелеem. And thei that ben of the Lynage of that Kyng, arn some Cristene. In Tharse, thei eten no Flessche, ne thei drynken no Wyn. And on this half, towardes the West, is the Kyngdom of Turquesten, that strecchethe him toward the West, to the Kyngdom of Persie; and toward the Septrentionalle, to the Kyngdom of Chorasme. In the contre of Turquesten, ben but fewe gode Cytees: but the beste Cytee of that Lond highte Octorar. There ben grete Pastures; but fewe Coornes; and therefore, for the most partie, thei ben alle Herdemen: and thei lyzn in Tentis, and thei drynken a maner Ale, made of Hony. And aftre, on this half, is the Kyngdom of Chorasme, that is a gode lond and a plentevous, with outen Wyn. And it hathe a Desert toward the Est, that lastethe more than an 100 iourneyes.

And on this half is the Kyngdom of Comanye, where of the Comayns that dwelleden in Grece, somtyme weren chaced out. This is on of the grettest Kyngdomes of the World: but it is not alle enhabyted. Therefore I schalle telle zou of the Kyngdom of Persie. And on another syde, it streccheth toward the Septemtrion, unto the See of Caspye: and also toward the Southe, unto the Desert of Ynde. And this Countree is gode and pleyn and fulle of peple. And there ben manye gode Cytees. But the 2 principalle Cytees ben theise, Boyturra, and Seornergant, that sū men clepen Sormagant. The tother Kyngdom of Persie streccheth toward the Ryvere of Phison, and the Parties of the West, unto the Kyngdom of Mede: And fro the grete Armenye, and toward the Septemtrion, to the See of Caspie; and toward the Southe, to the lond of Ynde. Aftre this, is the Kyngdom of Mede, that is fulle long, but it is not fulle large, that begynne the toward the Est, to the lond of Persie, and to Ynde the lesse. And in everyche of these ben many gode Cytees. This Turkye strecchethe unto the Cytee of Saçhala, that sittethe upon the See of Grece; and so it marchethe to Syrie. of hem trowed, it were an impossible thing to be. In that Contree ben longe Apples, of gode savour; where of ben mo than an 100 in a Clustre, and als manye in another: and thei han grete longe Leves and large, of 2 Fote long or more. And in that Contree, and in other Contrees there abouten, growen many Trees, that beren Clowe Gylofres and Notemuges, and grete Notes of Ynde and of Canelle and of many other Spices. And there ben Vynes, that beren so grete Grapes, that a strong man scholde have y now to done, for to bere o clustre with alle the Grapes. In that same regioun ben the Mountaynes of Caspye, that men clepen Uber in the Contree. Betwene tho Mountaynes, the Jewes of 10 Lynages ben enclosed, that men clepen Gothe and Magothe: and thei mowe not gon out on no syde. There weren enclosed 22 Kynges with hire peple, that duelleden betwene the Mountaynes of Sythye. There Kyng Alisandre chacede hem betwene tho Mountaynes; and there he thoughte for to enclose hem thorghe werk of his men. But whan he saughe, that he myghte not don it, ne bryng it to an ende, he preyed to God of Nature, that he wolde parforme that that he had begonne. And alle were it so, that he was a Payneme and not worthi to ben herd, zit God of his grace closed the Mountaynes to gydre: so that thei dwellen there, alle faste y lokked and enclosed with highe Mountaynes alle aboute, saf only on o syde; and on that syde, is the See of Caspye. Now may sum men asken, Sithe that the See is on that o syde, wherfore go thei not out on the See syde, for to go where that hem lykethe? But to this questioun, I schal answeere, That See of Caspye gothe out be Londe, undre the Moun-taynes, and rennethe be the Desert at o syde of the Contree; and aftre it strecchethe unto the endes of Persie. And alle thoughe it be clept a See, it is no See, ne it touchethe to non other See:

 but it is a Lake, the grettest of the World. And thoughe thei wolden putten hem in to that See, thei ne wysten never, where that thei scholde arryven. And also thei conen no Langage, but only hire owne, that no man knowethe but thei:
 and therefore mowe thei not gon out. And also zee schulle undirstonde, that the Jewes han no propre Lond of hire owne for to dwellen inne, in alle the World, but only that Lond betwene the Mountaynes. And zit thei zelden Tribute for that Lond to the Queen of Amazoine, the whiche makethe hem to ben kept in cloos fulle diligently, that thei schalle not gon out on no syde, but be the Cost of hire Lond. For hire Lond marchethe to tho Mountaynes. And often it hathe befallen, that sūme of the Jewes han gon up the Moun-taynes, and ayaled down to the Valeyes: but gret nombre of folk ne may not do so. For the Moun-taynes ben so hye and so streghte up, that thei moste abyde there, maugre hire Myghte. For thei mowe not gon out, but be a littille issue, that was made be strengthe of men; and it lastethe wel
 a 4 grete Myle. And aftre, is there zit a Lond allo Desert, where men may fynde no Watre, ne for dyggyngge, ne for non other thing. Wherefore men may not dwellen in that place: so is it fulle
 of Dragounes, of Serpentes and of other venymous Bestes, that no man dar not passe, but zif it be be strong Wyntre. And that streyt passage, men

clepen in that Contree, Clyron. And that is the passage, that the Queen of Amazoine makethe to ben kept. And thoghe it happene, sum of hem, be Fortune, to gon out; thei conen no maner of Langage but Ebrew: so that thei can not speke to the peple. And zit natheles, men seyn, thei schalle gon out in the tyme of Antecrist, and that thei schulle maken gret slaughtre of Cristene men. And therefore alle the Jewes, that dwellen in alle Londes, lernen alle weys to speken Ebrew, in hope that whan the other Jewes schulle gon out, that thei may undirstonden hire Speche, and to leden hem in to Cristendom, for to destroye the Cristene peple. For the Jewes seyn, that they knowen wel, be hire Prophecyes, that thei of Caspye schulle gon out and spreden thorghe out alle the World; and that the Cristene men schulle ben undre hire Subieccioun, als longe as thei han ben in subieccioun of hem. And zif that zee wil wyte, how that thei schulle fynden hire Weye, aftre that I have herd seye, I schalle telle zou. In the time of Antecrist, a Fox schalle make there his trayne, and mynen an hole, where Kyng Alisandre leet make the Zates: and so longe he schalle mynen and perce the Erthe, til that he schalle passe thorghe, towardses that folk. And whan thei seen the Fox, thei schulle have gret marveyll of him, be cause that thei saughe never suche a Best. For of alle othere Bestes, thei han enclosed amonges hem, saf only the Fox. And thanne thei schullen chacen him and pursuen him so streyte, tille that he come to the same place, that he cam fro. And thanne thei schullen dyggen and mynen so strongly, tille that thei fynden the Zates, that Kyng Alisandre leet make of grete Stones and passynge huge, wel symented and made stronge for the maystrie. And tho Zates thei schulle breken, and so gon out, be fyndynge of that issue.

Fro that Lond, gon men toward the Lond of Bacharie, where ben fulle yvele folk and fulle cruelle. In that Lond ben Trees, that beren Wolle, as thoghe it were of Scheep; where of men maken Clothes, and alle thing that may ben made of Wolle. In that Contree ben many Ipotaynes, that dwellen somtyme in the Watre, and somtyme on the Lond: and thei ben half Man and half Hors, as I have seyde before: and thei eten men, whan thei may take hem. And there ben Ryveres of Watres, that ben fulle byttere, three sythes more than is the Watir of the See. In that Contree ben many Griffounes, more plentee than in ony other Contree. Sum men seyn, that thei han the Body upward, as an Egle, and benethe as a Lyoun: and treuly thei seyn sothe, that thei ben of that schapp. But o Griffoun hathe the body more gret and is more strong thanne 8 Lyouns, of suche Lyouns as ben o this half; and more gret and strongere, than an 100 Egles, suche as we han amonges us. For o Griffoun there wil bere, fleyng to his Nest, a gret Hors, or 2 Oxen zoked to gidere, as thei gon at the Plowghe. For he hathe his Talouns<sup>a</sup> so longe and so large and grete, upon his Feet, as thoughe thei weren Hornes of grete Oxen or of Bugles or of Kyzn; so that men maken Cuppes of hem, to drynken of: and of hire Ribbes and of the Pennes of hire Wenges, men maken Bowes fulle stronge, to schote with Arwes and Quarelle. From thens gon men, be many iourneyes, thorghe the Lond of Prestre John, the grete Emperour of Ynde. [And men clepen his Roialme, the Yle of Pentexoire.]

Of the Ryalle estate of Prestre John; and of a riche man, that made a marveyllous Castelle, and cleped it Paradys; and of his Sotyltee.

THIS Emperour Prestre John holt fulle gret Lond, and hathe many fulle noble Cytees and gode Townes in his Royalme, and many grete dyverse Yles and large. For alle the Contree of Ynde is devysed in Yles, for the grete Flodes, that comen from Paradys, that departen alle the Lond in many parties. And also in the See, he hathe fulle manye Yles. And the beste Cytee in the Yle of Pentexoire is Nyse, that is a fulle Ryalle Cytee and a noble, and fulle riche. This Prestre John hathe undre him many Kynge and many Yles and many dyverse folk of dyverse condicions. And this Lond is fulle gode and ryche; but not so riche as is the Lond of the grete Chane. For the Marchauntes come not thidre so comounly, for to bye Marchandises, as thei don in the Lond of the gret Chane: for it is to fer to travaylle to. And on that other partie, in the Yle of Cathay, men fynden alle maner thing, that is nede to man; Clothes of Gold, of Silk, and Spycerie. And therefore, alle be it that men han grettre chep in the Yle of Prestre John, natheles men dreden the longe wey and the grete periles in the See, in the parties. For in many places of the See ben grete Roches of Stones of the Adamant, that of his propre nature drawethe Iren to him. And therefore there passen no Schippes, that han outhere Bondes or Nayles of Iren with in hem: and zif there do, anon the Roches of the Adamantes drawen hem to hem, that never thei may go thens. I my self have seen o Ferrom in that See, as though it hadde ben a gret Yle fulle of Trees and Buscaylle, fulle of Thornes and Breres, gret plentee. And the Schipmen tolde us, that alle that was of Schippes, that weren drawen thidre be the Adamautes, for the Iren that was in hem. And of the rotenesse and other thing that was with in the Schippes, grewen suche Buscaylle and Thornes and Breres and grene Grasse and suche maner of thing; and of the Mastes and the Seylle Zerdes: it semed a grete Wode or a Grove. And suche Roches ben in many places there abouten. And therefore dur not the Marchautes passen there, but zif thei knowen wel the passages, or elle that thei han gode Lodes men. And also thei dreden the longe weye: and therefore thei gon to Cathay; for it is more nyghe: and zit is not so nyghe, but that men moste ben travayllynge be See and Lond, 11 Monethes or 12, from Gene or from Venyse, or he come to Cathay. And zit is the Lond of Prestre John more ferr, be many dredfulle iourneyes. And the Marchautes passen be the Kyngdom of Persie, and gon to a Cytee that is clept Hermes: for Hermes the Philosophre founded it. And afre that, thei passen an Arm of the See, and thanne thei gon to another Cytee that is clept Golbache:<sup>a</sup> and there thei fynden Marchandises, and of Popengayes, as gret plentee

 therefore thei eten Ryzs and Hony and Mylk and

This Emperour Prestre John takethe alle weys to his Wif, the Doughtre of the grete Chane; and the gret Chane also in the same wise, the Doughtre of Prestre John. For theise 2 ben the grettest Lordes undir the Firmament.

In the Lond of Prestre John, ben many dyverse thinges and many precious Stones, so grete and so large, that men maken of hem Vesselle; as Plateres, Dissches and Cuppes. And many other marveylls ben there; that it were to combrous
 and to long to putten it in scripture of Bokes.

But of the princypalle Yles and of his Estate
 and of his Lawe, I schalle telle zou som partye.
 This Emperour Prestre John is Cristene; and a gret partie of his Contree also: but zit thei have not alle the Articles of oure Feythe, as wee have.
 Thei beleven wel in the Fadre, in the Sone and in the Holy Gost: and thei ben fulle devoute, and righte trewe on to another. And thei sette not be no Barettes, ne by Cawteles, ne of no Disceytes.
 And he hathe undre him 72 Provynces; and in every Provynce is a Kyng. And theise Kynges han Kynges undre hem; and alle ben tributaries to Prestre John. And he hathe in his Lordschipes many grete marveyles. For in his Contree, is the See that men clepen the Gravely See, that is alle Gravelle and Sond, with outen ony drope of Watre: and it ebbethe and flowethe in grete
 Wawes, as other Sees don: and it is never stille

ne in pes, in no maner cesoun. And no man may passe that See be Navye, ne be no maner of craft: and therfore may no man knowe, what Lond is bezond that See. And alle be it that it have no Watre, zit men fynden there in and on the Bankes, fulle gode Fische of other maner of kynde and schappe, thanne men fynden in ony other See; and thei ben of right goode tast, and delycious to mannes mete.

And a 3 iourneys long fro that See, ben gret Mountaynes; out of the whiche gothe out a gret Flood, that comethe out of Paradys: and it is fulle of precious Stones, with outen ony drope of Water: and it rennethe thorghe the Desert, on that o syde; so that it makethe the See gravelly: and it berethe in to that See, and there it endethe. And that Flōme rennethe also, 3 dayes in the Woke, and bryngethe with him grete Stones, and the Roches also therewith, and that gret plentee. And anon as thei ben entred in to the gravelly See, thei ben seyn no more; but lost for evere more. And in tho 3 dayes, that that Ryvere rennethe, no man dar entren in to it: but in the other dayes, men dar entren wel y now. Also bezonde that Flōme, more upward to the Desertes, is a gret Pleyne alle gravelly betwene the Mountaynes: and in that Playn, every day at the Sonne risynge, begynnen to growe smale Trees; and thei growen til mydday, berynge Frute: but no man dar taken of that Frute; for it is a thing of Fayrye. And aftre mydday, thei discrecen and entren azen in to the Erthe; so that at the goynge doun of the Sonne, thei apperen no more: and so thei don every day; and that is a gret marvaylle.

In that Desert ben many wylde men, that ben hidouse to loken on: for thei ben horned;<sup>b</sup> and thei speken nought, but thei gronten, as Pygges. And there is also gret plentee of wylde Houndes. And there ben manye Popegayes, that thei clepen Psitakes in hire Langage: and thei speken of hire propre nature, and salven men that gon thorghe the Desertes, and speken to hem als appertely, as thoughe it were a man. And thei that speken wel, han a large Tonge, and han 5 Toos upon a Fote. And there ben also of other manere, that han but 3 Toos upon a Fote; and thei speken not, or but litille: for thei cone not but cryen.

This Emperour Prestre John, whan he gothe in to Battayle, azenst ony other Lord, he hathe no Baneres born before him: but he hathe 3 Crosses of Gold, fyn, grete and hye, fulle of precious Stones: and every of the Crosses ben sett in a Chariot, fulle richely arrayed. And for to kepen every Cros, ben ordeyned 10000 men of Armes, and mo than 100000 men on Fote, in maner as men wolde kepe a Stondard in oure Contrees, whan that wee ben in Lond of Werre. And this nombre of folk is with outen the pryncipalle Hoost, and with outen Wenges ordeynd for the Bataylle. And whan he hathe no Werre, but ridethe with a pryvy Meynee, thanne he hathe bore before him but o Cross of Tree, with outen peynture, and with outen Gold or Silver or precious Stones; in remembrance, that Jesu Crist suffred Dethe upon a Cros of Tree. And he hathe born before him also a Plater of Gold fulle of Erthe, in tokene that his Noblesse and his Myghte and his Flessche schalle turnen to Erthe. And he hathe born before him also a Vesselle of Silver, fulle of noble Jewelles of Gold fulle riche, and of precious Stones, in tokene of his Lordschipe and of his Noblesse and of his Myght. He duellethe comounly in the Cytee of Suse; and there is his principalle Palays, that is so riche and so noble, that no man wil trowe it by estymacioun, but he had seen it. And aboven the chief Tour of the Palays, ben 2 rounde Pomeles of Gold; and in everyche of hem beñ 2 Carboncles grete and large, that schynen fulle brighte upon the nyght. And the principalle Zates of his Palays ben of precious Ston, that men clepen Sardoyne: and the Bordure and the Barres ben of Ivorye: and the Wyndowes of the Halles and Chambres ben of Cristalle: and the Tables, where on men eten, sōme ben of Emeraudes, sūme of Amatyst and sōme of Gold, fulle of precious Stones; and the Pileres, that beren up the Tables, ben of the same precious Stones. And the Degrees to gon up to his Throne, where he sittethe at the Mete, on is of Oniche, another is of Cristalle, and another of Jaspre grene, another of Amatyst, another of Sardyne, another of Corne-line, and the sevene that he settethe on his Feet, is of Crisolyte. And alle theise Degrees ben bordured with fyn Gold, with the tother precious Stones, sett with grete Perles oryent. And the sydes of the Sege of his Throne ben of Emeraudes, and bordured with Gold fulle nobely, and dubbed with other precious Stones and grete Perles. And alle the Pileres in his Chambre, ben of fyne Gold with precious Stones, and with many Carboncles, that zeven gret lyght upon the nyght to alle peple.

And alle be it that the Charboncle zeve lyght right y now, natheles at alle tymes brennethe a Vesselle of Cristalle fulle of Bawme, for to zeven gode smelle and odour to the Emperour, and to voyden away alle wykkede Eyres and corrupciouns. And the forme of his Bedd is of fyne Saphires bended with Gold, for to make him slepen wel, and to refreynen him from Lecherye. For he wille not lyze with his Wyfes, but 4 sithes in the Zeer, afre the 4 Cesouns: and that is only for to engendre Children. He hathe also a fulle fayr Palays and a noble, at the Cytee of Nyse, where that he dwellethe, whan him best lykethe: but the Ayr is not so attempree, as it is at the Cytee of Suse. And zee schulle undirstonde, that in alle his Contree, ne in the Contrees there alle aboute, men eten noghte but ones in the day, as men don in the Court of the grete Chane. And so thei eten every day in his Court, mo than 30000 persones, with outen goeres and comeres. But the 30000 persones of his Contree, ne of the Contree of the grete Chane, ne spenden noghte so moche Gode, as don 12000 of oure Contree. This Emperour Prestre John hathe evere more 7 Kynges with him, to serve him: and thei departen hire Service be certeyn Monethes. And with theise Kynges serven alle weys 72 Dukes and 360 Erles. And alle the dayes of the Zeer, there eten in his Household and in his Court, 12 Erchebysshoppes and 20 Bisshoppes. And the Patriark of seynt Thomas is there, as is the Pope here. And the Erchebisshoppes and the Bisshoppes and the Abbottes in that Contree, ben alle Kynges. And everyche of theise grete Lordes knowen wel y now the

The on is Mayster of his Houshold, another is his Chamberleyn, another servethe him of a Dyssche, another of the Cuppe, another is Styward, another is Mareschalle, another is Prynce of his Armes: and thus is he fulle nobely and ryally served. And his Lond durethe in verry brede 4 Monethes iorneyes, and in lengthe out of mesure: that is to seyn, alle the Yles undir Erthe, that wee supposen to ben undir us.

Besyde the Yle of Pentexoire, that is the Lond of Prestre John, is a gret Yle long and brode, that men clepen Milsterak; and it is in the Lordschipe of Prestre John. In that Yle is gret plentee of Godes. There was dwellynge somtyme a ryche man, and it is not longe sithen, and men clept him Gatholonabes; and he was fulle of Cauteles and of sotylle Disceytes: and he hadde a fulle fair Castelle, and a strong, in a Mountayne, so strong and so noble, that no man cowde devise a fairere ne a strengere. And he had let muren alle the Mountayne aboute with a strong Walle and a fair. And with inne tho Walles he had the fairest Gardyn, that ony man myghte beholde; and therein were Trees berynge alle maner of Frutes, that ony man cowde devyse: and there in were also alle maner vertuous Herbes of gode smelle, and alle other Herbes also, that beren faire Floures. And he had also in that Gardyn, many faire Welles; and beside tho Welles, he had lete make faire Halles and faire Chambres, depeynted alle with Gold and Azure. And there weren in that place many a dyverse thinges and many dyverse stories: and of Bestes and of Bryddes, that songen fulle

And he had also in his Gardyn alle maner of Foules and of Bestes, that ony man myghte thenke on, for to have pley or desport to beholde hem. And he had also in that place, the faireste Damyseles, that myghte ben founde undir the Age of 15 Zere, and the faireste zonge striplynges, that men myghte gete of that same age: and alle thei weren clothed in Clothes of Gold fully richely: and he seyde, that tho weren Aungeles. And he had also let make 3 Welles, faire and noble, and alle envyround with ston of Jaspre, of Cristalle, dyapred with Gold, and sett with precious Stones and grete orient Perles. And he had made a Conduyt undir Erthe, so that the 3 Welles, at his list, on scholde renne Milk, another Wyn, and another Hony. And that place he clept Paradys. And whan that ony gode Knyght, that was hardy and noble, cam to see this Rialtee, he wolde lede him into his Paradys, and schewen him theise wondirfulle thinges, to his desport, and the marveyllous and delicious Song of dyverse Briddes, and the faire Damyseles, and the faire Welles of Mylk, Wyn and hony, plenteuous rennynge. And he wolde let make dyverse Instrumentes of Musick to sownen in an highe Tour, so merily that it was joye for to here; and no man scholde see the craft thereof: And tho, he seyde, weren Aungeles of God, and that place was Paradys, that God had behighte to his Frenedes, seyenge, Dabo vobis Terram fluentem lacte & Melle. And thanne wolde he maken hem to drynken of certeyn drynk, where of anon thei scholden be dronken. And thanne wolde hem thinken gretter delyt, than thei hadden before. And than wolde he seye to hem, that zif thei wolde dyen for him and for his love, that aftir hire Dethe, thei scholde come to his Paradys; and thei scholde ben of the age of the Damyseles, and thei scholde pleyen with hem, and zit ben Maydenes. And aftir that, zit scholde he putten hem in a fayrere Paradys, where that thei schold see God of Nature visibely, in his Magestee and in his Blisse. And than wolde he schewe hem his entent, and seye hem, that zif thei wolde go sle suche a Lord or suche a man, that was his Enemye, or contrarious to his list, that thei scholde not drede to don it, and for to be slayn therefore hemself: for aftir hire Dethe, he wolde putten hem into another Paradys, that was an 100 fold fairere than ony of the tothere: and there schode thei dwellen with the most fairest Damyselles that myghte be, and pley with hem ever more. And thus wenten many dyverse lusty Bacheleres for to sle grete Lords, in dyverse Countrees, that weren his enemyes, and maden hem self to ben slayn, in hope to have that Paradys. And thus often tyme, he was revenged of his enemyes, be his sotylle disceytes and false Cauteles. And whan the worthi men of the Countree hadden perceyved this sotylle falshod of this Gatholonabes, thei assembled hem with force, and assayleden his Castelle, and slown him, and destroyden alle the fair places, and alle the nobletees of that Paradys. The place of the Welles and of the Walles and of many other thinges, ben zit apertly sene: but the richesse is voyded clene. And it is not longe gon, sithe that place was destroyed.

BESYDE that Yle of Mistorak, upon the left syde, nyghe to the Ryvere of Phison, is a marveyulous thing. There is a Vale betwene the Mountaynes, that durethe nyghe a 4 Myle: and summen clepen it the Vale enchanted; some clepen it the Vale of Devels, and some clepen it the Vale perilous. In that Vale, heren men often tyme grete Tempestes and Thondres and grete Murmures and Noyses, alle dayes and nyghtes: and gret noyse, as it were sown of Tabours and of Nakeres and Trompes, as thoughe it were of a gret feste. This Vale is alle fulle of Devels, and hathe ben alle weys. And men seyn there, that it is on of the entrees of Helle. In that Vale is gret plentee of Gold and Sylver: wherefore many mys belevynge men, and manye Cristene men also, gon in often tyme, for to have of the Thresoure, that there is: but fewe comen azen; and namely of the mys belevynge men, ne of the Cristene men nouthur: for thei ben anon strangled of Devels. horrible and dreadfull to see, and it schewethe not but the Hed, to the Schuldres. But there is no man in the World so hardy, Cristene man ne other, but that he wolde ben a drad for to beholde it; and that it wolde semen him to dye for drede; so is it hidouse for to beholde. For he beholdeth every man so scharply, with dreadfull Eye, that ben evere more mevyng and sparklyng, as Fuyr, and chaungeth and stereth so often in dyverse manere, with so horrible Countenance, that no man dar not neighen towards him. And fro him cometh out Smoke and Stynk and Fuyr, and so moche Abhomynacioun, that uneth no man may there endure. But the gode Cristene men, that ben stable in the Feythe, entren welle withouten perile. For thei wil first schryven hem, and marken hem with the tokene of the Holy Cros;

so that the Fendes ne han no Power over hem. But alle be it that thei ben with outen perile, zit natheles ne ben thei not with outen drede, whan that thei seen the Devels visibely and bodyly alle aboute hem, that maken fulle many dyverse Assautes and Manaces in Eyr and in Erthe, and agasten hem with strokes of Thondre blastes and of Tempestes. And the most drede is, that God wole taken Vengeance thanne, of that men han mys don azen his Wille. And zee schulle undirstonde, that whan my Fellows and I weren in that Vale, wee weren in gret thought, whether that wee dursten putten oure Bodyes in aventure, to gon in or non, in the proteccioun of God. And some of oure Fellowes accordeden to enter, and somme nocht. So there weren with us 2 worthi men, Frere Menoures, that weren of Lombardye, that seyden, that zif ony man wolde entren, thei wolde gon in with us. And when thei hadden seyde so, upon the gracyous trust of God and of hem, wee leet synge Masse, and made every man to ben schryven and houseld: and thanne wee entreden 14 personnes; but at oure goynge out, wee weren but 9. And so wee wisten nevere, whether that oure Fellowes weren lost, or elle turned azen for drede: but wee ne saughe hem never after: and tho weren 2 men of Grece and 3 of Spayne. And oure other Fellows, that wolden not gon in with us, thei wenten by another Coste, to ben before us, and so thei were. And thus wee passeden that perilouse Vale, and founden thereinne Gold and Sylver and precious Stones and riche Jewelles gret plentee, both here and there, as us semed: but whether that it was,

as us semede, I wot nere: for I touched none, because that the Develes ben so subtyle to make a thing to seme otherwise than it is, for to disceyve mankynde: and therfore I towched none; and also because that I wolde not ben put out of my Devocioun: for I was more devout thanne, than evere I was before or after, and alle for the drede of Fendes, that I saughe in dyverse Figures; and also for the gret multytude of dede Bodyes, that I saughe there liggyng be the Weye, be alle the Vale, as thoughe there had ben a Bataylle betwene 2 Kynges and the myghtyest of the Contree, and that the gretter partye had ben discomfyted and slayn. And I trowe, that unethe scholde ony Contree have so moche peple with in him, as lay slayn in that Vale, as us thoughte; the whiche was an hidouse sight to seen. And I mervyllled moche, that there weren so manye, and the Bodyes all hole, with outen rotyng. But I trowe, that Fendes made hem semen to ben so hole, with outen rotyng. But that myghte not ben to myn avys, that so manye scholde have entred so newly, ne so manye newly slayn, with outen stynkyng and rotyng. And manye of hem weren in habite of Cristene men: but I trowe wel, that it weren of suche, that wenten in for covetyse of the Thre-soure, that was there, and hadden over moche feblenesse in Feithe; so that hire Hertes ne myghte not endure in the Beleve for drede. And therfore weren wee the more devout a gret del: and zit wee weren cast down and beten down many tymes to the hard Erthe, be Wyndes and Thondres and Tempestes: but evere more God of his grace halp us: and so wee passed that perilous Vale, with outen perile and with outen encombrance. Thanked be alle myghty Godd.

*see Hole
p. 78 sepp.*

Aftre this, bezonde the Vale, is a gret Yle, where the folk ben grete Geauntes of 28 Fote longe or of 30 Fote longe: and thei han no Clothinge, but of Skynnes of Bestes, that thei hangen upon hem: and thei eten no Breed, but alle raw Flesche: and thei drynken Mylk of Bestes; for thei han plentee of alle Bestaylle. And thei have none Houses, to lyen inne. And thei eten more gladly mannes Flessche, thanne ony other Flesche. In to that Yle dar no man gladly entren: and zif thei seen a Schipp and Men there inne, anon thei entren in to the See, for to take hem.

J

And men seyden us, that in an Yle bezonde that, weren Geantes of grettere Stature; sūme of 45 Fote, or 50 Fote long, and as some men seyn, sūme of 50 Cubytes long: but I saghe none of tho; for I hadde no lust to go to tho parties, because that no man comethe nouthen in to that Yle ne in to the other, but zif he be devoured anon. And among tho Geauntes ben Scheep, als grete as Oxen here; and thei beren gret Wolle and rōughe. Of the Scheep I have seyn many tymes. And men han seyn many tymes tho Geauntes taken men in the See out of hire Schippes, and broughte hem to lond, 2 in on hond and 2 in another, etynge hem goynge, alle rawe and alle quyk.

Another Yle is there toward the Northe, in the See Ocean, where that ben fulle cruele and ful evele Wommen of Nature; and thei han precious Stones in hire Eyen: and thei ben of that kynde, that zif thei beholden ony man with wratthe, thei

slen him anon with the beholdyng, as dothe the Basilisk.<sup>a</sup>

Another Yle is there, fulle fair and gode and gret, and fulle of peple, where the custom is suche, that the firste nyght that thei ben maryed, thei maken another man to lye be hire Wifes, for to have hire Maydenhode: and therfore thei taken gret Huyre and gret Thank. And ther ben certeyn men in every Town, that serven of non other thing; and thei clepen hem Cadeberiz, that is to seyne, the Foles of Wanhope. For thei of the Contree holden it so gret a thing and so perilous, for to have the Maydenhode of a Woman, that hem semethe that thei that haven first the Maydenhode, puttethe him in aventure of his Lif. And zif the Husbonde fynde his Wif Mayden, that other next nyghte, aftre that sche scholde have ben leyn by of the man, that is assigned therefore, perauntes for Dronkenesse or for some other cause, the Husbonde schalle pleyne upon him, that he hathe not don his Deveer, in suche cruelle wise, as thoughe he wolde have him slayn therfore. But after the firste nyght, that thei ben leyn by, thei kepen hem so streytely, that thei ben not so hardy to speke with no man. And I asked hem the cause, whi that thei helden suche custom: and thei seyden me, that of old tyme, men hadden ben dede for deflouryng of Maydenes, that hadden Serpentes in hire Bodyes, that stongen men upon hire Zerdes, that thei dyeden anon: and therefore thei helden that custom, to make other men, ordeyn'd therefore, to lye be hire Wyfes, for drede of Deth, and to assaye the passage be another, rather than for to putte hem in that aventure.

Aftre that, is another Yle, where that Wōmen maken gret Sorwe, whan hire Children ben y born: and whan thei dyen, thei maken gret Feste and gret Joye and Revelle, and thanne thei casten hem in to a gret Fuyr brennyng. And tho that loven wel hire Husbandes, zif hire Husbandes ben dede, thei casten hem also in the Fuyr, with hire Children, and brennen hem. And thei seyn, that the Fuyr schalle clensen hem of alle filthes and of alle Vices, and thei schulle gon pured and clene in to another World, to hire Husbandes, and thei schulle leden hire Children with hem. And the cause whi that they wepen, when hire Children ben born, is this, For whan thei comen in to this World, thei comen to labour, sorwe and hevynesse: And whi thei maken ioye and gladnesse at hire dyenge, is be cause that, as thei seyn, thanne thei gon to Paradys, where the Ryveres rennen Mylk and Hony, where that men seen hem in ioye and in habundance of Godes, with outen sorwe and labour. In that Yle men maken hire Kyng evere more be eleccioun: and they ne chese him nought for no Noblesse ne for no Ricchesse, but suche an on as is of gode maneres and of gode Condiciouns, and therewith alle rightfulle; and also that he be of gret Age, and that he have no Children. In that Yle men ben fulle rightfulle, and thei don rightfulle Iuggementes in every cause, bothe of riche and pore, smale and grete, aftre the quantytee of the trespas that is mys don. And the Kyng may nought deme no man to Dethe, with outen assent of his Barouns and other wyse men of Conseille, and that alle the Court accorde therto. And zif the Kyng him self do ony Homycydie or ony Cryme, as to sle a man, or ony suche cas, he schalle dye therefore; but he schalle not be slayn, as another man, but men schulle defende in peyne of Dethe, that no man be so hardy to make him Companye, ne to speke with hym, ne that no man zeve him ne selle him ne serve him nouthur of Mete ne Drynk: and so schalle he dye in myschef. Thei spare no man that hath trespaced, nouthur for love ne for favour ne for ricchesse ne for Noblesse, but that he schalle have aftre that he hathe don.

Bezonde that Yle, is another Yle, where is gret multytude of Folk; and thei wole not for nothing eten Flesche of Hares, ne of Hennes, ne of Gees: and zit thei bryngen forthe y now, for to seen hem and to beholden hem only. But thei eten Flesche of alle other Bestes, and drynken Mylk. In that Contre, thei taken hire Doughtres and hire Sustres to here Wyfes, and hire othere Kynneswōmen. And zif there ben 10 or 12 men or mo dwellynge in an Hows, the Wif of everyche of hem schalle ben comoun to hem alle, that duellen in that Hows; so that every man may ligen with whom he wole of hem, on o nyght, and with another another nyght. And zif sche have ony Child, sche may zeve it to what man sche list, that hathe companyed with hire; so that no man knoweth there, whether the Child be his or anothers. And zif ony man seye

In that Contre and be alle Ynde, ben gret plentee of Cokodrilles, that is a maner of a long Serpent, as I have seyde before. And in the nyght, thei dwellen in the Watir, and on the day, upon the Lond, in Roches and Caves. And thei ete no mete in alle the Wynter: but thei lyzn as in a Drem, as don the Serpentes. Theise Serpentes slen men, and thei eten hem wepynge: and whan thei eten, thei meven the over Jowe, and noughte the nether Jowe; and thei have no Tonge. In that Contree, and in many other bezonde that, and also in manye on this half, men putten in werke the Sede of Cotoun: and thei sowen it every Zeer, and than growethe it in smale Trees, that beren Cotoun. And so don men every Zeer; so that there is plentee of Cotoun, at alle tymes. Item, in this Yle and in many other, there is a manner of Wode, hard and strong: who so coverethe the Coles of that Wode undir the Assches there offe, the Coles wil duellen and abyden alle quyk, a Zere or more. And that Tre hathe many Leves, as the Gynypre hathe. And there ben also many Trees, that of nature thei wole never brenne ne rote in no manere. And there ben Note Trees, that beren Notes, als grete as a Mannes Hed. There also ben many Bestes, that ben clept Oraffes. In Arabye, thei ben clept Gerfauntz; that is a Best pomelee or spotted; that is but a litylle more highe, than is a Stede: but he hathe the Necke a 20 Cubytes long: and his Croup and his Tayl is as of an Hert: and he may loken over a gret highe

And he chaungethe his colour often tyme: for men seen him often scithes, now in o colour and now in another colour: and he may chaunge him in to alle maner of coloures that him list, saf only in to red and white. There ben also in that Contree passynge grete Serpentes, sūme of 120 Fote long, and thei ben of dyverse coloures, as rayed, rede, grene and zalowe, blewe and blake, and alle spekelede. And there ben othere, that han Crestes upon hire Hedes: and thei gon upon hire Feet upright: and thei ben wel a 4 Fadme gret or more: and thei duellen alle weye in Roches or in Mountaynes: and thei han alle wey the Throte open, of whens thei droppen Venym alle weys. And there ben also wylde Swyn, of many coloures, als grete as ben Oxen in oure Contree, and thei ben alle spotted, as ben zongé Fownes. And there ben also Urchounes, als grete as wylde Swyn here. Wee clepen hem Poriz de Spyne. And there ben Lyons alle whyte gret and myghty. And there ben also of other Bestes, als grete and more

There ben also manye other Bestes, fulle wykked and cruelle, that ben not mocheles more than a Bere: and thei han the Hed lyche a Bore; and thei han 6 Feet: and on every Foote 2 large Clawes trenchant: And the Body is lyche a Bere,

And there ben Gees alle rede, thre sithes more gret than oure here: and thei han the Hed, the Necke and the Brest alle blak. And many other dyverse Bestes ben in tho Contrees, and elle where there abouten: and manye dyverse Briddes also; of the whiche, it were to longe for to telle zou: and therefore I passe over at this tyme.

Cap. XXIX.

Of the Godenesse of the folk of the Yle of Bragman.

Of Kyng Alisandre: and wherfore the Emperour of Ynde is clept Prestre John.

AND bezonde that Yle, is another Yle, gret and gode, and plentyfous, where that ben gode folk and trewe, and of gode lyvyng, aftre hire Beleve, and of gode Feythe. And alle be it that thei ben not cristned, ne have no perfyt Lawe, zit natheles of kyndely Lawe, thei ben fulle of alle Vertue, and thei eschewen alle Vices and alle Malices and alle Synnes. For thei ben not proude ne covetous ne envyous ne wraathfulle ne glotouns ne leccherous; ne thei don to no man other wise than thei wolde that other men diden to hem: and in this poynt, thei fullefillen the 10 Commandementes of God: and thei zive no charge of Aveer ne of Ricchesse: and thei lye not, ne thei swere not, for non occasioun; but thei seyn symply, ze and nay. For thei seyn, He that swerethe, wil disceyve his Neyghbore: and therfore alle that thei don, thei don it with outen Othe. And men clepen that Yle, the Yle of Bragman: and sōme men clepen it the Lond of Feythe. And thorgh that Lond, rennethe a gret Ryvere, that is clept Thebe. And in generalle, alle the men of tho Yles and of alle the Marches there abouten, ben more trewe than in any othere Contrees there abouten, and more righte fulle than othere, in alle thinges. In that Yle is no Thief, ne Mordrere, ne comoun Woman, ne pore beggere, ne nevere was man slayn in that Contree. And thei ben so chast, and leden so gode lif, as tho thei weren religious men: and thei fasten alle dayes. And because thei ben so trewe and so rightfulle and so fulle of alle gode condiciouns, thei weren nevere greved with Tempestes ne with Thondre ne with Leyt ne with Hayl ne with Pestylence ne with Werre ne with Hungre ne with non other tribulaccioun, as wee ben many tymes amonges us, for our Synnes. Wherfore it semethe wel, that God lovethem and is plesed with hire Creance, for hire gode Dedes. Thei beleven wel in God, that made alle thinges; and him thei worschpen. And thei preysen non erthely Ricchesse; and so thei ben alle right fulle. And thei lyven fulle ordynatly, and so sobrelly in Met and Drynk, that thei lyven right longe. And the most part of hem dyen with outen Syknesse, whan nature faylethe hem for elde. And it befelle in Kyng Alisandres tyme, that he purposed him to conquere that Yle, and to maken hem to holden of him. And whan thei of the Contree herden it, thei senten Messangeres to him with Lettres, that seyden thus: What may ben y now to that man, to whom alle the World is insuffisant: thou schalt fynde no thing in us, that may cause the to warren azenst us: for wee have no Ricchesse, ne none wee coveyten: and alle the Godes of our Contree ben in comoun. Oure Mete, that we susteyne with alle oure Bodyes, is oure Ricchesse: and in stede of tresoure of Gold and Sylver, wee maken oure Tresoure of Accord and Pees, and for to love every man other. And for to apparaylle with oure Bodyes, wee usen a sely litylle Clout, for to wrappen in oure Careynes. Oure Wyfes ne ben not arrayed for to make no man plesance, but only connable Array, for to eschewe Folye. Whan men peynen hem to arraye the Body, for to make it semen fayrere than God made it, thei don gret Synne. For man scholde not devise ne aske grette Beautee, than God hath ordeyned man to ben at his Birthe. The Erthe mynystrethe to us 2 thinges; our Liflode, that comethe of the Erthe that wee lyve by, and oure Sepulture aftre oure Dethe. Wee have ben in perpetuelle Pees tille now, that thou come to disherite us; and also wee have a Kyng, nought for to do Justice to every man, for he schalle fynde no forfeite amonge us; but for to kepe noblesse, and for to schewe that wee ben obeyssant, wee have a Kyng. For Justice ne hathe not among us no place: for wee don no man other wise than wee desiren that men don to us; so that rightwisnesse ne Vengeance han nought to don amonges us; so that no thing thou may take fro us, but oure gode Pes, that alle weys hathe dured amonge us. And whan Kyng Alisandre had rad theise Lettres, he thoughte that he scholde do gret Synne, for to trouble hem: and thanne he sente hem Surteez, that thei scholde not ben aferd of him, and that thei scholde kepen hire gode maneres and hire gode Pees, as thei hadden used before of custom ; and so he let hem allone.

Another Yle there is, that men clepen Oxidrate ; and another Yle, that men clepen Gynosophie, where there is also gode folk, and fulle of gode Feythe : and thei holden for the most partye, the gode condicions and customs and gode maneres, as men of the Contree above seyde : but thei gon alle naked. In to that Yle entred Kyng Alisandre, to see the manere. And when he saughe hire gret Feythe and hire Trouthe, that was amonges hem, he seyde that he wolde not greven hem : and bad hem aske of him, what that they wolde have of hym, Ricchesse or ony thing elles ; and thei scholde have it with gode wille. And thei answerden, that he was riche y now, that hadde Mete and Drynke to susteyne the Body with. For the Ricchesse of this World, that is transitorie, is not worthe : but zif it were in his power to make hem inmortalle, there of wolde thei preyen him, and thanken him. And Alisandre answerde hem, that it was not in his powere to don it ; because he was mortelle, as thei were. And thanne thei asked him, whi he was so proud and so fierce and so besy, for to putten alle the World undre his subjeccioun, righte as thou were a God ; and hast no terme of this lif, neither day ne hour ; and wylnest to have alle the World at thi commandement, that schalle leve the withouten fayle, or thou leve it. And righte as it hathe ben to other men before the, righte so it schalle ben to othere aftre the: and from hens schal tow bere no thyng; but as thou were born naked, righte so alle naked schalle thi Body ben turned in to Erthe, that thou were made of. Wherefore thou scholdest thenke and impresse it in thi mynde, that nothing is inmortalle, but only God, that made alle thing. Be the whiche answer, Alisandre was gretly astoneyed and abayst; and alle confuse departe frō hem. And alle be it that theyse folk han not the Articles of oure Fythe, as wee han, natheles for hire gode Feythe naturelle, and for hire gode entent, I trowe fulle, that God lovethem hem, and that God take hire Servyse to gree, right as he did of Job, that was a Paynem, and held him for his trewe Servaunt. And therefore alle be it that there ben many dyverse Lawes in the World, zit I trowe, that God lovethem always hem that loven him, and serven him mekely in trouthe: and namely, hem that dispysen the veyn Glorie of this World; as this folk don, and as Job did also: and therefore seyde oure Lorde, be the mouthe of Ozee the Prophete, Ponam eis multiplices Leges meas. And also in another place, Qui totum Orbem subdit suis Legibus. And also our Lord seythe in the Gospelle, Alias Oves habeo, que non sunt ex hoc Ovili; that is to seyne, that he hadde othere Servauntes, than tho that ben undre Cristene Lawe. And to that acordethe the Avisioun, that seynt Petir saughe at Jaffe, how the Aungel cam from Hevene, and broughte before him diverse Bestes, as Serpentes and other crepyng Bestes of the Erthe, and of other also gret plentee, and bad him take and ete. And Seynt Petir answerde; I ete never, quoth he, of unclene Bestes. And thanne seyde the Aungelle, Non dicas immunda, que Deus mundavit. And that was in tokene, that no man scholde have in despite non erthely man, for here diverse Lawes: for wee knowe not whom God loveth, ne whom God hateth. And for that ensample, whan men seyn, De profundis, thei seyn it in comoun and in generale, with the Cristene, pro animabus omnium defunctorum, pro quibus sit orandum. And therefore seye I of this folk, that ben so trewe and so feythefulle, that God loveth hem. For he hathe amonges hem many of the Prophetes, and alle weye hathe had. And in tho Yles, thei prophecyed the Incarnacioun of oure Lord Jesu Crist, how he scholde ben born of a Mayden; 3000 Zeer or more or oure Lord was born of the Virgyne Marie. And thei beleeven wel in the Incarnacioun, and that fulle perfiteley: but thei knowe not the manere, how he suffred his Passioun and Deth for us.

And bezonde theise Yles, there is another Yle, that is clept Pytan. The folk of that Contree ne tyle not, ne laboure not the Erthe: for thei eten no manere thing: and thei ben of gode colour, and of faire schap, aftre hire gretnesse: but the smale ben as Dwerghes; but not so litylle, as ben the Pigmeyes. Theise men lyven be the smelle of wylde Apples: and whan thei gon ony fer weye, thei beren the Apples with hem. For zif thei hadde lost the savour of the Apples, thei scholde dyen anon.<sup>a</sup> Thei ne ben not fulle resonable: but thei ben symple and bestyalle.

Aftre that, is another Yle, where the folk ben alle skynned roughe Heer, as a rough Best, saf only the Face and the Pawme of the Hond.

These Folk gon als wel undir the Watir of the See, as thei don above the Lond, alle drye. And thei eten bothe Flessche and Fissche alle raughe. In this Yle is a gret Ryvere, that is wel a 2 Myle and an half of brede, that is clept Beumare.<sup>b</sup> And fro that Rivere a 15 journeyes in lengthe, goynge be the Desertes of the tother syde of the Ryvere, (whoso myght gon it, for I was not there: but it Yule 131-45 was told us of hem of the Contree, that with inne tho Desertes) weren the Trees of the Sonne, and of the Mone, that spaken to Kyng Alisandre, and warned him of his Dethe. And men seyn, that the folk that kepen tho Trees, and eten of the Frute and of the Bawme that growethe there, lyven wel 400 Zeere or 500 Zeere, be vertue of the Frut and of the Bawme. For men seyn, that Bawme growethe there in gret plentee, and no where elles, saf only at Babyloyne, as I have told zou before. Wee wolde han gon toward the Trees fulle gladly, zif wee had myght: but I trowe, that 100000 men of Armes myghte not passen tho Desertes safly, for the gret multytude of wylde Bestes, and of grete Dragouns, and of grete Serpentes, that there ben, that slen and devouren alle that comen aneyntes hem. In that Contre ben manye white Olifantes with outen nombre, and of Unycornes, and of Lyouns of many maneres, and many of suche Bestes, that I have told before, and of many other hydouse Bestes with outen nombre.

Many othere Yles there ben in the Lond of Prestre John, and many grete Merveyles, that weren to long to tellen alle, bothe of his Ricchesse and of his Noblesse, and of the gret plentee also of precious Stones, that he hathe. I trowe that zee knowe wel y now, and have herd seye, wherefore this Emperour is clept Prestre John. But nathales for hem that knowen not, I schalle seye zou the cause. It was somtyme an Emperour there, that was a worthi and a fulle noble Prynce, that hadde Cristene Knyghtes in his companye, as he hathe that is now. So it befelle, that he hadde gret list for to see the Service in the Chirche, among Cristenmen. And than dured Cristendom bezonde the See, alle Turkye, Surrye, Tartarie, Jerusalem, Palestyne, Arabye, Halappee, and alle the Lond of Egypte. So it befelle, that this Emperour cam, with a Cristene Knyght with him, into a Chirche in Egypt: and it was the Saterdag in Wytton woke. And the Bishop made ordres. And he beheld and listend the servyse fulle tentyfly: And he askede the Cristene Knyght, what men of Degree thei scholden ben, that the Prelate had before him. And the Knyght answerde and seyde, that thei scholde ben Prestes. And than the Emperour seyde, that he wolde no longer ben clept Kyng ne Emperour, but Preest; and that he wolde have the name of the first Preest, that wente out of the Chirche: and his name was John. And so evere more sithens, he is clept Prestre John.

In his Lond ben manye Cristene men of gode Feythe and of gode Lawe; and namely of hem of the same Contree; and han comounly hire Prestes, that syngen the Messe, and maken the Sacrement of the Awtier of Bred, right as the Grekes don: but thei seyn not so many thinges at the Messe, as men don here. For thei seye not but only that, that the Apostles seyden, as oure Lord taughte hem: righte as seynt Peter and seynt Thomas and the other Apostles songen the Messe, seyenge the Pater-noster, and the wordes of the Sacrement. But wee have many mo addiciouns, that dyverse Popes han made, that thei ne knowe not offe.

Cap. XXX.

Of the Hilles of Gold, that Pissemyres kepen: and of the 4 Flodes, that comen from Paradys terrestre.

TOWARD the Est partye of Prestre Johnes Lond, is an Yle gode and gret, that men clepen Taprobane, that is fulle noble and fulle fructuous: and the Kyng thereof is fulle ryche, and is undre the obeyssance of Prestre John. And alle weys there thei make hire Kyng be Eleccyoun. In that Ile ben 2 Someres and 2 Wyntres; and men hervesten the Corn twyes a Zeer. And in alle the Cesouns of the Zeer ben the Gardynes florisht. There dwellen gode folk and resonable, and manye Cristene men amonges hem, that ben so riche, that thei wyte not what to done with hire Godes. Of olde tyme, whan men passed from the Lond of Prestre John unto that Yle, men maden ordynance for to passe by Schippe, 23 dayes or more: but now men passen by Schippe in 7 dayes. And men may see the botme of the See in many places: for it is not fulle depe.

Besyde that Yle, toward the Est, ben 2 other Yles: and men clepen that on Orille, and that other Argyte; of the whiche alle the Lond is Myne of Gold and Sylver. And tho Yles ben right where that the rede See departethe fro the See Ocean. And in tho Yles men seen ther no Sterres so clerly as in other places: for there apperen no Sterres, but only o clere Sterre, that men clepen Canapos. And there is not the Mone seyn in alle the Luna-cioun, saf only the seconde quarteroun. In the Yle also of this Taprobane, ben grete Hilles of Gold, that Pissemyres kepen fulle diligently. And thei fynen the pured Gold, and casten away the unpured. And theise Pissemyres ben grete as Houndes:<sup>c</sup> so that no man dar come to tho Hilles: for the Pissemyres wolde assaylen hem and devouren hem anon; so that no man may gete of that Gold, but be gret sleighte. And therefore whan it is gret hete, the Pissemyres resten hem in the Erthe, from pryme of the Day in to Noon: and than the folk of the Contree taken Camayles, Dromedaries and Hors and other Bestes, and gon thidre, and chargen hem in alle haste that thei may. And aftre that thei fleen away, in alle haste that the Bestes may go, or the Pissemyres comen out of the Erthe. And in other tymes, whan it is not so hote, and that the Pissemyres ne resten hem not in the Erthe, than thei geten Gold be this Sotyltee; Thei taken Mares, that han zonge Coltes or Foles, and leyn upon the Mares voyde Vesselles made therfore; and thei ben alle open aboven, and hangynge lowe to the Erthe: and thanne thei sende forth tho Mares, for to pasturen aboute tho Hilles, and with holden the Foles with hem at home. And whan the Pissemyres sen tho Vesselles, thei lepen in anon, and thei han this kynde, that thei lete no thing ben empty among hem, but anon thei fillen it, be it what maner of thing that it be: and so thei fillen tho Vesselles with Gold. And whan that the folk supposen, that the Vesselle ben fulle, thei putten forthe anon the zonge Foles, and makem hem to nyzen aftre hire Dames; and

than anon the Mares retornen towards hire Foles, with hire charges of Gold; and than men dischargen hem, and geten Gold y now be this sotyltee. For the Pissemyres wole suffren Bestes to gon and pasturen amonges hem; but no man in no wyse.

And bezonde the Lond and the Yles and the Desertes of Prestre Johnes Lordschipe, in goynge streight toward the Est, men fynde nothing but Mountaynes and Roches fulle grete: and there is the derke Regyoun, where no man may see, nouthur be day ne be nyght, as thei of the Contree seyn. And that Desert, and that place of Derknesse, duren fro this Cost unto Paradys terrestre;
where that Adam oure foremost Fader, and Eve

weren putt, that dwelleden there but lytylle while ; and that is towards the Est, at the begynnyng of the Erthe. But that is not that Est, that wee clep oure Est, on this half, where the Sonne risethe to us: for whenne the Sonne is Est in tho partyes, toward Paradys terrestre, it is thanne mydnyght in oure parties o this half, for the rowndenesse of the Erthe, of the whiche I have towched to zou before. For oure Lord God made the Erthe alle round, in the mydde place of the Firmament. And there as Mountaynes and Hilles ben, and Valeyes, that is not but only of Noes Flode, that wasted the softe ground and the tendre, and felle down into Valeyes: and the harde Erthe, and the Roche abyden Mountaynes, whan the soft Erthe and tendre wax nessche, throghe the Water, and felle and becamen Valeyes.

Of Paradys ne can not I speken properly: for I was not there. It is fer bezonde ; and that forthinkethe me: and also I was not worthi. But as I have herd seye of wyse men bezonde, I schalle telle zou with gode Wille. Paradys terrestre, as wise men seyn, is the highest place of Erthe, that is in alle the World: and it is so highe, that it touchethe nyghe to the cercle of the Mone, there as the Mone makethe hire torn. For sche is so highe, that the Flode of Noe ne myght not come to hire, that wolde have covered alle the Erthe of the World alle aboute, and aboven and benethen, saf Paradys only allone. And this Paradys is enclosed alle aboute with a Walle ; and men wyte not wherof it is. For the Walles ben covered alle over with Mosse ; as it semethe. And it semethe

not that the Walle is Ston of Nature. And that Walle strecchethe fro the Southe to the Northe; and it hathe not but on entree, that is closed with Fyre brennyng; so that no man, that is mortalle, ne dar not entren. And in the moste highe place of Pardys, evene in the myddel place, is a Welle, that castethe out the 4 Flodes, that rennen be dyverse Londes: of the whiche, the first is clept Phison or Ganges, that is alle on; and it rennethe thorghe out Ynde or Emlak: in the whiche Ryvere ben manye precieuse Stones, and mochel of Lignū Aloes, and moche gravelle of Gold. And that other Ryvere is clept Nilus or Gyson, that gothe be Ethiope, and aftre be Egypt. And that other is clept Tigris, that rennethe be Assirye and be Armenye the grete. And that other is clept Eufrate, that rennethe also be Medee and be Armonyne and be Persye. And men there bezonde seyn, that all the swete Watres of the World aboven and benethen, taken hire begynnyng of the Welle of Paradys: and out of that Welle, alle Watres comen and gon. The firste Ryvere is clept Phison, that is to seyne in hire langage, Assemblee: For manye othere Ryveres meten hem there, and gon in to that Ryvere. And sum men clepen it Ganges; for a Kyng that was in Ynde, that highte Gangeres, and that it ran thorge out his Lond. And that Water is in sum place clere, and in sum place trouble; in sum place hoot, and in sum place cole. The seconde Ryvere is clept Nilus or Gyson: for it is alle weye trouble: and Gyson, in the langage of Ethiope, is to seye trouble; and in the langage of Egypt also. The thridde Ryvere, that is clept Tigris, is as moche for to seye as faste rennyng: for he rennethe more faste than ony of the tother. And also there is a Best, that is cleped Tigris, that is faste rennyng. The fourthe Ryvere is clept Eufrates, that is to seyne, wel beryng: for there growen manye Godes upon that Ryvere, as Cornes, Frutes, and othere Godes y nowe plentee.

And zee schulle undirstonde, that no man that is mortelle, ne may not approchen to that Paradys. For be Londe no man may go for wylde bestes, that ben in the Desertes, and for the highe Mountaynes and gret huge Roches, that no man may passe by, for the derke places that ben there, and that manye: And be the Ryveres may no man go; for the water rennethe so rudely and so scharply, because that it comethe doun so outrageously from the highe places aboven, that it rennethe in so grete Wawes, that no Schipp may not rowe ne seyle azenes it: and the Watre rorethe so, and makethe so huge noyse, and so gret tempest, that no man may here other in the Schipp, though he cryede with alle the craft that he cowde, in the hyste voys that he myghte. Many grete Lordes han assayed with gret wille many tymes for to passen be tho Ryveres toward Paradys, with fulle grete Companyes: but thei myghte not speden in hire Viage; and manye dyeden for werynesse of rowyng azenst tho stronge Wawes; and many of hem becamen blynde, and many deve, for the noyse of the Water: and sūme weren perisscht and loste, with inne the Wawes: So that no mortelle man may approche to that place, with outen specyalle grace of God: so that of that place I can seye zou no more. And therefore I schalle holde me stille, and retornen to that that I have seen.

Cap. XXXI.

*Of the Customs of Kynges, and othere that dwellen
in the Yles costynge to Prestre Johnes Lond.
And of the Worschipe, that the Sone dothe to the Fader, whan he is dede.*

FROM tho Yles, that I have spoken of before, in the Lond of Prestre John, that ben undre Erthe as to us, that ben o this half, and of other Yles, that ben more furthered bezonde; who so wil, pursuen hem, for to comen azen right to the parties that he cam fro; and so environne alle Erthe: but what for the Yles, what for the See, and what for strong rowynge, fewe folk assayen for to passen that passage; alle be it that men myghte don it wel, that myght ben of power to dresse him thereto; as I have seyde zou before. And therefore men returnen from tho Yles aboveseyde, be other Yles costynge fro the Lond of Prestre John. And thanne comen men in returnynge to an Yle, that is clept Casson: and that Yle hathe wel 60 jorneyes in lengthe, and more then 50 in brede. This is the beste Yle, and the beste Kyngdom, that is in alle tho partyes, out taken Cathay. And zif the Merchautes useden als moche that Contre as thei don Cathay, it wolde ben better than Cathay, in a schort while. This Contree is fulle wel enhabyted, and so fulle of Cytees, and of gode Townes, and enhabyted with peple, that whan a man gothe out of o Cytee, men seen another Cytee, evene before hem: and that is what partye that a man go, in alle that Contree. In that Yle is gret plentee of alle Godes for to lyve with, and of alle manere of Spices. And there ben grete Forestes of Chesteynes. The Kyng of that Yle is fulle ryche and fulle myghty: and natheles he holt his Lond of the grete Chane, and is obeyssant to hym. For it is on of the 12 Provynces, that the gret Chane hathe under him, with outen his propre Lond, and with outen other lesse Yles, that he hathe: for he hathe fulle manye.

From that Kyngdom comen men, in returnyng, to another Yle, that is clept Rybothe: and it is also under the grete Chane. That is a fulle gode Contree, and fulle plentefous of alle Godes and of Wynes and Frut, and alle other Ricchesse. And the folk of that Contree han none Houses: but thei dwellen and lyggen alle under Tentes, made of black Ferne, by alle the Contree. And the princypalle Cytee, and the most royalle, is alle walled with black ston and white. And alle the Stretes also ben pathed of the same Stones. In that Cytee is no man so hardy, to schede Blode of no man, ne of no Best, for the reverence of an Ydole, that is worschipt there. And in that Yle dwellethe the Pope of hire Lawe, that they clepen Lobassy. This Lobassy zevethe alle the Benefices, and alle other Dignytees, and alle other thinges, that belongen to the Ydole. And alle tho that holden ony thing of hire Chirches, Religious and othere, obeyen to him; as men don here to the Pope of Rome.

In that Yle thei han a Custom, be alle the Contree, that whan the Fader is ded of ony man, and the Sone list to do gret Worschipe to his Fader, he sendethe to alle his Frenedes, and to alle his Kyn, and for religious men and Preestes, and for Mynstralle also, gret plentee. And thanne men beren the dede Body unto a gret Hille, with gret joye and solempnyte. And when thei han brought it thider, the chief Prelate smytethe of the Hede, and leythe it upon a gret plater of Gold and of Sylver, zif so be he be a riche man; and than he take the Hede to the Sone: and thanne the Sone and his other Kyn syngen and seyn manye Orisouns: and thanne the Prestes, and the religious men, smyten alle the Body of the dede man in peces: and thanne thei seyn certeyn Orisouns. And the Fowles of raveyne of alle the Contree abouten knowen the custom of long tyme before, and comen fleenge aboven in the Eyr, as Egles, Gledes, Ravenes and othere Foules of raveyne, that eten Flesche. And than the Preestes casten the gobettes of the Flesche; and than the Foules eche of hem takethe that he may, and gothe a litille thens and etethe it: and so thei don whils ony pece lastethe of the dede Body. And afre that, as Preestes amonges us syngen for the dede, Subvenite sancti Dei, &c. right so the Preestes syngen with highe voys in hire Langage, Beholdethe how so worthi a man, and how gode a man this was, that the Aungeles of God comen for to sechen him, and for to bryngen him in to Paradys. And thanne semethe it to the Sone, that he is highliche worschipt, whan that manye Briddes and Foules and Raveyne comen and eten his Fader. And he that hathe most nombre of Foules, is most worschiped. Thanne the Sone bryngethe hoom with him alle his Kyn, and his Frenedes, and alle the othere to his Hows, and makethe hem a gret Feste. And thanne alle his Frenedes maken hire avaunt and hire Dalyance, how the Fowles comen thider, here 5, here 6, here 10, and there 20, and so forthe: and thei rejoysen hem hugely for to speke there of. And whan thei ben at Mete, the Sone let brynge forthe the Hede of his Fader, and there of he zevethe of the Flesche to his most specyalle Frenedes, in stede of Entre Messe,<sup>a</sup> or a Sukkarke. And of the Brayn panne, he letethe make a Cuppe, and there of drynkethe he and his other Frenedes also, with gret Devocioun, in remembrance of the holy man, that the Aungeles of God han eten. And that Cuppe the Sone schalle kepe to drynken of, alle his lif tyme, in remembrance of his Fadir.

From that Lond, in returnyng be 10 jorneyes thorge out the Lond of the grete Chane, is another gode Yle, and a gret Kyngdom, where the Kyng is fulle riche and myghty. And amonges the riche men of his Contree, is a passynge riche man, that is no Prynce, ne Duke ne Erl; but he hathe mo that holden of him Londes and other Lordschipes: for he is more riche. For he hathe every zeer of annuelle Rente 30000 Hors charged with Corn of dyverse Greynes and of Ryzs: and so he ledethe a fulle noble Lif, and a delycate, afre the custom of the Contree. For he hathe every day, 50 fair Damyseles, alle Maydenes, that serven him everemore at his Mete, and for to lye be hem o nyght, and for to do with hem that is to his plesance. And whan he is at the Table, thei bryngen him hys Mete at every tyme, 5 and 5 to gedre. And in bryngynge hire Servyse, thei syngen a Song. And afre that, thei kутten his Mete, and putten it in his Mouthe: for he touchethe no thing ne handlethe nought, but holdethe evere more his Hondes before him, upon the Table. For he hathe so longe Nayles, that he may take no thing, ne handle no thing. For the Noblesse of that Contree is to have longe Nayles, and to make hem growen alle weys to ben as longe as men may. And there ben manye in that Contree, that han hire Nayles so longe, that thei envyronne alle the Hond: and that is a gret Noblesse. And the Noblesse of the Wōmen, is for to haven smale Feet and litille: and therefore anon as thei ben born, they leet bynde hire Feet so streyte, that thei may not growen half as nature wolde: And alle weys theise Damyseles, that I spak of befor, syngen alle the tyme that this riche man etethe: and whan that he etethe no more of his firste Cours, thanne other 5 and 5 of faire Damyseles bryngen him his seconde Cours, alle weys syngynge, as thei dide befor. And so thei don contynuelly every day, to the ende of his Mete. And in this manere he ledethe his Lif. And so dide thei before him, that weren his Auncestres; and so schulle thei that comen afre him, with outen doynge of ony Dedes of Armes: but lyven evere more thus in ese, as a Swyn, that is fedde in Sty, for to ben made fatte. He hathe a fulle fair Palays and fulle riche, where that he dwellethe inne: of the whiche, the Walles ben in cyrcuyt 2 Myle: and he hathe with inne many faire Gardynes, and many faire Halles and Chambres, and the pawment of his Halles and Chambres ben of Gold and Sylver. And in the myd place of on of hys Gardynes, is a lytyle Mountayne, where there is a litylle Medewe: and in that Medewe, is a litylle Toothille<sup>b</sup> with Toures and Pynacles, alle of Gold: and in that litylle Toothille wole he sytten often tyme, for to taken the Ayr and to desporten hym: for that place is made for no thing elles, but only for his Desport.

Odoric 152

Fro that Contree men comen be the lond of the grete Chane also, that I have spoken of before.

And zee schulle undirstonde, that of alle theise Contrees, and of alle theise Yles, and of alle the dyverse folk, that I have spoken of before, and of dyverse Lawes, and of dyverse Beleeves that thei han; zit is there non of hem alle, but that thei han sum Resoun with in hem and undirstondynge, but zif it be the fewere: and that han certeyn Articles of oure Feithe and sūme gode poyntes of oure Beleeve: and that thei beleeven in God, that formede alle thinges and made the World; and clepen him God of Nature, aftre that the Prophete seythe, Et metuent eum omnes fines Terre: and also in another place, Omnes gentes servient ei; that is to seyn, Alle folk schalle serven him. But zit thei cone not speken perfytyly; (for there is no man to techen hem) but only that thei cone devyse be hire naturelle Wytt. For thei han no knouleche of the Sone, ne of the Holy Gost: But thei cone alle speken of the Bible: and namely of Genesis, of the Prophetes Lawes, and of the Bokes of Moyses. And thei seyn wel, that the Creatures, that thei worschipen, ne ben no Goddes: but thei worschipen hem, for the Vertue that is in hem, that may not be, but only be the grace of God. And of Simulacres and of Ydoles, thei seyn, that there ben no folk, but that thei han Simulacres: and that thei seyn, for we Cristene men han Ymages, as of oure Lady, and of othere Seyntes, that wee worschipen; nohte the Ymages of Tree or of Ston, but the Seyntes, in whoos name thei ben made aftre. For righte as the Bokes of the Scripture of hem techen the Clerkes, how and in what manere thei schulle beleeven, righte so the Ymages and the Peyntynges techen the lewed folk to worschipen the Seyntes, and to have hem in hire mynde, in whoos name that the Ymages ben made aftre. Thei seyn also, that the Aungeles of God speken to hem in tho Ydoles, and that thei don manye grete Myracles. And thei seyn Sothe, that there is an Aungele with in hem: for there ben 2 maner of Aungeles, a gode and an evelle; as the Grekes seyn, Cacho and Calo; this Cacho is the wykked Aungelle, and Calo is the gode Aungelle: but the tother is not the gode Aungelle, but the wykked Aungelle, that is with inne the Ydoles, for to disceyven hem, and for to meyntenen hem in hire errour.

There ben manye other dyverse Contrees and manye other Marveyles bezonde, that I have not seen: wherfore of hem I can not speke propurly, to telle zou the manere of hem. And also in the Contrees where I have ben, ben manye dyversitees of manye wondir fulle thinges, mo thanne I make mencion of. For it were to longe thing to devyse zou the manere. And therfore that that I have devised zou of certeyn Contrees, that I have spoken of before, I beseche zoure worthi and excellent Noblesse, that it suffise to zou at this tyme. For zif that I devysed zou alle that is bezonde the See, another man peraunter, that wolde peynen him and travaylle his Body for to go in to tho Marches, for to encerche tho Contrees, myghten ben blamed be my Wordes, in rehercyng manye straunge thinges. For he myghten not seye no thing of newe, in the whiche the hereres myghten haven outhere solace or desport or lust or lykynge in the herynge. For men seyn alle weys, that newe thynges and newe tydynges ben plesant to here. Wherfore I wole holde me stille, with outen ony more rehercyng of dyversiteez or of marvaylles, that ben bezonde, to that entent and ende, that who so wil gon in to the Contrees, he schalle fynde y nowe to speke of, that I have not touched of in no wyse.

And zee schulle undirstonde, zif it lyke zou, that at myn Hom comynge, I cam to Rome, and schewed my Lif to oure holy Fadir the Pope, and was assoylled of alle that lay in my Conscience, of many a dyverse grevous poynt: as men mosten nedes, that ben in company, dwellyng amonges so many a dyverse folk of dyverse Secte and of Belleeve, as I have ben. And amonges alle, I schewed hym this Tretys, that I had made afre informacioun of men, that knewen of thinges, that I had not seen my self; and also of Marveyles and Customes, that I hadde seen my self; as fer as God wolde zeve me Grace: and besoughte his holy Fadirhode, that my Boke myghten be examyned and corrected be avys of his wyse and discreet Conseille. And oure holy Fadir, of his special grace, remytted my Boke to ben examyned and preved be the Avys of his seyd Conseille. Be the whiche, my Boke was preeved for trewe; in so

And I John Maundeville Knyghte aboveseyd, (alle thoughe I bē unworthi) that departed from oure Contrees and passed the See, the Zeer of Grace 1322, that have passed many Londes and manye Yles and Contrees, and cerched manye fulle straunge places, and have ben in many a fulle gode honourable Companye, and at many a faire Dede of Armes, (alle be it that I dide none my self, for myn unable insuffisance) now I am comen Hom (mawgree my self) to reste: for Gowtes, Artetykes, that me distreynen, tho diffynen the ende of my labour, azenst my wille (God knowethe). P. 8, l. 2. Bezanson. In some MSS. Bessamoran.

P. 8, l. 7. Covered with gold, i. e. gilded.

P. 9, l. 5. Est. In some MSS. West.

P. 9, l. 10. The cross, coat, and nails, are sometimes omitted, and several variations in different MSS.

P. 10, l. 23. The title in Bib. Reg. 17 C. xxxviii. is Jebu nazarenius rex Judeorum.

P. 12, l. 3. Four grains and four trees in some MSS.

P. 13, l. 11, and in other places, for o read oon.

P. 20, l. 14-22. Omitted in the majority of MSS., probably from the transcribers' ignorance of the Greek language.

P. 21. The chapters are very differently divided in various MSS. Some have no divisions at all. Some MSS. make the first three chapters in this only one, and commence their second with our fourth.

P. 23. The story of the Knight and Dragon is very similar to one told in the Arabian Nights' Entertainments. The same may also be remarked of some other tales in this book.

P. 47. The note at the bottom of this page is probably erroneous; for the only MS. of the tract mentioned that I am aware of being in that collection, is of a much more recent period.

P. 53. In many MSS. the characters of the Egyptian letters are given, though generally somewhat rudely.

P. 109. The names of the Hebrew letters and their forms vary considerably in different MSS. See MS. Harl. 3954, where the difference is very striking.

P. 142. At the end of Chapter the 12th, in MS. Harl. 3954, are given the Arabic letters and names—"and sythyn I have told þow apertly of here lawe and customys, I schal tellyn þow now of here lettrys."

Known at a much earlier period P. 161, l. 3. The Ademaund is here mentioned as the "Schipmannes ston;" and this early allusion, connected with what follows, is curious; but for a proper consideration of it, viewed with other notices of a similar kind, I refer to the very able paper in the first volume of the British Annual, by my learned friend Professor Davies, of the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich.

P. 163, l. 15. This tradition of a mountain of magnetic ore is very general among the Chinese and throughout Asia. The Chinese assign its position to a specific place, which they call Tchang-hai, in the Southern Sea, between Tonquin and Cochin China, which is precisely the same geographical region that the author of the Voyages of Sinbad the Sailor indicates. See Professor Davies's History, p. 256. See also p. 271 of this volume, where Maundevile again mentions this mountain.

P. 180, l. 21. This passage and the remainder is most exceedingly curious: it proves, beyond a doubt, that Maundevile had a distinct notion of the New World, and if he had had means, he would probably have anticipated by a century the brilliant discovery of Columbus.

P. 180, l. 26. The Astrolabe. An astronomical instrument for taking altitudes, &c.: Chaucer translated a treatise expressly on it, of which the original has been found in Sanscrit. See his Works, and Gentleman's Magazine for April 1839.

P. 228, l. 9. Veneration for peculiar numbers was a very general superstition, and the number nine in particular was in universal repute; when we consider its very singular properties, it is not wonderful that a people of extravagancies should have this extreme reverence for it. See, however, the Rev. Professor Peacock's valuable and learned history of Arithmetic, where more may be found on this subject.

P. 228, l. 22. This story of the King and the Twelve Arrows is told in very nearly the same manner in the Arabian Nights' Entertainments; and the substance of a well-known fable will be easily recognised in it.

P. 270. The best information that we have relative to Unkhan, Prester or Presbyter John, is to be found in the work of Matthew Paris, a monk of St. Alban's, who wrote before the middle of the thirteenth century. Marco Polo, in his travels, mentions the former subjection of the Tartars to him. See Marsden's edition, book i. ch. xliii. Roger Bacon did not believe the extraordinary tales which were current relative to Prester John,—de quo tanta fama solebat esse, et multa falsa dicta sunt et scripta. Opus Majus, edit. Jebb, p. 232. See, for a most profound and learned dissertation on the personage and history of Prester John, M. D'Avezac's Introduction to his Edition of the History of the Tartars, by John de Plan-de-Carpin, 4to. 1838, p. 165-168.

P. 315. It is a matter of doubt whether the Mappa Mundi mentioned here was an adjunct originally to Maundevile's work, or whether he refers to another treatise. According to Herbert, the English edition of 1503, printed by Wynken de Worde, possesses a map of the world, and it is not improbable that it belonged to the original work, although the only approach to it among the MSS. that I have seen is in one in Corpus Christi College, Cambridge.
