CHEAP LITERATURE.

Now Publishing in Weekly Numbers, Price Twopence,

THE PERCY ANECDOTES,

BY SHOLTO AND REUBEN PERCY,

Brothers of the Benedictine Monastery, Mont Bengier.

Embellished with Two Hundred Engravings.

"No man that has any pretensions to figure in good society, can fall to make himself familiar with the Percy Anecdotes."—
Lord Byron.

The Brothers PERCY have laboured for the edification not of the young alone, but of all who have either imaginations to be amused, understandings to be improved, passions to be interested, or virtuous sentiments to be strengthened. Convinced that the most exalted character is but the result of a power of drawing conclusions and forming rules of conduct from known facts, they have endeavoured to bring into one focus all those anecdotal passages of ancient and modern times, which are illustrative of those qualities of the mind and heart which a person ambitious of true dignity would most desire to realize. They have culled not only from trodden, but from untrodden ground; they have explored many resources beyond the reach of ordinary access; and when the whole of their labours shall be before the world, they trust it will be found, that while they have omitted nothing worthy of being recorded, they will have added much to the history of man, which might otherwise have passed into oblivion.

THE PERCY ANECDOTES will be published in weekly numbers, price twopence, in parts every two months, comprising one particular subject, price one shilling and fourpence; and in volumes, containing two subjects, every four months, neatly bound in cloth, with a gold label, price three shillings.

The work will be embellished with two hundred illustrations, consisting of Portraits, Engraved on Steel by MR FAY; and Engravings on Wood, by MR. BONNER, from the masterly designs of MR. R. CRUIKSHANK.
