PREFACE.

THE earliest attempt to exhibit the Gospels in a Harmony or Synopsis was made by Tatian the Syrian, about A.D. 170, in a work called Diatessaron, (τὸ διὰ τεσσάρων, that is, the Gospel compiled by means of four;) which is now lost, though it was well known and extensively used in the 5th century.<sup>a</sup> Since the revival of learning and religion, at the Reformation, so very many have attempted anew to accomplish the like object, that their works may be now computed at two hundred. This fact is sufficient to prove both the interest which has been taken in the subject of Harmonies, and the difficulty of such an undertaking. It is very easy to account for the interest thus manifested; for the Gospels cannot be studied with the attention which they claim, without being brought into comparison with each other, and also into harmony, so far as practicable. What earnest student can fail to seek a distinct impression of the concurrent testimony of the evangelists, and of the relation which the statements, the style, and the plan of one Gospel bear to those of the others? Without such an effort, the mind cannot form a well-defined and just conception of the life of Christ as a whole, though it may receive lively impressions of particular scenes and incidents. Another source of interest in the synoptical study of the Gospels lies in the fact, that it leads to the discovery of numerous undesigned agreements which would else have been unnoticed or not felt and appreciated. These incidental coincidences do, in fact, furnish one of the strongest proofs that these records are genuine, emanating from the writers to whom they are ascribed, and that the transactions actually took place which they relate.

In reading a Harmony, one cannot fail to be struck with the strong likeness which the Gospels bear to one another, particularly the first three of them. While each evangelist has a peculiar style, and follows more or less a different principle in selecting and arranging the particulars of the history, we often find a remarkable similarity in the language as well as in the matter. Sometimes the expressions are identical, or vary only in the arrangement of the words; and very frequently the words, without being precisely the same, present so decided a resemblance that it is impossible to regard the agreement as accidental.<sup>b</sup> But how can this agreement be explained? This inquiry has naturally excited great attention, and given rise to much discussion among the learned.

Some have contended that the later evangelists made use of the earlier; for example, that Matthew's Gospel, being first written, was consulted by Mark and <sup>b</sup> This resemblance is best seen in a Greek Harmony; for in our English version many expressions appear like which are unlike in the original, and the contrary.

Luke. Others have maintained that these three evangelists followed, in common, some written history, which has since been lost. These two theories, with the numerous modifications which they have undergone, are now giving way to another. The supposition is, that the first three Gospels are based on an early tradition, which orally transmitted the principal facts of the evangelic history. The first history of Christ was, no doubt, an oral one; for it was what the apostles and evangelists delivered in the preaching of the gospel. And as there was occasion for the frequent repetition of the same accounts, they would naturally assume the same or a similar order in the minds of both preachers and hearers, and become clothed in the same or like language. The very words of the Saviour, or in case these were translated into another tongue, the words that most nearly corresponded to them, could be the more easily remembered, because the Jews were so accustomed to treasure up the exact expressions of their teachers, and because so much of Christ's teaching was in parables, which greatly assisted the memory. In this way we can conceive that the apostles, without any concert with each other, or any written guide to follow, might be led by memory and the influence of the Holy Spirit to pursue in their discourses the like train of narration, and to employ corresponding expressions. Such oral histories satisfied the wants of the church for a season, until the death of some of the original witnesses, and the dispersion of others in foreign lands, when false teachers arose and preached another gospel. Then it became necessary that the apostles should not only set forth the life of Christ in their preaching, but also deliver in writing the truths which they taught. And thus, it is conceived, were composed the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke; each being based on oral apostolic teachings, which had become so familiar by frequent repetition, that the separate accounts often coincide in arrangement and in phraseology, especially where they give the discourses of the Saviour.

The present work is based upon, and has almost entirely followed, Dr. Robinson's Harmony of the Greek Gospels.<sup>c</sup> It is proper, therefore, to state the views of that distinguished author in his own language. "The public," he writes in the Preface, "will naturally be slow to expect any great amount of novelty in a work of this kind, on a subject which has been before the ablest minds of the church during many centuries. Yet in the lapse of centuries, and even of years, there is a constant progress in the discovery or observation of new facts and circumstances bearing upon the social and also the physical history of the Hebrews and other ancient nations. These all serve to enlarge the circle of biblical knowledge; they add to the apparatus and means of the interpreter and harmonist, and thus enable him often to shed new light upon topics which before were dark or doubtful. It may also be truly said, that in no former period, perhaps, has there been accumulated a greater amount of such facts and of such progress, than in the almost seventy years which have elapsed since the publication of Newcome's Harmony. Hence, in a similar work issued at the present day, the scholar may justly require that it shall exhibit the result of these later investigations into language, manners and customs, history, geography, and the like, so far as they are well founded; and thus become, to a certain extent, the representative of the present state of biblical science in this particular department. Such, accordingly, has been my aim in the preparation of this volume. I have also everywhere endeavoured faithfully to judge and write, according to the impressions left on my mind by a personal inspection of most of the scenes of the gospel history; a privilege enjoyed, I believe, by no previous Harmonist. There will be found, I trust, some new views, and also some new illustrations of old views, which are now-a-days assailed. This is true especially in respect to the transactions during the last six months of our Lord's life and ministry; and the remark applies more particularly to the identification of the city Ephraim, and the return of Jesus from that place through Peræa; also to the important passover question, and to the mode of harmonizing the several accounts of the Lord's resurrection and its accompanying incidents."

After thus giving the learned professor's own judicious and modest representation, it is sufficient to observe, that his erudition and sound judgment pre-eminently qualified him for the task, and have secured for his work general confidence and adoption. In preparing this edition, however, two other very important works have been diligently compared, as they were not included in the list of works consulted by Dr. Robinson. One is Greswell's Harmonia Evangelica, with elaborate Dissertations, in 4 vols. 8vo, 1830—1834: a work of very distinguished learning and ability. The result of this comparison has been that only one or two slight changes have been adopted in consequence. The other work is Wieseler's Chronological Synopsis of the Four Gospels. The examination of this work has tended, in the main, to support Dr. Robinson's arrangement.

The Notes consist of those given by Robinson, with occasional slight changes by the editor, together with a considerable number of others, partly original and partly compiled for this volume from Wieseler, Greswell, and others. They relate chiefly to points affecting the agreement of the four evangelists; but other topics of interest and importance are often noticed. As an introduction to his Notes, Dr. Robinson makes the following statements in reference to his mode of harmonizing the Gospel of John with the other three, and in regard to the aim of his work.

"The Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke, along with many diversities, have nevertheless a striking affinity with each other in their general features of time and place. But, when compared with John's Gospel, there is seen to be a diversity no less striking between them and the latter, not only in respect to chronology, but likewise as to the part of the country where our Lord's discourses and mighty works mainly occurred. The three speak only of one passover, that at which Jesus suffered; and from this it would follow that our Lord's ministry continued at most only about six months. John expressly enumerates three passovers, and more probably four, during Christ's ministry, which, therefore, must have had a duration of at least two and a half years, and more probably of three and a half. Again, Matthew, Mark, and Luke place the scene of Jesus' public ministrations chiefly in Galilee; whence he goes up to Jerusalem only just before his death. John, on the other hand, narrates the miracles and discourses of our Lord as occurring principally at Jerusalem, on various former occasions as well as at his last visit.

“The first difference is at once set aside by the remark, that although the three evangelists do expressly mention only one passover, yet they do not anywhere, nor in any way, affirm, or even imply, that there were no more; while the testimony of John is express and definite. And further, the incident narrated by all the three writers, of the disciples plucking ripe ears of grain as they went through the fields, necessarily presupposes the recent occurrence of a passover during our Lord’s ministry, different from the one at which he suffered; and this is further confirmed by Luke’s mention of the second sabbath after the first (σάββατον δευτερόπρωτον) in same connexion. See Matt. 12. 1; Mark 2. 23; Luke 6. 1.

“This difference being thus satisfactorily explained, the existence of the second difference is, of course, accounted for. If John is right in enumerating several passovers, he is right in narrating what took place at Jerusalem on those occasions. But, more than this, we find in the other evangelists several things in which they, too, seem to allude to earlier visits and labours of Jesus in the holy city. So the language in which our Lord laments over Jerusalem, as having rejected his efforts, Matt. 23. 37; Luke 13. 34. So, too, the mention of scribes and Pharisees from Jerusalem, who seek to catch him in his words, Matt. 15. 1; 22. 15; and, further, his intimate relations with the family of Lazarus, Luke 10. 38, 39; comp. John 11. 1, 2.

“For these reasons, I do not hesitate to follow, with most Commentators, the chronology of John’s Gospel, and assign to our Lord’s ministry four passovers, or a duration of about three and a half years. The second of these passovers is less certain than the rest, and depends on the interpretation of John 5. 1.

“The Gospels, and especially the first three, can in no sense be regarded as methodical annals. It is therefore difficult, and perhaps impossible, so to harmonize them, in respect to time, as in all cases to arrive at results which shall be entirely certain and satisfactory. There is often no definite note of time; and then we can proceed only upon conjecture, founded on a careful comparison of all the circumstances. In such cases the decision must depend very much upon the judgment and taste of the Harmonist; and what to one person may appear probable and appropriate, may seem less so to another.

“It is the aim of the present work, not so much to ascertain and fix the true and precise chronological order (although this object is not neglected), as to place side by side the different narratives of the same events, in an order which may be regarded as at least a probable one; and by so doing to exhibit the legitimate uses of a Harmony, and accomplish a threefold purpose, viz. to make the evangelists their own best interpreters; to show how wonderfully they are supplemental to each other in minute as well as important particulars; and in this way to bring out fully and clearly the fundamental characteristic of their testimony, UNITY IN DIVERSITY.”

PART I.

EVENTS CONNECTED WITH THE BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD OF OUR LORD.

TIME: About Thirteen Years and a Half.

§ 1. PREFACE TO LUKE'S GOSPEL.

Luke i. 1—4.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us, <sup>2</sup> even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word; <sup>3</sup> it seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, <sup>a</sup> most excellent Theophilus, <sup>b</sup> <sup>4</sup> that thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.

Luke i. 5—25. <sup>5</sup> There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: <sup>d</sup> and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. <sup>6</sup> And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

<sup>a</sup> In order (καθεξῆς), i. e. in succession or continuously, without necessarily implying a strictly chronological arrangement. Though the order of time is generally followed in Luke's narrative, yet there are cases of obvious departure from it, as in ch. 3, where our Lord's baptism is related (ver. 21, 22) after John's imprisonment (ver. 19, 20). Even Greswell, who strenuously maintains the chronological regularity of this Gospel, allows that the order of time has not been strictly followed in the above instance, as well as in ch. 4. 5—8; ch. 21. 37, 38; ch. 22. 20; and ch. 22. 63—65.

<sup>c</sup> The vision of Zacharias is assumed by some to have occurred on the great day of Atonement, the tenth of the seventh month. But on that day the high priest himself officiated, entering into the holy of holies, Lev. 16. 3, 29, 32—34. Zacharias was an ordinary priest of the class of Abia, one of the twenty-four classes instituted by David for the service of the temple, which relieved each other in succession every sabbath: see 1 Chron. 24. 3—19; 2 Chron. 8. 14; Joseph. Ant. 7. 14. 7. Their service included the daily burning of incense on the altar of incense in the first or outer sanctuary; and this was what Zacharias was now doing: Luke 1. 9; Ex. 30. 6—8; 1 Chron. 23. 13. It follows, that no inference whatever can hence be drawn as to the year, or season of the year, when the vision took place. Nor is it said how long a time elapsed between the vision and Elisabeth's conception; the expression after those days, ver. 24, being quite vague.

Luke i.

<sup>7</sup> And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

<sup>8</sup> And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course, <sup>9</sup> according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple<sup>e</sup> of the Lord. <sup>10</sup> And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense. <sup>11</sup> And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. <sup>12</sup> And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. <sup>13</sup> But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John. <sup>14</sup> And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth. <sup>15</sup> For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink;<sup>f</sup> and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. <sup>16</sup> And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God. <sup>17</sup> And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.<sup>g</sup> <sup>18</sup> And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years. <sup>19</sup> And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to show thee these glad tidings. <sup>20</sup> And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. <sup>21</sup> And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple. <sup>22</sup> And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

<sup>23</sup> And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house. <sup>24</sup> And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, <sup>25</sup> Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach<sup>h</sup> among men.

§ 3. THE SAME ANGEL APPEARS TO MARY.—Nazareth.

Luke i. 26—38. <sup>26</sup> And in the sixth month<sup>i</sup> the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, <sup>27</sup> to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David;<sup>j</sup> and the virgin's name was Mary. <sup>28</sup> And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, <sup>e</sup> Temple (ναός), i. e. the holy place or sanctuary, where the altar of incense stood (Ex. 30. 1, 6-8). When temple is used (as in most cases in the Gospels) for the courts or whole area about the sanctuary, it is always expressed by another word (ιερόν).

<sup>i</sup> The sixth month here refers back, not to the vision, but to the conception of Elizabeth: v. 36.

<sup>j</sup> The words of the house of David are, probably, intended here to describe, not Joseph, though he too was of the royal descent, but Mary; for in ver. 32 she is told that her Son is to have the throne of his father David. See also the Note to § 13 in the Appendix.

Luke i.

the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women. <sup>29</sup> And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

<sup>30</sup> And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God. <sup>31</sup> And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS. <sup>32</sup> He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David: <sup>33</sup> and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.<sup>k</sup> <sup>34</sup> Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? <sup>35</sup> And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God. <sup>36</sup> And, behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren. <sup>37</sup> For with God nothing shall be impossible. <sup>38</sup> And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

§ 4. MARY VISITS ELISABETH.—Jutta?

Luke i. 39—56. <sup>39</sup> And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda;<sup>l</sup> <sup>40</sup> and entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth. <sup>41</sup> And it came to pass, that, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost: <sup>42</sup> and she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb. <sup>43</sup> And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? <sup>44</sup> for, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. <sup>45</sup> And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

<sup>46</sup> And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, <sup>47</sup> and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. <sup>48</sup> For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaid: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. <sup>49</sup> For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name. <sup>50</sup> And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation. <sup>51</sup> He hath showed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts. <sup>52</sup> He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree. <sup>53</sup> He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away. <sup>54</sup> He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy; <sup>55</sup> as he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever.<sup>m</sup> <sup>56</sup> And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

in the mountains of Judah, south of Hebron: Josh. 15. 55; 21. 16. The place still exists under the same name. Robinson's Bibl. Res. ii. p. 628.

<sup>m</sup> Comp. Isa. 41. 8, 9; Gen. 22. 16, sq.

§ 5. BIRTH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST.—Jutta?

Luke i. 57—80. <sup>57</sup> Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. <sup>58</sup> And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had showed great mercy upon her; and they rejoiced with her.

<sup>59</sup> And it came to pass, that on the eighth day<sup>n</sup> they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. <sup>60</sup> And his mother answered and said, Not so; but he shall be called John. <sup>61</sup> And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. <sup>62</sup> And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called. <sup>63</sup> And he asked for a writing table, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all. <sup>64</sup> And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God. <sup>65</sup> And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judea. <sup>66</sup> And all they that heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be! And the hand of the Lord was with him.

<sup>67</sup> And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying, <sup>68</sup> Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people, <sup>69</sup> and hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; <sup>70</sup> as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began: <sup>71</sup> that we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us; <sup>72</sup> to perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant; <sup>73</sup> the oath which he swore to our father Abraham,<sup>o</sup> <sup>74</sup> that he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, <sup>75</sup> in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life. <sup>76</sup> And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways; <sup>77</sup> to give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their sins, <sup>78</sup> through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the dayspring from on high<sup>p</sup> hath visited us, <sup>79</sup> to give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace. <sup>80</sup> And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his showing unto Israel.

§ 6. AN ANGEL APPEARS TO JOSEPH.—Nazareth.

Matt. i. 18—25. <sup>18</sup> Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. <sup>19</sup> Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. <sup>20</sup> But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. <sup>21</sup> And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins. <sup>22</sup> Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,<sup>q</sup> <sup>23</sup> Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.

Matt. i.

<sup>24</sup> Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife: <sup>25</sup> and knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son; and he called his name JESUS.

§ 7. THE BIRTH OF JESUS.—Bethlehem.

Luke ii. 1—7. <sup>1</sup> And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Cæsar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. <sup>2</sup> (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) <sup>3</sup> And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. <sup>4</sup> And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judæa, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David :) <sup>5</sup> to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

<sup>6</sup> And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. <sup>7</sup> And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

§ 8. AN ANGEL APPEARS TO THE SHEPHERDS.—Near Bethlehem.

Luke ii. 8—20. <sup>8</sup> And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. <sup>9</sup> And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. <sup>10</sup> And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. <sup>11</sup> For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. <sup>12</sup> And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. <sup>13</sup> And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, <sup>14</sup> Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

<sup>15</sup> And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. <sup>16</sup> And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. <sup>17</sup> And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child. <sup>18</sup> And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. <sup>19</sup> But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart. <sup>20</sup> And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

<sup>s</sup> The rendering of this verse, according to Greswell (Dissert. XII. vol. i. p. 523) ought rather to be—This enrolment took place before Cyrenius was governor of Syria. Wieseler forcibly maintains nearly the same opinion. Chron. Synopse der 4 Evangelien, p. 111-121.

§ 9. THE CIRCUMCISION OF JESUS, AND HIS PRESENTATION IN THE TEMPLE.
Bethlehem, Jerusalem.

Luke ii. 21—38. <sup>21</sup> And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, † his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb. <sup>22</sup> And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord; <sup>23</sup> (as it is written in the law of the Lord, ‡ Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;) <sup>24</sup> and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, ‡ A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.

<sup>25</sup> And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him. <sup>26</sup> And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ. <sup>27</sup> And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law, <sup>28</sup> then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, <sup>29</sup> Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word: <sup>30</sup> for mine eyes have seen thy salvation, <sup>31</sup> which thou hast prepared before the face of all people; <sup>32</sup> a light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel. <sup>33</sup> And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him. <sup>34</sup> And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against; ‡ <sup>35</sup> (yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also,) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

<sup>36</sup> And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity; <sup>37</sup> and she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day. <sup>38</sup> And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

Matt. ii. 1—12. <sup>1</sup> Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, <sup>2</sup> saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him. <sup>3</sup> When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. <sup>4</sup> And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. <sup>5</sup> And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet,<sup>y</sup> <sup>6</sup> And thou, Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel. <sup>7</sup> Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. <sup>8</sup> And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

<sup>9</sup> When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. <sup>10</sup> When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. <sup>11</sup> And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. <sup>12</sup> And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

§ 11. THE FLIGHT INTO EGYPT. HEROD'S CRUELTY. THE RETURN.
Bethlehem, Nazareth.

Matt. ii. 13—23. <sup>13</sup> And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. <sup>14</sup> When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt: and was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,<sup>z</sup> Out of Egypt have I called my son.

<sup>16</sup> Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children<sup>a</sup> that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men. <sup>17</sup> Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying,<sup>b</sup> <sup>18</sup> In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

<sup>19</sup> But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, <sup>20</sup> saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life. <sup>21</sup> And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. <sup>22</sup> But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a § 12. AT TWELVE YEARS OF AGE JESUS GOES TO THE PASSOVER.—Jerusalem.

Luke ii. 41—52. <sup>41</sup> Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover. <sup>42</sup> And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom <sup>e</sup> of the feast. <sup>43</sup> And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it. <sup>44</sup> But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance. <sup>45</sup> And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

<sup>46</sup> And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. <sup>47</sup> And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers. <sup>48</sup> And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing. <sup>49</sup> And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business? <sup>50</sup> And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

<sup>51</sup> And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. <sup>52</sup> And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

<sup>f</sup> The words which was the son are supplied in our version all through, and as such ought to be in italics. It would be better, however, to supply simply son of, and to understand it of Jesus, all through the list. This change is accordingly made in the text, especially because it facilitates the inversion of Luke's order.

<sup>g</sup> Matthew, as writing particularly for Jews, traces our Lord's descent only to David and to Abraham; but Luke, as writing for Gentiles, traces it rather to Adam. The two genealogies thus prove Jesus to be—1. The Son of David, who should, according to promise, sit on the throne of Israel (Isa. 9. 6, 7; Luke 1. 32; Acts 2. 30). 2. The Seed of Abraham, in whom all nations of the earth should be blessed, according to the covenant made with the father of the faithful (Gen. 22. 18; Gal. 3. 14). 3. The Son of man, or "the seed of the woman," who should bruise the serpent's head (Gen. 3. 15; Heb. 2. 14).

And David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias; <sup>7</sup> and Solomon begat Roboam; and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa; <sup>8</sup> and Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Ozias; <sup>9</sup> and Ozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; and Achaz begat Ezekias; <sup>10</sup> and Ezekias begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amon; and Amon begat Josias; <sup>11</sup> and Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to Babylon.

ANNOUNCEMENT AND INTRODUCTION OF OUR LORD'S PUBLIC MINISTRY.

§ 14. THE MINISTRY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST.—The Desert. The Jordan.

Luke iii. 1—18.

<sup>1</sup> NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysania, the tetrarch of Abilene, Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness. <sup>3</sup>And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins; <sup>4</sup>as it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying,<sup>k</sup> The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. <sup>5</sup>Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth, and all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

Matt. iii. 1—12. <sup>1</sup>In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea, <sup>2</sup>and saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. <sup>3</sup>For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying,<sup>k</sup> The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight. <sup>4</sup>And the same John had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was locusts and wild honey. <sup>5</sup>Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the region round

<sup>h</sup> This is made out by reckoning the six months of John's ministry before he baptized the Saviour, and about six more between that event and our Lord's first passover: see § 21.

as specified in Luke 3. 1, is stated in the second paragraph of the Note to § 7, in the Appendix.

And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your wages.

<sup>n</sup> There is a difference, here, in the words of the Baptist as quoted by the three Evangelists;

so also in the utterance of the voice at Christ's baptism, Matt. 3. 17; Mark 1. 11; Luke 3. 22. A like difference is seen in the four copies of the title on the cross, Matt. 27. 37; Mark 15. 26; Luke 23. 38; John 19. 19. § 15. THE BAPTISM OF JESUS.<sup>p</sup>—The Jordan.

Matt. iii. 13—17. <sup>13</sup> Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him. <sup>14</sup> But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? <sup>15</sup> And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.

<sup>16</sup> And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: <sup>17</sup> and lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Mark i. 9—11. <sup>9</sup> And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

<sup>10</sup> And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him: <sup>11</sup> and there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Luke iii. 21—23. <sup>21</sup> Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized,

Matt. iv. 1—11. <sup>1</sup>Then was Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. <sup>2</sup>And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred. <sup>3</sup>And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread. <sup>4</sup>But he answered and said, It is written,<sup>s</sup> Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. <sup>5</sup>Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple, and saith unto him, <sup>6</sup>If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,<sup>t</sup> He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone. <sup>7</sup>Jesus said unto him, It is written again,<sup>u</sup>

Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God. <sup>8</sup>Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and showeth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; <sup>9</sup>and saith unto him, All these things will I give thee,

<sup>r</sup> That the temptation of Jesus took place immediately after his baptism, appears from Mark 1. 12; and also from a comparison of John 1. 29, 35, 44.—According to Mark and Luke, Jesus was tempted during the forty days. Matthew and Luke specify three instances of temptation, but in a different order. One of these apparently must have occurred at the end of the forty days. The order of Matthew is perhaps the most natural of the two; it is, at least, clearly indicated by the words then—again.

§ 17. PREFACE TO JOHN'S GOSPEL.

John i. 1—18. <sup>1</sup> In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. <sup>2</sup> The same was in the beginning with God. <sup>3</sup> All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. <sup>4</sup> In him was life; and the life was the light of men. <sup>5</sup> And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

<sup>6</sup> There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. <sup>7</sup> The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe. <sup>8</sup> He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light. <sup>9</sup> That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world. <sup>10</sup> He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not. <sup>11</sup> He came unto his own, and his own received him not. <sup>12</sup> But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name: <sup>13</sup> which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. <sup>14</sup> And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.

<sup>15</sup> John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me. <sup>16</sup> And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. <sup>17</sup> For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. <sup>18</sup> No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

§ 18. TESTIMONY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST TO JESUS.—Bethabara beyond Jordan.

John i. 19—34. <sup>19</sup> And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou? <sup>20</sup> And he confessed, and denied not, but confessed, I am not the Christ. <sup>21</sup> And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not.<sup>z</sup> Art thou that prophet?<sup>a</sup> And he answered, No. <sup>22</sup> Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? <sup>23</sup> He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.<sup>b</sup> <sup>24</sup> And they which were sent were of the Pharisees. <sup>25</sup> And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet? <sup>26</sup> John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not; <sup>27</sup> he it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose. <sup>28</sup> These things were done in Bethabara<sup>c</sup> beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

<sup>w</sup> All the temptation (πάντα πειρασμόν), rather every temptation, the three cases being regarded as types or samples of the three classes into which all temptations may be divided; namely, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, according to 1 John 2. 16.

<sup>a</sup> Here John declares that he was not Elias, meaning that he was not Elias risen from the dead: in Matt. 17. 12, Christ declares that "Elias is come already," meaning that John had come "in the spirit and power of Elias," Luke 1. 17.

<sup>29</sup> The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world! <sup>30</sup> This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me. <sup>31</sup> And I knew him not:<sup>d</sup> but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water. <sup>32</sup> And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him. <sup>33</sup> And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. <sup>34</sup> And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

§ 19. JESUS GAINS DISCIPLES.—The Jordan. Galilee?

John i. 35—51. <sup>35</sup> Again the next day after John stood, and two of his disciples; <sup>36</sup> and looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God! <sup>37</sup> And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. <sup>38</sup> Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou? <sup>39</sup> He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

<sup>40</sup> One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. <sup>41</sup> He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ. <sup>42</sup> And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

<sup>43</sup> The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me. <sup>44</sup> Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. <sup>45</sup> Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph. <sup>46</sup> And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. <sup>47</sup> Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed,<sup>e</sup> in whom is no guile! <sup>48</sup> Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. <sup>49</sup> Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel. <sup>50</sup> Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. <sup>51</sup> And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.<sup>f</sup>

<sup>c</sup> Bethabara (or as the best texts read, Bethany) was a place on the eastern bank of the Jordan, and taking its name (place of passage) from a ford of the river at that spot. It is probably the same as Bethbara in Judges 7. 24.

<sup>d</sup> Here the Baptist says he knew not Jesus; yet in Matt. 3. 14 (§ 15) he appears to have known who he was. The discrepancy is removed by supposing that John did not know Jesus as the Messiah before he came to be baptized, when a sign was given to point him out.

§ 20. THE MARRIAGE AT CANA OF GALILEE.

John ii. 1—12. <sup>1</sup> And the third day<sup>g</sup> there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: <sup>2</sup> and both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage. <sup>3</sup> And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. <sup>4</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. <sup>5</sup> His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. <sup>6</sup> And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews,<sup>h</sup> containing two or three firkins<sup>i</sup> apiece. <sup>7</sup> Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. <sup>8</sup> And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it. <sup>9</sup> When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew;) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom, <sup>10</sup> and saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now. <sup>11</sup> This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

<sup>g</sup> The third day refers back to John 1. 43. The journey in returning to Galilee did not require more than two days; the distance being, in any position of Bethabara, not beyond about fifty miles. Cana, now Kāna-el-Jelil (?), was situated about seven miles north of Nazareth, and about three miles N. by E. of Sepphoris: see Bibl. Res. in Palest. III. p. 204.

<sup>i</sup> Firkins (μετρητὰς): one of these is generally reckoned at seven and a half gallons. The large quantity made the miracle more striking and serviceable, since the feast probably lasted seven days (Judg. 14. 12), and many guests were present.

PART III.

OUR LORD'S FIRST PASSOVER AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL THE SECOND.

§ 21. AT THE PASSOVER JESUS DRIVES THE TRADERS OUT OF THE TEMPLE.—Jerusalem.

John ii. 13—25.

<sup>13</sup> AND the Jews' passover was at hand,<sup>j</sup> and Jesus went up to Jerusalem, <sup>14</sup>and found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: <sup>15</sup>and when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables; <sup>16</sup>and said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house an house of merchandise. <sup>17</sup>And his disciples remembered that it was written,<sup>k</sup> The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

<sup>18</sup>Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign showest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? <sup>19</sup>Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days <sup>1</sup>I will raise it up. <sup>20</sup>Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days? <sup>21</sup>But he spake of the temple of his body. <sup>22</sup>When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

<sup>23</sup>Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did. <sup>24</sup>But Jesus did

<sup>j</sup> This, our Lord's first passover during his public ministry, is mentioned only by John; though the language of the other evangelists implies that he had been again in Judea: Matt. 4. 12; Mark 1. 14. John connects with this first passover the cleansing of the temple and the casting out of the traders; while the other evangelists describe a like transaction at his last passover: Matt. 21. 12, sq.; Mark 11. 15, sq.; Luke 19, 45, sq. The question is raised, whether these were different transactions. That our Lord was accustomed to repeat the substance of his discourses, or at least the more striking parts of them, at different times and before different persons, is sufficiently obvious. Compare Luke 11. 37-54, uttered in Galilee, with Matt. 23. 1-39, delivered at Jerusalem; likewise Matt. 5. 13, in the sermon on the mount, with Mark 9. 50, and Luke 14. 34, 35, spoken elsewhere; and also the different examples of the Lord's prayer,

Matt. 6. 9-13; Luke 11. 2-4. Such examples indeed may be multiplied almost indefinitely, as the pages of the Harmony everywhere show. Why might he not have repeated, after an interval of two or three years, and before different persons, this public symbolical act, so significant in itself, and so expressive of his character and authority as the Messiah? The Jews, it seems, did not question his right to perform such an act, provided he was a true prophet. They only demanded some sign of his authority, John 2. 18. This Jesus had already given in his mighty works, wrought at the same passover, ver. 23; works which drew from Nicodemus, a Pharisee and member of the Sanhedrim, the admission, that he was "a teacher come from God," John 3. 2.

not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men,<sup>25</sup> and needed not that any should testify of man : for he knew what was in man.<sup>m</sup>

§ 22. OUR LORD'S DISCOURSE WITH NICODEMUS.—Jerusalem.

John iii. 1—21. <sup>1</sup> There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews : <sup>2</sup> the same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God : for no man can do these miracles<sup>n</sup> that thou doest, except God be with him. <sup>3</sup> Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God. <sup>4</sup> Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old ? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born ? <sup>5</sup> Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. <sup>6</sup> That which is born of the flesh is flesh ; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. <sup>7</sup> Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again. <sup>8</sup> The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth : so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

<sup>9</sup> Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be ? <sup>10</sup> Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things ? <sup>11</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen ; and ye receive not our witness. <sup>12</sup> If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things ? <sup>13</sup> And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven. <sup>14</sup> And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness,<sup>o</sup> even so must the Son of man be lifted up : <sup>15</sup> that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

<sup>16</sup> For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. <sup>17</sup> For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world ; but that the world through him might be saved. <sup>18</sup> He that believeth on him is not condemned : but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. <sup>19</sup> And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. <sup>20</sup> For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved. <sup>21</sup> But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

baptizing in Ænon near to Salim,<sup>9</sup> because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. <sup>24</sup> For John was not yet cast into prison.*

<sup>25</sup> Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purifying. <sup>26</sup> And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him. <sup>27</sup> John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven. <sup>28</sup> Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him. <sup>29</sup> He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. <sup>30</sup> He must increase, but I must decrease. <sup>31</sup> He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthy, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. <sup>32</sup> And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony. <sup>33</sup> He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true. <sup>34</sup> For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him. <sup>35</sup> The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand. <sup>36</sup> He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

is determined by comparing John 3. 24 with Matt. 4. 12; Mark 1. 14. Jesus goes out with his disciples from Jerusalem into the country of Judæa; where he remains until after John was cast into prison. See the Note on John 4. 35, in § 25.

<sup>9</sup> Ænon and Salim appear, according to Eusebius and Jerome, to have been both situated on the Jordan, about eight miles to the south of Scythopolis, the ancient Bethshean.—Relandi Palæstina, p. 480.

* This is the only mention made of the Baptist's imprisonment in this Gospel. Its brief and incidental character may be regarded as one proof that John intended his Gospel to follow the others as a supplement: see § 24.

wife. <sup>19</sup> Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him: but she could not: <sup>20</sup> for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and an holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

John iv. 1—3. <sup>1</sup> When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John, <sup>2</sup> (though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,) <sup>3</sup> he left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

§ 25. OUR LORD'S DISCOURSE WITH THE SAMARITAN WOMAN. MANY OF THE SAMARITANS BELIEVE ON HIM.—Sychar, i. e. Shechem or Neapolis.

John iv. 4—42. <sup>4</sup> And he must needs go through Samaria. <sup>5</sup> Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar,<sup>s</sup> near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.<sup>t</sup> <sup>6</sup> Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour.<sup>u</sup>

<sup>7</sup> There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. <sup>8</sup> (For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.) <sup>9</sup> Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, asketh drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans. <sup>10</sup> Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. <sup>11</sup> The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water? <sup>12</sup> Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle? <sup>13</sup> Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: <sup>14</sup> but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life. <sup>15</sup> The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw. <sup>16</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come nither. <sup>17</sup> The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband: <sup>18</sup> for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly. <sup>19</sup> The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet. <sup>20</sup> Our fathers worshipped in this mountain;<sup>v</sup>

and ye say that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. <sup>21</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. <sup>22</sup> Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews.<sup>w</sup> <sup>23</sup> But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. <sup>24</sup> God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. <sup>25</sup> The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things. <sup>26</sup> Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.

<sup>27</sup> And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her? <sup>28</sup> The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and said to the men, <sup>29</sup> Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ? <sup>30</sup> Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

<sup>31</sup> In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat. <sup>32</sup> But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of. <sup>33</sup> Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat? <sup>34</sup> Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work. <sup>35</sup> Say not ye, There are yet four months,<sup>z</sup> and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest. <sup>36</sup> And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together. <sup>37</sup> And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth. <sup>38</sup> I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

<sup>39</sup> And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did. <sup>40</sup> So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days. <sup>41</sup> And many more believed because of his own word; <sup>42</sup> and said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

§ 26. JESUS TEACHES PUBLICLY IN GALILEE.

John iv. 43—45. <sup>43</sup> Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee. <sup>44</sup> For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.<sup>y</sup>

<sup>z</sup> John 4. 35 contains a specification of time which is tolerably definite: "Say ye not, There are yet four months, and the harvest cometh?" According to Lev. 23. 5-7, 10, 11, 14, 15, and Jos. Antiq. 3. 10. 5, the first-fruits of the barley-harvest were presented on the second day of the paschal week; while the wheat-harvest was two or three weeks later: see Bibl. Res. in Palest.

II. p. 99, sq. Hence this journey of our Lord must have been made in the latter part of November or in December, about eight months after the preceding passover. It follows (allowing one year to the events in Part II.) that the public ministry of John the Baptist had continued for at least a year and six months, before his imprisonment.

§ 27. JESUS AGAIN AT CANA,<sup>c</sup> WHERE HE HEALS THE SON OF A NOBLEMAN LYING ILL AT CAPERNAUM.—Cana of Galilee.

John iv. 46—54. <sup>46</sup> So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum. <sup>47</sup> When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son : for he was at the point of death. <sup>48</sup> Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe. <sup>49</sup> The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die. <sup>50</sup> Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way ; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way. <sup>51</sup> And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth. <sup>52</sup> Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. <sup>53</sup> So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth : and himself believed, and his whole house. <sup>54</sup> This is again the second <sup>d</sup> miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

§ 28. JESUS AT NAZARETH ; HE IS THERE REJECTED ; AND FIXES HIS ABODE AT CAPERNAUM.

Luke iv. 16—31. <sup>16</sup> And he came to Nazareth,<sup>e</sup> where he had been brought up : and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read. <sup>17</sup> And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,<sup>f</sup> <sup>18</sup> The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me<sup>g</sup> means here Judea, where he had been born : compare ver. 47. Only in this place do we find John alluding to the fact that our Lord was born in Bethlehem ; but this slight passing allusion is a striking confirmation of the statements of Matthew (ch. 2. 1) and Luke (ch. 2. 4).

<sup>e</sup> The visit to Nazareth is inserted here on the testimony of Luke 4. 16, sq., which is supported by Matt. 4. 13. The visit mentioned in Matt. 13. 54, sq. ; Mark 6. 1, sq., was later, and took place after the raising of Jairus's daughter.

Matthew and Mark, on the other hand, narrate the former part only generally, but the latter part with more detail. In the one part, Luke introduces circumstances which the others omit; in the other part, Matthew and Mark mention facts which Luke has not noted. The remark of Spanheim is just:

that particulars are frequently omitted by one evangelist, which are supplied by others; lest the sacred writers should even seem to have used collusion, and lest we should delight to read one of them to the neglect of the rest. Dubia Evang. tom. iii. Dub. 72. vii.

OUR LORD'S SECOND PASSOVER AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL THE THIRD.

§ 36. THE POOL OF BETHESDA; THE HEALING OF THE INFIRM MAN; AND OUR LORD'S SUBSEQUENT DISCOURSE.—Jerusalem.

John v. 1—47.

<sup>1</sup> AFTER this there was a feast of the Jews;<sup>g</sup> and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. <sup>2</sup> Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda,<sup>h</sup> having five porches. <sup>3</sup> In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water. <sup>4</sup> For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had. <sup>5</sup> And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years. <sup>6</sup> When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? <sup>7</sup> The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. <sup>8</sup> Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. <sup>9</sup> And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

<sup>10</sup> The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.<sup>i</sup> <sup>11</sup> He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. <sup>12</sup> Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? <sup>13</sup> And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

<sup>14</sup> Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee. <sup>15</sup> The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole. <sup>16</sup> And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.

<sup>g</sup> That this feast of the Jews was our Lord's second passover, is shown in the Note to this section in the Appendix.

<sup>h</sup> Bethesda (בֵּית הַחַמָּה place of mercy) was near the sheep gate (see Neh. 3. 1, 32; 12. 39) and not market, and hence it must have been on the north-east side of the temple. It is perhaps the same as the pool Amygdalon of Josephus (Bel. Jud. 5. 11. 4), which lay on the north side of the old town, and which was possibly so named (from מְנַדָּ אֵל God's boon, which is in effect the same as Bethesda) in reference to the cures effected in it. See Wieseler, p. 259.

John v.

<sup>17</sup> But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work. <sup>18</sup> Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God;

<sup>19</sup> Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do : for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. <sup>20</sup> For the Father loveth the Son, and showeth him all things that himself doeth : and he will show him greater works than these, that ye may marvel. <sup>21</sup> For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them ; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will. <sup>22</sup> For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son : <sup>23</sup> that all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him. <sup>24</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation ; but is passed from death unto life. <sup>25</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God : and they that hear shall live. <sup>26</sup> For as the Father hath life in himself : so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself ; <sup>27</sup> and hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man. <sup>28</sup> Marvel not at this : for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, <sup>29</sup> and shall come forth ; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life ; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.<sup>k</sup> <sup>30</sup> I can of mine own self do nothing : as I hear, I judge : and my judgment is just ; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

<sup>31</sup> If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. <sup>32</sup> There is another that beareth witness of me ; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. <sup>33</sup> Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth. <sup>34</sup> But I receive not testimony from man : but these things I say, that ye might be saved. <sup>35</sup> He was a burning and a shining light : and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.<sup>l</sup> <sup>36</sup> But I have greater witness than that of John : for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me. <sup>37</sup> And the Father himself which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape. <sup>38</sup> And ye have not his word abiding in you : for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not. <sup>39</sup> Search <sup>m</sup> the Scriptures ; for in them ye think ye have eternal life : and they are they which testify of me.<sup>n</sup> <sup>40</sup> And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life. <sup>41</sup> I receive not honour from men. <sup>42</sup> But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you. <sup>43</sup> I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not : if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. <sup>44</sup> How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only? <sup>45</sup> Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust. <sup>46</sup> For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.<sup>o</sup> <sup>47</sup> But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

<sup>p</sup> The circumstances narrated show that a passover had just been celebrated: see Note on § 25. The sabbath here named was probably the first sabbath after the second day of the pass-over, or of unleavened bread; that is, the first of the seven sabbaths reckoned between that day and Pentecost: see the Lexicons, also Scaliger Emendat. Temp. VI. 557. Our Lord would seem to have hastened away from Jerusalem; for which a reason is found in John 5. 16, 18.

<sup>s</sup> Abiathar is here named as the high priest, but in 1 Sam. 21. 1–6 we find that his father Ahimelech was then in the office. This discrepancy may be removed by understanding the words to mean—‘in the days of Abiathar, afterwards high priest.’ His name is mentioned rather than his father’s, because he too was present on the occasion alluded to (see 1 Sam. 22. 22), and having immediately succeeded his father, became better known in the history of David.

§ 38. THE HEALING OF THE WITHERED HAND ON THE SABBATH.—Galilee : Capernaum ?

Matt. xii. 9—14. <sup>9</sup>And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue; <sup>10</sup>and, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

Mark iii. 1—6. <sup>1</sup>And he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand. <sup>2</sup>And they watched him whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him.

Luke vi. 6—11. <sup>6</sup>And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered, <sup>7</sup>And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an accusation against him. <sup>8</sup>But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. <sup>9</sup>Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it? And looking round about upon them all,

Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

<sup>3</sup> And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth. <sup>4</sup> And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God. <sup>16</sup> and charged them that they should not make him known: <sup>17</sup> that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,<sup>z</sup> <sup>18</sup> Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall show judgment to the Gentiles. <sup>19</sup> He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets. <sup>e</sup> In the plain, properly on a level place, i.e. a piece of table-land on a mountain, and not what we should call the plain. That this level spot lay on some high ground is indicated by the use (in preference to the dative) of the genitive case, which is not employed with ἐνί except when the noun governed denotes something that is conceived to be itself elevated; so in Luke 22. 40, we have ἐνί τοῦ τόπου (on the spot) used of Gethsemane, which lay on the slope of Mount Olivet; compare also Matt. 24. 3, 30; Luke 4. 29; 22. 21; Acts 20. 9; 21. 40; and Zech. 14. 10 in the Septuagint. This peculiarity (hitherto unnoticed) in the usage of the genitive after ἐνί is submitted to the examination of Greek scholars. The result of this strict rendering of the expression is highly interesting, as it enables us at once to harmonize the statements of the evangelists, inasmuch as Luke too shows that the sermon was delivered on a mountain, or some high ground, though on a level place.

<sup>21</sup> Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time,<sup>p</sup> Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment: <sup>22</sup> but I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell-fire. <sup>23</sup> Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee; <sup>24</sup> leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. <sup>25</sup> Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. <sup>26</sup> Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

<sup>o</sup> The Scribes and Pharisees: the former were a learned profession (not a religious sect), whose business was to write copies of the law, and also to expound its meaning; hence they were called also lawyers (Matt. 22. 35 comp. with Mark 12. 28) and doctors of the law (Luke 5. 17 comp. with 21). They generally favoured the views and abetted the party of the Pharisees; hence the mention of both together in this and many other places. The Pharisees were the most numerous sect among the Jews, professing (as the name separatists imports) to distinguish themselves from such religionists as the Sadducees by a peculiar devotedness and strictness in the observance of the law; to which however they added the "tradition of the elders," and so made void the commands of God (see in § 67). They believed that, by observing the law and the traditions, a man might be justified before God, and even attain to the merit of supererogation; and accordingly they were generally self-righteous, and manifested a proud aversion to the gospel doctrine of justification by faith, or salvation by grace (see Luke 18. 9-14; Rom. 10. 3).

<sup>q</sup> Christ here speaks of three degrees of punishment, according to what was then known among the Jews. 1. The judgment (κρίσις), or inferior court of seven judges which existed in every city. 2. The council (συνέδριον, commonly called Sanhedrim), consisting of seventy men—"elders of the people and the chief priests and scribes" (Luke 22. 66), who alone could inflict the severer punishments. 3. Hell fire (γέεννα τοῦ πυρός), properly gehenna of fire, so called from the Valley of Hinnom (גֵּי הִנּוֹם) on the south of Jerusalem, where once children had been burnt to Moloch, and afterwards the dead bodies of beasts and malefactors were consumed in a fire constantly kept up (2 Kings 23. 10); hence it served as a figure to denote the place "where the worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched" (Mark 9. 44).

<sup>48</sup> Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

Matt. vi. <sup>1</sup> Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. <sup>2</sup> Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. <sup>3</sup> But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: <sup>4</sup> that thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly.

<sup>5</sup> And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

<sup>6</sup> But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly. <sup>7</sup> But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. <sup>8</sup> Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. <sup>9</sup> After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. <sup>10</sup> Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. <sup>11</sup> Give us this day our daily bread. <sup>12</sup> And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. <sup>13</sup> And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen. <sup>14</sup> For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you: <sup>15</sup> but if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Matt. vii. <sup>1</sup> Judge not, that ye be not judged. <sup>2</sup> For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged : and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

<sup>3</sup> And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye ? <sup>4</sup> Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye ; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye ? <sup>5</sup> Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye ; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye. <sup>6</sup> Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.

Luke vi. <sup>37</sup> Judge not, and ye shall not be judged : condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned : forgive, and ye shall be forgiven : <sup>38</sup> give, and it shall be given unto you ; good measure, pressed down and shaken together, and

<sup>7</sup> Ask,<sup>e</sup> and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: <sup>8</sup> for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. <sup>9</sup> Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? <sup>10</sup> or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent? <sup>11</sup> If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him? <sup>12</sup> Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.

<sup>13</sup> Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: <sup>14</sup> because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it. <sup>15</sup> Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.<sup>f</sup> <sup>16</sup> Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

<sup>17</sup> Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. <sup>18</sup> A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. <sup>19</sup> Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. <sup>20</sup> Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. <sup>21</sup> Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven: but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. <sup>22</sup> Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

<sup>23</sup> And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

<sup>24</sup> Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: <sup>25</sup> and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house;

<sup>26</sup> and the house fell not: because it was founded upon a rock. <sup>27</sup> And whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth not them, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon a sand: <sup>28</sup> and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and the house fell: and he was destroyed.

Luke vi.

<sup>31</sup> And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—

me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

<sup>46</sup> And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

<sup>47</sup> Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like: <sup>48</sup> he is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that

§ 45. REFLECTIONS OF JESUS ON APPEALING TO HIS MIGHTY WORKS.
Capernaum?

Matt. xi. 20—30. <sup>20</sup> Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not: <sup>21</sup> Woe unto thee,<sup>s</sup> Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. <sup>22</sup> But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you. <sup>23</sup> And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day. <sup>24</sup> But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

Luke vii. 36—50. <sup>36</sup> And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. <sup>37</sup> And, behold, a woman <sup>v</sup> in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment, <sup>38</sup> and stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. <sup>39</sup> Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner. <sup>40</sup> And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on. <sup>41</sup> There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence,<sup>z</sup> and the other fifty. <sup>42</sup> And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most? <sup>43</sup> Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. <sup>44</sup> And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: <sup>v</sup> but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head. <sup>45</sup> Thou gavest me no kiss:<sup>z</sup> but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet. <sup>46</sup> My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment. <sup>47</sup> Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. <sup>48</sup> And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven. <sup>49</sup> And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also? <sup>50</sup> And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

<sup>27</sup> And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked. <sup>28</sup> But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

§ 50. THE TRUE DISCIPLES OF CHRIST HIS NEAREST RELATIVES.—Galilee.

Mt. xii. 46-50. <sup>46</sup> While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him. <sup>47</sup> Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee. <sup>48</sup> But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? <sup>49</sup> And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren! <sup>50</sup> For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.<sup>q</sup>

Mk. iii. 31-35. <sup>31</sup> There came then his brethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

<sup>32</sup> And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. <sup>33</sup> And he answered them, saying,

Who is my mother, or my brethren? <sup>34</sup> And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren! <sup>35</sup> For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.<sup>q</sup>

Lk. viii. 19-21. <sup>19</sup> Then<sup>p</sup> came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

<sup>20</sup> And it was told him by certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. <sup>21</sup> And he answered and said unto them,

My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.<sup>q</sup>

saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.<sup>a</sup> <sup>39</sup> And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter;<sup>b</sup> but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness. <sup>40</sup> Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also? <sup>41</sup> But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and, behold, all things are clean unto you. <sup>42</sup> But woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.<sup>c</sup> <sup>43</sup> Woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.<sup>d</sup> <sup>44</sup> Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not,<sup>e</sup> and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

<sup>45</sup> Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also. <sup>46</sup> And he said, Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. <sup>47</sup> Woe unto you!<sup>f</sup> for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. <sup>48</sup> Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres. <sup>49</sup> Therefore also said the wisdom of God,<sup>g</sup> I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute: <sup>50</sup> that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation; <sup>51</sup> from the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple:<sup>h</sup> verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation. <sup>52</sup> Woe unto you, lawyers!<sup>i</sup> for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye enter not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

<sup>53</sup> And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things: <sup>54</sup> laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

Luke xii. 1—59. <sup>1</sup> In the mean time,<sup>b</sup> when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees,<sup>c</sup> which is hypocrisy. <sup>2</sup> For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed;<sup>d</sup> neither hid, that shall not be known. <sup>3</sup> Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops. <sup>4</sup> And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. <sup>5</sup> But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear : Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell ; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. <sup>6</sup> Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God ? <sup>7</sup> But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore : ye are of more value than many sparrows. <sup>8</sup> Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God : <sup>9</sup> but he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God. <sup>10</sup> And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him : but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven. <sup>11</sup> And when they bring you unto the synagogues,<sup>c</sup> and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say : <sup>12</sup> for the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

<sup>13</sup> And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me. <sup>14</sup> And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you ? <sup>15</sup> And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness : for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. <sup>16</sup> And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully : <sup>17</sup> and he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits ? <sup>18</sup> And he said, This will I do : I will pull down my barns, and build greater ; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods. <sup>19</sup> And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years ; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry. <sup>20</sup> But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee : then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided ? <sup>21</sup> So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

<sup>22</sup> And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat ; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. <sup>23</sup> The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment. <sup>24</sup> Consider the ravens : for they neither sow nor reap ; which neither have storehouse nor barn ; and God feedeth them : how much more are ye better than the fowls ? <sup>25</sup> And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit ? <sup>26</sup> If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest ? <sup>27</sup> Consider the lilies how they grow : they toil not, they spin not ; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. <sup>28</sup> If then God so clothe the grass, which is to-day in the field, and to-morrow is cast into the oven ; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith ? <sup>29</sup> And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. <sup>30</sup> For all these things do the nations of the world seek after : and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. <sup>31</sup> But rather seek ye the kingdom of God ; and all these things shall be added unto you. <sup>32</sup> Fear not, little flock ; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. <sup>33</sup> Sell that ye have, and give alms ; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth. <sup>34</sup> For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. <sup>35</sup> Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning ; <sup>36</sup> and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding ; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. <sup>37</sup> Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching : verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them. <sup>38</sup> And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch,<sup>g</sup> and find them so, blessed are those servants. <sup>39</sup> And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through. <sup>40</sup> Be ye therefore ready also : for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

<sup>41</sup> Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all ? <sup>42</sup> And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward,<sup>h</sup> whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season ? <sup>43</sup> Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. <sup>44</sup> Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath. <sup>45</sup> But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming ; and shall begin to beat the men-servants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken ; <sup>46</sup> the lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers. <sup>47</sup> And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes. <sup>48</sup> But he that knew not,<sup>i</sup> and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required : and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

<sup>49</sup> I am come to send fire on the earth ; and what will I, if it be already kindled ? <sup>50</sup> But I have a baptism to be baptized with ; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished ! <sup>51</sup> Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth ? I tell you Nay ;<sup>j</sup> but rather division : <sup>52</sup> for from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. <sup>53</sup> The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father ; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother ; the mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

<sup>54</sup> And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower ; and so it is. <sup>55</sup> And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat ; and it cometh to pass. <sup>56</sup> Ye hypo-

§ 53. SLAUGHTER OF CERTAIN GALILEANS. THE BARREN FIG TREE.—Galilee.

Luke xiii. 1—9. <sup>1</sup> There were present at that season <sup>k</sup> some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. <sup>2</sup> And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things? <sup>3</sup> I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish. <sup>4</sup> Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem? <sup>5</sup> I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

<sup>6</sup> He spake also this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none. <sup>7</sup> Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground? <sup>8</sup> And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: <sup>9</sup> and if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.<sup>l</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand. <sup>14</sup> And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith,<sup>a</sup> By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive: <sup>15</sup> for this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them. <sup>16</sup> But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.<sup>r</sup> <sup>17</sup> For verily I say unto you, that many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them. <sup>18</sup> Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower. <sup>19</sup> When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. went his way. <sup>26</sup> But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. <sup>27</sup> So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? <sup>28</sup> He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? <sup>29</sup> But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. <sup>30</sup> Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

Mark. iv 26—34. <sup>26</sup> And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground; <sup>27</sup> and should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how. <sup>28</sup> For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. <sup>29</sup> But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

Matt. xiii. <sup>31</sup> Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field: <sup>32</sup> which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof. <sup>33</sup> Another parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

<sup>34</sup> All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them: <sup>35</sup> that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,<sup>z</sup> I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

<sup>36</sup> Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field. <sup>37</sup> He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; <sup>y</sup> <sup>38</sup> the field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one; <sup>39</sup> the enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. <sup>40</sup> As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. <sup>41</sup> The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; <sup>42</sup> and shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. <sup>43</sup> Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

<sup>33</sup> And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it. <sup>34</sup> But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

<sup>44</sup> Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

<sup>45</sup> Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls: <sup>46</sup> who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

<sup>47</sup> Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind: <sup>48</sup> which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away. <sup>49</sup> So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just, <sup>50</sup> and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

<sup>51</sup> Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. <sup>52</sup> Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

<sup>53</sup> And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.<sup>z</sup>

§ 56. JESUS DIRECTS TO CROSS THE LAKE. INCIDENTS. THE TEMPEST STILLED.—Sea of Galilee.

Mt. viii. 18-27. <sup>18</sup> Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side. <sup>19</sup> And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. <sup>20</sup> And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man<sup>b</sup> hath not where to lay his head.

Mark iv. 35-41. <sup>35</sup> And the same day, when the even was come,<sup>a</sup> he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

Lk. viii. 22-25. <sup>22</sup> Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake.

<sup>a</sup> Mark here fixes the order of time, "the same day at evening." Very similar to Matt. 8. 19-22 is the incident related by Luke, ch. 9. 57-62, but which is in a wholly different connexion (see § 80).

<sup>b</sup> The Son of man: a name often applied to himself by Christ (comp. Dan. 7. 13, 14; Rev. 1. 13), to indicate that he was the Messiah; to indicate also that he was the son of Adam who was to bruise the serpent's head (comp. 1 Cor. 15. 47).

Matt. viii.

<sup>21</sup> And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. <sup>22</sup> But Jesus said unto him, Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead.

<sup>23</sup> And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him. <sup>24</sup> And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, in so much that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep. <sup>25</sup> And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish. <sup>26</sup> And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

<sup>27</sup> But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

Mark iv.

<sup>36</sup> And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships. <sup>37</sup> And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full. <sup>38</sup> And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awoke him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish? <sup>39</sup> And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. <sup>40</sup> And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith? <sup>41</sup> And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

Luke viii.

And they launched forth <sup>23</sup> But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

<sup>24</sup> And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

<sup>25</sup> And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

The judgment brought relief to the possessed man, and rid the neighbourhood of a source of terror (Matt. 8. 28), while it admonished the Jews against violating the law, through love of gain.

<sup>t</sup> The call of Levi or Matthew is placed by the three evangelists immediately after the healing of the paralytic in Capernaum [§§ 34, 35]. Very naturally, too, they all three connect with his call an account of the feast which he afterwards made for Jesus. But from Matt. 9. 18 [§ 59] it appears, that while our Lord was reclining and discoursing at that feast, Jairus comes to beseech him to visit his daughter lying at the point of death. Now this transaction, according to Mark and Luke, did not happen until immediately after the return from the eastern shore of the lake. Hence the narrative of the feast is also to be transferred to this place; and that too with the more certainty, because the twelve appear to have also been present at it.

§ 59. THE RAISING OF JAIRUS'S DAUGHTER. THE WOMAN WITH AN ISSUE OF BLOOD.—Capernaum.

Matt. ix. 18—26.

<sup>18</sup> While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

<sup>19</sup> And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

<sup>20</sup> And, behold, a woman, which was diseased<sup>c</sup> with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment: <sup>21</sup> for she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.—<sup>22</sup> And the woman was made whole from that hour.—

Mark v. 22—43. <sup>22</sup> And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet, <sup>23</sup> and besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live. <sup>24</sup> And Jesus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

<sup>25</sup> And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood<sup>c</sup> twelve years, <sup>26</sup> and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, <sup>27</sup> when she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment. <sup>28</sup> For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole. <sup>29</sup> And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

Luke viii. 41—56.

<sup>41</sup> And, behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house: <sup>42</sup> for he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the people thronged him.

<sup>c</sup> A woman—diseased, &c. Her disorder, according to the law (Lev. 15. 25-27), defiled by contact; this may account for her timid and

§ 63. HEROD HOLDS JESUS TO BE JOHN THE BAPTIST, WHOM HE HAD JUST BEFORE BEHEADED.—Galilee? Peræa.

<sup>14</sup> And king Herod heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad:) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do show forth themselves in him. <sup>15</sup> Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets. <sup>16</sup> But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.—

Luke ix. 7—9. <sup>7</sup> Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead; <sup>8</sup> and of some, that Elias had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. <sup>9</sup> And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.

<sup>e</sup> While the twelve are absent preaching in the name of Christ, Herod causes John the Baptist to be beheaded in the castle of Machærus, at the southern extremity of Peræa, near the Dead Sea; Jos. Antiq. 18. 5. 2. In consequence of the preaching of the apostles, Herod hears the fame of Jesus; is conscience-smitten; and says that He is John risen from the dead. The disciples of John come and tell Jesus; and the twelve also return with the same intelligence; upon which Jesus withdraws from Galilee to the north-eastern coast of the lake, not far from the northern Bethsaida or Julias, which was in the tetrarchy of Philip; Jos. Antiq. 18. 2. 1: see Map. All these events seem to have taken place near together. Matthew and Mark narrate the death of the Baptist in explanation of Herod's declaration. The account of his imprisonment is transferred to § 24.

According to John 6. 4, the passover was now at hand, namely, the third during our Lord's ministry. John therefore had lain in prison nearly a year and six months; and was beheaded about three years after entering upon his public ministry. See in § 25.

into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone; <sup>23</sup> (howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks :) <sup>24</sup> when the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus. <sup>25</sup> And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? <sup>26</sup> Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled. <sup>27</sup> Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.<sup>t</sup> <sup>28</sup> Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God? <sup>29</sup> Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.<sup>u</sup>

<sup>30</sup> They said therefore unto him, What sign showest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work? <sup>31</sup> Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written,<sup>v</sup> He gave them bread from heaven<sup>w</sup> to eat.<sup>x</sup> <sup>32</sup> Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven. <sup>33</sup> For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.<sup>y</sup> <sup>34</sup> Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread. <sup>35</sup> And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. <sup>36</sup> But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not. <sup>37</sup> All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. <sup>38</sup> For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. <sup>39</sup> And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. <sup>40</sup> And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

<sup>41</sup> The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven. <sup>42</sup> And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven? <sup>43</sup> Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. <sup>44</sup> No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him : and I will raise him up at the last day. <sup>45</sup> It is written in the prophets,<sup>2</sup> And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. <sup>46</sup> Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father. <sup>47</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life. <sup>48</sup> I am that bread of life. <sup>49</sup> Your fathers did eat manna<sup>a</sup> in the wilderness, and are dead. <sup>50</sup> This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die. <sup>51</sup> I am the living bread which came down from heaven : if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever : and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

<sup>52</sup> The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat ? <sup>53</sup> Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. <sup>54</sup> Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life ; and I will raise him up at the last day. <sup>55</sup> For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. <sup>56</sup> He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him. <sup>57</sup> As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father : so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me. <sup>58</sup> This is that bread which came down from heaven : not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead : he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever. <sup>59</sup> These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

<sup>60</sup> Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying ; who can hear it ? <sup>61</sup> When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you ? <sup>62</sup> What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before ? <sup>63</sup> It is the spirit that quickeneth ; the flesh profiteth nothing : the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. <sup>64</sup> But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him. <sup>65</sup> And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

John vii. <sup>1</sup> After these things Jesus walked in Galilee : for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

Matt. xv. 1—20.

<sup>r</sup> This passover was not celebrated by our Lord in Jerusalem, because the rulers were seeking to kill him (John 7. 1), and his time had not yet come (comp. Luke 9. 51); see Note <sup>1</sup> on § 64.

<sup>s</sup> The order of events, as far as to § 79 inclusive, is in accordance with both Matthew and Mark; with whom Luke also coincides, so far as he touches upon the same transactions.

Matt. xv.

—<sup>3</sup> Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition? <sup>4</sup> for God commanded, saying, "Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death."<sup>v</sup> <sup>5</sup> But ye say,<sup>w</sup> "Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; <sup>6</sup> and honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free."

Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.—

<sup>10</sup> And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand: <sup>11</sup> Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

<sup>12</sup> Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying? <sup>13</sup> But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. <sup>14</sup> Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch. <sup>15</sup> Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable. <sup>16</sup> And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding? <sup>17</sup> Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

Mark vii.

things ye do. <sup>9</sup> And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. <sup>10</sup> For Moses said, "Honour thy father and thy mother; and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death:" <sup>11</sup> but ye say,<sup>w</sup> "If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free." <sup>12</sup> And ye suffer him no more to do aught for his father or his mother; <sup>13</sup> making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye. <sup>14</sup> And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand: <sup>15</sup> There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man. <sup>16</sup> If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

<sup>17</sup> And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable. <sup>18</sup> And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; <sup>19</sup> because it entereth

All these were districts not under the jurisdiction of Herod, whose domain included Galilee and Peræa. Not improbably Jesus may have withdrawn from Galilee at this particular time [as he had done just before, see § 64], because the attention of Herod had been turned to him after took a child, and set him in the midst of them; and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them, <sup>37</sup> Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.<sup>k</sup> <sup>47</sup> And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him, <sup>48</sup> and said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

<sup>k</sup> Who is the greatest? The agitation of this question by the twelve was probably occasioned by what had been said to Peter (Matt. 16. 17–19), and by the selection of the three (Matt. 17. 1) to accompany Christ to the mount of transfiguration.

<sup>6</sup> But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone<sup>m</sup> were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea. <sup>7</sup> Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come;<sup>n</sup> but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh! <sup>8</sup> Wherefore if thy hand<sup>o</sup> or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire. <sup>9</sup> And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire.

Mark ix.

<sup>42</sup> And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone<sup>m</sup> were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. <sup>43</sup> And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched: <sup>44</sup> where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.<sup>p</sup> <sup>45</sup> And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched: <sup>46</sup> where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. <sup>47</sup> And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast gone astray? <sup>13</sup> And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray. <sup>14</sup> Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish. <sup>15</sup> Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: "if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother. <sup>16</sup> But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established." <sup>17</sup> And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican." <sup>18</sup> Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.<sup>z</sup> <sup>19</sup> Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. <sup>20</sup> For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

<sup>21</sup> Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? <sup>22</sup> Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven. <sup>23</sup> Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants. <sup>24</sup> And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.<sup>y</sup> <sup>25</sup> But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold,<sup>z</sup> and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. <sup>26</sup> The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. <sup>27</sup> Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt. <sup>28</sup> But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellowservants, which owed him an hundred pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest. <sup>29</sup> And his fellowservant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. <sup>30</sup> And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt. <sup>31</sup> So when his fellowservants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. <sup>32</sup> Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me: <sup>33</sup> shouldst not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even <sup>a</sup> as I had pity on thee? <sup>34</sup> And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. <sup>35</sup> So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you,<sup>b</sup> if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

John vii. 2—10. <sup>2</sup> Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.<sup>c</sup> <sup>3</sup> His <sup>d</sup> brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest. <sup>4</sup> For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, show thyself to the world. <sup>5</sup> For neither did his brethren believe in him.<sup>e</sup> <sup>6</sup> Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready. <sup>7</sup> The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil. <sup>8</sup> Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; for my time is not yet full come. <sup>9</sup> When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee. <sup>10</sup> But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.<sup>f</sup>

Luke ix. 51—62. <sup>51</sup> And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem,<sup>52</sup> and sent messengers before his face: and they went and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him. <sup>53</sup> And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.<sup>g</sup> <sup>54</sup> And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?<sup>h</sup> <sup>55</sup> But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of. <sup>56</sup> For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village. <sup>57</sup> And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. <sup>58</sup> And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. <sup>59</sup> And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. <sup>60</sup> Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God. <sup>61</sup> And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee; but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at home at my house. <sup>62</sup> Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

§ 81. THE SEVENTY INSTRUCTED AND SENT OUT.—Samaria.

Luke x. 1—16. <sup>1</sup> After these things<sup>i</sup> the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come. <sup>2</sup> Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great,

It was also the feast of the ingatherings (somewhat like our harvest home), and as such was a time of high rejoicing, Ex. 23. 16; Deut. 16. 13—15.

<sup>d</sup> Our Lord evades the urgency of his relatives: and afterwards goes up to the festival more privately. The journey mentioned in Luke 9. 51 was obviously his last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem; and ver. 53 shows that he was passing on without delay. See Introd. Note to Part VI.

§ 82. TEN LEPERS CLEANSED.—Samaria ?

LUKE xvii. 11—19. <sup>11</sup> And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. <sup>12</sup> And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off : <sup>13</sup> and they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. <sup>14</sup> And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go show yourselves unto the priests.<sup>m</sup> <sup>15</sup> And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God, <sup>16</sup> and fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks : and he was a Samaritan. <sup>17</sup> And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed ? but where are the nine ? <sup>18</sup> There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger. <sup>19</sup> And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way : thy faith hath made thee whole.<sup>n</sup> were sent out before, and not after, the things related in ch. 9. 51—56. He and Greswell suppose that Capernaum was the place, whereas the context, in ch. 9. 52, rather favours Samaria.

In this transaction, which is recorded only by Luke, who wrote especially for Gentile Christians, the number, the place, and the time, are all significant. He sent forth seventy, to indicate that the gospel was to be preached to the heathen nations, which the Jews of that day set down at that number ; just as he had before [see § 62] sent forth the twelve to the tribes of Israel. The place is Samaria, representing the heathen world, to which the apostles were at first not allowed to go, Matt. 10. 5, 6. The time too is full of meaning : the twelve had been sent out about the season of the passover, that is, nearly six months before the sending of the seventy, which took place about the feast of tabernacles following ; whereby our Lord indicated his pleasure to send the good news first to the Jews and then to the Gentiles, Luke 24. 47 ; Acts 3. 26 ; Rom. 1. 16. ## PART VI.

THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS UNTIL OUR LORD'S ARRIVAL AT BETHANY SIX DAYS BEFORE THE FOURTH PASSOVER.

TIME: Six Months, less One Week.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

IN this interval of time, from the feast of tabernacles to our Lord's last arrival at Bethany, we encounter one of the most difficult portions of the whole Gospel Harmony.

According to John's narrative, Jesus, after leaving Galilee to go up to the feast of tabernacles in October (John 7. 10), appears not to have returned again to Galilee; but to have spent the time intervening before the festival of dedication in December, probably in Jerusalem, or, when in danger from the Jews, in the neighbouring villages of Judea; John 8. 59; Luke 10. 38, sq. Had Jesus actually returned to Galilee during this interval, it can hardly be supposed that John, who had hitherto so carefully noted our Lord's return thither after each visit to Jerusalem, would have failed to give some hint of it in this case also, either after ch. 8. 59, or after ch. 10. 21. But neither John, nor the other evangelists (unless perhaps Luke in ch. 17. 11), afford any such hint.—Immediately after the festival of dedication, Jesus withdrew from the machinations of the Jews beyond Jordan; whence he was recalled to Bethany by the decease of Lazarus; John 10. 40; 11. 7. He then once more retired to Ephraim; and is found again at Bethany six days before the passover; John 11. 54; 12. 1.

Matthew and Mark contain no allusion at all to the feast of tabernacles; nor do we find any express mention of it in Luke. Yet Luke 9. 51 is most naturally referred to our Lord's journey at that time; and it implies also that this was his final departure from Galilee.<sup>o</sup> Luke and John are therefore here parallel. The circumstances of danger which had induced Jesus during the summer to retire from Galilee in various directions,<sup>p</sup> as well as the approach of the time when "he should be received up," are reasons of sufficient weight to account for his having transferred, at this time, the scene of his ministry and labours from the north to Jerusalem and Judea, including excursions to Samaria and the country on and beyond the Jordan.

In regard to the transactions during the whole interval of time comprised in this Part, Matthew and Mark are silent, except where they relate that our Lord, after his departure from Galilee, approached Jerusalem for the last time through Peræa and by way of Jericho, where he was followed by multitudes; Matt. 19. 1, 2; 20. 29; Mark 10. 1, 46. With the transactions recorded by these two evangelists during this last approach, Luke also has some things parallel; Luke 18. 15-43. The arrival at Bethany is common to the three; and in this they all accord with John; Matt. 21. 1; Mark 11. 1; Luke 19. 29; John 12. 1, 12, sq.

There exists consequently no difficulty in harmonizing Matthew and Mark, and so much of Luke as is parallel to them (18. 15, sq.), with John. But in Luke, from ch. 9. 51, where Jesus leaves Galilee, to ch. 18. 14, where the record again becomes parallel with Matthew and Mark, there is a large body of matter peculiar for the most part to Luke, and relating prima facie to the time subsequent to our Lord's departure from Galilee. How is this portion of Luke's Gospel to be arranged and distributed, in order to harmonize with the narrative of John? The difficulty of course does not exist in the case of those Harmonists who, like Calvin, Griesbach, and others, attempt to bring together only the first three evangelists.

Those Harmonists who have likewise included John's Gospel have hitherto generally assumed a return of our Lord to Galilee after the feast of tabernacles; and this avowedly in order to provide a place for this portion of Luke's Gospel. But the manner in which it has been arranged, after all, is exceedingly various. Some, as Le Clerc,<sup>q</sup> insert nearly the whole during this supposed journey. Others, as Lightfoot, assign to this journey only what precedes Luke 13. 23; and refer the remainder to our Lord's sojourn beyond Jordan, John 10. 40.<sup>r</sup> Greswell<sup>s</sup> maintains that the transactions in Luke 9. 51-18. 14, all belong to the journey from Ephraim (through Samaria, Galilee, and Peræa) to Jerusalem, which he dates in the interval of about four months, between the feast of dedication and our Lord's last passover. Wieseler<sup>t</sup> makes a somewhat different arrangement (intermediate between Robinson and Greswell), according to which, Luke 9. 51-13. 21 relates to the period from Christ's journey from Galilee to the feast of tabernacles till after the feast of dedication (parallel to John 7. 10-10.42); Luke 13. 22-17.10 relates to the interval between that time and our Lord's stay at Ephraim (parallel to John 11. 1-54); and Luke 17. 11-18. 14 relates to the journey from Ephraim to Jerusalem, through Samaria, Galilee, and Peræa.

If now we examine more closely the portion of Luke in question (9. 51-18. 14), we perceive, that although an order of time is discoverable in most parts, yet as a whole it is wanting in exact chronological arrangement. This indeed is admitted, at the present day, by all Harmonists, except Greswell.<sup>u</sup> It would seem almost as if, in this portion peculiar to Luke, that evangelist, after recording many of the earlier transactions of Jesus in Galilee, in accordance with Matthew and Mark, had here, upon our Lord's final departure from that province, brought together this new and various matter of his own, relating partly to our Lord's previous ministry in Galilee, partly to this journey, and still more to his subsequent proceedings, until the narrative (in ch. 18. 15) again becomes parallel to the accounts in Matthew and Mark. The transactions narrated in ch. 10. 17-11. 13, have marks of chronological connexion; and the scene of them is obviously Jerusalem or its vicinity.<sup>v</sup> The healing of a demoniac and the consequent blasphemy of the scribes and Pharisees in Luke 11. 14, 15, 17, sq., is parallel with the same events in Matthew and Mark, which these two evangelists describe as having occurred in Galilee.<sup>w</sup> With this passage, again, Luke 11. 37-54 is immediately connected by the words and as he spake.<sup>x</sup> The transition to the next chapter (ch. 12) is made by the phrase in the mean time, marking proximity of time.<sup>y</sup> And, further, the words introducing Luke 13. 1, show that the conversation there given (ver. 1-9) immediately followed.—The remainder of this portion of Luke, ch. 13. 10-18. 14 (with the exception of ch. 17. 11-19, which probably connects itself with the journey in ch. 9. 51), contains absolutely no definite notation of time or place; nor any thing, indeed, to show that the events happened in the order recorded, or that they did not take place at different times and in different parts of the country. The only passage to which this remark does not perhaps fully apply is ch. 13. 22-35.

For these reasons Robinson has, like Newcome, distributed Luke 9. 51-10. 16, and 11. 14-13. 9 (as also 17. 11-19) in Parts IV., V., as already specified, among the transactions of our Lord's ministry in Galilee, between his second passover and his journey to the feast of tabernacles. The remainder of this whole portion of Luke, viz. ch. 10. 17-11. 13, and 13. 10-17. 10, as also 17. 20-18. 14, remains to be disposed of in the present Part.

With many leading modern commentators, Robinson prefers here to follow the narrative of John, and infers that our Lord did not again return to Galilee after the feast of tabernacles. On this principle, therefore, the present Harmony is constructed. Hence Luke 10. 17-11. 13 is inserted between the feast of tabernacles and that of dedication.<sup>z</sup>

More difficult is it to assign the proper place for Luke 13. 10-17. 10; the transactions recorded in which all cluster around or follow ch. 13. 22, where Jesus is represented as travelling leisurely through the cities and villages towards Jerusalem. Now, this journey cannot have been the same with that in Luke 9. 51 and John 7. 10; because there Jesus went up privately, while here he is accompanied by multitudes, Luke 14. 25. Nor can it have been a later journey from Galilee; for that in Luke 9. 51 was, probably, the final one. Nor indeed were the Jews accustomed to go up from the country to Jerusalem at the festival of dedication.<sup>a</sup> Besides, Luke 13. 22 stands in connexion with the warning received by our Lord against Herod, ver. 31-33; which under the attendant circumstances cannot well be regarded as having been given in Galilee, and much less in Jerusalem, as Lightfoot supposes.<sup>b</sup> But Herod was lord also of Peræa; and in that province he had imprisoned and put to death John the Baptist.<sup>c</sup> It would therefore be natural that our Lord, who had been less known in that region, and who now appeared there, followed by multitudes, should receive warning of the danger he was thus incurring. Hence this part of Luke (13. 10-17. 10) is here assigned to that period of our Lord's life and ministry, which was passed in Peræa after the festival of dedication.

Our Lord first withdrew soon after that festival from the plots of the Jews in Peræa. "He went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John at first baptized; and there he abode. And many resorted unto him" and believed; John 10. 40-42. How long Jesus remained in that region before he was recalled by the death of Lazarus, can only be matter of conjecture. In that interval, Lightfoot places all this part of Luke after ch. 13. 22.<sup>d</sup> In this Robinson does not agree; because the language of John does not necessarily imply that our Lord at this time made any journey or circuit in Peræa itself. At least it could not then and there be said of him in any sense, that "he went through their cities and villages, teaching, and journeying towards Jerusalem," Luke 13. 22; for he had just departed from Jerusalem, and was recalled to Bethany by a special message from the sisters of Lazarus, John 11. 3, 7. All this would seem to imply rather, that Jesus remained during this excursion, at least mainly, in the district "where John had baptized;" so that Martha and Mary knew at once where to send for him. It follows also as a natural inference, that this first sojourn beyond Jordan could not well have been a long one, nor probably have occupied more than a few weeks out of the four months intervening between the festival of dedication and the passover.

After the raising of Lazarus, Jesus again retired from the machinations of the Jews to "a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples," John 11. 54. The evangelist John records nothing more of his movements, until he again appears in Bethany six days before the passover, John 12. 1. But the expression used by John as to his sojourn at Ephraim (καὶ ἐὶ διέτριβε, there he passed the time) does not preclude the idea of excursions from that place, nor of a circuitous route on his return to Bethany and Jerusalem at the passover. Now Matthew, Mark, and Luke affirm expressly, that on this return Jesus went up to Bethany from Jericho; and the two former narrate, as expressly, that in thus reaching Jericho he had come "into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan," where great multitudes followed him, and he healed them and taught them, as he was wont, Matt. 19. 1, 2; Mark 10. 1. With all this the language of Luke 13. 22 agrees perfectly: "And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying towards Jerusalem;" as does also the mention of the multitudes in Luke 14. 25. With this too accords Luke 13. 31-35, including the warning against Herod and our Lord's reply; as also the touching lamentation over Jerusalem, where Jesus was so soon to perish. With this agrees, further, the fact, that the narrative of Luke subsequent to the portion in question, viz. Luke 18. 15, sq., is parallel with that of Matthew and Mark during the same journey.<sup>e</sup>

Robinson, therefore, comes to the conclusion that Luke 13. 22, with the transactions and discourses of which it forms the nucleus, is to be referred mainly to a journey of our Lord through the populous region of Peræa, on his return to Bethany, after sojourning in Ephraim. There may also have been excursions from that city to the neighbouring villages of Judea, or even to the Jordan valley. This city Ephraim is considered by Robinson to be probably identical with Ephron and Ophrah of the Old Testament; and therefore apparently represented by the modern Taiyibeh, situated nearly twenty Roman miles N.N.E. of Jerusalem, and five or six Roman miles N.E. of Bethel, on the borders of the desert which stretches along on the west of the Dead Sea and the valley of Jordan.<sup>f</sup> It occupies a lofty site; and from it one overlooks the adjacent desert, the Jordan with its great valley, and the mountains of Peræa beyond, with the Saracenic castle er-Rübüd, near 'Ajlün, in the northern part of Peræa, bearing about N.E. Even at the present day the hardy and industrious mountaineers of this place have much intercourse with the valley, and till the rich fields and reap the harvests of Jericho.<sup>g</sup> It was therefore quite natural and easy for our Lord, from this point to cross the valley and the Jordan, and then turn his course towards Jericho and Jerusalem; while at the same time he exercised his ministry among the cities and villages along the valley and in the eastern region.

Robinson has therefore inserted the whole of Luke 13. 11-17. 10 after the mention of our Lord's sojourn at Ephraim, as belonging naturally to that period and to this return-journey through Peræa. And then it only remained to let Luke 17. 20-18. 14 follow directly afterwards; because there is no mark nor authority for placing it anywhere else; and because too it immediately precedes, and thus connects with, that portion of Luke which is subsequently parallel to Matthew and Mark. Not that it is intended by any means to assert that all the events and discourses of our Lord here given are recorded by Luke in their exact chronological order; for this portion of his Gospel presents very much the appearance of a collection of discourses and transactions in themselves disconnected. Yet, as there are no marks nor evidence, internal or external, by which to arrange them differently, it seems hardly advisable, on mere conjecture, to abandon the order in which they have been left to us by Luke himself.

If it be objected that this arrangement crowds too many incidents and discourses into this journey through Peræa, the reply is not difficult. Matthew and Mark confine their previous narratives chiefly to Galilee; and give comparatively little of what took place later in Peræa. Luke, besides recounting the like events in Galilee, has a large amount of matter peculiar to himself, without any definite notation of time and place; and it is therefore not unnatural to suppose that an important portion of it may relate to this last journey. Again, there is room for allowing to this journey in Peræa an interval of time, amply sufficient for all these transactions, and indeed many more. If we assume that our Lord's first sojourn beyond Jordan, his return to Bethany, and the subsequent departure to Ephraim, occupied even two months (which is a large allowance), there still remained nearly two months before the passover, in which to make excursions from Ephraim, and also to traverse leisurely the distance through Peræa to Bethany, requiring in itself, at the utmost, not more than five days of travel. If now we compare the transactions thus spread out over these two months (or not improbably over a longer interval), with those recorded during the following six days next before the passover,<sup>h</sup> we shall hardly be impressed with the idea, that too much in proportion is thus allotted to this journey.

§ 83. JESUS AT THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES. HIS PUBLIC TEACHING.

Jerusalem.

John vii. 11—53. viii. 1.

11 THEN the Jews sought him at the feast,<sup>i</sup> and said, Where is he? 12 And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people. 13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.<sup>j</sup> 14 Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. 15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? 16 Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. 17 If any man will do<sup>k</sup> his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. 18 He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. 19 Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me? 20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee? 21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel. 22 Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers); and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man.<sup>m</sup> 23 If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day? 24 Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25 Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill? 26 But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ? 27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is. 28 Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not. <sup>29</sup> But I know him : for I am from him, and he hath sent me. <sup>30</sup> Then they sought to take him : but no man laid hands on him, because his hour<sup>o</sup> was not yet come.

<sup>31</sup> And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done? <sup>32</sup> The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him. <sup>33</sup> Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me. <sup>34</sup> Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me : and where I am, thither ye cannot come. <sup>35</sup> Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? <sup>36</sup> What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me : and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

<sup>37</sup> In the last day, that great day of the feast,<sup>p</sup> Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. <sup>38</sup> He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said,<sup>q</sup> out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. <sup>39</sup> (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive : for the Holy Ghost was not yet given ;<sup>r</sup> because that Jesus was not yet glorified.) <sup>40</sup> Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet. <sup>41</sup> Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee? <sup>42</sup> Hath not the Scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?<sup>s</sup> <sup>43</sup> So there was a division among the people because of him. <sup>44</sup> And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

§ 84. THE WOMAN TAKEN IN ADULTERY.—Jerusalem.

John viii. 2—11. <sup>2</sup> And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them. <sup>3</sup> And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,<sup>4</sup> they say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act. <sup>5</sup> Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: <sup>6</sup> but what sayest thou? <sup>6</sup> This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not. <sup>7</sup> So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. <sup>8</sup> And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground. <sup>9</sup> And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. <sup>10</sup> When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee? She said, No man, Lord. <sup>11</sup> And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

§ 85. FURTHER PUBLIC TEACHING OF OUR LORD. HE REPROVES THE UNBELIEVING JEWS, AND ESCAPES FROM THEIR HANDS.—Jerusalem.

John viii. 12—59. <sup>12</sup> Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. <sup>13</sup> The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true. <sup>14</sup> Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go. <sup>15</sup> Ye judge after the flesh; I judge no man. <sup>16</sup> And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. <sup>17</sup> It is also written in your law,<sup>v</sup> that the testimony of two men is true. <sup>18</sup> I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. <sup>19</sup> Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also. <sup>20</sup> These words spake Jesus in the treasury,<sup>z</sup> as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him; for his hour was not yet come.

<sup>21</sup> Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come. <sup>22</sup> Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come. <sup>23</sup> And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world. <sup>24</sup> I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins. <sup>25</sup> Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning. <sup>26</sup> I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him. <sup>27</sup> They understood not that he spake to them of the Father. <sup>28</sup> Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up <sup>y</sup> the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things. <sup>29</sup> And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him.

<sup>30</sup> As he spake these words, many believed on him. <sup>31</sup> Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; <sup>32</sup> and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.<sup>z</sup> <sup>33</sup> They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free? <sup>34</sup> Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin. <sup>35</sup> And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever. <sup>36</sup> If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.<sup>a</sup> <sup>37</sup> I know that ye are Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you. <sup>38</sup> I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father. <sup>39</sup> They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham. <sup>40</sup> But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham. <sup>41</sup> Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God. <sup>42</sup> Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but he sent me. <sup>43</sup> Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word. <sup>44</sup> Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer<sup>b</sup> from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.<sup>c</sup> <sup>45</sup> And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not. <sup>46</sup> Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me? <sup>47</sup> He that is of God heareth God's words:<sup>d</sup> ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God. <sup>48</sup> Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil? <sup>49</sup> Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me. <sup>50</sup> And I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth. <sup>51</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death. <sup>52</sup> Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death. <sup>53</sup> Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? <sup>54</sup> Jesus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God: <sup>55</sup> yet ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I

§ 86. A LAWYER INSTRUCTED. LOVE TO OUR NEIGHBOUR DEFINED.
PARABLE OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN.—Near Jerusalem.

Luke x. 25—37. <sup>25</sup> And, behold,<sup>g</sup> a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life ? <sup>26</sup> He said unto him, What is written in the law ? how readest thou ? <sup>27</sup> And he answering said,<sup>h</sup> Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind ; and thy neighbour as thyself. <sup>28</sup> And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right : this do, and thou shalt live.

<sup>29</sup> But he, willing to justify himself,<sup>i</sup> said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour ? <sup>30</sup> And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. <sup>31</sup> And by chance there came down a certain priest that way : and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. <sup>32</sup> And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side. <sup>33</sup> But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was : and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and went to him,<sup>34</sup> and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine,<sup>j</sup> and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. <sup>35</sup> And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him ; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee. <sup>36</sup> Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves ? <sup>37</sup> And he said, He that showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

While thus absent from the city, and yet in its vicinity, Jesus visits Bethany [see § 87] and is received by Martha and Mary. That visit is placed by Luke in immediate connexion with the incident of the lawyer and the parable of the Good Samaritan ; which therefore are inserted here. The scene of that parable also implies that it was spoken in the vicinity of Jerusalem and Bethany.

LUKE XI. 1—13. <sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. <sup>2</sup> And he said unto them,<sup>p</sup> When ye pray, say,<sup>q</sup> Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. <sup>3</sup> Give us day by day our daily bread. <sup>4</sup> And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

<sup>5</sup> And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves; <sup>6</sup> for a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him? <sup>7</sup> And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee. <sup>8</sup> I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. <sup>9</sup> And I say unto you,<sup>r</sup> Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. <sup>10</sup> For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. <sup>11</sup> If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent? <sup>12</sup> Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion? <sup>13</sup> If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

<sup>t</sup> Luke relates the return of the seventy in immediate connexion with their appointment (Luke 10. 1–16), evidently by anticipation. Their appointment [see § 81] appears to have taken place in Samaria; and they went forth, probably into Samaria, Peræa, and elsewhere, while he proceeded to Jerusalem. Their return to him at or near Jerusalem, is therefore here placed as late as may be before the festival of dedication.

Luke x.

I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. <sup>19</sup> Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you. <sup>20</sup> Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written " in heaven.

<sup>21</sup> In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight. <sup>22</sup> All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him. <sup>23</sup> And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: <sup>24</sup> for I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.<sup>v</sup>

SUBSEQUENT DISCOURSES.—Jerusalem.

JOHN ix. 1—41. x. 1—21. <sup>1</sup> And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.<sup>w</sup> <sup>2</sup> And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind? <sup>3</sup> Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. <sup>4</sup> I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. <sup>5</sup> As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world. <sup>6</sup> When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, <sup>7</sup> and said unto him, Go, wash <sup>x</sup> in the pool of Siloam,<sup>y</sup> (which is by interpretation Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. <sup>8</sup> The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged? <sup>9</sup> Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he. <sup>10</sup> Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened? <sup>11</sup> He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight. <sup>12</sup> Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

<sup>w</sup> The discourse in John 10. 1, sq., stands in immediate connexion with the healing of the blind man: see ch. 9. 40. And in the words of our Lord, John 10. 26, spoken at the festival of dedication, there is a direct allusion to the figurative representation of the shepherd and his sheep in the same discourse. This implies that the same audience was then present, at least in part; and consequently, that the discourse in question had been delivered not long before. For these reasons the healing of the blind man would seem also to have taken place near the beginning of the festival of dedication, or at least not long before.

John ix.

<sup>13</sup> They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. <sup>14</sup> And it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. <sup>15</sup> Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. <sup>16</sup> Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them. <sup>17</sup> They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.<sup>a</sup> <sup>18</sup> But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight. <sup>19</sup> And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? <sup>20</sup> His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: <sup>21</sup> but by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself. <sup>22</sup> These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue. <sup>23</sup> Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.

<sup>24</sup> Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise:<sup>b</sup> we know that this man is a sinner. <sup>25</sup> He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see. <sup>26</sup> Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? <sup>27</sup> He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear; wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples? <sup>28</sup> Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples. <sup>29</sup> We know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is. <sup>30</sup> The man answered and said unto them, Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes. <sup>31</sup> Now we know that God heareth not sinners:<sup>c</sup> but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth. <sup>32</sup> Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind. <sup>33</sup> If this man were not of God, he could do nothing. <sup>34</sup> They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.

<sup>35</sup> Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God? <sup>36</sup> He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him? <sup>37</sup> And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee. <sup>38</sup> And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. <sup>39</sup> And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not might see; and that they which see might be made blind.<sup>d</sup> <sup>40</sup> And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also? <sup>41</sup> And Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind ye should have no sin: <sup>e</sup> but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

John x. <sup>1</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. <sup>2</sup> But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. <sup>3</sup> To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. <sup>4</sup> And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. <sup>5</sup> And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. <sup>6</sup> This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

<sup>7</sup> Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. <sup>8</sup> All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. <sup>9</sup> I am the door: <sup>f</sup> by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture. <sup>10</sup> The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. <sup>11</sup> I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep. <sup>12</sup> But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: <sup>h</sup> and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep. <sup>13</sup> The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep. <sup>14</sup> I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, <sup>i</sup> and am known of mine. <sup>15</sup> As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. <sup>16</sup> And other sheep I have, <sup>j</sup> which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, <sup>k</sup> and one shepherd. <sup>17</sup> Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again. <sup>18</sup> No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.

<sup>19</sup> There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings. <sup>20</sup> And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him? <sup>21</sup> Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind? <sup>l</sup> came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. <sup>25</sup> Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. <sup>26</sup> But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you. <sup>27</sup> My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: <sup>28</sup> and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. <sup>29</sup> My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. <sup>30</sup> I and my Father are one. <sup>31</sup> Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him. <sup>32</sup> Jesus answered them, Many good works have I showed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? <sup>33</sup> The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not: but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. <sup>34</sup> Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law,<sup>a</sup> I said, Ye are gods? <sup>35</sup> If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken; <sup>36</sup> say ye of him whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God? <sup>37</sup> If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. <sup>38</sup> But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him. <sup>39</sup> Therefore they sought again to take him: but he escaped out of their hand, <sup>40</sup> And went away again beyond Jordan into the place<sup>r</sup> where John at first baptized; and there he abode. <sup>41</sup> And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man were true. <sup>42</sup> And many believed on him there.

John xi. 1—46. <sup>1</sup> Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. <sup>2</sup> (It was that Mary which anointed<sup>q</sup> the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.) <sup>3</sup> Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. <sup>4</sup> When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto Josephus calls it φῶτα, i. e. festival of lights or lanterns, and speaks of it as a season of rejoicing; Antiq. 12. 7. 6, 7. It was celebrated by the Jews, not at Jerusalem alone, like the great festivals of the law; but at home, throughout the whole country, by the festive illumination of their dwellings: see Lightfoot, Hor. Heb. in Joh. 10. 22.—According to John's narrative, Jesus was now at Jerusalem, death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

<sup>6</sup> When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was. <sup>7</sup> Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judea again. <sup>8</sup> His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee: and goest thou thither again? <sup>9</sup> Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. <sup>10</sup> But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him. <sup>11</sup> These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. <sup>12</sup> Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well. <sup>13</sup> Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep. <sup>14</sup> Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. <sup>15</sup> And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. <sup>16</sup> Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

<sup>17</sup> Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. <sup>18</sup> Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs<sup>r</sup> off: <sup>19</sup> and many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother. <sup>20</sup> Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house. <sup>21</sup> Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. <sup>22</sup> But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee. <sup>23</sup> Jesus said unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. <sup>24</sup> Martha saith unto him, I know<sup>s</sup> that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. <sup>25</sup> Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life:<sup>t</sup> he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: <sup>26</sup> and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? <sup>27</sup> She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

<sup>28</sup> And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee. <sup>29</sup> As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him. <sup>30</sup> Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him. <sup>31</sup> The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there. <sup>32</sup> Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. <sup>33</sup> When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit,<sup>u</sup> and was troubled, <sup>34</sup> and said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see. <sup>35</sup> Jesus wept. <sup>36</sup> Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him! <sup>37</sup> And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind,<sup>v</sup> have caused that even this man should not have died?

<sup>38</sup> Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it. <sup>39</sup> Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days. <sup>40</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God? <sup>41</sup> Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. <sup>42</sup> And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me. <sup>43</sup> And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. <sup>44</sup> And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

<sup>45</sup> Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him. <sup>46</sup> But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

§ 93. THE COUNSEL OF CAIAPHAS AGAINST JESUS. HE RETIRES FROM JERUSALEM.—Jerusalem. Ephraim.

John xi. 47—54. <sup>47</sup> Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. <sup>48</sup> If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation. <sup>49</sup> And one of them, named Caiaphas,<sup>w</sup> being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, <sup>50</sup> nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. <sup>51</sup> And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year,<sup>x</sup> he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; <sup>52</sup> and not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. <sup>53</sup> Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

This place has only recently been identified with any modern site. There is, however, little reason to doubt, that it was the same with the Ephraim or Ephron of 2 Chron. 13. 19, and also with the Ephron of Eusebius and Jerome, nearly twenty Roman miles north of Jerusalem. It lay also near the desert, and corresponds therefore in all these particulars with the modern Taiyibeh, a most remarkable and commanding site. See Robinson's *Bibl. § 94. JESUS BEYOND JORDAN IS FOLLOWED BY MULTITUDES. THE HEALING OF THE INFIRM WOMAN ON THE SABBATH.—Valley of Jordan. Peræa.

Matt. xix. 1, 2. <sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea beyond Jordan ;<sup>a</sup> <sup>2</sup> and great multitudes followed him ; and he healed them there.

Mark x. 1. <sup>1</sup> And he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan : and the people resort unto him again ; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.<sup>b</sup>

Luke xiii. 10—21. <sup>10</sup> And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath. And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. <sup>12</sup> And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. <sup>13</sup> And he laid his hands on her : and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. <sup>14</sup> And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work : in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day. <sup>15</sup> The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering ? <sup>16</sup> And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound,<sup>c</sup> lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day ? <sup>17</sup> And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed : and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

<sup>18</sup> Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like ? and whereunto shall I resemble it ? <sup>19</sup> It is like a grain of mustard seed,<sup>d</sup> which a man took, and cast into his garden ; and it grew, and waxed a great tree ; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it. <sup>20</sup> And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God ? <sup>21</sup> It is like leaven,<sup>e</sup> which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

The lamentation over Jerusalem in ver. 34 arises naturally from the mention of that city in ver. 33. In Matt. 23. 37, sq., the same lamentation is repeated in connexion with our Lord's denunciation of the scribes and Pharisees in Jerusalem. Luke's phrase, ye shall not see me, &c., is explained by the like phrase of Matthew, ye shall not see me henceforth, &c., implying that he was now about to withdraw from the world.

<sup>31</sup> The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence: for Herod will kill thee. <sup>32</sup> And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected. <sup>33</sup> Nevertheless I must walk to-day, and to-morrow, and the day following:<sup>i</sup> for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. <sup>34</sup> O Jerusalem, Jerusalem,<sup>j</sup> which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee; how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not! <sup>35</sup> Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say,<sup>k</sup> Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.<sup>l</sup>

Luke xiv. 1—24. <sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him. <sup>2</sup> And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy. <sup>3</sup> And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? <sup>4</sup> And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go; <sup>5</sup> and answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day? <sup>6</sup> And they could not answer him again to these things.

<sup>7</sup> And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them, <sup>8</sup> When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room;<sup>m</sup> lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him; <sup>9</sup> and he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room. <sup>10</sup> But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee. <sup>11</sup> For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

<sup>12</sup> Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee. <sup>13</sup> But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: <sup>14</sup> and thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

<sup>15</sup> And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God. <sup>16</sup> Then said he unto him, "A certain man made a great supper, and bade many: <sup>17</sup> and sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. <sup>18</sup> And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused. <sup>19</sup> And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. <sup>20</sup> And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. <sup>21</sup> So that servant came, and showed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind. <sup>22</sup> And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room. <sup>23</sup> And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. <sup>24</sup> For I say unto you, That none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

§ 98. PARABLE OF THE LOST SHEEP, THE PRODIGAL SON, ETC.—Peræa.

LUKE xv. 1—32. <sup>1</sup> Then drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him. <sup>2</sup> And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

<sup>3</sup> And he spake this parable unto them, saying, <sup>4</sup> What man of you,<sup>r</sup> having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it? <sup>5</sup> And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. <sup>6</sup> And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost. <sup>7</sup> I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance. <sup>8</sup> Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it? <sup>9</sup> And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I had lost. <sup>10</sup> Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

<sup>11</sup> And he said, A certain man had two sons: <sup>12</sup> and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. <sup>13</sup> And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living. <sup>14</sup> And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want. <sup>15</sup> And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. <sup>16</sup> And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks<sup>s</sup> that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

<sup>17</sup> And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! <sup>18</sup> I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,<sup>19</sup> and am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. <sup>20</sup> And he arose, and came to his father. ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. <sup>21</sup> And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. <sup>22</sup> But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet: <sup>23</sup> and bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry: <sup>24</sup> for this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

<sup>25</sup> Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing. <sup>26</sup> And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant. <sup>27</sup> And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. <sup>28</sup> And he was angry,† and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him. <sup>29</sup> And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends: <sup>30</sup> but as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf. <sup>31</sup> And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine. <sup>32</sup> It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again: and was lost, and is found.

Luke xvi. 1—13. <sup>1</sup> And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods. <sup>2</sup> And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward. <sup>3</sup> Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed. <sup>4</sup> I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. <sup>5</sup> So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? <sup>6</sup> And he said, An hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty. <sup>7</sup> Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore. <sup>8</sup> And the lord commended " the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world " are in their generation wiser " than the children of light. <sup>9</sup> And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations. <sup>10</sup> He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much. <sup>11</sup> If therefore ye have

§ 100. THE PHARISEES REPROVED. THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS.

Peræa.

Luke xvi. 14—31. <sup>14</sup> And the Pharisees also,<sup>z</sup> who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him. <sup>15</sup> And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.<sup>y</sup> <sup>16</sup> The law and the prophets were until John:<sup>z</sup> since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it. <sup>17</sup> And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail. <sup>18</sup> Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>19</sup> There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day: <sup>20</sup> and there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores, <sup>21</sup> and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. <sup>22</sup> And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom:<sup>b</sup> the rich man also died, and was buried; <sup>23</sup> and in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. <sup>24</sup> And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame. <sup>25</sup> But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. <sup>26</sup> And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence. <sup>27</sup> Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: <sup>28</sup> for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. <sup>29</sup> Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets;<sup>c</sup> let them hear them. <sup>30</sup> And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. <sup>31</sup> And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets,<sup>d</sup> neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

<sup>c</sup> The happiness of heaven is here represented under the idea of a feast, at which the guests reclined on couches in such a manner that the head of the second lay on the bosom of the first, see John 13. 23. Hence the posture became an emblem of friendship and intimate fellowship.

§ 101. JESUS INCULCATES FORBEARANCE, FAITH, HUMILITY.—Peræa.

Luke xvii. 1—10. <sup>1</sup> Then said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come: <sup>e</sup> but woe unto him, through whom they come! <sup>2</sup> It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones. <sup>3</sup> Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. <sup>4</sup> And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.<sup>f</sup>

<sup>5</sup> And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. <sup>6</sup> And the Lord said, If ye had faith <sup>g</sup> as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you. <sup>7</sup> But which of you, having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat? <sup>8</sup> And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? <sup>9</sup> Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not. <sup>10</sup> So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: <sup>h</sup> we have done that which was our duty to do.

§ 102. CHRIST'S COMING WILL BE SUDDEN.—Peræa.

Luke xvii. 20—37. <sup>20</sup> And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation: <sup>21</sup> neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you.<sup>i</sup> <sup>22</sup> And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. <sup>23</sup> And they shall say to you, See here; or, see there: go not after them, nor follow them. <sup>24</sup> For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day. <sup>25</sup> But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation. <sup>26</sup> And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. <sup>27</sup> They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.<sup>j</sup> <sup>28</sup> Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; <sup>29</sup> but the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.<sup>k</sup> <sup>30</sup> Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.<sup>l</sup> <sup>31</sup> In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back. <sup>32</sup> Remember Lot's wife.<sup>m</sup> <sup>33</sup> Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it. <sup>34</sup> I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. <sup>35</sup> Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left. <sup>36</sup> Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left. <sup>37</sup> And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together."

§ 103. THE IMPORTUNATE WIDOW. THE PHARISEE AND PUBLICAN.

Luke xviii. 1—14. <sup>1</sup> And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray,<sup>o</sup> and not to faint; <sup>2</sup> saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man: <sup>3</sup> and there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary. <sup>4</sup> And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man; <sup>5</sup> yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me. <sup>6</sup> And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith. <sup>7</sup> And shall not God avenge his own elect,<sup>p</sup> which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them? <sup>8</sup> I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

<sup>9</sup> And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others: <sup>10</sup> Two men went up into the temple to pray: the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. <sup>11</sup> The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. <sup>12</sup> I fast twice in the week,<sup>q</sup> I give tithes of all that I possess. <sup>13</sup> And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes towards heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me a sinner.<sup>r</sup> <sup>14</sup> I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.<sup>s</sup>

<sup>q</sup> The Pharisee shows his self-righteousness not only by asserting his avoidance of other men's vices and crimes, but by reciting his works of supererogation, namely, the two fasts each week and the paying of tithes on all that he acquired (κτώμαι), neither of which was enjoined in the law.

<sup>4</sup> And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female,† and said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and they twain shall be one flesh.‡ <sup>6</sup> Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. <sup>7</sup> They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?‡ <sup>8</sup> He saith unto them, Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. <sup>9</sup> And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery. <sup>10</sup> His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry. <sup>11</sup> But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given. <sup>12</sup> For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

Matt. xix. 16—30; xx. 1—16. <sup>16</sup> And behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

<sup>17</sup> And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life,<sup>y</sup> keep the commandments.<sup>z</sup> <sup>18</sup> He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said,<sup>a</sup> Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, <sup>19</sup> Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. <sup>20</sup> The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet? <sup>21</sup> Jesus said unto him, If

Mark x. 17—31. <sup>17</sup> And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life? <sup>18</sup> And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God. <sup>19</sup> Thou knowest the commandments,<sup>a</sup> Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

<sup>20</sup> And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth. <sup>21</sup> Then Jesus beholding thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

<sup>22</sup> But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions. <sup>23</sup> Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily, I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

<sup>24</sup> And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle,<sup>b</sup> than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. <sup>25</sup> When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved? <sup>26</sup> But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>27</sup> Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, him, loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

<sup>22</sup> And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions. <sup>23</sup> And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

<sup>23</sup> And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich. <sup>24</sup> And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

<sup>25</sup> For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye,<sup>b</sup> than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. <sup>26</sup> And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?

<sup>27</sup> And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.<sup>c</sup> and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?

<sup>28</sup> And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory,<sup>d</sup> ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.<sup>e</sup> <sup>29</sup> And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life. <sup>31</sup> But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.<sup>f</sup>

Mark x.

<sup>29</sup> And Jesus answered and said, Verily, I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's, <sup>30</sup> but he shall receive an hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions;

and in the world to come eternal life. <sup>31</sup> But many that are first shall be last; and the last first.<sup>f</sup>

Luke xviii.

<sup>29</sup> And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, <sup>30</sup> who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.<sup>f</sup>

Matt. xx. <sup>1</sup> For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning <sup>g</sup> to hire labourers into his vineyard. <sup>2</sup> And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. <sup>3</sup> And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace, <sup>4</sup> and said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. <sup>5</sup> Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise. <sup>6</sup> And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? <sup>7</sup> They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive. <sup>8</sup> So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. <sup>9</sup> And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny. <sup>10</sup> But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received hour answered nearly to our 9, their 6th to our 12, their 9th to our 3 P.M., and their 11th to our 5 P.M. § 107. JESUS A THIRD TIME<sup>j</sup> FORETELLS HIS DEATH AND RESURRECTION.

Peræa.

Matt. xx. 17—19. <sup>17</sup>And Jesus going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them, <sup>18</sup> Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, <sup>19</sup> and shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.

Mark x. 32—34. <sup>32</sup>And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them: and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him, <sup>33</sup> saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles: <sup>34</sup> and they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him: and the third day he shall rise again.

Luke xviii. 31—34. <sup>31</sup> Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them,

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished. <sup>32</sup> For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on: <sup>33</sup> and they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again. <sup>34</sup> And they understood none of these things:<sup>k</sup> and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

<sup>k</sup> They understood not, &c. They probably fancied that our Lord's declaration was only a figurative representation of the difficulties and obstacles he was to meet with; and they hoped that he would, on the approaching festival, take to himself the kingdom (see Matt. 20. 21, and Luke 19. 11); which indeed he did, but in a way wholly different from their apprehension and expectation.

§ 108. JAMES AND JOHN MAKE THEIR AMBITIOUS REQUEST.—Peræa.

Matt. xx. 20—28. <sup>20</sup> Then came to him the mother<sup>1</sup> of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him. <sup>21</sup> And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom. <sup>22</sup> But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup<sup>m</sup> that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?<sup>n</sup> They say unto him, We are able. <sup>23</sup> And he saith unto them, Ye shall indeed of my cup,<sup>o</sup> and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father. <sup>24</sup> And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren. <sup>25</sup> But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them. <sup>26</sup> But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; <sup>27</sup> and whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant: <sup>28</sup> even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life<sup>p</sup> a ransom for many.<sup>q</sup>

Mark x. 35—45. <sup>35</sup> And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall desire. <sup>36</sup> And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you? <sup>37</sup> They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory. <sup>38</sup> But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup<sup>m</sup> that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?<sup>n</sup> <sup>39</sup> And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of;<sup>o</sup> and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized: <sup>40</sup> but to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared. <sup>41</sup> And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John. <sup>42</sup> But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them. <sup>43</sup> But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister: <sup>44</sup> and whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all. <sup>45</sup> For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life<sup>p</sup> a ransom for many.<sup>q</sup>

Matt. xx. 29—34. <sup>29</sup>And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him. <sup>30</sup>And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David. <sup>31</sup>And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David. <sup>32</sup>And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said,

What will ye that I shall do unto you? <sup>33</sup>They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. <sup>34</sup>So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.*

Mark x. 46—52. <sup>46</sup>And they came to Jericho; and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimeus, the son of Timeus, sat by the highway side begging. <sup>47</sup>And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me. <sup>48</sup>And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. <sup>49</sup>And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee. <sup>50</sup>And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus. <sup>51</sup>And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight. <sup>52</sup>And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.*

Luke xviii. 35—43. xix. 1. <sup>35</sup>And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging: <sup>36</sup>and hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.

<sup>37</sup>And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. <sup>38</sup>And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me. <sup>39</sup>And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me. <sup>40</sup>And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him:

and when he was come near, he asked him, saying, <sup>41</sup>What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. <sup>42</sup>And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee. <sup>43</sup>And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

§ 110. THE VISIT TO ZACCHEUS. PARABLE OF THE TEN POUNDS.—Jericho.

Luke xix. 2—28. <sup>2</sup> And, behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich. <sup>3</sup> And he sought to see Jesus, who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature. <sup>4</sup> And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. <sup>5</sup> And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down; for to-day I must abide at thy house. <sup>6</sup> And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully. <sup>7</sup> And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner. <sup>8</sup> And Zaccheus stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.† <sup>9</sup> And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as he also is a son of Abraham. <sup>10</sup> For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

<sup>11</sup> And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.‡ <sup>12</sup> He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. <sup>13</sup> And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds,§ and said unto them, Occupy till I come. <sup>14</sup> But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us. <sup>15</sup> And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading. <sup>16</sup> Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds. <sup>17</sup> And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities. <sup>18</sup> And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds. <sup>19</sup> And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities. <sup>20</sup> And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin: <sup>21</sup> for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. <sup>22</sup> And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow: <sup>23</sup> wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury? <sup>24</sup> And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds. <sup>25</sup> (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

† Probably, because the Roman law exacted a fourfold restitution from publicans who were convicted of extortion in collecting the taxes. But according to the Jewish law, if a defrauder wished of his own accord, or on his own confession, to make restitution, he was not required to restore more than the amount defrauded, and a fifth part in addition; see Numb. 5. 6, 7.

LUKE XIX.

<sup>26</sup> For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath shall be given ; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him. <sup>27</sup> But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

<sup>28</sup> And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.

§ 111. JESUS ARRIVES AT BETHANY SIX DAYS BEFORE THE PASSOVER.

Bethany.

John xi. 55—57; xii. 1, 9—11. <sup>55</sup> And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand : and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves. <sup>56</sup> Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast? <sup>57</sup> Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should show it, that they might take him.

John xii. <sup>1</sup> Then Jesus six days before the passover<sup>u</sup> came to Bethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead,<sup>z</sup> whom he raised from the dead.<sup>y</sup>—<sup>9</sup> Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there : and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. <sup>10</sup> But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death ; <sup>11</sup> because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

PART VII.

OUR LORD'S PUBLIC ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM, AND THE SUBSEQUENT TRANSACTIONS BEFORE THE FOURTH PASSOVER.

TIME: Five Days.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

THE Jewish day of twenty-four hours was reckoned from sunset to sunset ; as is still the case in oriental countries. The paschal lamb was killed on the fourteenth day of Nisan towards sunset ; and was eaten the same evening, after the fifteenth day of Nisan had begun.<sup>z</sup> Our Lord was crucified on the day before the Jewish sabbath, that is, on Friday ; and as he had eaten the passover on the preceding evening, it follows that the fourteenth of Nisan fell that year on Thursday, <sup>u</sup> "Six days before the passover" is equivalent to the "sixth day" before that festival ; see Note on § 49. As our Lord ate the paschal supper on the evening following Thursday (which evening was reckoned by the Jews to Friday), the sixth day before it was Saturday, or the Jewish sabbath, provided we reckon exclusively, as Greswell shows we ought in Dissert. i. p. 8, vol. iii.

On that day, then, Jesus came to Bethany.

John 12. 2-8, where the supper at Bethany is described, is postponed in accordance with the order of Matthew and Mark. See Note on § 131 in the Appendix.

reckoned from the preceding sunset. Hence, the sixth day (reckoning exclusively) before the passover, when Jesus came to Bethany, was the Jewish sabbath, or our Saturday; <sup>a</sup> and the transactions of the following week, comprised in Parts VII. and VIII., may be distributed according to the following schedule; which agrees in the main with the Schema of Lightfoot <sup>b</sup> and with the arrangement of Wieseler. <sup>c</sup>

Day of Nisan.
Day of Week.

SCHEDULE OF DAYS.

9. 7. SAT. reckoned from preceding sunset. The Jewish sabbath. Jesus arrives at Bethany, John 12. 1.
10. 1. SUND. from preced. sunset. Jesus makes his public entry into Jerusalem, § 112; and returns at night to Bethany, Mark 11. 11.—On this day the paschal lamb was to be selected, Ex. 12. 3.
11. 2. MOND. from preced. sunset. Jesus goes to Jerusalem; on his way the incident of the barren fig-tree. He cleanses the temple, § 113; and again returns to Bethany, Mark 11. 19.
12. 3. TUESD. from preced. sunset. Jesus returns to the city; on the way the disciples see the fig-tree withered, Mark 11. 20. Our Lord discourses in the temple, §§ 115–126; takes leave of it; and, when on the mount of Olives, on his way to Bethany, foretells his coming to destroy the city, and proceeds to speak also of his final coming to judgment, §§ 127–130.
13. 4. WEDN. from preced. sunset. The rulers conspire against Christ. On the eve of this day (i.e. the evening following Tuesday), our Lord had partaken of the supper at Bethany; where Mary anointed him, and where Judas laid his plan of treachery, which he made known to the chief priests in the course of this day.—Jesus remained this day at Bethany.
14. 5. THURSD. from preced. sunset. Jesus sends two disciples to the city to make ready the passover. He himself repairs thither in the afternoon, in order to eat the paschal supper at evening.
15. 6. FRID. from preced. sunset. At evening, in the very beginning of the fifteenth of Nisan, Jesus partakes of the paschal supper; institutes the Lord's supper; is betrayed and apprehended; §§ 133–143. He is brought first before Caiaphas, and then in the morning before Pilate; is condemned, crucified, and before sunset laid in the sepulchre; §§ 144–158.
16. 7. SAT. The Jewish sabbath. Our Lord rests in the sepulchre.
17. 1. SUND. Jesus rises from the dead at early dawn; see § 159 and Note.

which day the paschal lamb was set apart (Ex. 12. 3). Might not our Lord's choice of this day for making his public entry into Jerusalem and the temple have reference to the fact, that he himself was the true Passover which was then to be slain for us (1 Cor. 5. 7)?

Second Day of the Week.

Matt. xxi. 12, 13, 18, 19. <sup>18</sup> Now in the morning<sup>r</sup> as he returned into the city, he hungered. <sup>19</sup> And when he saw a fig tree<sup>s</sup> in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. Luke 21. 37, 38 is inserted here, because in Luke's order it is only retrospective; being placed after our Lord's discourses on the mount of Olives, when he had already taken leave of

Third Day of the Week.

Matt. xxi. 20—22. <sup>20</sup> And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away! <sup>21</sup> Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain,<sup>y</sup> Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done. <sup>22</sup> And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

Mark xi. 20—26. <sup>20</sup> And in the morning,<sup>z</sup> as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots. <sup>21</sup> And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. <sup>22</sup> And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God. <sup>23</sup> For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain,<sup>y</sup> Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith. <sup>24</sup> Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them. <sup>25</sup> And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have aught against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. <sup>26</sup> But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.<sup>z</sup>

Matt. xxi. 23—32.
<sup>23</sup> And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority<sup>a</sup> doest thou these things?<sup>b</sup> and who gave thee this authority? <sup>24</sup> And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>25</sup> The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him? <sup>26</sup> But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; for all hold John as a prophet.<sup>c</sup>

<sup>27</sup> And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to-day in my vineyard. <sup>29</sup> He answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went. <sup>30</sup> And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he § 116. PARABLE OF THE WICKED HUSBANDMEN.—Jerusalem.

Third Day of the Week.

Matt. xxi. 33—46. <sup>33</sup> Hear another parable; There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard,<sup>e</sup> and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country: <sup>34</sup> and when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it. <sup>35</sup> And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one,<sup>f</sup> and killed another,<sup>g</sup> and stoned another.<sup>h</sup> <sup>36</sup> Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

<sup>29</sup> Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous, <sup>30</sup> and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. <sup>31</sup> Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets. <sup>32</sup> Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. <sup>33</sup> Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell? <sup>34</sup> Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets,<sup>o</sup> and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city: <sup>35</sup> that upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias,<sup>p</sup> whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.<sup>q</sup> <sup>36</sup> Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

Various solutions of this difficulty have been proposed. It is possible that the father's name might be known in both forms, the words having substantially the same import (Jehoiada, i.e. whom Jehovah knows or cares for, Barachiah, i.e. whom Jehovah blesses). After this manner, for example, king Uzziah (i.e. strength of Jehovah, 2 Chron. 26. 1) was called also Azariah (i.e. whom Jehovah helps, 2 Kings 14. 21).

§ 125. CERTAIN GREEKS DESIRE TO SEE JESUS.—Jerusalem.Third Day of the Week.

John xii. 20—36. <sup>20</sup> And there were certain Greeks<sup>z</sup> among them that came up to worship at the feast: <sup>21</sup> the same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. <sup>22</sup> Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus. <sup>23</sup> And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified. <sup>24</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die,<sup>y</sup> it bringeth forth much fruit. <sup>25</sup> He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.<sup>z</sup> <sup>26</sup> If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour. <sup>27</sup> Now is my soul troubled;<sup>a</sup> and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause<sup>b</sup> came I unto this hour. <sup>28</sup> Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

<sup>29</sup> The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him. <sup>30</sup> Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. <sup>31</sup> Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out. <sup>32</sup> And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men<sup>c</sup> unto me. <sup>33</sup> This he said, signifying what death he should die.

<sup>34</sup> The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever:<sup>d</sup> and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? <sup>35</sup> Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. <sup>36</sup> While ye have light, believe

§ 126. REFLECTIONS UPON THE UNBELIEF OF THE JEWS.—Jerusalem.Third Day of the Week.

John xii. 37—50. <sup>37</sup> But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him: <sup>38</sup> that the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled which he spake,<sup>e</sup> Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? <sup>39</sup> Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again,<sup>f</sup> <sup>40</sup> He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. <sup>41</sup> These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory,<sup>g</sup> and spake of him.<sup>h</sup> <sup>42</sup> Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:<sup>i</sup> <sup>43</sup> for they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

<sup>44</sup> Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me. <sup>45</sup> And he that seeth me seeth him that sent me. <sup>46</sup> I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness. <sup>47</sup> And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.<sup>j</sup> <sup>48</sup> He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day. <sup>49</sup> For I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. <sup>50</sup> And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.<sup>k</sup>

<sup>g</sup> When he saw his glory, &c. This passage, when compared with Isa. 6. 1, furnishes a most striking proof of Christ's Divinity; for it declares him to be even Jehovah, whose glory the prophet saw in the temple, and concerning whom he spoke in that chapter.

any, he seats himself for a time upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, where the city was spread out before him as on a map; and here four of his disciples put to him the question, "When shall these things be?" According to Matthew they add, "and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?" They still believed, like the other Jews, that the Messiah was to go forth as a temporal prince, to subvert the then existing order of things, to subdue all nations, and reign in peace and splendour over the world: see Luke 24. 21; Acts 1. 6.

<sup>23</sup> But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days ! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people. <sup>24</sup> And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations ; and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

The figurative language of these verses is similar to that of many passages in the Old Testament which refer to civil commotions and historical events. See Isa. 13. 9, sq. ; 19. 1, 5, sq. ; 34. 2, 4, sq. ; Ezek. 32. 2, 7 ; Psa. 18. 7-14 ; 68. 1, sq., &c. Further, Luke 21. 28 shows that these verses cannot refer to the general judgment of the great and final day ; and the same appears also from the limitation to this generation, in Matt. 24. 34, and the parallel passages.

Matt. 24. 36-42 connects itself directly with what precedes, see ver. 36 ; and refers likewise to the overthrow of the Jewish nation and dispensation. Comp. Luke 17. 20-37. But with ver. 42 of Matthew all direct reference to the Jewish catastrophe terminates. This appears from the nature of the language ; and from the fact, that thus far both Mark and Luke give parallel reports ; while at this point their report cease, and all that follows belongs to Matthew alone. This goes to show that at this point a new topic is introduced.

<sup>t</sup> Nor on the sabbath : probably because the Jews were accustomed to go only a short distance on that day, which distance they called a sabbath day's journey, reckoned about a mile. Compare Ex. 16. 29 ; Acts 1. 12.

§ 129. CHRIST'S COMING AT THE DAY OF JUDGMENT. EXHORTATION TO WATCHFULNESS. PARABLES: THE TEN VIRGINS; THE FIVE TALENTS.

Mount of Olives.—Third Day of the Week.

Matt. xxiv. 43—51; xxv. 1—30. <sup>43</sup> But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up. <sup>44</sup> Therefore be ye also ready: <sup>e</sup> for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh. <sup>45</sup> Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? <sup>46</sup> Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. <sup>47</sup> Verily, I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods. <sup>48</sup> But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; <sup>f</sup> <sup>49</sup> and shall begin to smite his fellowservants, and to eat and drink with the drunken; <sup>50</sup> the lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of, <sup>51</sup> and shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Matt. xxv. <sup>1</sup> Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. <sup>2</sup> And five of them were wise, and five were foolish. <sup>3</sup> They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: <sup>4</sup> but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. <sup>5</sup> While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept. <sup>6</sup> And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. <sup>7</sup> Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. <sup>8</sup> And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out. <sup>9</sup> But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. <sup>10</sup> And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut. <sup>11</sup> Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.<sup>g</sup> <sup>12</sup> But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not. <sup>13</sup> Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

<sup>14</sup> For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling<sup>h</sup> into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. <sup>15</sup> And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey. <sup>16</sup> Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents. <sup>17</sup> And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two. <sup>18</sup> But he that had received one went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. <sup>19</sup> After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. <sup>20</sup> And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more. <sup>21</sup> His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. <sup>22</sup> He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents beside them. <sup>23</sup> His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. <sup>24</sup> Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed: <sup>25</sup> and I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine. <sup>26</sup> His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest<sup>i</sup> that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed: <sup>27</sup> thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the ex-changers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury. <sup>28</sup> Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents. <sup>29</sup> For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath. <sup>30</sup> And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

PART VIII.

THE FOURTH PASSOVER; OUR LORD'S PASSION; ACCOMPANYING EVENTS TILL THE END OF THE JEWISH SABBATH.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE—THE PASSOVER.

As the events of our Lord's passion were intimately connected with the celebration of the passover, it seems proper here to bring together, in one view, those circumstances relating to that festival, which may illustrate the sacred history.

I. Time of killing the paschal lamb. The paschal lamb (or kid, Ex. 12. 5) was to be selected on the tenth day of the first month, Ex. 12. 3. On the fourteenth day of the same month (called Abib in the Pentateuch, and later Nisan, Deut. 16. 1; Esth. 3. 7), the lamb thus selected was to be killed, at a point of time designated by the expression, between the two evenings (as in the marginal reading of our version), Ex. 12. 6; Lev. 23. 5; Num. 9. 3, 5; or, as is elsewhere said, at evening about the going down of the sun, Deut. 16. 6. The same phrase, between the two evenings, is put for the time of the daily evening sacrifice, Ex. 29. 39, 41; Num. 28. 4. The time thus marked was regarded by the Samaritans and Karaites, as being the interval between sunset and deep twilight; whilst the Pharisees and Rabbinites held the first evening to commence with the declining sun, and the second evening with the setting sun. Hence, according to the latter, the paschal lamb was to be killed in the interval between the ninth and eleventh hour, equivalent to our three and five o'clock. That this was the practice among the Jews in the time of our Lord, appears from the testimony of Josephus.<sup>s</sup> The daily evening sacrifice was offered at the ninth hour, or three o'clock p.m.<sup>t</sup>

The true time, then, of killing the passover was between the ninth and eleventh hour, near the close of the fourteenth day of Nisan.

II. Time of eating the passover. This was to be done the same evening. "And they shall eat the flesh in that night, roast with fire, and unleavened bread, and with bitter herbs shall they eat it," Ex. 12. 8. The Hebrews in Egypt ate the first passover, and struck the blood of the victims on their door-posts, on the evening before the last great plague; at midnight the Lord smote all the first-born; and in the morning the people broke up from Rameses on their march, viz. "on the fifteenth day of the first month, on the morrow after the passover," Num. 33. 3.

It hence appears very definitely, that the paschal lamb was to be slain in the afternoon of the fourteenth day of the month; and was eaten the same evening, that is, on the evening which began the fifteenth day.

III. Festival of unleavened bread. From Ex. 12. 17, 18 (comp. Deut. 16. 3, 4), and from Lev. 23. 6 (comp. Num. 28. 17), it appears that the festival of unleavened bread began strictly with the passover meal, at or after sunset following the fourteenth day, and continued until sunset at the end of the twenty-first day.<sup>u</sup>

It was customary for the Jews, on the fourteenth day of Nisan, to cease from labour at or before midday, to put away all leaven out of their houses, and to slay the paschal lamb towards the close of the day.<sup>v</sup> Hence, in popular usage, the fourteenth day came to be reckoned as the beginning or first day of the festival;<sup>w</sup> and Josephus also says that the festival was celebrated for eight days.<sup>x</sup>

It is hardly necessary to remark that, in consequence of the close mutual relation between the passover and the festival of unleavened bread, these terms are often used interchangeably, especially in Greek, for the whole festival.<sup>y</sup>

IV. Other paschal sacrifices.

1. In Num. 28. 18-25, it is prescribed that on the first and last days of the festival, the fifteenth and twenty-first of Nisan, there should be a holy convocation, in which "no manner of servile work" should be done. And on each of the seven days, besides the ordinary daily sacrifices of the sanctuary, there was to be "a burnt-offering unto the Lord; two young bullocks, and one ram, and seven lambs of the first year;" also a meat-offering, and "one goat for a sin-offering." The first and last days of the festival, therefore, were each a day of convocation and of rest, and hence were strictly sabbaths.

2. On the morrow after this first day of rest or sabbath, that is, on the sixteenth day of Nisan, the first-fruits of the harvest were offered, together with a lamb as a burnt-offering; Lev. 23. 10-12. This rite is expressly assigned by

Josephus, in like manner, to the second day of the festival, the sixteenth of Nisan.<sup>2</sup> The grain offered was barley; this being the earliest ripe, and its harvest occurring a week or two earlier than that of wheat.<sup>a</sup> Until this offering was made, no husbandman could begin his harvest; nor might any one eat of the new grain, Lev. 23. 14.

3. There was also another sacrifice connected with the passover, known among the later Hebrews as the Chagigah, or festival, of which there are traces likewise in the Old Testament. It was a festive thank-offering (Engl. Vers. peace-offering), made by private individuals or families, in connexion with the passover, but distinct from the appointed public offerings of the temple. Such voluntary sacrifices or free-will offerings were provided and regulated by the Mosaic law. The fat only was burned on the altar (Lev. 3. 3, 9, 14); the priest had for his portion the breast and the right shoulder (Lev. 7. 29-34; 10. 14); and the remainder was eaten by the bringer with his family and friends in a festive manner, on the same or the next day (Lev. 7. 16-18; 22. 29, 30; Deut. 12. 17, 18, 27; 27. 7). These private sacrifices were often connected with the public festivals, both in honour of the same, and as a matter of convenience; Num. 10. 10; Deut. 14. 26; 16. 11, 14.<sup>c</sup> They might be eaten in any clean place within the city (Lev. 10. 14; Deut. 16. 11, 14); but those only might partake of them, as likewise of the passover, who were themselves ceremonially clean; Num. 18. 11-13; John 11. 55.<sup>d</sup> Hence, being a sacrifice connected with a festival, these private free-will offerings were themselves called, by the later Hebrews, by the name Chagigah, i. e. a festival. There was, however, some difference of opinion among them, as to the particular day of the paschal festival on which the Chagigah ought to be offered, whether on the fourteenth or fifteenth day of Nisan; but the weight of authority was greatly in favour of the fifteenth day. Yet the later accounts of the mode of celebrating the paschal supper seem to imply that a Chagigah was ordinarily connected with that meal. Indeed, mention is made of a "Chagigah of the fourteenth day," so called in distinction from the more important and formal ceremonial Chagigah of the passover festival; which latter was not regularly offered until the fifteenth day, when the paschal supper had already been eaten. The former was then a mere voluntary oblation of thanksgiving, made for the purpose of enlarging and diversifying the passover meal.<sup>e</sup>

V. The paschal supper. That the Jews in the course of ages had neglected some of the original precepts, and also introduced various additional ceremonies, is evident from the manner in which our Lord celebrated the supper, as narrated by the evangelists. What all these additions were we have no specific historical account from contemporary writers; yet the precepts preserved in the Mishna (compiled in the third century from earlier traditions), probably refer to the most important of them, and serve to throw light upon some of the circumstances connected with the institution of the Lord's supper.<sup>h</sup>

According to these authorities, four cups of red wine, usually mingled with one fourth part of water, were drunk during the meal, and served to mark its progress. The first was merely preliminary, in connexion with a blessing invoked upon the day and upon the wine; and this corresponds to the cup mentioned in Luke 22. 17. Then followed ablutions, and the bringing in of bitter herbs, the unleavened bread, the roasted lamb, and also the Chagigah of the fourteenth day, and a broth or sauce made with spices. After this followed the instructions to the son, &c., respecting the passover; and the first part of the Hallel, or song of praise (Psalms 113, 114), was repeated. The second cup was now drunk. Next came the blessing upon each kind of food, and the guests partook of the meal reclining; the paschal lamb being eaten last. Thanks were then returned, and the third cup drunk, called the cup of blessing.<sup>i</sup> The remainder of the Hallel (Psalms 115-118) was now repeated, and the fourth cup drunk; which was ordinarily the end of the celebration. Sometimes a fifth cup might be added, after repeating the great Hallel (Psalms 120-137).

The institution of the Lord's supper probably took place at the close of the proper meal, immediately before the third cup, or cup of blessing, which would seem to have made part of it.<sup>j</sup>

VI. Did our Lord, the night in which he was betrayed, eat the passover with his disciples? Had we only the testimony of the first three evangelists, not a doubt upon this question could ever arise. Their language<sup>k</sup> is full, explicit, and decisive, to the effect that our Lord's last meal with his disciples was the regular and ordinary paschal supper of the Jews, introducing the festival of unleavened bread, on the evening after the fourteenth day of Nisan. Mark says expressly, 14. 12, when THEY killed the passover; which, whether the subject they refer to the Jews or be indefinite, implies at least the regular and ordinary time of killing the paschal lamb.

Luke's language is, if possible, still stronger in 22. 7: "Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover MUST be killed," i.e. according to law and custom. This marks of course the fourteenth day of Nisan; and on that same evening our Lord and his disciples sat down to that same passover meal, which had thus by his own appointment been prepared for them, and of which Jesus speaks expressly as the passover, Luke 22. 15. Philologically considered, there cannot be a shadow of doubt that Matthew, Mark, and Luke intended to express, and do express, in the plainest terms, their testimony to the fact, that Jesus regularly partook of the ordinary and legal passover meal, on the evening after the fourteenth of Nisan, at the same time with all the Jews.

When, however, we turn to the Gospel of John, we seek in vain in this evangelist for any trace of the paschal supper, as such, in connexion with our Lord at that time. John narrates indeed (ch. 13) our Lord's last meal with his disciples; which the attendant and subsequent circumstances show to have been the same with that which the other evangelists describe as the passover. Upon just that point, however, John is silent; but from this silence the inference can never be rightfully drawn, that this last meal was not the passover; any more than John's similar silence in respect to the Lord's supper warrants the conclusion that no such rite was ever instituted. John, as all admit, wrote his Gospel as a supplement to the others; and hence, in speaking of this meal, he narrates only such circumstances as had not been fully set forth by the other evangelists. He does not describe this meal as being the passover, nor make any mention of the eucharist, because this had been done, in both cases, in the most explicit manner, by Matthew, Mark, and Luke. In this way the difference in the two reports of the same occasion is satisfactorily accounted for.

But there are a few expressions in John's Gospel, in connexion with this meal, and especially with our Lord's passion, which taken together might, at first view, and if we had only John, seem to imply that on Friday, the day of our Lord's crucifixion, the regular and legal passover had not yet been eaten, but was still to be eaten on the evening after that day.

The point of the whole inquiry relates simply to the time of the passover. According to all the four evangelists, our Lord was crucified on Friday, the day before the Jewish sabbath; and his last meal with his disciples took place on the preceding evening, the same night in which he was betrayed. The simple question, therefore, at issue is, Did this Friday fall upon the fifteenth day of Nisan, or upon the fourteenth? Or, in other words, did our Lord on the evening before his crucifixion eat the passover, as is testified by the first three evangelists; or was the passover still to be eaten on the evening after that day, as John might seem to imply? The second of these alternatives is supported by Greswell,<sup>1</sup> who maintains, from certain expressions in John, that the proper passover was eaten on the evening after our Lord was crucified, and that therefore his paschal supper with the disciples had been celebrated one day in anticipation of the regular time; but the first is advocated by Wieseler,<sup>2</sup> as well as by Robinson.

This question has been more or less a subject of discussion in the church ever since the earliest centuries; chiefly with a view to harmonize the difficulties. It is only in recent years that the alleged difference between John and the other evangelists has been urged to the extreme of attempting to make it irreconcilable.

John obviously wrote his Gospel as supplementary to the other three. He had them then before him, and was acquainted with their contents. He was aware that the other three evangelists had testified to the fact, that Jesus partook of the passover with his disciples. Did John believe that their testimony on this point was wrong; and did he mean to correct it? If so, we should naturally expect to find some notice of the correction along with the mention of the meal itself, which John describes, as well as they. Indeed, that would have been the appropriate and only fitting place for such a correction. But John has nothing of the kind; and we are therefore authorized to maintain, that it was not John's purpose thus and there to correct or contradict the testimony of the other evangelists; and if not there, then much less by mere implication in other places and connexions.

Let us examine the passages referred to in John's Gospel, and see whether they require to be so understood or interpreted, as to present any appearance of discrepancy. They are the following:—

(A) John 13. 1, "before the feast of the passover." This form of expression, it is said, shows that our Lord's last meal with his disciples took place before the passover; and could not, therefore, itself have been the paschal supper.

But we must here take into account the meaning of the Greek word thus rendered feast, the true and only proper signification of which is festival; that is, it implies everywhere a yearly day or days of festive commemoration; never a single meal or entertainment. So in Num. 28. 16, 17, where the paschal supper, prepared on the fourteenth of Nisan and eaten at evening, is distinguished from the festival (English version, feast), which began on the fifteenth, and continued for seven days.<sup>3</sup>

In this view, the phrase in question does not mean "before the paschal supper," but "before the festival of the passover," i.e. of unleavened bread (Luke 22. 1). It is equivalent, therefore, to the English festival-eve, and here marks the evening immediately before the festival proper, of seven days' continuance; on which evening, during the (paschal) supper, our Lord "manifested his love for his disciples unto the end," by the touching symbolical act of washing their feet.

It is, therefore, evident that this passage does not sustain the inference attempted to be drawn from it.

(B) John 18. 28, "and they themselves (the Jews) went not into the judgment-hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover." From this last phrase it has been inferred that the Jews were expecting to partake of the paschal supper the ensuing evening; and of course had not eaten it already.

But to bring out this inference, the phrase "to eat the passover" must be taken in the most limited sense, "to eat the paschal supper." This certainly cannot be necessary, unless the context requires such a limitation: which is not the case here.

The word passover, in the New Testament, is found in no less than three main significations: (a) The paschal lamb, Mark 14. 12; Luke 22. 7; 1 Cor. 5. 7. (b) The paschal meal, Matt. 26. 18, 19; Luke 22. 8, 13; Heb. 11. 28. (c) The paschal festival, comprising the seven days of unleavened bread, Luke 22. 1; 2. 41, comp. 43; Matt. 26. 2; John 2. 13; 6. 4; 11. 55, &c.—As now there is nothing in the circumstances or context of John 18. 28, to limit the meaning of the word passover in itself either to the paschal lamb or paschal meal, we certainly are not bound by any intrinsic necessity so to understand it here in the phrase "to eat the passover." If, on the other hand, we adopt for it in this place the wider sense of paschal festival, two modes of interpretation are admissible, either of which leaves no room for the above inference.

1. By modifying the force of the verb to eat, so as to make the phrase, "to eat the passover," equivalent to the more common expression, "to keep or celebrate the passover." Precisely this form of expression occurs in the Hebrew, in 2 Chron. 30. 22; literally, "and they did eat the festival seven days;" where the English version has it "throughout the feast seven days." The Septuagint translates correctly according to the sense, though not according to the letter: "and they fulfilled (kept) the festival of unleavened bread seven days."

2. Or we may assign to the word passover (paschal festival), by metonymy, the sense of paschal sacrifices; that is, the voluntary peace-offerings and thank-offerings made in the temple during the paschal festival, and more especially on the fifteenth of Nisan; called, in later times, the Chagigah.<sup>o</sup> A like metonymy is found in

Psa. 118. 27: "Bind the sacrifice (festive offering, lit. festival) with cords." See too Ex. 23. 18; Mal. 2. 3. The same metonymy is assumed by some in the passage above quoted, 2 Chron. 30. 22; which they then render thus, "and they did eat the festival offerings seven days."

It is manifest that both the above methods of interpretation are founded on fair analogies; and that either of them relieves us from the necessity of referring the phrase in question to the paschal supper, and thus removes the alleged difficulty. The chief priests and other members of the Sanhedrim, on the morning of the first day of the festival, were unwilling to defile themselves by entering beneath the roof of the Gentile procurator; since in that way they would have been debarred from partaking of the sacrificial offerings and banquets, which were customary on that day in the temple and elsewhere; and in which they, from their station, were entitled and expected to participate.

This view receives some further confirmation from the circumstance, that the defilement which the Jews would thus have contracted by entering the dwelling of a heathen, could only have belonged to that class of impurities from which a person might be cleansed the same day by ablution; the ablutions of a day, so called by the Talmudists.<sup>p</sup> If now the passover in John 18. 28 was truly the mere paschal supper, and was not to take place until the evening after the day of the crucifixion, then this defilement of a day could have been no bar to their partaking of it; for at evening they were, or might be, clean. Their scruple therefore, in order to be well founded, could have had reference only to the Chagigah, or paschal sacrifices offered during the same day before evening.

(c) John 19. 14, "and it was the preparation of the passover, about the sixth hour." Does this "preparation" refer, as usual, to the Jewish sabbath, which actually occurred the next day? or does it here refer to the festival of the passover as such, and as distinct from the sabbath? It is only on the latter supposition that the passage can be made, in any way, to conflict with the testimony of the other evangelists.

This "preparation" is defined by Mark (15. 42) to be "the day before the sabbath," i. e. the fore-sabbath, the day or hours immediately preceding the weekly sabbath, and devoted to preparation for that sacred day. No trace of any such observance is found in the Old Testament; though the strictness of the Mosaic law respecting the sabbath, which forbade the kindling of fire and of course the preparation of food on that day (Ex. 35. 2, 3; comp. 16. 22-27), would very naturally lead to the subsequent introduction of such a custom; as we find it in the times of the New Testament. In the still later Hebrew of the Talmudists, it bore the specific appellation of eve, as being the eve of the sabbath.<sup>q</sup> The Greek word "preparation" is also every where translated by the like Syriac form for eve, in the Syriac version of the New Testament.

Primarily and strictly this "preparation" or "eve" would seem to have commenced not earlier than the ninth hour (or three o'clock p.m.) of the preceding day; as is implied perhaps in the decree of Augustus in favour of the Jews; where it is directed that they shall not be held to give pledges on the sabbath, nor during the preparation before the same, after the ninth hour.<sup>r</sup> But in process of time, the same Hebrew word for "eve" or "preparation," came in popular usage to be the distinctive name for the whole day before the Jewish sabbath, i. e. for the sixth day of the week, or Friday.<sup>s</sup> The same was the case in Syriac; and we know, too, that the corresponding word in Arabic for eve, was likewise an ancient name for Friday.<sup>t</sup> It appears, then, that among the Jews, Syrians, and Arabs, the common word for eve, to which corresponded the Greek word "preparation," meaning the preparation of the weekly sabbath, became at an early date a current appellation for the sixth day of the week. That is, Friday was known as the preparation or fore-sabbath; just as in German the usual name for Saturday is now Sonnabend, i. e. "eve of Sunday."

In the later Talmudists, a passover-eve is likewise spoken of.<sup>u</sup> But what this could well have been, so long as the passover (paschal supper) continued to be regularly celebrated at Jerusalem, it is difficult to perceive. The eve before the passover festival could have included, at most, only the evening and the few hours before sunset at the close of the fourteenth of Nisan; as in the primary usage in respect to the fore-sabbath, as we have just seen. But according to all usage of language, both in the Old and New Testament, those hours and that evening were part and parcel of the passover festival itself, and not its preparation; unless indeed the paschal meal and its accompaniments be called the preparation of the subsequent festival of seven days; which again is contrary to all usage. It would seem most probable, therefore, that this mode of expression did not arise until after the destruction of the temple and the consequent cessation of the regular and legal passover-meal, when of course the seven days of unleavened bread became the main festival.

But even admitting that a passover-eve did exist in the time of our Lord, still the expression could in no legitimate way be so far extended as to include more than a few hours before sunset. It could not have commenced apparently before the ninth hour, when they began to kill the paschal lamb.<sup>v</sup> On the other hand, the Hebrew term for eve, for which the Greek "preparation" stands in the New Testament, was employed, as we have seen, as a specific name in popular usage for the whole sixth day of the week or Friday, not only by the Jews, but also by the Syrians and Arabs. Hence, when John here says, and it was the preparation of the passover, about the sixth hour, there is a twofold difficulty in referring his language to a preparation or eve of the regular passover; first, because apparently no such eve or preparation did or could well then exist; and, secondly, because, it being then the sixth hour or mid-day, the eve or time of preparation (supposing it to exist) had not yet come, and the language was therefore inapplicable. But if John be understood as speaking of the weekly preparation or fore-sabbath, which was a common name for the whole of Friday, then the mention of the sixth hour was natural and appropriate.

We come then to the conclusion, that if John, like Mark in ch. 15. 42, had here defined the phrase in question, he would probably have written on this wise: "and it was the preparation of the passover," that is, the fore-sabbath of the passover, implying that it was the paschal Friday, the day of preparation or fore-sabbath which occurred during the paschal festival. In a similar manner Ignatius writes, "sabbath of the passover;"<sup>w</sup> and Socrates also, "sabbath of the festival."<sup>x</sup> And further, in the only other two instances where John uses the word "preparation" he applies to this very same day of our Lord's crucifixion, and in this very same sense of the weekly preparation preceding the weekly sabbath, John 19. 31, 42.

(D) John 19. 31, "for that sabbath day was an high day." Here, as is alleged, it is the coincidence of the first festival day with the sabbath that made the latter a "high" or more properly a "great" day. This would certainly be the effect of such a coincidence; but the sabbath of the passover would also be still a "great" day, even when it fell upon the second day of the festival. The last day of the festival of tabernacles is called "that great day," though in itself not more sacred than the first day, John 7. 37; comp. Lev. 23. 33-36. So the calling of assemblies, Isa. 1. 13, is rendered "a great day" by the Seventy, implying that in their estimation any day of solemn convocation was a great day.

The sabbath, then, upon which the sixteenth of Nisan or second day of the festival fell, might be called "great" or "high" for various reasons. First, as the sabbath of the great national festival, when all Israel was gathered before the Lord. Secondly, as the day when the first-fruits were presented with solemn rites in the temple; a ceremony paramount in its obligations even to the sabbath.<sup>v</sup> Thirdly, because on that day they began to reckon the fifty days until the festival of Pentecost, Lev. 23. 15, sq.

In all these circumstances there is certainly enough to warrant the epithet "great" as applied to the sabbath on which the sixteenth of Nisan might fall, as compared with other sabbaths.—There exists, therefore, no necessity, and indeed no reason, for supposing that John by this language meant to describe the sabbath in question as coincident with the first paschal day or fifteenth of Nisan.

The preceding four passages are those mainly urged against the consistency of John with the other evangelists. One or two other considerations are also sometimes brought forward.

(E) John 13. 27-30. Here the words, "Buy that we have need of against the feast [festival]" having been spoken apparently near the close of the meal, imply, as some suppose, that the passover meal was yet to come. But this, again, is to mistake the festival for the paschal supper, a signification which is quite foreign to the word.<sup>2</sup> The disciples thought Judas was to buy the things necessary for the festival on the fifteenth and following days. If now our Lord's words were spoken on the evening preceding and introducing the fifteenth of Nisan, they were appropriate; for some haste was necessary, since it was already quite late to make purchases for the next day. But if they were uttered on the evening preceding and introducing the fourteenth of Nisan, they were not thus appropriate; for then a whole day was yet to intervene before the festival. This passage therefore confirms, rather than contradicts, the testimony of the other evangelists.

(F) There remains the objection, sometimes brought forward, that a public judicial act, like that by which Jesus was condemned and executed, was unlawful upon the sabbath and on all great festival days.<sup>a</sup> This consideration has, at first view, some weight, and has been often and strenuously urged; yet it is counterbalanced by several circumstances which very greatly weaken its force.

The execution itself took place under Roman authority; and therefore does not here come into account. And as to the proceedings of the Sanhedrim, even admitting that the prohibitory precepts already existed, at this early time (which is very doubtful), yet there are in the Talmud other precepts, of equal antiquity and authority, which actually direct and regulate the meeting and action of that body on the sabbath and on festival days.<sup>b</sup> But besides all this, the chief priests and Pharisees and scribes, who composed the Sanhedrim, are everywhere denounced by our Lord as hypocrites, "who say, and do not; who bind heavy burdens upon others, but themselves touch them not with one of their fingers," Matt. 23 1, sq. Such men, in their rage against Jesus would hardly have been restrained even by their own precepts. They professed likewise, and perhaps some of them believed, that they were doing God service; and regarded the condemnation of Jesus as a work of religious duty, paramount to the obligations of any festival. Nor are other examples of such a procedure by any means wanting. We learn from John 10. 22, 31, that on the festival of dedication, as Jesus was teaching in the temple, "the Jews took up stones to stone him." On the day after the crucifixion, which, as all agree, was a sabbath and a "great day," the Sanhedrim applied to Pilate for a watch; and themselves caused the sepulchre to be sealed, and the watch to be set, Matt. 27. 62, sq. A stronger instance still is recorded in John 7. 32, 37, 44, 45; where it appears that on the last great day of the festival of tabernacles, the Sanhedrim having sent out officers to seize Jesus, "some of them would have taken him, but no man laid hands on him;" so that the officers returned without him to the Sanhedrim, and were in consequence censured by that body. The circumstances show conclusively, that on this last great day of that festival, the Sanhedrim were in session, and waiting for Jesus to be brought before them as a prisoner. Nor was it merely a casual or packed meeting, but one regularly convened; for Nicodemus was with them, ver. 50. And finally, according to Matt. 26. 3-5, the Sanhedrim, when afterwards consulting to take Jesus and put him to death, decided not to do it on the festival. Why? because it would be unlawful? Not at all; but simply "lest there should be an uproar among the people." But when, through the treachery of Judas, this danger was avoided, the occasion was too opportune not to be gladly seized upon even on a great festival day. All these considerations seem to sweep away the whole force of this objection.

Such, then, is a general review of the passages and arguments, on the strength of which the alleged discrepancy between John and the other evangelists in respect to this passover has usually been maintained. There is nothing in the language of John, or in the attendant circumstances, which upon fair interpretation requires or permits us to believe, that the beloved disciple either intended to correct, or has in fact corrected or contradicted, the explicit and unquestionable testimony of Matthew, Mark, and Luke.

<sup>c</sup> "The first day of unleavened bread" is here the fourteenth of Nisan; on which day, at, or before noon, the Jews were accustomed to cease from labour and put away all leaven out of their houses; Ex. 12. 15-17. Lightfoot, Opp. I. p. 728, sq. Hor. Heb. in Marc. 14. 12. On that day towards sunset the paschal lamb was killed; and was eaten the same evening, after the fifteenth of Nisan had begun; at which time, strictly, the festival of unleavened bread commenced, which continued seven days. In popular usage, however, the fourteenth day, being thus a day of preparation, was spoken of as belonging to the festival, and therefore is here called the "first" day. That such a usage was common, appears also from Josephus; who, having in one place expressly fixed the commencement of the festival of unleavened bread on the fifteenth of Nisan (Antiq. 3. 10. 5), speaks, nevertheless, in another passage, of the fourteenth as the day of that festival; B. J. 5. 3. 1. Comp. Ant. 11. 4. 8.

In this way, further, the same historian could say, that the festival was celebrated for eight days, Jos. Ant. 2. 15. 1.

On the fifth day of the week, as the circumstances show, our Lord, after sending Peter and John to the city to prepare the passover, himself followed them thither with the other disciples, probably towards evening.

Luke xxii. 14—18, 24—30. <sup>14</sup> And when the hour <sup>e</sup> was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him. <sup>15</sup> And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: <sup>16</sup> for I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. <sup>17</sup> And he took the cup,<sup>f</sup> and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: <sup>18</sup> for I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.<sup>g</sup>—

<sup>24</sup> And there was also a strife <sup>h</sup> among them,<sup>i</sup> which of them should be accounted the greatest. <sup>25</sup> And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors. <sup>26</sup> But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. <sup>27</sup> For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth. <sup>28</sup> Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations. <sup>29</sup> And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me,<sup>j</sup> <sup>30</sup> that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

<sup>d</sup> The order of the transactions during the paschal supper appears to have been the following: The taking of their places at table; the contention; the first cup of wine; the washing of the disciples' feet and reproof (§§ 133, 134); the pointing out of the traitor (§ 135); the foretelling of Peter's denial (§ 136); institution of the Lord's supper (§ 137), &c. Luke's order differs from that of Matthew and Mark, in placing by anticipation the institution of the eucharist before the pointing out of the traitor, &c. He was apparently led to this by the mention of the first cup of wine, ver. 17, 18. Afterwards he returns and narrates the previous circumstances.

chal lamb was killed.

<sup>h</sup> The contention among the disciples had apparently occurred quite recently, perhaps even in the guest-chamber while taking their places at the table. That they were prone to yield to such a spirit is evident from the instances recorded in § 79, and also § 108. Our Lord on this solemn occasion reproves them; especially by the touching act of washing their feet; see § 134.—The verb was (Luke 22. 24) is to be taken as the pluperfect: see Note on § 145.

§ 134. JESUS WASHES <sup>k</sup> THE FEET OF HIS DISCIPLES.—Jerusalem.Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John xiii. 1—20. <sup>1</sup> Now before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end. <sup>2</sup> And supper being ended, the devil having now put<sup>l</sup> into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him; <sup>3</sup> Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God; <sup>4</sup> he riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and girded himself. <sup>5</sup> After that he poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

<sup>6</sup> Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter said unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? <sup>7</sup> Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter. <sup>8</sup> Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. <sup>9</sup> Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. <sup>10</sup> Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all. <sup>11</sup> For he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

<sup>12</sup> So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you? <sup>13</sup> Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. <sup>14</sup> If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet: ye also ought to wash one another's feet.<sup>m</sup> <sup>15</sup> For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you. <sup>16</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord, neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him. <sup>17</sup> If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them. <sup>18</sup> I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the Scripture may be fulfilled,<sup>n</sup> He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me. <sup>19</sup> Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he. <sup>20</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

<sup>k</sup> The washing of the disciples' feet by their Lord and Master was an impressive lesson, that they should live in harmony and love and humility one with another. The occasion of this act was their previous contention, as related by Luke in § 133. Compare Luke 24. 26, sq., with John 13. 16, sq. John's narrative is supplementary to that of Luke; and therefore he does not speak of the contention itself, because the latter had already described it.

On the phrase before the feast of the passover, ver. 1, see above in Introductory Note, p. 157.—The phrase supper being ended (δειπνοι γενομένου), ver. 2, ought to be rendered "supper being come," or "during supper;" see ver. 4 and ver. 12. § 135. JESUS POINTS OUT THE TRAITOR. JUDAS WITHDRAWS.—Jerusalem.Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

Matt. xxvi. 21— Mark xiv. 18— Luke xxii. 21— John xiii. 21—
25. <sup>21</sup> And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

<sup>22</sup> And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

<sup>18</sup> And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.
<sup>19</sup> And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

<sup>21</sup> But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.—
<sup>23</sup> And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

<sup>21</sup> When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. <sup>22</sup> Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. <sup>23</sup> Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. <sup>24</sup> Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake. <sup>25</sup> He then lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it? <sup>26</sup> Jesus answered, <sup>23</sup> And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

<sup>24</sup> The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born. <sup>25</sup> Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

Mark xiv.
<sup>20</sup> And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.

the sop Satan entered into him. against the feast;<sup>a</sup> or, that he should give something to the poor. <sup>30</sup> He then having received the sop went immediately out:<sup>r</sup> and it was night. <sup>31</sup> Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him. <sup>32</sup> If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him. <sup>33</sup> Little children, yet a little while I am with you. § 136. JESUS FORETELLS THE FALL OF PETER, AND THE DISPERSION OF THE TWELVE.—Jerusalem.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John xiii. 36—38. <sup>36</sup> Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards.<sup>v</sup> <sup>37</sup> Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.

Matt. xxvi. 31—35. <sup>31</sup> Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written,<sup>w</sup> I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad. <sup>32</sup> But after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.<sup>x</sup> <sup>33</sup> Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

Mark xiv. 27—31. <sup>27</sup> And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written,<sup>w</sup> I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered. <sup>28</sup> But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.<sup>x</sup> <sup>29</sup> But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

Luke xxii. 31—38. <sup>31</sup> And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat: <sup>32</sup> but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. <sup>33</sup> And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.

<sup>r</sup> Went immediately out. Judas therefore was not present at the Lord's supper, which was instituted at the close of the paschal meal. This is the obvious conclusion, at least, from the account of John, in connexion with the statements of Matthew and Mark; and it is the view taken by most harmonists and commentators.

It might appear, however, from Luke's account (ch. 22. 19-21) that Judas was present; but the whole force of this proof depends on the chronological regularity of this Gospel. We have seen that it does not always follow the order of time (see Note on § 1).

<sup>30</sup> And Jesus saith unto him,<sup>y</sup> Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.<sup>z</sup> <sup>31</sup> But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. <sup>y</sup> This foretelling of Peter's fall took place, according to Luke (ch. 22. 39) and John (ch. 18. 1), before the departure to the mount of Olives; but according to Matthew (ch. 26. 30) and Mark (ch. 14. 26), it occurred during that departure. This difference may be explained by simply supposing that our Lord touched on the subject twice; before setting out, and while on the way.

<sup>b</sup> The institution of the Lord's supper took place obviously at the close of the passover meal, and in connexion with the "cup of blessing," or third cup, which terminated the meal proper; comp. 1 Cor. 10. 16, and see p. 156 above. With this view accords the expression, after supper of Luke 22. 20 and 1 Cor. 11. 25. Matthew and Mark speak of Jesus as breaking the bread as they were eating, which implies nothing more than "during the meal," while they were yet eating; and does not require the institution of the bread to be separated from that of the cup.

no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. <sup>7</sup> If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also : and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

<sup>8</sup> Philip saith unto him, Lord, show us the Father, and it sufficeth us. <sup>9</sup> Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip ? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father ; and how sayest thou then, Show us the Father ? <sup>10</sup> Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me ? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself : but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. <sup>11</sup> Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me : or else believe me for the very works' sake. <sup>12</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also ; and greater works than these shall he do ; because I go unto my Father. <sup>13</sup> And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. <sup>14</sup> If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it. <sup>15</sup> If ye love me, keep my commandments.<sup>b</sup> <sup>16</sup> And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever ; <sup>17</sup> even the Spirit of truth ; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him : but ye know him ; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. <sup>18</sup> I will not leave you comfortless : I will come to you. <sup>19</sup> Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more ; but ye see me : because I live, ye shall live also.<sup>c</sup> <sup>20</sup> At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you. <sup>21</sup> He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me : and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

<sup>22</sup> Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world ? <sup>23</sup> Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words : and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him,<sup>d</sup> and make our abode with him. <sup>24</sup> He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings : and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

<sup>25</sup> These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you. <sup>26</sup> But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things,<sup>e</sup> and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.<sup>f</sup> <sup>27</sup> Peace I leave with you, my peace<sup>g</sup> I give unto you : not as the world giveth, give I unto you. § 139. CHRIST THE TRUE VINE. HIS DISCIPLES HATED BY THE WORLD.
Jerusalem.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John xv. 1—27. <sup>1</sup> I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman. <sup>2</sup> Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. <sup>3</sup> Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. <sup>4</sup> Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. <sup>5</sup> I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. <sup>6</sup> If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. <sup>7</sup> If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. <sup>8</sup> Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples. <sup>9</sup> As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love. <sup>10</sup> If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

<sup>11</sup> These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. <sup>12</sup> This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you. <sup>13</sup> Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. <sup>14</sup> Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you, <sup>15</sup> Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you. <sup>16</sup> Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. <sup>17</sup> These things I command you, that ye love one another.

<sup>18</sup> If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. <sup>19</sup> If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. <sup>20</sup> Remember the word that I said unto you,<sup>p</sup> The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; if they have kept my saying, they will keep your's also. <sup>21</sup> But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake,<sup>q</sup> because they know not him that sent me. <sup>22</sup> If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin : but now they have no cloke for their sin. <sup>23</sup> He that hateth me hateth my Father also. <sup>24</sup> If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin : but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. <sup>25</sup> But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in the law,<sup>r</sup> They hated me without a cause. <sup>26</sup> But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me : <sup>27</sup> and ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.<sup>s</sup>

<sup>o</sup> Arise, let us go hence. Jesus and the eleven now prepare to set out from the supper room, to proceed to the mount of Olives: see § 142. But what John relates in chapters 15–17 occurred most likely before they actually quitted the house.

§ 140. PERSECUTION FORETOLD. FURTHER PROMISE OF THE HOLY SPIRIT.
PRAYER IN THE NAME OF CHRIST.—Jerusalem.

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John xvi. 1—33. <sup>1</sup> These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. <sup>2</sup> They shall put you out of the synagogues : yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.<sup>t</sup> <sup>3</sup> And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. <sup>4</sup> But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you. <sup>5</sup> But now I go my way to him that sent me ; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou ? <sup>6</sup> But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. <sup>7</sup> Nevertheless I tell you the truth ; It is expedient for you that I go away : for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you ; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. <sup>8</sup> And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment : <sup>9</sup> of sin, because they believe not on me ; <sup>10</sup> of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more ; <sup>11</sup> of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged. <sup>12</sup> I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.<sup>u</sup> <sup>13</sup> Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth : for he shall not speak of himself ; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak : and he will show you things to come. <sup>14</sup> He shall glorify me : for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you. <sup>15</sup> All things that the Father hath are mine : therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall show it unto you. <sup>16</sup> A little while, and ye shall not see me : and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.

<sup>17</sup> Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me : and again, a little while, and ye shall see me : and, Because I go to the Father ? <sup>18</sup> They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while ? we cannot tell what he saith. <sup>19</sup> Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me : and again, a little while, and ye shall see me? <sup>20</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy. <sup>21</sup> A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. <sup>22</sup> And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you. <sup>23</sup> And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you. <sup>24</sup> Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: <sup>v</sup> ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full. <sup>25</sup> These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall show you plainly of the Father. <sup>26</sup> At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: <sup>27</sup> for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God. <sup>28</sup> I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father. <sup>29</sup> His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb. <sup>30</sup> Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God. <sup>31</sup> Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? <sup>32</sup> Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: <sup>v</sup> and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. <sup>33</sup> These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: <sup>v</sup> but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.<sup>z</sup>

Evening introducing the Sixth Day of the Week.

John xvii. 1—24. <sup>1</sup> These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee: <sup>2</sup> as thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him. <sup>3</sup> And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. <sup>4</sup> I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do. <sup>5</sup> And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

<sup>6</sup> I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word. <sup>7</sup> Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee.

<sup>w</sup> Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name. This does not imply that the disciples had previously exercised no faith whatever in Christ as Mediator, but that they did not distinctly comprehend the nature and importance of Christ's mediation, until after his death and ascension—the completion of the work of redemption.

John xvii.

<sup>8</sup> For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me. <sup>9</sup> I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine. <sup>10</sup> And all mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them. <sup>11</sup> And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. <sup>12</sup> While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition; that the Scripture might be fulfilled.<sup>a</sup> <sup>13</sup> And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves. <sup>14</sup> I have given them thy word; and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. <sup>15</sup> I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil. <sup>16</sup> They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. <sup>17</sup> Sanctify<sup>b</sup> them through thy truth: thy word is truth. <sup>18</sup> As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world. <sup>19</sup> And for their sakes I sanctify myself,<sup>c</sup> that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

<sup>20</sup> Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; <sup>21</sup> that they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. <sup>22</sup> And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: <sup>23</sup> I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

<sup>24</sup> Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world. <sup>25</sup> O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me. <sup>26</sup> And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

<sup>f</sup> The present garden of Gethsemane, situated between the brook Kidron and the foot of Olivet, may be regarded as the real scene of the Lord's agony. It was, probably, an olive plantation, for the name, Gethsemane, signifies an oil-press. The present, however, is supposed to be but a part of the ancient garden; for it is only about fifty paces square, which is too small to satisfy all the conditions of the narrative. (See Luke 22. 41.) It is probable that the ancient garden occupied some of the space now covered by similar enclosures adjacent, which contain olive trees of the same age and character as Gethsemane, which exhibits eight that are certainly very old; probably standing ever since Christ was there. <sup>p</sup> Gen. 9. 6.

<sup>s</sup> An Oriental house is usually built around a quadrangular interior court; into which there is a passage through the front part of the house, closed next the street by a heavy folding gate, with a smaller wicket for single persons. The interior court, often paved or flagged, and open to the sky, is the hall (αὐλή), mentioned in the following section, where the attendants made a fire; and the passage from the street to this court, is the porch (προαύλιον or πυλών). The place where Jesus stood before the high priest may have been an open room or place of audience on the ground floor; such rooms, open in front, being customary. It was close upon the court; for Jesus heard all that was going on around the fire; and turned and looked upon Peter; Luke 22. 61.

Peter's first denial took place at the fire in the middle of the court (αὐλή), on his being questioned by the female porter.—Peter then, according to Matthew and Mark, retreats into the passage leading to the street (πυλών, προαύλιον), where he is again questioned, and makes his second denial. Luke and John do not specify the place. The evangelists differ in their statements here, as to the person who now questioned him. Mark says the same maid saw him again, and began to question him, ver. 69; Matthew has, another maid, ver. 71; Luke writes another person, or another man, ver. 58; while John uses the indefinite form, they said. As, according to Matthew (ver. 70) and Mark (ver. 69), there were

Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. —<sup>18</sup> And the servants and officers stood there, who warmed themselves: and Peter had made a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they stood with them, and warmed himself.—

several persons present, Peter may have been interrogated by several.—The third denial took place an hour after, probably near the fire, or at least within the court, where our Lord and Peter could see each other; Luke 22. 61. Here Matthew and Mark speak of several interrogators, Luke has, some other man, and John specifies the servant of the high priest.

The three denials are here placed together for convenience, although during the intervals between them the examination of Jesus was going on before the high priest; the progress of which is given in § 145.

<sup>v</sup> For he was, &c. The reason for taking our Lord first to Annas was, perhaps, this, that he was known from his family relation to share the views and feelings of his son-in-law, Caiaphas, whose avowed purpose to seek the death of Jesus is mentioned in the next verse.

Matt. xxvi.

<sup>69</sup> Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee. <sup>70</sup> But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. <sup>71</sup> And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth. <sup>72</sup> And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

<sup>73</sup> And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy speech bewrayeth thee. <sup>74</sup> Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

Mark xiv.

<sup>67</sup> And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth. <sup>68</sup> But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew. <sup>69</sup> And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. <sup>70</sup> And he denied it again.

And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto. <sup>71</sup> But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak. <sup>72</sup> And the second time <sup>w</sup> the cock crew.

Luke xxii.

<sup>66</sup> But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him. <sup>67</sup> And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not. <sup>68</sup> And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.

<sup>69</sup> And about the space of one hour after another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him: for he is a Galilean. <sup>60</sup> And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew.

John xviii.

<sup>17</sup> Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.—

<sup>25</sup> And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

<sup>26</sup> One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him? <sup>27</sup> Peter then denied again:

and immediately the cock crew.

<sup>w</sup> Mark relates that the cock crowed twice, ver. 68, 72; the others speak only of his crowing once. This accords also with their respective accounts of our Lord's prophecy; see § 136. The cock often crows irregularly about midnight or not long after; and again always and regularly about the third hour or day-break. When therefore "the cock-crowing" is spoken of alone, this last is always meant. Hence the name cock-crowing, for the third watch of the night, which ended at the third hour after midnight; Mark 13. 35. Mark therefore here relates more definitely; while the other evangelists speak in more general terms.

Matt. xxvi.

<sup>75</sup> And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.* And he went out, and wept bitterly.

Mark xiv.

<sup>72</sup> And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

Luke xxii.

<sup>61</sup> And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.*
<sup>62</sup> And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

§ 145. JESUS BEFORE CAIAPHAS AND THE SANHEDRIM. HE DECLARES HIMSELF TO BE THE CHRIST; IS CONDEMNED AND MOCKED.—Jerusalem.

Morning of the Sixth Day of the Week.

John xviii. 19—24. <sup>19</sup> The high priest then asked of Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine. <sup>20</sup> Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing. <sup>21</sup> Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said. <sup>22</sup> And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? <sup>23</sup> Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me? <sup>24</sup> Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

Luke xxii. 63—71. <sup>66</sup> And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council,—

Matt. xxvi. 59—68. <sup>59</sup> Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness<sup>2</sup> against Jesus, to put him to death; but found none: <sup>60</sup> yea though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses, <sup>61</sup> and said,

This fellow said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.<sup>a</sup>

convoke the Sanhedrim, which met at early dawn, Luke 22. 66.—Luke 22. 63–65 is transposed, in accordance with Matthew and Mark.

They answered and said, He is guilty of death. <sup>67</sup> Then did they spit in his face,<sup>d</sup> and buffeted him; and others smote him with the palms of their hands, <sup>68</sup> saying, Prophecy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee?

Sixth Day of the Week.

Luke xxiii. 6—12. <sup>6</sup> When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean. <sup>7</sup> And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time. <sup>8</sup> And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season,<sup>l</sup> because he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him. <sup>9</sup> Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing. <sup>10</sup> And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him. <sup>11</sup> And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe,<sup>m</sup> and sent him again to Pilate. <sup>12</sup> And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

§ 148. PILATE SEEKS TO RELEASE JESUS. THE JEWS DEMAND BARABBAS.
Jerusalem.

Sixth Day of the Week.

Luke xxiii. 13—25. <sup>13</sup> And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, <sup>14</sup> said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: <sup>15</sup> for I sent you to him; and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him. <sup>16</sup> I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

§ 150. PILATE, AFTER AGAIN SEEKING TO RELEASE JESUS, DELIVERS HIM TO BE CRUCIFIED.—Jerusalem.

Sixth Day of the Week.

John xix. 4—16. <sup>4</sup> Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him. <sup>5</sup> Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man! <sup>6</sup> When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him. <sup>7</sup> The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God. <sup>8</sup> When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid; <sup>9</sup> and went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.<sup>9</sup> <sup>10</sup> Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee? <sup>11</sup> Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin. <sup>12</sup> And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, § 151. JUDAS REPENTS AND HANGS HIMSELF.—Jerusalem.Sixth Day of the Week.

Matt. xxvii. 3—10. <sup>3</sup> Then Judas,° which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, <sup>4</sup> saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. <sup>5</sup> And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. <sup>6</sup> And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood. <sup>7</sup> And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. <sup>8</sup> Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day. <sup>9</sup> Then was fulfilled that which was

Acts i. 18, 19.

<sup>18</sup> Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out. <sup>19</sup> And it was known unto all the dwellers in Jerusalem; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

† Gabbatha (i. e. literally the back), or the pavement, was a space between the castle of Antonia and the western corner of the temple, where the ridge of the rock or hill was paved with smooth stones (Josephus, Bell. Jud. 5. 5, 8). Here, in full view of the temple and before the Jewish multitudes, Pilate took his place on the judgment seat, to deliver to death Jesus, though he held him to be innocent.

‡ On the phrase, preparation of the passover, ver. 14, see the Introductory Note, Part viii.—In the same verse the expression, about the sixth hour, does not accord with the third hour of Mark 15. 25; see in § 153. But the third hour of Mark, as the hour of the crucifixion, is sustained by the whole course of the transactions and circumstances; as also by the fact stated by Matthew, Mark, and Luke, that the darkness commenced at the sixth hour, after Jesus had already for some time hung upon the cross; see § 155, init. The reading, sixth, in John is therefore probably an error of transcription for third. Indeed, this last reading is found in two of the best manuscripts (Cod. Bezae and Cod. Reg. 62), as well as several other authorities; so that its external weight is marked by Griesbach as nearly or quite equal to that of the common reading.—The suggestion of Greswell and many other commentators, that John here computes the sixth hour from midnight, is however worthy of regard.

° Judas repented, it would seem, as soon as he saw that Jesus was delivered over to be crucified. Till then he had hoped, perhaps, to enjoy the reward of his treachery, without involving himself in the guilt of his Master's blood.

In Acts 1. 18, purchased is to be understood, he gave occasion to purchase, was the occasion of purchasing. For such a usage, see Heb. 2. 10; Matt. 27. 60; John 3. 22, coll. 4. 1, 2; Rom. 14. 15; 1 Cor. 7. 16; 1 Tim. 4. 16, &c.

PART IX.

OUR LORD'S RESURRECTION, HIS SUBSEQUENT APPEARANCES, AND HIS ASCENSION.

TIME: Forty Days.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

A FULL discussion upon this part of the gospel history, embracing a review of the main difficulties in the way of harmonizing the accounts of the four evangelists, was published by Dr. Robinson in the Bibliotheca Sacra, for Feb., 1845, p. 162, sq. To this the student is referred for a more complete examination of the subject.

More of these apparent difficulties are found in this short portion of the Gospels than in almost all the rest. This has its cause in the circumstance that each writer here records only what appertained to his own particular purpose or experience. Thus many of the minor and connecting facts have not been preserved; and the data are therefore wanting to make out a full and complete harmony of all the accounts, without an occasional resort to something of hypothesis.

The general results of the investigations upon which we are now entering may be presented in the following summary view of the events and circumstances connected with our Lord's resurrection and ascension, in the order of their occurrence.

The resurrection took place at or before early dawn on the first day of the week; when there was an earthquake, and an angel descended and rolled away the stone from the sepulchre and sat upon it; so that the keepers became as dead men from terror. At early dawn, the same morning, the women who had attended on Jesus, namely, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, Joanna, Salome, and others, went out with spices to the sepulchre in order further to embalm the Lord's body. They inquire among themselves who should remove for them the stone which closed the sepulchre. On their arrival they find the stone already taken away. The Lord had risen. The women, knowing nothing of all that had taken place, were amazed; they enter the tomb, and find not the body of the Lord, and are greatly perplexed. At this time Mary Magdalene, impressed with the idea that the body had been stolen away, leaves the sepulchre and the other women, and runs to the city to tell Peter and John.

The other women remain still in the tomb; and immediately two angels appear, who announce to them that Jesus is risen from the dead, and give them a charge in his name for the apostles. They go out quickly from the sepulchre, and proceed in haste to the city to make this known to the disciples. On the way Jesus meets them, permits them to embrace his feet, and renews the same charge to the apostles. The women relate these things to the disciples; but their words seem to them as idle tales, and they believe them not.

Meantime Peter and John had run to the sepulchre, and entering in had found it empty. But the orderly arrangement of the grave-clothes and of the napkin convinced John that the body had not been removed either by violence or by friends; and the germ of a belief sprang up in his mind that the Lord had risen. The two returned to the city. Mary Magdalene, who had again followed them to the sepulchre, remained standing and weeping before it; and looking in, she saw two angels sitting. Turning round she sees Jesus; who gives to her also a solemn charge for his disciples.

The further sequence of events, consisting chiefly of our Lord's appearances, presents comparatively few difficulties. The various manifestations which the Saviour made of himself to his disciples and others, as recorded by the evangelists and Paul, may accordingly be arranged and enumerated as follows:—

1. To the women returning from the sepulchre. Reported only by Matthew. See § 162.
2. To Mary Magdalene, at the sepulchre. By John and Mark. § 164.
3. To Peter, perhaps early in the afternoon. By Luke and Paul. § 166.
4. To the two disciples going to Emmaus, towards evening. By Luke and Mark. § 166.
5. To the apostles (except Thomas) assembled at evening. By Mark, Luke, John, and Paul. § 167.

N.B. These five appearances all took - place at or near Jerusalem, upon the first day of the week, or the Lord's day, the same day on which the Lord arose.

| 6. To the apostles, Thomas being present, eight days afterwards at Jerusalem, i.e. again on the Lord's day. Only by John. § 168. 7. To seven of the apostles on the shore of the Lake of Tiberias. Only by John. § 169. | 8. To the eleven apostles, and to five hundred other brethren, on a mountain in Galilee. By Matthew and Paul. § 170. 9. To James, probably at Jerusalem. Only by Paul. § 171. 10. To the eleven at Jerusalem, immediately before the ascension. <sup>b</sup> The women had rested on the seventh day, according to Luke 23. 56; and the sabbath being past, Mark relates (ver. 1) that they brought spices to anoint the body. This purchase would seem to have been made in the evening after the sabbath; since Mark proceeds in ver. 2 to narrate what they did early the next morning. In that case Luke (23. 56) speaks of the spices by way of anticipation.—Or we may, with Wieseler, obviate every difficulty by supposing that the preparation of the spices commenced indeed at the time given by Luke, but was not completed till after the sabbath, according to Mark.

The angel had descended and the earthquake had taken place, before the arrival of the women. Our Lord therefore had arisen from the tomb at or before early dawn. See Note to § 160 in the Appendix.—Verses 2—4 of Matthew are here transposed into their natural order. As they stand in Matthew, the verbs must be read as in the pluperfect, “had been” and “had rolled away.” See Note on § 145.

The body of our Lord was laid in the sepulchre before sunset on Friday; and he rose early on the morning of Sunday. He therefore rose on the third day; having lain in the tomb during one whole day, and a part of two others; in all not far from thirty-six hours. On the expressions, the third day and after three days, see Note on § 49.

First Day of the Week.

Matt. xxviii. 5-7. <sup>5</sup> And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. <sup>6</sup> He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay. <sup>7</sup> And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen

Mark xvi. 5-7. <sup>5</sup> And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted. <sup>6</sup> And he said unto them, Be not affrighted: ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him. <sup>7</sup> But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall

Luke xxiv. 4-8. <sup>4</sup> And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments: <sup>5</sup> and as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead? <sup>6</sup> He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee, saying,<sup>e</sup> The Son of man must be delivered into the hands

<sup>d</sup> Luke speaks of two angels, Matthew and Mark of only one; see Note on § 57.—Mark says he was sitting; Luke speaks of them apparently as standing, ver. 4. But ἐπίστημι, in its appropriate and acknowledged usage, is to appear suddenly, to be suddenly present, without reference to its etymology. Comp. Luke 2. 9; Acts 12. 7.

In Matthew, the angel addresses the women apparently while still sitting on the stone outside of the sepulchre; in Mark and Luke, on the contrary, the conversation takes place in the sepulchre. But although Matthew does not speak of the women as entering the tomb, yet, in ver. 8, he describes them as coming out of it; so that of course his account too implies that the interview took place within the tomb, as narrated by Mark and Luke.

In recording the charge sent by the angels to the apostles, Matthew and Mark dwell more upon Galilee, and Luke more upon the Lord's previous announcement of his resurrection.

First Day of the Week.

Matt. xxviii. 8—10. <sup>g</sup> And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word. <sup>h</sup> And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him. <sup>10</sup> Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren<sup>h</sup> that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

Mark xvi. 8. And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled and were amazed: neither said they any thing to any man; for they were afraid.

Luke xxiv. 9—11. <sup>g</sup> And they returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest. <sup>10</sup> It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles. <sup>11</sup> And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

§ 163. PETER AND JOHN RUN TO THE SEPULCHRE.—Jerusalem.
First Day of the Week.

John xx. 3—10. <sup>3</sup> Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple,<sup>i</sup> and came to the sepulchre. <sup>4</sup> So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre. <sup>5</sup> And he stooping down, and look-

<sup>g</sup> It is evident that Mary Magdalene was not with the other women when Jesus thus met them on their return. John 20. 2, and Note on § 164.

<sup>i</sup> Mary Magdalene had gone to Peter and John only; who would seem to have lodged by themselves in a different part of the city. The other women went apparently to the rest of the disciples. What therefore is here said of John (ver. 8), that "he saw and believed," is not at variance with ver. 9, nor yet with Luke 24. 11. What was it that John thus believed? Not the mere report of Mary Magdalene, that the body had been taken away; for so much he must have known and believed when he stooped down and looked into the sepulchre. His belief must have been of something more and greater. The grave-clothes lying orderly in their place, and the napkin folded together by itself, made it evident that the tomb had not been rifled, nor the body stolen; for these garments and the spices would have been of more value to thieves than a naked corpse; at least, thieves would not have taken the pains thus to fold the garments together. The same circumstances showed also that the body had not been removed by friends; for they would not thus have left the grave-clothes behind. All these considerations excited in the mind of John the germ of a belief that Jesus was risen from the dead. He believed because he saw; "for as yet they knew not the Scripture," ver. 9. He now began to recall and understand our Lord's repeated declaration, that he was to rise again on the third day; a declaration on which the Jews had already acted in setting a watch. In this way, the apparent want of connexion between verses 8 and 9 disappears.

Luke xxiv. 12. Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves,— —and departed, wondering in himself at that which was to come to pass.

Jerusalem.—First Day of the Week.

John xx. 11—18. <sup>11</sup> But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre, <sup>12</sup> and seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. <sup>13</sup> And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? <sup>13</sup> She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. <sup>14</sup> And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus. <sup>15</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. <sup>16</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and

<sup>k</sup> Mary Magdalene now manifestly sees the angels for the first time; and this circumstance also goes to show that she had previously left the other women at the sepulchre before the angels appeared to them.

A main difficulty occurs here in fixing the order of time between our Lord's appearance to Mary Magdalene and that to the other women in § 162. This arises from the use of the word first, in Mark 16. 9, which seems to imply that this appearance to Mary Magdalene was the first of all: he appeared first to Mary Magdalene. Yet the whole course of events and circumstances shows conclusively that Jesus had previously appeared to the other women. We are therefore

ing in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in. <sup>6</sup> Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie, <sup>7</sup> and the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself. <sup>8</sup> Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed. <sup>9</sup> For as yet they knew not the Scripture; <sup>j</sup> that he must rise again from the dead. <sup>10</sup> Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

compelled, and that in accordance with good and ordinary usage, to regard first as put here not absolutely, but relatively. That is to say, Mark narrates three and only three appearances of our Lord; of these three that to Mary Magdalene takes place first, and that to the assembled disciples the same evening occurs last, Mark 16. 14, where our translators have used the word afterward, which is less correct. Now as the word for last is here put relatively, and does not exclude the subsequent appearances of our Lord to Thomas and in Galilee; so too first stands here relatively, and does not exclude the previous appearance to the other women. In this way the whole difficulty in the case before us vanishes.

saith unto him, Rabboni; which is to say, Master. <sup>17</sup> Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God. <sup>18</sup> Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

§ 165. REPORT OF THE WATCH.—Jerusalem.First Day of the Week.

Matt. xxviii. 11—15. <sup>11</sup> Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and showed unto the chief priests all the things that were done. <sup>12</sup> And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, <sup>13</sup> saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. <sup>14</sup> And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you. <sup>15</sup> So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

Luke xxiv. 13—35. <sup>13</sup> And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs. <sup>14</sup> And they talked together of all these things which had happened. <sup>15</sup> And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned,<sup>m</sup> Jesus himself

<sup>1</sup> This appearance of our Lord to Peter is mentioned only by Paul and by Luke, ver. 34. It had not taken place when the two disciples left Jerusalem for Emmaus; or at least they had not heard of it. It had occurred when they returned; and that long enough before to have been fully reported to all the disciples and believed by them. It may perhaps have happened about the time the two disciples set off, or shortly afterwards. <sup>m</sup> Reasoned, or rather disputed, i. e. concerning the Messiahship of Jesus. On this point they, in their unbelief, felt great perplexity, owing to his dying, and that without having effected the political deliverance of Israel, which they thought was sure to be done by the Messiah.

these days? <sup>19</sup> And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God, and all the people: <sup>20</sup> and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him. <sup>21</sup> But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to-day is the third day since these things were done. <sup>22</sup> Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre; <sup>23</sup> and when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive. <sup>24</sup> And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. <sup>25</sup> Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken: <sup>26</sup> ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory? <sup>27</sup> And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. <sup>28</sup> And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further. <sup>29</sup> But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them. <sup>30</sup> And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. <sup>31</sup> And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight. <sup>32</sup> And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the Scriptures? <sup>33</sup> And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, <sup>34</sup> saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.<sup>r</sup> <sup>35</sup> And they told

Evening following the First Day of the Week, or the Lord's Day.

Mark xvi. 14 — 18.  <sup>14</sup> Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.	1 Cor. xv. 5. — And that he was seen of Cephas; then of the twelve. Luke xxiv. 36 — 49.  <sup>36</sup> And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. <sup>37</sup> But they were terrified and affrighted,	John xx. 19—23. <sup>19</sup> Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

<sup>s</sup> When the disciples beheld their risen Lord, they thought they saw a spirit. Jesus reassures them; and presents to them indubitable evidence, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.† <sup>38</sup> And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts? <sup>39</sup> Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself; handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

<sup>40</sup> And when he had thus spoken, he showed them his hands and his feet.

<sup>41</sup> And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat? <sup>42</sup> And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an honeycomb. <sup>43</sup> And he took it, and did eat before them.‡ <sup>44</sup> And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you,‡ that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses,‡ and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me. <sup>45</sup> Then opened he their understanding,‡

that they might understand the Scriptures, <sup>46</sup> and said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: <sup>47</sup> and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.‡ <sup>48</sup> And ye are witnesses of these things.‡

Mark xvi.

<sup>15</sup> And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. <sup>16</sup> He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned. <sup>17</sup> And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;‡ they shall take up serpents;‡ <sup>18</sup> and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick,‡ and they shall recover.‡ that the same body of flesh and bones which had been crucified and laid in the sepulchre was now risen and alive before them.

Then follows our Lord's charge and commission to the eleven apostles, delivered to them here in private; and distinct from the public and more general commission recorded in Matt. 28. 19, 20.—As a symbol of this commission to them in particular, and of the power which they should shortly receive through the Spirit, "he breathed on them, and said, Receive ye the Holy Ghost," John 20. 22.

§ 168. JESUS APPEARS IN THE MIDST, THOMAS BEING PRESENT.—Jerusalem.

Evening following the First Day of the Week, next after the Resurrection.

John xx. 24—29. <sup>24</sup> But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. <sup>25</sup> The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe. <sup>26</sup> And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them : then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. <sup>27</sup> Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands ; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side : and be not faithless, but believing. <sup>28</sup> And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. <sup>29</sup> Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed : blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.†

Matt. xxviii. 16. <sup>16</sup> Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee.— John xxi. 1—24. <sup>1</sup> After these things Jesus showed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias ; and on this wise showed he himself. <sup>2</sup> There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. <sup>3</sup> Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately ; and that night they caught nothing. <sup>4</sup> But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore : but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus. <sup>5</sup> Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat ? They answered him, No. <sup>6</sup> And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. <sup>7</sup> Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea. <sup>8</sup> And the other disciples came in a little ship ; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes. <sup>9</sup> As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread. <sup>10</sup> Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught. <sup>11</sup> Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three : and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. <sup>12</sup> Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. <sup>13</sup> Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread and giveth them, and fish likewise. <sup>14</sup> This is now the third time <sup>9</sup> that Jesus showed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

<sup>15</sup> So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? <sup>16</sup> He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. <sup>16</sup> He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep. <sup>17</sup> He saith unto him the third time, <sup>1</sup> Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; <sup>7</sup> thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep. <sup>18</sup> Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. <sup>19</sup> This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. <sup>2</sup> And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me. <sup>20</sup> Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, <sup>1</sup> and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee? <sup>21</sup> Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do? <sup>22</sup> Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me. Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, <sup>3</sup> what is that to thee?

<sup>24</sup> This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true.

It was his third appearance to the apostles (see §§ 167, 168), but the seventh in all. (See Introductory Note to this Part.) They were now waiting the appointed time, to meet Jesus upon a certain mountain, Matt. 28. 16.

<sup>2</sup> The third time. There can be no doubt that our Lord sought Peter's confession thrice, because the denial had been thrice repeated. Peter, before the hour of his trial and his fall, professed to have more love to his Master than the others had (Mark 14. 29; John 13. 37), but now he claims no pre-eminence nor institutes any comparison, being content simply to declare with meekness his sincere love.

§ 171. OUR LORD IS SEEN OF JAMES; THEN OF ALL THE APOSTLES.
Jerusalem.

1 Cor. xv. 7. After that, he was seen of James; then of all the apostles.

Acts i. 3—8. <sup>3</sup>To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God: <sup>4</sup>and, being assembled together with them, commanded them <sup>5</sup>that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me. <sup>6</sup>For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.
<sup>7</sup>When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel? <sup>8</sup>And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power. <sup>9</sup>But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses "unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all bable that this time and place had been appointed of our Lord for a solemn and more public interview, not only with the eleven, but with all his disciples in Galilee; and that therefore it was on this same occasion, when, according to Paul, "he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once." That the interview in Matthew was not confined to the eleven alone, seems evident from the fact that "some doubted;" for this could hardly be supposed true of any of the eleven, after what had already happened to them in Jerusalem and Galilee. The appearance to the five hundred must at any rate be referred to Galilee; for even after our Lord's ascension, the number of the names in Jerusalem were together only about a hundred and twenty, Acts

 i. 15. And further, Paul in enumerating the appearances of Jesus, in 1 Cor. 15. 5-8, specifies only those to apostles, with this single exception; which therefore seems of itself to imply that the eleven also were here included. Robinson therefore, with many leading commentators, regards the interviews thus described by Matthew and Paul as identical. He here takes leave on earth of those among whom he had lived and laboured longest; and repeats to all his disciples in public the solemn charge which he had already given in private to the apostles: "Go ye therefore and teach all nations;—and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

 himself alive to the apostles "after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God." This would seem to imply interviews and communications as to which we have little more than this very general notice. One of these may have been the appearance to James, mentioned by Paul only (1 Cor.
 15. 7). It may be referred with most probability to Jerusalem after the return of the apostles from Galilee.

Afterwards, our Lord again, according to Paul,
 "was seen of all the apostles." This was apparently an appointed meeting; the same which Luke speaks of in Jerusalem, immediately before the ascension. It was of course the Lord's last interview with his apostles.

Acts i. 9—12. <sup>9</sup> And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight. <sup>10</sup> And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel; <sup>11</sup> Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

Luke xxiv. <sup>52</sup> And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy: <sup>53</sup> and were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

Mark xvi.

<sup>20</sup> And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

§ 173. CONCLUSION OF JOHN'S GOSPEL.

John xx. 30, 31; xxi. 25. <sup>30</sup> And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book: <sup>31</sup> but these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name.

John xxi. <sup>25</sup> And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

<sup>v</sup> During the preceding discourse, Acts 1. 7, 8, or in immediate connexion with it, our Lord leads the apostles out as far as to Bethany, and lifting up his hands he blessed them, Luke 24. 50. This act of blessing must be understood as having taken place at or near Bethany. Our Lord's ascension, then, took place at or near Bethany. Indeed, the sacred writer could hardly have found words to express the fact more definitely; and a doubt on this point could never have suggested itself, but for the language of the same writer in Acts 1. 12, where he relates that after the ascension the disciples "returned unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet." Luke obviously did not mean to contradict himself; and the most that this expression can be made to imply, is, that from Bethany where their Lord had ascended, the disciples returned to Jerusalem by a path across the mount. Indeed, Bethany is described in the New Testament as connected with, or as a part of, the mount of Olives, Mark 11. 1; Luke 19. 29. And further, where Matthew and Mark speak of Jesus, as going out at evening from Jerusalem to lodge at Bethany, Luke says that he spent the nights going out into the mount of Olives. See Matt. 21. 17; Mark 11. 11, 19, 20; Luke 21. 37. This serves to show that Luke uses the terms Bethany and mount of Olives interchangeably, and almost as synonymous.

NOTE TO § 7.

THE TIME OF THE NATIVITY.

THE precise year of our Lord's birth is uncertain. According to Matt. 2. 1-6, he was born during the lifetime of Herod the Great, and not long before his death. Herod died in the year of Rome (A. U.) 750, just before the passover: see Jos. Antiq. 17. 8. 1. ib. 17. 9. 3. This has been verified by calculating the eclipse of the moon, which happened just before his death: Jos. Ant. 17. 6. 4. Wurm in Bengel's Archiv. I. p. 26. Ideler, Handb. der Chronol. II. p. 391, sq. If now we make an allowance of time for the purification, the visit of the Magi, the flight into Egypt, and the remaining there till Herod was dead—for all of which not less than six months can well be required—it follows that the birth of Christ cannot in any case be fixed later than the autumn of A. U. 749.

Another note of time occurs in Luke 3. 1, 2, where John the Baptist is said to have entered upon his ministry in the fifteenth year of Tiberius; and again in Luke 3. 23, where Jesus is said to have been "about thirty years of age" at his baptism. Now, if both John and Jesus, as is quite probable, entered upon their ministry at the age of thirty, in accordance with the Levitical custom (Num. 4. 3, 35, 39, 43, 47), by reckoning back thirty years we may ascertain the year of John's birth, and of course also that of Jesus. Augustus died Aug. 29, A. U. 767; and was succeeded by Tiberius, who had already been associated with him in the government for at least two years, and probably three. If now we reckon from the death of Augustus, the fifteenth year of Tiberius commenced Aug. 29th, A. U. 781; and going back thirty years, we find that John must have been born not earlier than August, A. U. 751, and our Lord of course not earlier than A. U. 752;—a result disagreeing with that obtained from Matthew by three years. If, on the other hand, we reckon from the time when Tiberius was admitted as co-regent of the empire, which is shown to have been certainly as early as A. U. 765, and probably in A. U. 764; then the fifteenth year of Tiberius began in A. U. 778, and it follows that John may have been born in A. U. 748, and our Lord in A. U. 749. In this way the results obtained from Matthew and Luke are more nearly coincident.

A third note of time is derived from John 2. 20, "Forty and six years was this temple in building." Josephus says, in one place, that Herod began to build the temple in the eighteenth year of his reign; while in another he specifies the fifteenth year; Ant. 15. 11. 1. B. J. 1. 21. 1. He also assigns the length of Herod's reign at thirty-seven or thirty-four years; according as he reckons from his appointment by the Romans, or from the death of Antigonus; Ant. 17. 8. 1. B. J. 1. 33. 8. Herod was first declared king of Judea in A. U. 714; Jos. Ant. 14. 14. 4, 5. B. J. 1. 14. 4. Comp. Ant. 14. 16. 4. Ideler, Handb. der Chronol. II. p. 390. Hence the eighteenth year of his reign, when Herod began to rebuild the temple, would coincide with A. U. 732; and our Lord's first passover, in the forty-seventh year following, would fall in A. U. 779. If now our Lord at that time was thirty and a half years of age, as is probable, this would carry back the year of his birth to the autumn of A. U. 748.

Further, according to a tradition preserved by the Latin Fathers of the first five centuries, our Lord's death took place during the consulate of the two Gemini, C. Rubellius and C.

Fufius, that is, in A. U. 782. So Tertullian, Lactantius, Augustine, &c. See Tertull. adv. Jud. § 8. Augustin. de Civ. Dei, XVIII. 54. If now the duration of his ministry was three and a half years, then, as before, the year of his birth would be carried back to the autumn of A. U. 748.

Some modern writers, taking into account the abode in Egypt and also the διετής, "two years," of Matt. 2. 16, have supposed that Jesus must have been from two to three years old at Herod's death; and hence they assume that he was born in A. U. 747. So Sanclemente, de vulgaris Æræ emendatione libb. IV. Rom. 1793, fol. Münter, Stern der Weisen, &c. The same year, A. U. 747, is also fixed upon as the date of Christ's birth, by those who regard the star in the east as having been the conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn, which occurred in that year. So Keppler, Münter l. c. Ideler, Handb. der Chronol. Berlin, 1826.

From all these data it would appear that, while our Lord's birth cannot have taken place later than A. U. 749, it may nevertheless have occurred one or two years earlier.

The present Christian era, which was fixed by the abbot Dionysius Exiguus in the sixth century, assumes the year of Christ's birth as coincident with A. U. 754. It follows then from the preceding statements, that this our common era begins in any case more than four years too late; that is, from four to five years, at the least, after the actual birth of Christ. This era was first used in historical works by the Venerable Bede, early in the eighth century; and was not long after introduced in public transactions by the Frank kings Pepin and Charlemagne.

In respect to the time of the year when Jesus was born there is still less certainty. John the Baptist would seem to have entered upon his ministry in the spring; perhaps when the multitudes were collected in Jerusalem at the passover. The crowds which followed him imply that it was not winter. The baptism of Jesus in the Jordan, probably six months later, would then have occurred in autumn. It could not well have been in the winter; nor does a winter seem to have intervened. If now we may assume, as is most probable, that John entered on his office when he had completed his thirtieth year; then the time of his birth was also the spring; and that of our Lord, six months later, was the autumn. Archbishop Newcome, quoting from Lardner, has the following remark: "Jesus was born, says Lardner, between the middle of August and the middle of November, A. U. 748 or 749. We will take the mean time, October 1." See Lardner's Works, vol. i. p. 370, 372. Lond. 1835. —There is, on this point, no valid tradition. According to the earliest accounts, the sixth of January, or Epiphany, was celebrated by the oriental church, in the third and fourth centuries, as the festival of the birth and baptism of Jesus; Cassian. Collat. X. c. 2. In the occidental church, after the middle of the fourth century, the twenty-fifth of December (Christmas) began to be kept as the festival of Christ's nativity; this day having been fixed upon, partly at least, as being the then current winter solstice. Thus, as late as the time of Leo the Great (who died 461), there were many in Rome "by whom this day of solemnity was regarded as honourable, not so much on account of the nativity of Christ, as because of the rising of the new sun, as they call it." Leon. Magn. Sermon. XXI. c. 6. The observance of this latter festival (Christmas) spread into the East; while that of the Epiphany, as the baptismal day, was adopted in the West.

See, generally, Lardner's Works, vol. i. Book II. 3. p. 356, sq. Lond. 1835. Gieseler's Ecclesiastical History, vol. i. p. 53, Edinburgh, 1846. See also Greswell's Dissert. x. vol. i., where it is ably maintained that April 5, A. U. 750, B. C. 4, is the precise date of our Lord's birth.

NOTE TO § 13.

THE GENEALOGIES.

1. In the genealogy given by Matthew, considered by itself, some difficulties present themselves.

1. There is some diversity among commentators in making out the three divisions, each of fourteen generations, ver. 17. It is, however, obvious that the first division begins with Abraham and ends with David. But does the second begin with David, or with Solomon?

Assuredly with the former; because, just as the first begins from Abraham, so the second also is said to begin from David. The first extends to David, and includes him; the second extends until the carrying away into Babylon, that is, to an epoch, and not to a person; and therefore the persons who are mentioned as coeval with this epoch, about the time of the carrying away (ver. 11), are not reckoned before it. After the epoch the enumeration begins again with Jechoniah, and ends with Jesus. In this way the three divisions are made out thus:—

1. Abraham.	1. David.	1. Jechoniah.
2. Isaac.	2. Solomon.	2. Salathiel.
3. Jacob.	3. Roboam.	3. Zorobabel.
4. Judah.	4. Abiah.	4. Abiud.
5. Phares.	5. Asa.	5. Eliakim.
6. Esrom.	6. Josaphat.	6. Azor.
7. Aram.	7. Joram.	7. Sadoc.
8. Aminadab.	8. Uzziah (Ozias).	8. Achim.
9. Naasson.	9. Jotham.	9. Eliud.
10. Salmon.	10. Ahaz.	10. Eleazer.
11. Boaz.	11. Hezekiah.	11. Matthan.
12. Obed.	12. Manasseh.	12. Jacob.
13. Jesse.	13. Amon.	13. Joseph.
14. David.	14. Josiah.	14. Jesus.

2. Another difficulty arises from the fact, that between Joram and Ozias, in ver. 8, three names of Jewish kings are omitted, namely, Ahaziah, Joash, and Amaziah. See 2 Kings 8. 25 and 2 Chr. 22. 1; 2 Kings 11. 2, 21 and 2 Chr. 22. 11; 2 Kings 12. 21, 14. 1, and 2 Chr. 24. 27. Further, between Josiah and Jechoniah, in ver. 11, the name of Jehoiakim is also omitted. See 2 Kings 23. 34; 2 Chr. 36. 4. Comp. 1 Chr. 3. 15, 16. If these four names are to be reckoned, then the second division, instead of fourteen generations, will contain eighteen, in contradiction to ver. 17. To avoid this difficulty, Newcome and some others have regarded ver. 17 as a mere gloss, "a marginal note taken into the text." This indeed is in itself possible; yet all the external testimony of manuscripts and versions is in favour of the genuineness of that verse. It is better therefore to regard these names as having been customarily omitted in the current genealogical tables, from which Matthew copied. Such omissions of particular generations did sometimes actually occur, "because they were wicked and impious," according to the Rabbins. See Lightfoot, Hor. Heb. on Matt. 1. 8. A striking example of an omission of this kind, apparently without any such reason, is found in Ezra 7. 1-5, compared with 1 Chr. 6. 3-15. This latter passage contains the lineal descent of the high priests from Aaron to the captivity; while Ezra, in the place cited, in tracing back his own genealogy through the very same line of descent, omits at least six generations. The two accounts stand thus:—

1 Chr. 6. 3-15.	Ezra 7. 1-5.	1 Chr. 6. 3-15.	Ezra 7. 1-5.
1. Aaron.	Aaron.	13. Azariah.
2. Eleazar.	Eleazar.	14. Johanan.
3. Phinehas.	Phinehas.	15. Azariah,	Azariah.
4. Abishua.	Abishua.	16. Amariah.	Amariah.
5. Bukki.	Bukki.	17. Ahitub.	Ahitub.
6. Uzzi.	Uzzi.	18. Zadok.	Zadok.
7. Zerariah.	Zerariah.	19. Shallum.	Shallum.
8. Meraioth.	Meraioth.	20. Hilkiyah.	Hilkiyah.
9. Amariah.		21. Azariah.	Azariah.
10. Ahitub.		22. Seraiah.	Seraiah.
11. Zadok.		23. Jehozadak.
12. Ahimaaz.		24.	Ezra.

A similar omission is necessarily implied in the genealogy of David, as given Ruth 4. 20–22; 1 Chr. 2. 10–12; Matt. 1. 5, 6. Salmon was contemporary with the capture of Jericho by Joshua, and married Rahab. But from that time until David, an interval of at least four hundred and fifty years (Acts 13. 20), there intervened, according to the list, only four generations, averaging of course more than one hundred years to each. But the highest average in point of fact is three generations to a century; and if reckoned by the eldest sons they are usually shorter, or three generations for every seventy-five or eighty years. See Sir I. Newton's Chronol. p. 53. Lond. 1728.

We may therefore rest in the necessary conclusion that, as our Lord's regular descent from David was always asserted, and was never denied even by the Jews; so Matthew, in tracing this admitted descent, appealed to genealogical tables, which were public and acknowledged in the family and tribe from which Christ sprang. He could not indeed do otherwise. How much stress was laid by the Jews upon lineage in general, and how much care and attention were bestowed upon such tables, is well known. See Lightfoot, Hor. Heb. on Matt. 1. 1. In the N. T. also, see Phil. 3. 4, 5.

II. Other questions of some difficulty present themselves, when we compare together the two genealogies.

1. Both tables at first view purport to give the lineage of our Lord through Joseph. But Joseph cannot have been the son by natural descent of both Jacob and Heli (Eli), Matt. 1. 16; Luke 3. 23. Only one of the tables therefore can give his true lineage by generation. This is done apparently in that of Matthew; because, beginning at Abraham, it proceeds by natural descent, as we know from history, until after the exile; and then continues on in the same mode of expression until Joseph. Here the phrase is changed; and it is no longer Joseph who "begat" Jesus, but Joseph "the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus who is called Christ."

2. To whom then does the genealogy in Luke chiefly relate? If in any way to Joseph, as the language purports, then it must be because he in some way bore the legal relation of son to Heli, either by adoption or by marriage. If the former simply, it is difficult to comprehend why, along with his true personal lineage as traced by Matthew up through the royal line of Jewish kings to David, there should be given also another subordinate genealogy, not personally his own, and running back through a different and inferior line to the same great ancestor. If, on the other hand, as is most probable, this relation to Heli came by marriage with his daughter, so that Joseph was truly his son-in-law (comp. Ruth 1. 8, 11, 12); then it follows that the genealogy in Luke is in fact that of Mary the mother of Jesus. This being so, we can perceive a sufficient reason why this genealogy should be thus given, viz. in order to show definitely that Jesus was in the most full and perfect sense a descendant of David; not only by law in the royal line of kings through his reputed father, but also in fact by direct personal descent through his mother.

That Mary, like Joseph, was a descendant of David, is not perhaps expressly said in the New Testament. Yet a very strong presumption to that effect is to be drawn from Luke 1. 27 (see the Note on § 3), and from the address of the angel in Luke 1. 32; as also from the language of Luke 2. 5, where Joseph, as one of the posterity of David, is said to have gone up to Bethlehem, to enrol himself with Mary his espoused wife, for this is the meaning of the Greek. The ground and circumstances of Mary's enrolment must obviously have been the same as in the case of Joseph himself. Whether all this arose from her having been an only child and heiress, as some suppose, so that she was espoused to Joseph in accordance with Num. 36. 8, 9, it is not necessary here to inquire.

It is indeed objected that it was not customary among the Jews to trace back descent through the female line, that is, on the mother's side. There are, however, examples to show that this was sometimes done; and in the case of Jesus, as we have seen, there was a sufficient reason for it. Thus in 1 Chr. 2. 22, Jair is enumerated among the posterity of Judah by regular descent. But the grandfather of Jair had married the daughter of Machir, one of the heads of Manasseh, 1 Chr. 2. 21; 7. 14; and therefore, in Num. 32. 40, 41, Jair is called the son (descendant) of Manasseh. In like manner, in Ezra 2. 61, and Neh. 7. 63, a certain family is spoken of as "the children of Barzillai;" because their ancestor "took a wife of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite, and was called after their name."

3. A question is raised as to the identity, in the two genealogies, of the Salathiel and Zorobabel named as father and son, Matt. 1. 12; Luke 3. 27. The Zorobabel of Matthew is no doubt the chief who led back the first band of captives from Babylon, and rebuilt the temple, Ezra, ch. 2-6. He is also called the son of Shealtiel in Ezra 3. 2; Neh. 12. 1; Hag. 1. 1; 2. 2, 23. Were then the Shalathiel and Zorobabel of Luke the same persons? Those who assume this must rest solely on the identity of the names; for there is no other possible evidence to prove, either that they were contemporary, or that they were not different persons. On the other hand, there are one or two considerations, of some force, which go to show that they were not probably the same persons.

First, if Salathiel and Zorobabel are indeed the same in both genealogies, then Salathiel, who according to Matthew was the son of Jeconiah by natural descent, must have been called the son of Neri in Luke either from adoption or marriage. In that case, his connexion with David through Nathan, as given by Luke, was not his own personal genealogy. It is difficult therefore to see why Luke, after tracing back the descent of Jesus to Salathiel, should abandon the true personal lineage in the royal line of kings, and turn aside again to a merely collateral and humbler line. If the mother of Jesus was in fact descended from the Zorobabel and Salathiel of Matthew, she, like them, was descended also from David through the royal line. Why rob her of this dignity, and ascribe to her only a descent through an inferior lineage?

Again, the mere identity of names under these circumstances affords no proof; for nothing is more common in Scripture, even among contemporaries. Thus we have two Ezras; one in Neh. 12. 1, 13, 33, from whom Ezra the scribe is expressly distinguished in ver. 36. We have likewise two Nehemiahs; one who went up with Zerubbabel, Ezra 2. 2; and the other the governor who went later to Jerusalem, Neh. 2. 9, sq. So too, as contemporaries, Joram son of Ahab king of Israel, and Joram (Jehoram) son of Jehoshaphat king of Judah: 2 Kings 8. 16; comp. ver. 23, 24. Also, Joash king of Judah and Joash king of Israel: 2 Kings 13. 9, 10. Further, we find in succession among the descendants of Cain the following names: Enoch, Irad, Mehujael, Methusael, Lamech, Gen. 4. 17, 18; and later, among the descendants of Seth, these similar ones: Enoch, Methuselah, Lamech, Gen. 5. 21-25.

Greswell's views on the Genealogies are given in Dissert. ii. vol. ii. Wieseler, whose views generally agree with Robinson's in the above Note, has published an article on the same subject in the Studien und Kritiken for 1845, p. 361.

NOTE TO § 36.

OUR LORD'S SECOND PASSOVER.

On the phrase feast of the Jews (ἑορτή τῶν Ἰουδαίων), John 5. 1, turns mainly the question as to the duration of our Lord's public ministry. John notes distinctly three passovers; John 2. 13; 6. 4; 12. 1. If now this feast be another passover, then our Lord's public labours continued during three and a half years; if not, then the time of his ministry must in all probability be reckoned one year less.

The only reasonable ground of doubt in this case is the absence of the definite article before feast. But, even as the text now stands, it may assuredly in itself just as well denote the great Jewish festival as any other. The following considerations seem to show that it does most probably thus stand for a passover, viz. the second in our Lord's public ministry.

1. The word feast (ἑορτή) without the article is put definitely for the passover, in the phrase κατὰ ἑορτήν, Matt. 27. 15; Mark 15. 6; Luke 23. 17. Comp. John 18. 39.

2. In Hebrew a noun before a genitive is made definite by prefixing the article, not to the noun itself, but to the genitive; see Davie's translation of Gesenius's Heb. Gr. § 109. L. Nordheim. Heb. Gr. II. p. 14. γ. This idiom is transferred by the LXX. into Greek; e. g. Deut. 16. 13, ἑορτήν τῶν σκηνῶν ποιήσεις σεαυτῷ, Heb. תִּכְוֶהָה דָּבָר, i. e. the festival of tabernacles. So, too, in the New Testament: Matt. 12. 24, ἐν τῷ Βεελζεβοὺλ ἀρχοντι τῶν δαιμονίων, i. e. the prince of demons. Hence, in the passage before us, according to the analogous English idiom, we may render the phrase by the Jews' festival; which marks it definitely as the passover.

3. It is not probable that John means here to imply that the festival was indefinite or uncertain. Such is not his usual manner. The Jewish festivals were to him the measures of time; and in every other instance they are definitely specified. So the passover, John 2. 23; 12. 1; even when Jesus does not visit it, 6. 4; and also when it is expressed only by the feast, 4. 45; 11. 56; 12. 12, 20, al. So, too, the festival of tabernacles, 7. 2; and of the dedication, 10. 22. This is all natural in him; for an indefinite festival could afford no note of time.

4. The plucking of the ears of grain by the disciples (§ 37 and Note), shows that a passover had just been kept; which tallies accurately with this visit of our Lord to Jerusalem.

5. This feast could not have been the festival either of Pentecost or of tabernacles next following our Lord's first passover. He returned from Judea to Galilee not until eight months after that passover, when both these festivals were already past: see Note on § 25.—That it might by possibility have been the Pentecost after a second passover not mentioned, and before that in John 6. 4, cannot perhaps be fully disproved; but such a view has in itself no probability, and is apparently entertained by no one. At any rate, it would also give the same duration of three and a half years to our Lord's ministry.

6. Nor can we well understand here the festival of Purim, which occurred on the fourteenth and fifteenth of the month Adar, or March, one month before the passover: see Esth. 9. 21, 22, 26–28. Against this the following considerations present themselves: (a) The Jews did not go up to Jerusalem to celebrate the festival of Purim. The observance of it among that people throughout the world consisted solely in reading the Book of Esther in their synagogues on those days, and making them "days of feasting and joy and of sending portions [dishes] one to another and gifts to the poor," Esth. 9. 22. Jos. Ant. 11. 6. 13. Reland, Antiqq. Heb. IV. 9. But the "multitude," John 5. 13, seems to imply a concourse of strangers at one of the great festivals.—(b) It is very improbable that Jesus would have gone up to Jerusalem at the Purim, to which the Jews did not go up, rather than at the passover, which occurred only a month later. His being once present at the festival of dedication (John 10. 22) is not a parallel case; since he appears not to have gone up for that purpose, but this festival occurred while he remained in or near Jerusalem after the festival of tabernacles, John 7. 2, sq.—(c) The infirm man was healed on the sabbath, John 5. 9; which sabbath belonged to the festival, as the whole context shows, John 5. 1, 2, 10–13. But the Purim was never celebrated on a sabbath; and, when it happened to fall on that day, was regularly deferred: see Reland 1. c.

7. The main objection urged against taking this feast as a passover is the circumstance that in such case, as our Lord did not go up to the passover spoken of in John 6. 4, but only at the subsequent festival of tabernacles in John 7. 2, sq., he would thus have absented himself from Jerusalem for a year and six months; a neglect, it is alleged, inconsistent with his character and with a due observance of the Jewish law. But a sufficient reason is assigned for this omission, namely, "because the Jews sought to kill him," John 7. 1; comp. 5. 18. It obviously had been our Lord's custom to visit the holy city every year at the passover; and because, for the reason assigned, he once let this occasion pass by, he therefore went up six months afterwards, at the festival of tabernacles. All this presents a view perfectly natural; and covers the whole ground. Nor have we any right to assume, as many do, that our Lord regularly went up to Jerusalem on other occasions besides those specified in the New Testament.

In this instance the most ancient view is that which takes feast for a passover. So Irenæus in the third century: "Et posthac iterum secunda vice adscendit [Jesus] in diem paschæ in Hierusalem, quando paralyticum, qui juxta natatoriam jacebat xxxviii. annos curavit;" adv. Hær. 2. 39. The same view was adopted by Eusebius, Theodoret, and others; and in later times has been followed by Luther, Scaliger, Grotius, Lightfoot, Le Clerc, Lampe, Hengstenberg, Greswell, &c. Cyril and Chrysostom held to a pentecost, as also the Harmony ascribed to Tatian; and so, in modern times, Erasmus, Calvin, Beza, Bengel, &c. The festival of Purim was first suggested by Keppler (Eclogæ Chronicæ, pp. 72, 129, sq. Francof. 1615); and at the present day this is the only view, aside from the passover, that finds advocates. Those who hold it, as Hug, Neander, Olshausen, Tholuck, Meyer, Wieseler (Lücke and De Wette leave the question undecided), regard John 6. 4 as having reference to the second passover during our Lord's ministry; which thus becomes limited to two and a half years.—See, generally, Greswell's Dissert. viii., vol. ii. Neander's Leben Jesu, 3te Ausg. p. 434. Wieseler's Chronol. Synopse der Vier Evangelien, p. 211-222.

NOTE TO § 41.

SERMON ON THE MOUNT.

The sermon on the mount follows here, in accordance with the order of Luke. The correctness of this order, so far as it respects Matthew, depends on the question, Whether the discourse, as reported by the two evangelists, is one and the same, and was delivered on the same occasion? This question is answered at the present day by interpreters, with great unanimity, in the affirmative; and mainly for the following reasons.

1. The choice of the twelve by our Lord, as his ministers and witnesses, furnished an appropriate occasion for this public declaration respecting the spiritual nature of his kingdom, and the life and character required of those who would become his true followers. Luke expressly assigns this as the occasion; and although Matthew is silent here and elsewhere as to the selection of the apostles, yet some passages of the discourse, as reported by him, seem to presuppose their previous appointment as teachers: see Matt. 5. 13, 14; 7. 6.

2. The beginning and the end of both discourses, and the general course of thought in both, exhibit an entire accordance one with the other.

3. The historical circumstances which follow both discourses are the same, namely, the entrance into Capernaum and the healing of the centurion's servant.

The main objection which has been felt and urged against the identity of the two discourses is the fact, that Matthew's report contains much that is not found in Luke, while, on the other hand, Luke adds a few things not found in Matthew, as ver. 24-26, 38-40, 45; and further, his expressions are often modified and different, as in ver. 20, 29, 35, 36, 43, 44, 46. But this objection vanishes if we look at the different objects which the two evangelists had in view. Matthew was writing chiefly for Hebrew Christians; and it was therefore important for him to bring out, in full, the manner in which our Lord enforced the spiritual nature of his dispensation and doctrine, in opposition to the mere letter of the Jewish law, and the teaching and practice of the scribes and Pharisees. This he does particularly, and with many examples, in Matt. 5. 18-38; 6. 1-34. Luke, on the contrary, was writing mainly for Gentile Christians; and hence he omits the long passages of Matthew above referred to, and dwells only upon those topics which are of practical importance to all. In other respects the discourses, as given by the two writers, do not differ more than is elsewhere often the case in different reports of the same discourse. Compare Matt. 24. 1-42 with Mark 13. 1-37 and Luke 21. 5-36; also Matt. 28. 5-8 with Mark 16. 6-8 and Luke 24. 5-8. See also Note on § 15.

Greswell, Dissert. xi. vol. ii., contends, however, that the discourse given by Matthew is distinct from the one in Luke, the former having been delivered to the disciples on the top of the mountain, but the latter to the multitudes on a plain.

The order of circumstances would seem to have been the following: Our Lord retires to the mountain and chooses the twelve; and with them descends to the multitudes on the level place or plain, where he heals many. (§ 40.) As they press upon him, he again ascends to a more elevated spot, where he can overlook the crowds and be heard by them; and here, seating himself with the twelve around him, he addresses himself to his disciples in particular and to the multitudes in general. See Matt. 5. 1, 2; Luke 6. 20; also Matt. 7. 28; Luke 7. 1.

The mountain where these events took place was doubtless some part of the high ground on the west of the Lake of Tiberias, not far from Capernaum. The Romish church has the tradition, that the singular hill called Tell Hattin, or Kūrûn Hattîn, was the spot; and that hill is hence known to travellers as the Mount of Beatitudes. But this eminence is seven or eight miles distant from the probable site of Capernaum; which seems inconsistent with Matt. 8. 5; Luke 7. 1. And further, this tradition is current only among foreign Latin monks, and cannot be traced back, even among them, beyond the twelfth century; while the Greek church, which has been native upon the soil from the earliest centuries, knows nothing of it; and has indeed no tradition whatever connected with the sermon on the mount. See Bibl. Researches in Palestine, III. p. 240.

NOTE TO § 109.

HEALING OF THE BLIND NEAR JERICO.

Mark and Luke here speak of one blind man; Matthew of two. The case is similar to that of the demoniacs of Gadara: see Note on § 57.

More difficult is it to harmonize the accounts as to the place where the miracle was wrought. Matthew and Mark narrate it as having occurred when Jesus was departing from Jericho; while Luke seems to describe it as happening during his approach to the city. Several ways of solving this difficulty have been proposed.

1. The language of Mark is, "they came to Jericho." This, it is said, may be understood as implying that Jesus remained some days at least in Jericho; and that the miracle may have been wrought, not when he was finally leaving Jericho for Jerusalem, but when he was occasionally going out of, and returning to, Jericho. So Newcome, Harm. Note on § 108.

2. The Greek verb here used may, it is said, signify not only to draw nigh, but also to be nigh. Hence, the language of Luke may include also the idea expressed by Matthew and Mark, that is, while he was still near the city. So Grotius, Comm. in Matt. 20. 30. It is very doubtful whether this definition can be fully sustained by classic authority. Yet in the New Testament and Septuagint there are several passages which go to imply such a usage of the Greek word. Thus Luke 19. 29, compared with Matt. 21. 1. So Phil. 2. 3, he was nigh unto death. The usage of the LXX. is still more definite; e. g. of Naboth's vineyard, 1 Kings 21. 2, because it is near unto my house. Also Deut. 21. 3, the city next [nigh] unto the slain man, ver. 6; 22. 2; and trop. Jer. 23. 23; Ruth 2. 20; 2 Sam. 19. 42. These instances seem sufficient to bear out the proposed interpretation in Luke; which is also adopted by Le Clerc, Doddridge, Pilkington, and others.—Nor is this method of explanation "made useless for the purpose of reconciling the evangelists, by Luke 19. 1," as Newcome asserts. In connexion with Jericho, Luke first of all relates this striking miracle; then goes back and mentions that Jesus "entered and passed through Jericho;" and lastly records the visit to the house of Zaccheus, apparently within the city. Luke 19. 1, therefore, is not more at variance with this view respecting the miracle than it is with the visit to Zaccheus. It is a passing announcement of a general fact, in connexion with which other more important circumstances are related, not indeed in the order of time, but partly by anticipation.

3. Less probable than either of the above is the solution of Lightfoot (Chron. Tempor. in N. T. Opp. II. p. 42) and others, who assume that Jesus healed one blind man before entering the city, and another on departing from it. This solution is, however, strongly advocated by Greswell (Dissert. xxii. vol. ii.), and also regarded with favour by Wieseler (Chron. Synopse, p. 332).

DATE OF THE SUPPER AT BETHANY.

On the fourth day of the week the chief priests and others, after deliberation, came to the formal conclusion to seize Jesus and put him to death: Matt. 26. 3, 4, &c. As the means by which this purpose was aided and accomplished, the first three evangelists narrate the treacherous intent of Judas; which again Matthew and Mark introduce by describing the circumstances under which it arose during the supper at Bethany. According to Matthew and Mark this supper would most naturally seem to have taken place on the preceding evening, that is, the evening which ushered in, and was reckoned to, the fourth day of the week. John's order would apparently assign it to the evening after the day on which Jesus came to Bethany. This is the order maintained by Greswell (Dissert. iii. vol. iii.), and by Wieseler (Chron. Syn. p. 391), as well as by Robinson.

As in the accounts of this supper itself neither of the evangelists has specified any note of time, we are left to infer from other circumstances, whether it more probably took place on the evening after the sabbath, as John seems to imply; or on the evening following the third day of the week, in accordance with Matthew and Mark, after our Lord had taken his final leave of the temple. The following are some of these circumstances.

1. The formal determination of the chief priests to put Jesus to death was made early on the fourth day of the week, Matt. 26. 1-5; Mark 16. 1, &c. It was not until afterwards that Judas came to them with his proposal of treachery, which they received with joy, Matt. 26. 14; Mark 16. 10, 11, &c.

2. Matthew and Mark narrate the supper as the occasion which led to the treachery of Judas. Stung by his Master's rebuke, he is represented as going away to the chief priests and offering to betray him. This act would then seem to have been done under the impulse of sudden resentment; and this view of the matter receives also some support from his subsequent remorse and suicide. All this accords well with the order of Matthew and Mark. But if the supper took place on the evening after Jesus came to Bethany, then Judas had already cherished the purpose of treachery in his heart for nearly four days without executing it; and that too while our Lord was daily teaching in the temple, and there was abundant opportunity to betray him. Such a supposition, under the circumstances, is against probability.

3. The language of Matthew, then Judas went, ver. 14, seems necessarily to connect the visit of Judas to the chief priests immediately with the supper, which therefore must have taken place on the preceding evening. On the other hand, it would be very natural for John to anticipate the time of the supper, and narrate it where he does, in order there to bring together and complete all that he had to say further of Bethany; which indeed he mentions no more.

There is no sufficient reason for supposing, with Lightfoot and others, that the supper mentioned in John is a different one from that in Matthew and Mark. The identity of circumstances is too great, and the alleged differences too few, to leave a doubt on this point. Matthew and Mark narrate it as in the house of Simon the leper; John does not say where it took place; but he speaks of Lazarus as one of those who reclined at the table, implying that the supper was not in his own house. It was not, and is not now customary in the East, for females to eat with the males; and therefore Lazarus, in his own house, would have been the master and giver of the entertainment. In the two former evangelists the woman anoints the head of Jesus; in the latter his feet; yet neither excludes the other. Matthew and Mark do not here name Mary; nor have they anywhere else mentioned her or Martha or Lazarus. Nor do they in this connexion name Judas, whom we know as the fault-finder only from John.

NOTE TO § 160.

TIME OF THE WOMEN'S VISIT TO THE SEPULCHRE.

The point of time when the women visited the sepulchre is very definitely marked by all the evangelists, viz. Matthew, as it began to dawn (τῇ ἐπιφωσκούσῃ sc. ἡμέρῃ); Mark, very early in the morning (λίαν πρωί); Luke, very early in the morning (ὄρθρου βαθέος); John, when it was yet dark (πρωτὶ σκοτίας ἔτι οὐσῆς). These expressions all go to fix the time at what we call early dawn or early twilight; after the break of day, but while the light is yet struggling with darkness.

But Mark, in ver. 2, has added the phrase "at the rising of the sun." These words seem, at first, to be directly at variance with the language of the other three evangelists, and with the "very early" of Mark himself.

Yet as Mark by the expression "very early" has definitely fixed the time in accordance with all the other evangelists, we cannot suppose that by the subsequent phrase "at the rising of the sun" he meant to contradict himself and them. He must therefore have employed this latter expression in a broader and less definite sense, not inconsistent with the other. As the sun is the source of light and day, and his earliest rays produce the contrast between night and dawn, so the term sun-rising might easily come in popular usage, by a metonymy of cause for effect, to be put for all that earlier interval when his rays still struggling with darkness do yet usher in the day.

Accordingly, we find such a popular usage existing among the Hebrews and in the Old Testament. Thus in Judg. 9. 33, Zebul, after directing Abimelech to lie in wait with his people in the field during the night, goes on to say: "And it shall be, in the morning as soon as the sun is up thou shalt rise early and set upon the city." Here we have the very same reference to the sun-rising, and yet we cannot for a moment suppose that Abimelech was to wait till the sun actually appeared above the horizon, before he made his onset. So the psalmist, Psa. 104. 22, speaking of the young lions that by night roar after their prey, proceeds thus: "The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens." But beasts of prey do not wait for the actual appearance of the sun above the horizon ere they shrink away to their lairs; the break of day, the dawning of light, is the signal for their retreat. See also Sept. 2 Kings 3. 22; 2 Sam. 23. 4. In all these passages the language is entirely parallel to that of Mark 16. 2; and they fully illustrate and confirm the principle, that the sun-rising is here used by Mark in a popular sense as equivalent to the rising of the day, of early dawn.

There was probably something in respect to Mary Magdalene which gave her a peculiar prominence in these transactions. This may be inferred from the fact that John mentions Mary Magdalene, and her alone; while the other evangelists likewise name her first, as if holding the most conspicuous place.—On the different names and number of the women, as narrated by the different evangelists, see Note on § 57.

Mary Magdalene, amazed at not finding the body of Jesus, and supposing it to have been stolen, leaves the other women, probably in the sepulchre, and returns to the city to tell Peter and John. To them she uses the phrase we know not (οἶδαμεν), ver. 2, meaning herself and the other women; but afterwards, when she speaks to the angels, it is I know not, ver. 13.
